PREFACE

Wright's ARABIC GRAMMAR

Generation after generation of English-speaking students of Arabic have found Wright's Grammar an indispensable stand-by. Its popularity is well-deserved and likely to endure yet longer, for it is a very practical work of reference. It does not concern itself much with the disputations of the theorists, but it does state clearly, and illustrate sufficiently, all the working rules of classical Arabic. It manages to do so within its modest bulk, not by ignoring fine distinctions, but by dint of very careful organization.

The new "Addenda et Corrigenda" in this edition are not the result of a systematic revision of the text, but have grown out of marginal notes made during nearly half a lifetime of constant reference to it. That they are so few is a tribute to the accuracy and comprehensiveness of the original.

Not the least of the virtues of the Grammar are its indexes. A useful adjunct to them is P. Cachia's The Monitor, A Dictionary of Arabic Grammatical Terms (Longman-Librairie du Liban, 1973), which cumulates the terminologies adopted by Wright and by M.S. Howell in his much more extensive Grammar of the Classical Arabic Language.

Pierre Cachia

ADDENDA ET CORRIGENDA

VOL. I

5 A read: الحروف اللطيفة , the liquids دال ذال ر , which are pronounced with the extremity of the tongue (اللزق). The term is sometimes, although dubiously, made synonymous with الحروف اللينة or الحروف اللينة or الحروف اللينة , which include not only the three liquids above but also three of the labials ف ب م . They appear to be so called by association not with any part of a vocal organ, but with the meaning of راحة , chastness or profuseness of speech, in that every quadriliteral or quinquiliteral root of genuinely Arabic derivation is said to contain at least one of these six letters. All letters that are not حروف لينة are called حروف نسيئة made silent, mute, or speechless. For other groupings of letters based on varying criteria, see Howell's Grammar, iv. 1725 ff.

191 C add: REM. j. On كلا and its fem. كلك , both, a pair - which have similarities with the dual - see Vol. ii § 83 (p. 212 D). REM. k. كنان is generally taken to be the dual of كنان equal, like. There are indications, however, that it has sometimes been regarded as an indeclinable word. Most MSS of Bèidāwi's Commentary on Kor'ān iii. v. 31 read وليس الذكر والأنثى كنان . A line ascribed to 'Abū Du'èib is quoted as

وكان كنان إلا يشعروا حساً أو يشعروا بها وأغرت السرح

And they were two like cases that they should not send forth cattle to pasture or send him forth with them when the tracts were very dusty (Lane, p. 1480, col. 2, following the Muḥkam of Ibn Sida); but the Lisān has كنان instead of كنان , and the verse most closely resembling it in Hell's edition of the poet's Dīwān has كنان . It is not without significance that in the colloquial, which generally gives currency only to the oblique form of all duals, the word occurs as كنان is not used in the Kor'ān, nor - so far as has been ascertained - in the ḥadīth.

255 C add to § 320: They are diptote, however, when used as abstract numbers [Comp. Vol. i. § 309 (E), p. 241 D].

VOL. II

316 B add before REM. a.: It follows that أنى is never interrogative when it is the accusative of a verb preceding it. The interrogative أنى may, on the other hand, be the direct object of a subsequent verb; e.g. ما من آيات الله تتكبدن . Which, then, of the signs of God will ye deny (Kor'ān XI. v.81). If, however, the verb has a pronominal suffix which falls back upon (راجع or عائذ) the interrogative pronoun, the latter is either nominative absolute or accusative, as being the direct object of a suppressed verb.

PREFACE TO THE THIRD EDITION.

THE Second Edition of Wright's Grammar of the Arabic language had been out of print long before the death of its author, but he was never able to find the leisure necessary for preparing a New Edition. The demand for it having become more and more pressing, Prof. W. Robertson Smith, who well deserved the honour of succeeding to Wright's chair, resolved to undertake this task. He began it with his usual ardour, but the illness which cut short his invaluable life soon interrupted the work. At his death 56 pages had been printed, whilst the revision had extended over 30 pages more. Robertson Smith had made use of some notes of mine, which he had marked with my initials, and it was for this reason among others that the Syndics of the Cambridge University Press invited me, through Prof. Bevan, to continue the revision. After earnest deliberation I consented, influenced chiefly by my respect for the excellent work of one of my dearest friends and by a desire to complete that which another dear friend had begun. Moreover Prof. Bevan promised his assistance in correcting the English style and in seeing the book through the press.

I have of course adhered to the method followed by Robertson Smith in that part of the Grammar which he revised. Trifling corrections and additions and such suggestions as had already been made by A. Müller, Fleischer and other scholars, are given in square brackets. Only in those cases where it seemed necessary to take all the responsibility upon myself, have I added my initials. Besides the printed list of additions and corrections at the end of the Second Volume, Wright had noted here and there on the margin of his own copy some new examples (chiefly from the Naḥwīd) which have been inserted, unless they seemed quite superfluous, without any distinctive sign. I have found but very few notes by Robertson Smith on the portion which he had not definitely revised; almost all of these have been marked with his initials. Wright's own text has been altered in a comparatively small number of passages (for instance § 252, § 353), where I felt sure that he would have done it himself. Once or twice Wright has noted on the margin "wants revision."

The notes bearing upon the Comparative Grammar of the Semitic languages have for the most part been replaced by references to Wright's Comparative Grammar, published after his death by Robertson Smith (1890).

I have to acknowledge my obligations to Mr Du Pré Thornton, who drew my attention to several omissions. But my warmest thanks must be given to my dear friend and colleague Prof. Bevan, who has not only taken upon himself all the trouble of seeing this revised edition through the press, but by many judicious remarks has contributed much to the improving of it.

The Second Volume is now in the printers' hands.

PREFACE TO THE SECOND EDITION.

A SECOND Edition of my revised and enlarged translation of Caspari's Arabic Grammar having been called for, I have thought it my duty not simply to reprint the book, but to subject it again to a thorough revision. In fact, the present is almost a new work; for there is hardly a section which has not undergone alteration, and much additional matter has been given, as the very size of this volume (351 pages instead of 257) shows.

In revising the book I have availed myself of the labours of Arab Grammarians, both ancient and modern. Of the former I may mention in particular the 'Alfiya (الألفية) of 'Ibn Mālik, with the Commentary of 'Ibn 'Aqīl (ed. Dieterici, 1851, and the Beirut edition of 1872); the Mufaṣṣal (المفصل) of 'el-Zamahsārī (ed. Broch, 1859); and the Lāmiyyatu 'l-'Aḥwāl (لامية الأحوال) of 'Ibn Mālik, with the Commentary of his son Badru 'd-dīn (ed. Volck, 1866). Of recent native works I have diligently used the Miṣbāhu 'l-Ṭālib fī Baḥṭi 'l-Maṭālib (مصباح الطالب في بحث المطالب), that is, the Baḥṭi 'l-Maṭālib of the Maronite Gabriel Farḥāt, with the notes of Buṭrus 'el-Bistānī (Beirut, 1854); 'el-Bistānī's smaller Grammar, founded upon the above, entitled Miṣbāhu 'l-Miṣbāḥ (مصباح المصباح), second edition, Beirut, 1867); and Nāṣif 'el-Yāziḡī's Faṣlu 'l-Ḥiṭāb (فصل الخطاب), second edition, Beirut, 1866).

Among European Grammarians I have made constant use of the works of S. de Sacy (Grammaire Arabe, 2de éd., 1831), Ewald (Grammatica Critica Linguae Arabicæ, 1831-33), and Lumsden (A Grammar of the Arabic Language, vol. i., 1813); which last, however, is based on the system of the Arab Grammarians, and therefore but ill-adapted, apart from its bulk and rarity, for the use of beginners. I have also consulted with advantage the grammar of Professor Lagus of Helsingfors (Lärokurs i Arabiska Språket, 1869). But I am indebted above all to the labours of Professor Fleischer of Leipzig, whose notes on the first volume of De Sacy's Grammar (as far as p. 359) have appeared from time to time in the Berichte der Königl. Sächsischen Gesellschaft der Wissenschaften (1863-64-66-70), in which periodical the student will also find the treatises of the same scholar Ueber einige Arten der Nominalapposition im Arabischen (1862) and Ueber das Verhältniss und die Construction der Sach- und Stoffwörter im Arabischen (1856).

In the notes which touch upon the comparative grammar of the Semitic languages, I have not found much to alter, except in matters of detail. I have read, I believe, nearly everything that has been published of late years upon this subject—the fanciful lucubrations of Von Raumer and Raabe, as well as the learned and scholarly treatises of Nöldeke, Philippi, and Tegnér. My standpoint remains, however, nearly the same as it formerly was. The ancient Semitic languages—Arabic and Æthiopic, Assyrian, Canaanitic (Phœnician and Hebrew), and Aramaic (so-called Chaldee and Syriac)—are as closely connected with each other as the Romance languages—Italian, Spanish, Portuguese, Provençal, and French: they are all daughters of a deceased mother, standing to them in the relation of Latin to the other European languages just specified. In some points the north Semitic tongues, particularly the Hebrew, may bear the greatest resemblance to this parent speech; but, on the whole, the south Semitic dialects, Arabic and Æthiopic,—but especially the former,—have, I still think, preserved a higher degree of likeness to the original Semitic language. The Hebrew of the Pentateuch, and the Assyrian*, as it appears in even the oldest inscriptions, seem to me to have already attained nearly the same stage of grammatical development (or decay) as the post-classical Arabic, the spoken language of mediæval and modern times.

I have to thank the Home Government of India for contributing the sum of fifty pounds towards defraying the expenses of printing this work; and some of the local Governments for subscribing for a certain number of copies; namely, the Government of Bengal, twenty, and the Home Department (Fort William), twenty-five; the Government of Bombay, ten; of Madras, ten; and of the Punjab, sixty copies. My friend and former school-fellow, Mr D. Murray (of Adelaide, S. Australia), has also given pecuniary aid to the same extent as the India Office, and thereby laid me, and I hope I may say other Orientalists, under a fresh obligation.

Professor Fleischer of Leipzig will, I trust, look upon the dedication as a mark of respect for the Oriental scholarship of Germany, whereof he is one of the worthiest representatives; and as a slight acknowledgment of much kindness and help, extending over a period of more than twenty years, from the publication of my first work in 1852 down to the present year, in which, amid the congratulations of numerous pupils and friends, he has celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his doctorate.

ORTHOGRAPHY AND ORTHOËPY.

I. THE LETTERS AS CONSONANTS.

1. Arabic, like Hebrew and Syriac, is written and read from A right to left. The letters of the alphabet (حُرُوفُ الْهَجَاءِ, حُرُوفُ حُرُوفِ الْهَجَاءِ, حُرُوفُ الْهَجَاءِ, حُرُوفُ الْهَجَاءِ, حُرُوفُ الْهَجَاءِ) are twenty-eight in number, and are all consonants, though three of them are also used as vowels (see § 3). They vary in form, according as they are connected with a preceding or following letter, and, for the most part, terminate in a bold stroke, when they stand alone or at the end of a word. The following Table gives the letters in their usual order, along with their names and numerical values.

REM. a. l in connection with a preceding l forms the figures ل, ل, لا. This combination is called lām-êlif, and is generally reckoned a twenty-ninth letter of the alphabet, and inserted before ي. The object of it is merely to distinguish êlif as the long vowel ā, § 3, from êlif as the spiritus lenis (êlif with hēmza, إ, § 15).

REM. b. The order of the letters ه and و is sometimes inverted. The Arabs of Northern Africa arrange the letters in a different sequence; viz.

ا ب ت ث ج ح خ د ذ ر ز ط ظ ك ل م ن ص ض ع غ
ف ق س ش ه و لا ي B

They distinguish ف from ق by giving the former a single point below, and the latter one above, thus: ف ق, but ف *ق. At the end of a word these points are usually omitted, ف, ق.

REM. c. In manuscripts and elegantly printed books many of the letters are interwoven with one another, and form ligatures, of which the following are examples.

غ غ. ع ع. ل ل.
ح ح. ف ف. ل ل.

[These ligatures, in which one letter stands above another, are very inconvenient to printers, especially when, as in this book, English and Arabic are intermingled; and most founts have some device to bring the letters into line. Thus ح appears as ح, or, in the fount used for this grammar, as ح. The latter method is a recent innovation, first introduced by Lane in his D Arabic Lexicon, and its extreme simplicity and convenience have caused it to be largely adopted in modern founts, not only in Europe but in the East. But in writing Arabic the student ought to use the old ligatures as they are shewn in Mss. or in the more elegant Eastern founts.]

* This is not confined, in the earliest times, to African Mss. In some old Mss., on the other hand, ك has the point below, ك, ك, or even ك, ك.

A REM. d. Those letters which are identical in form, and distinguished from one another in writing only by the aid of the small dots usually called diacritical points (نُقْطَةٌ, plur. نُقُطٌ), are divided by the grammarians into أَلْحُرُوفُ الْهَيْمَلَةُ, the loose or free, i.e. unpointed, letters, and أَلْحُرُوفُ الْمَعْجَمَةُ, the bolted or fastened, i.e. pointed, letters. To the former class belong ح, د, ر, س, ط, ص, and ع; to the latter خ, ز, ش, ض, ظ and غ. The letters ب, ت, ث and ي are generally distinguished as follows:

- B ب is called أَلْبَاءُ الْمَوْحَدَةُ, the s with one point (1);
 ت ,, أَلْبَاءُ الْمَثْنَاءُ مِنْ فَوْقِهَا, the s with two points above (2);
 ي ,, أَلْبَاءُ الْمَثْنَاءُ مِنْ تَحْتِهَا, the s with two points below (2)*;
 ث ,, أَلْبَاءُ الْمَثْلَثَةُ, the s with three points (3).

The unpointed letters are sometimes still further distinguished from the pointed by various contrivances, such as writing the letter in a smaller size below the line, placing a point below, or an angular mark above, and the like; so that we find in carefully written manuscripts ط, ص, ض, س, ش, ز, د, ح, ع, etc. Also ه or هـ by way of distinction from ه. In some old Mss. ش has only one point above, and then س takes a point below.

C REM. e. The letters are also divided into the following classes, which take their names from the particular part of the vocal organs that is chiefly instrumental in producing their sounds.

- م و ف ب, أَلشَّفَوِيَّةُ or أَلْحُرُوفُ الشَّفَوِيَّةُ, the labials (شَفَا a lip);
 ط, ذ, ث, أَلْحُرُوفُ اللِّتَوِيَّةُ, the gingivals, in uttering which the tongue is pressed against the gum (اللِّتَةُ).
 ص, س, ز, أَلْحُرُوفُ الْأَسْلِيَّةُ, the sibilants, which are pronounced with the tip of the tongue (الْأُسْلَةُ).

* [With final ي the use of the two points below is optional. Some modern prints, especially those issued at Bairût, always insert them except when the ي represents elif maksûra (§ 7, rem. b): thus رَمَى, but رَمَى, كَفَى.]

أَلْحُرُوفُ الدَّلَقِيَّةُ or الدَّلَوَقِيَّةُ, the liquids ن, ل, ر, which are pronounced with the extremity of the tongue (الدَّلَقُ or الدَّلَوَقُ).

أَلْحُرُوفُ الشَّجْرِيَّةُ, the letters ض, ش, ج, which are uttered through the open orifice of the lips (الشَّجْرُ).

أَلْحُرُوفُ التَّطْعِيَّةُ or التَّطْعِيَّةُ, the letters ط, د, ت, which are uttered by pressing the tongue against the rough or corrugated portion of the palate (التَّطْعُ or التَّطْعُ).

أَلْحُرُوفَانِ اللَّيْوَتَانِ, the letters ق and ك, in uttering which the uvula (اللَّهَاءُ) is brought into play.

أَلْحُرُوفُ الْحَلَقِيَّةُ or أَلْحُرُوفُ الْحَلْقِ, the gutturals, ه, خ, ع, ح, أ.

The letters ي and و are called أَلْحُرُوفُ اللَّيْنِ or أَلْحُرُوفُ اللَّيْنَةِ, the soft letters, and أَلْحُرُوفُ أَعْلَى, the weak letters.

2. The correct pronunciation of some of these letters, for example ح and ع, it is scarcely possible for a European to acquire, except by long intercourse with natives. The following hints will, however, enable the learner to approximate to their sounds.

ا with hêmza (أ, ا, see § 15) is the spiritus lenis of the Greeks, the h of the Hebrews (as in אָמַר, זָאֵב, תְּאֵלָה). It may be compared with the h in the French word homme or English hour.

ت is the Italian dental, softer than our t.

ث is pronounced like the Greek θ, or th in thing. The Turks and Persians usually convert it into the surd s, as in sing. [In Egypt it is commonly confounded with ت, less often with س.]

ج corresponds to our g in gem. In Egypt and some parts of Arabia, however, it has the sound of the Heb. ג, or our g in get.

ح, the Heb. ח, is a very sharp but smooth guttural aspirate, stronger than ه, but not rough like خ. Europeans, as well as Turks and Persians, rarely attain the correct pronunciation of it.

خ has the sound of ch in the Scotch word loch, or the German Rache.

د is the Italian dental, softer than our d.

ذ bears the same relation to د that ث does to ت. It is sounded

A like the δ of the modern Greeks, or th in that, with. The Turks and Persians usually convert it into z. [In Egypt it is sometimes z but oftener d.]

ر is in all positions a distinctly articulated lingual r, as in run.

ز is the English z.

س is the surd s in sit, mist; ش, sh in shut.

ص, the Heb. שׁ, is a strongly articulated s, somewhat like ss in hiss.

B ض is an aspirated d, strongly articulated between the front part of the side of the tongue and the molar teeth (somewhat like th in this). The Turks and Persians usually pronounce it like z. [In Egypt it is an emphatic d, without aspiration, more difficult to an English tongue than the true Bedouin ض.]

ط, the Heb. ט, is a strongly articulated palatal t.

ث and ذ do to ت and د. It is usually pronounced like a strongly articulated palatal z, though many of the Arabs give it the same sound as ض [with which it is often confounded in Mss.]. The Turks and Persians change it into a common z. To distinguish it from ض, ط is sometimes spoken of as أَلْفَاءُ الْمَبْطُوحَةِ. The ض is then called أَلْفَاءُ الْمَبْطُوحَةِ.

C ع, the Heb. ע, is a strong (but to [most] Europeans, as well as Turks and Persians, unpronounceable) guttural, related in its nature to ح, with which it is sometimes confounded. It is described as produced by a smart compression of the upper part of the windpipe and forcible emission of the breath. It is wrong to treat it, in any of the Semitic languages, as a mere vowel-letter, or (worse still) as D a nasal n or ng.

غ is a guttural g, accompanied by a grating or rattling sound, as in gargling, of which we have no example in English. The γ of the modern Greeks, the Northumbrian r, and the French r grassé, are approximations to it*.

ف is our f.

ق, the Heb. ק, is a strongly articulated guttural k; but in parts of Arabia, and throughout Northern Africa, it is pronounced as a hard g; whilst in [Cairo and some parts of] Syria it is vulgarly con- A founded with ëlif hémzatim, as 'ultu, ya'ūlu, for ḫultu, yaḫūlu.

* [Hence غ is sometimes replaced by ر as in the Yemenite مَصَار for مَصَاع, Hamdānī ed. Müller 193, 17 etc., and often in Mss.—De G.]

ك, ل, م, and ن, are exactly our k, l, m, n. When immediately followed by the letter ب, without any vowel coming between them, ن takes the sound of m: as جَنْبٌ ḡamb, عَنَبٌ 'ambar, شَنْبَاءٌ šambā'u, not ḡamb, 'ambar, šambā'u.

ه is our h. It is distinctly aspirated at the end, as well as at the beginning, of a syllable; e.g. هُمٌ hum, أَهْلَكَ 'ahlaka. In the grammatical termination ةِ, the dotted ة [called هَاءُ التَّنْبِيْثِ] is pronounced like t, t)*. B

و and ي are precisely our w and y. The Turks and Persians usually give و the sound of v.

II. THE VOWELS AND DIPHTHONGS.

3. The Arabs had originally no signs for the short vowels. To indicate the long vowels and diphthongs they made use of the three consonants that come nearest to them in sound: viz. ا (without hémza, see § 1, rem. a, and § 15) for ā, ي for ī and ai, و for ū and au. E.g. C لا lā, في fī, كي kai, دو dū, لو lau.

4. At a later period the following signs were invented to express the short vowels.

(a) َ feth (فَتْح) or fetha (فَتْحَة), a, ə (as in pet), e (nearly the French e muet); e.g. حَلَقَ ḫalaka, شَمْسٌ šamsun, كَرِيمٌ kerīmun.

(b) ِ kəṣr (كَسْر) or kəṣra (كَسْرَة), i (as in pin), ɨ (a dull, obscure i, resembling the Welsh y, or the i in bird); e.g. بِيه bīhi, أَهْلٌ āhlun. D

(c) ُ ḡamm (ضَم) or ḡamma (ضَمَة), u (as in bull), o, ö (nearly as the German ö in Mörtel, or the French eu in jeune); e.g. لَهُ lahū, هَوَّجْتُ ḫöggəṭun, عَمْرٌ 'ömrūn.

* In point of fact, this figure ة is merely a compromise between the ancient تِ (Heb. ט, טְ), the old pausal ةِ (āh), and the modern ة (Heb. ט, טְ), in which last the e is silent.

A REM. a. The distinction between the names fêḥ, kèsr, ḍamma, and fêḥa, kèsra, ḍamma, is that the former denote the sounds a, i, u, the latter the marks َ, ِ, ُ. Compare the Hebrew פֶּתַח, שֶׁבֶר, קָבוֹץ. The terms نَصَب and رَفَع, commonly used of the case-endings a, u, are sometimes applied to َ, ُ in other positions; e.g. الْحَرُورِيَّةُ بِنَصَبِ الْآخَاءِ. [Another name for ḍamm is kabw, قَبْو.—De G.]

B REM. b. A vowel is called حَرَكَةٌ, a motion, plur. حَرَكَاتٌ; its mark is termed سُكْلٌ, form or figure, plur. أَشْكَالٌ or سُكُونٌ.

REM. c. In the oldest Mss. of the Korān, the vowels are expressed by dots (usually red), one above for fetha, one below for kèsra, and one in the middle, or on the line, for ḍamma. As regards the signs َ, ِ, ُ the third is a small و and the other two are probably derived from 1 and ى or ے respectively.

5. Rules for the cases in which these vowel-marks retain their original sounds, a, i, u, and for those in which they are modified, through the influence of the stronger or weaker consonants, into è, e, o, or ö, can scarcely be laid down with certainty; for the various dialects of the spoken Arabic differ from one another in these points; and besides, owing to the emphasis with which the consonants are uttered, the vowels are in general somewhat indistinctly enunciated. The following rules may, however, be given for the guidance of the learner*.

(a) When preceded or followed by the strong gutturals غ غ خ ح or the emphatic consonants ق ط ظ ص ص, fêḥa is pronounced as a, though with the emphatic consonants its sound becomes rather obscure, D approaching to that of the Swedish ä; e.g. حَمْرٌ hamrun, لَعْبٌ la'bun, بَكِيَّةٌ bakīya, صَدْرٌ ṣadrun. Under the same circumstances kèsra is pronounced as i, e.g. عِلْمٌ ilmun, سِحْرٌ siḥrun, قِشْرٌ qisḥrun; whilst ḍamma assumes the sound of an obscure o, inclining with the gutturals (especially ح and ع) to ö; e.g. لَطْفٌ laṭafa, لُفْطٌ loṭfun, حُسْنٌ ḥosnun or ḥösnun, رُفْبٌ ro'bun, عُمرٌ ömrun.

* [Learners whose ears and vocal organs are good, and who have an opportunity of hearing and practising the correct pronunciation of the consonants, will find that the proper shades of sound in the three vowels come without effort when the consonants are spoken rightly and naturally. The approximate rules for pronunciation here given are mainly useful as a guide towards the right way of holding the mouth in pronouncing the consonants as well as the vowels.]

(b) In shut syllables in which there are neither guttural nor emphatic consonants,—and in open syllables which neither commence with, nor immediately precede, one of those letters,—fêḥa either has a weaker, less clear sound, approaching to that of a in the English words hat, cap, e.g. كَتَبْتُ katabta, أَكْبَرُ 'akbaru; or it becomes a B simple è or e (the latter especially in a short open syllable followed by a long one), e.g. بَلٌ bəl, مَرْكَبٌ mərəkəbun, سَمَكٌ səməkun, سَمِينٌ semīnun, مَدِينَةٌ medīnəṭun. It retains, however, its pure sound of a before and after r (which partakes of the nature of the emphatics), when that letter is doubled or follows a long ā or ū, e.g. جَرَّةٌ ḡarratun, مَرَّةٌ marratun, غَارَةٌ ḡaratun, صُورَةٌ ṣūratun; and also in general at the end of a word.

6. The long vowels ā, ī, ū, are indicated by placing the marks C of the short vowels before the letters ا, ى, and و, respectively, e.g. قَالٌ qāla, بَاعٌ bī'a, سُوْقٌ sūqun; in which case these letters are called حُرُوفُ الْمَدِّ, literae productionis, “letters of prolongation.” The combinations ىِ and وِ must always be pronounced ī and ū, not ē and ō; though after the emphatic consonants وِ inclines to the sound of ō, and ī to that of the French u or German ü, e.g. طُورٌ ṭūr, طِينٌ ṭūnun.

REM. a. ā was at first more rarely marked than the other D long vowels, and hence it happens that, at a later period, after the invention of the vowel-points, it was indicated in some very common words merely by a fêḥa; e.g. هَرُونَ، إِسْحَقُ، إِبْرَاهِيمُ، الرَّحْمَنُ، اللَّهُ. أَلَيْتَكَ، أَلَيْتَكَ، أَلَيْتَكَ، أَلَيْتَكَ، أَلَيْتَكَ، أَلَيْتَكَ، أَلَيْتَكَ، أَلَيْتَكَ، أَلَيْتَكَ، أَلَيْتَكَ. More exactly, however, the fêḥa should be written perpendicularly in this case, so as to resemble a small *ë*lif; e.g. هَرُونُ، إِسْحَقُ، إِبْرَاهِيمُ، الرَّحْمَنُ، اللَّهُ. أَلَيْتَكَ، أَلَيْتَكَ، أَلَيْتَكَ، أَلَيْتَكَ، أَلَيْتَكَ (the resurrection, to be carefully distinguished from

- A ثَلَاثَةٌ ṭ-lāṭiṭu, price, value), هَبْنَا ḥabnā. The words ثَلَاثٌ ṭ-lāṭ, and ثَلَاثُونَ ṭ-lāṭūn, are also frequently written defectively ثَلَاثٌ ṭ-lāṭ; and occasionally some other vocables, such as ثَمِينَةٌ ṭ-mīn and ثَمُونٌ ṭ-mūn; and ثَمِينٌ ṭ-mīn, ثَمُونٌ ṭ-mūn, and other proper names ending in ثَمَانٌ ṭ-mān; الشَّيْطَانُ ṭ-šayṭān; مَعُونَةٌ ṭ-maʿūn; خَلْدٌ ṭ-ḫald; أَلْفٌ ṭ-alf; and other proper names of the forms فَاعِلٌ ṭ-fāʿil and أَلْفَاعِلٌ ṭ-alfāʿil; دِينَرٌ ṭ-dīnār; etc. This is more common in Magribi Mss. than in others.—The long vowel ī is in a very few instances written defectively at the end of a word, e.g. أَلْحَافِ ṭ-ḥāfī, أَلْعَاصِ ṭ-ʿāṣī, أَلْيَمَانِ ṭ-īman, حَدِيثَةُ بَنِ أَلْيَمَانِ ḥadīṭu bni ʿīman, Ḥodīṣetu 'bnu 'l-Yemānī, for أَلْحَافِي ṭ-ḥāfī, أَلْعَاصِي ṭ-ʿāṣī, أَلْيَمَانِي ṭ-īmanī; أَلْمُهْتَدِي ṭ-muḥṭadī for أَلْمُهْتَدِي *.

REM. b. The letter e, preceded by damma, is used by the Arabs of North Africa and Spain to indicate a final o in foreign words; e.g. قَارْلُو Carlo; بَطْرُو Don Pedro; وَادِي آرُو the river Guadiaro.

- C REM. c. The sound of l inclines, in later times and in certain localities, from ā to ē, just as that of f does from a to è (see § 4, a, and § 5, b). This change is called اَلْإِمَالَةُ ṭ-ʿimāla, the “deflection” of the sound of a and ā towards that of i and ī. The Magribi Arabs actually pronounce ā in many cases as ī. Hence رِكَابٌ rikāb, لَكِينٌ lakīn, بَابٌ bāb, لِسَانٌ lisān, are sounded رِكَبٌ rikab, لَكِينٌ lakīn, بَابٌ bāb, لِسَانٌ lisān; and, conversely, the Spanish names Beja, Jaen, Camiles, Lebrilla, are written بَاجِهٌ bājah, جَبَانٌ jabān, قَنَالَشٌ qanālaš, جَبْرَالِهٌ jabrālah.

- D 7. l corresponds to f, ī to k, and u to ḍ; whence l is called اَلْفَتْحَةُ ṭ-faṭḥa, اَلْأُخْتُ اَلْفَتْحَةُ ṭ-ʾuḫṭu ṭ-faṭḥa, the sister of f, اَلْأُخْتُ اَلْكَسْرَةُ ṭ-ʾuḫṭu ṭ-kasra, the sister of k, and اَلْأُخْتُ اَلضَّمَّةُ ṭ-ʾuḫṭu ṭ-ḍamma, the sister of ḍ. F before ī and u forms the diphthongs ai and au, which retain their original clear sound after the harder gutturals and the emphatics, e.g. صَيْفٌ ṭ-ṣayf,

* [The omission of final ī in these cases is hardly a mere orthographical irregularity, but expresses a variant pronunciation in which the final ī was shortened or dropped. See Nöldeke, Gesch. d. Qorān's, p. 251.]

حَوْفٌ ḥawf; but after the other letters become nearly ā (Heb. ʾ=) A and ō (Heb. ʾ=), e.g. سَيْفٌ ṭ-ṣayf, مَوْتٌ ṭ-mawt (almost ṭ-ṣayf, ṭ-mawt).

REM. a. After u at the end of a word, both when preceded by damma and by f, l is often written, particularly in the plural of verbs; e.g. نَصَرُوا ṭ-naṣarū, رَمَوْا ṭ-ramū, يَغْزُوا ṭ-yagzū. This l, in itself quite superfluous (ḫlif otiosum), is intended to guard against the possibility of the preceding u being separated from the body of the word to which it belongs, and so being mistaken for the conjunction u and. It is called اَلْأَلْفُ اَلْوَقَايَةُ ṭ-alfu ṭ-waqāya, the guarding ḫlif, or اَلْأَلْفُ اَلْفَاصِلَةُ ṭ-alfu ṭ-fāṣila, the separating ḫlif.

REM. b. ī at the end of a word after a f is pronounced B like l, e.g. فَتَى ṭ-fatā, رَمَى ṭ-ramā, إِلَى *ṭ-ʾilā, and is called, like l itself in the same position (e.g. بَهْمَسَا ṭ-bahmasā, جَزَا ṭ-jazā), اَلْأَلْفُ اَلْمَقْصُورَةُ ṭ-alfu ṭ-maqṣūra, the ḫlif that can be abbreviated, in contradistinction to the lengthened ḫlif, اَلْأَلْفُ اَلْمَمْدُودَةُ (see § 22 and § 23, rem. a), which is protected by h. It receives this name because, when it comes in contact with a h conjunction (see § 19, rem. f), it is shortened in pronunciation before the following consonant, as are the u and ī in أَبُو ṭ-abū and أَبِي ṭ-abī before اَلْوَزِيرِ ṭ-wazīr (see § 20, b)†.

REM. c. If a pronominal suffix be added to a word ending C in ī, the ī is sometimes retained according to old custom, as in رَمِيَهُ ṭ-ramīhu or رَمِيَهُ ṭ-ramīhu, but it is commonly changed into l, as رَمَاهُ ṭ-ramāhu.

* [But ī, with the mark ḡezma (see § 10), as in كُنِيَ ṭ-kuṇī is the diphthong ai.] The diphthong ai, when final, is often marked in old Mss. by the letters l suprascript; e.g. يَدِي كَلِّ مِعْطَاءٍ ṭ-yadī kalī miʿṭāʾ, i.e. يَدِي ṭ-yadī, not yadāi.

† [It would seem that the early scribes who fixed the orthographical usage made a distinction of sound between ī and l, pronouncing D the former nearly as ē; cf. rem. d. On the other hand many Mss., even very ancient ones, write l where the received rules require ī. According to the grammarians ḫlif maḳṣūra is always written ī in words of more than three letters unless the penultimate letter is Yā (as يَحْيَا he will live, دُنْيَا world). In words of three letters, the origin of the final ā must be considered; a “converted Yā” gives ī, a “converted Wāw” gives l. See the details below §§ 167, 169, 213 etc.]

A REM. d. In some words ending in ة we often find و instead of ة , as حَيَوَةٌ or حَيَوَةٌ , صَلَوَةٌ or صَلَوَةٌ , زَكْوَةٌ or زَكْوَةٌ , نَجْوَةٌ , عَدْوَةٌ , رَبَا for رَبَا , رَبَا for رَبَا ; further ة for ة in the loan-word تَوْرِيَةٌ or تَوْرِيَةٌ ; according to which older mode of writing we ought to pronounce the ة nearly as ā or ē respectively*.

B 8. The marks of the short vowels when doubled are pronounced with the addition of the sound n, ان , ين , ون or ون . This is called التَّنْوِين , the tênwin or “nunation” (from the name of the letter ن nūn), and takes place only at the end of a word; e.g. مَدِينَةٌ medīnetan, بِنْتِ bin̄tin, مَالٌ mālun. See § 308.

REM. a. ة takes an ا after all the consonants except ة ; as بَابًا , رَبَا , but خَلِيفَةً . However, when it precedes a ي , no ا is written, as in هَدَى ; nor, according to the older orthography, when it accompanies a hēmza, as in شَيْءٌ , for which we more usually find شَيْئًا . This ة in no way affects the quantity of the vowel, which is always short: bābān, rihān.

C REM. b. To one word و is added, without in any way affecting the sound of the tênwin, viz. to the proper name عَمْرُو ‘Amr’ (not ‘Amrū’), genit. عَمْرُو , accus. عَمْرًا , rarely عَمْرُوا , [or, when the tênwin falls away (§ 315, a, rem. b) عَمْرُو in all three cases], so written to distinguish it from another proper name that has the same radical letters, viz. عَمْرٌ ‘Omar’, genit. and accus. عَمْرٌ . The و of عَمْرُو and عَمْرُو is, however, often neglected in old manuscripts. [Cf. the use of $\text{}$ to represent tênwin in proper names in the Nabataean inscriptions.]

D REM. c. In old Mss. of the Ḳor’ān, the tênwin is expressed by doubling the dots which represent the vowels; ـَـَ = ـَـَ , ـِـِ = ـِـِ , ـُـُ = ـُـُ .

* [The prophet said أَقْعُو for أَقْعَى for حَدَّو for حَدَّأ . Zamahsārī, Fāḥk i. 114.—De G.]

III. OTHER ORTHOGRAPHIC SIGNS. A

A. G̣ezma or Sukūn.

9. G̣ezma, جَزْمَةٌ or جَزْمَةٌ (amputation), $\text{}$, is written over the final consonant of all shut syllables, and serves, when another syllable follows, to separate the two; e.g. بَلٌ bəl, هُمٌ hum, كَتَبْتُمْ katabtum, سَفْسَفٌ səfsəfu, قُرْآنٌ kor-’ānun (not ko-rānun). It corresponds therefore to the Shəvā quiescens of the Hebrew, with which its other name سُكُونٌ , rest, coincides.

B REM. a. A letter which has no following vowel is called حَرْفٌ ḥarf, a quiescent letter, as opposed to $\text{حَرْفٌ مُتَحَرِّكٌ}$, a movent letter. See § 4, rem. b.

REM. b. Letters that are assimilated to a following letter, which receives in consequence the têstīd or mark of doubling (see § 11 and § 14), are retained in writing, but not marked with a g̣ezma; e.g. أَرَدْتُ aradtu, مِن رَّبِّهِ , أَرَدْتُ , not مِن رَّبِّهِ , أَرَدْتُ .

REM. c. The same distinction exists between the words g̣ezm and g̣ezma, as between fēḥ and fēḥa, etc. (see § 4, rem. a).

C REM. d. Older forms of the g̣ezma are ـَـَ and ـِـِ , whence the later ـَـَ , instead of the common ـَـَ or ـِـِ . In some old Mss. of the Ḳor’ān a small horizontal (red) stroke is used, ـَـَ .

10. ي and و , when they form a diphthong with fēḥa, are marked with a g̣ezma, as يَوْمٌ , يَدَى ; but when they stand for ēlif productionis they do not take this sign (see § 7, rem. b, c, d).

REM. In many manuscripts a g̣ezma is placed even over the letters of prolongation, e.g. قَالَ , سِيمٌ , صَبُورٌ ; and over the ēlif maḳṣūra, e.g. عَلَى for عَلَى .

B. Têstīd or Šeddā. D

11. A consonant that is to be doubled, or, as the Arabs say, strengthened (مُسْتَدَدٌ), without the interposition of a vowel (see rem. a), is written only once, but marked with the sign ـَـَ , which is called

A التَّشْدِيدُ, the tèsdîd (strengthening)*; e.g. أَكَلَّ el-kulla, كَلَّ kullan, سَمَّ es-sèmmi, سَمَّ sèmmîn, أَمَّر el-murru, مُرَّ murrûn. It corresponds therefore to the Daghesh forte of the Hebrew.

REM. a. The solitary exception to this rule, in the verbal forms كُوِّلَا kūwila and تُكْوِلَا tukūwila, instead of قَوْلٌ and تُقَوِّلُ, admits of an easy explanation (see § 159).—When a consonant is repeated in such a manner that a vowel is interposed between its first and second occurrence, no doubling, properly so called, takes place, and consequently the tèsdîd is not required; e.g. فَرَرْتُ, 2d pers. sing. masc. Perf. of فَرَّ; تَلَقَّتْ, 3d pers. sing. fem. Perf. of the fifth form of لَقَّ.

REM. b. A consonant can be doubled, and receive tèsdîd, only when a vowel precedes and follows it. The cases treated of in § 14 form no exception to this rule.

REM. c. All consonants whatsoever, not even šlif hèmzatun excepted, admit of being doubled and take tèsdîd. Hence we speak and write رَأْسًا ra'āsun, سَأَلًا sa'ālun, نَأَجًا na'ajun.

C ش is an abbreviated ش, the first radical of the name تَشْدِيدٌ, or the first letter of the name شَدَّةٌ, which the African Arabs use instead of the other. Or it may stand for شد (from مُشَدَّدٌ), since in the oldest and most carefully written manuscripts its form is س. Its opposite is ح, i.e. خف (from مُخَفَّفٌ lightened, single); e.g. سِرًّا secretly and openly.

D REM. e. Tèsdîd, in combination with اَ, إِ, أَ, أَ, is placed between the consonants and these vowel-marks, as may be seen from the above examples. In combination with اَ the Egyptians write اَ instead of اَ; but elsewhere, at least in old manuscripts, اَ may stand for اَ as well as اَ. The African Arabs constantly write اَ, اَ, اَ, for اَ, اَ, اَ. In the oldest Mss. of the Kor'an, tèsdîd is expressed by اَ or اَ, which, when accompanied by kèsra, is sometimes written, as in African Mss., below the line. In African Mss. the vowel is not always written with the sèdda; اَ alone may be = اَ, &c.

* [The nomen unitatis is تَشْدِيدَةٌ.—De G.]

12. Tèsdîd is either necessary or euphonic. A

13. The necessary tèsdîd, which always follows a vowel, whether short (as in عَلَّقَ) or long (as in مَادَّ), indicates a doubling upon which the signification of the word depends. Thus أَمَرَ (àmara) means he commanded, but أَمَّرَ (àmmarā), he appointed some one commander; مُرَّ (murrūn) is bitter, but a word مُرٌّ (murūn) does not exist in the language.

REM. The Arabs do not readily tolerate a syllable containing a long vowel and terminating in a consonant. Consequently tèsdîd B necessarium scarcely ever follows the long vowels و and ي, as in تَمُودَ التَّوْبُ, though it is sometimes found after ا, as in مَادَّةَ, مَارَّ, يَكْتَبَانِ (see § 25). Nor does it occur after the diphthongs اَؤ and اَي, save in rare instances, like سُويَّة, خويصة, and دويبة [see § 277].

14. The euphonic tèsdîd always follows a vowelless consonant, which, though expressed in writing, is, to avoid harshness of sound, passed over in pronunciation and assimilated to a following consonant. It is used:—

(a) With the letters ط, ض, ص, ش, س, ز, ر, ذ, د, ث, ت, C ظ, ظ, ل, ن, (dentals, sibilants, and liquids,) after the article أَلْ; e.g. التَّمْرُ el-tèmru; الرَّحْمَنُ ar-rahmānu; السَّمْسُ es-sèmsu; الظُّلْمُ az-ẓolmu; التَّلِيلُ el-tèlilu, or, in African and Spanish manuscripts, التَّلِيلُ.

REM. a. These letters are called الْحُرُوفُ الشَّمْسِيَّةُ, the solar letters, because the word شَمْسٌ, sun, happens to begin with one of them; and the other letters of the alphabet الْحُرُوفُ الْقَمَرِيَّةُ, the lunar letters, because the word قَمَرٌ, moon, commences with one of D them.

REM. b. This assimilation is extended by some to the ل of هَلْ and بَلْ, especially before ر, as هَلْ رَأَيْتَ.

(b) With the letters و, م, ل, ر, ي, after n with gèzm, e.g. مِنْ رَبِّهِ mir rabbihi, مِنْ لَيْلٍ, أَنْ يَقْتُلَ; and after the nunation, e.g. كِتَابٌ مُبِينٌ kitābum mubīnun, for kitābun mubīnun. The n of the

A contrary to rule, ظَلْمًا شَيْئًا; and in old Mss. we find such instances as رَدًّا for رَدًّا.

(b) Frequently in the middle of words, after the letters of prolongation و and ي, or after a consonant with gèzma, e.g. مَقْرُوءَةٌ for مَقْرُوءَةٌ, مُؤَبَّاتٌ for مُؤَبَّاتٌ, تَوَامٌ for تَوَامٌ, يَسْأَلُ for يَسْأَلُ; and also after kèsra and damma before the ي and و of prolongation, e.g. رُؤُسٌ for رُؤُسٌ, رُؤُسٌ for رُؤُسٌ. Hèmza between ā, ū, āi, ūi, āū, and ūū, is, however, more frequently, though improperly, placed over the letter of prolongation itself; e.g. مَقْرُوءَةٌ for مَقْرُوءَةٌ, حَطِيئَةٌ for حَطِيئَةٌ or حَطِيئَةٌ, رُؤُسٌ for رُؤُسٌ or رُؤُسٌ, which words must always be pronounced mukrū'atun, ḥaṭī'atun, ru'ūsun.

REM. a. After a consonant with gèzma, which is connected with a following letter, hèmza and its vowel may be placed above the connecting line; as أَسْأَلُ for أَسْأَلُ.

C REM. b. A hèmza preceded by u or i, and followed by u or ū, may be changed into pure و or ي; as جُونٌ for جُونٌ, سَوَالٌ for سَوَالٌ, لِئَامٌ for لِئَامٌ, مِئَةٌ for مِئَةٌ, سَوَالٌ for سَوَالٌ.—If preceded by ū or ī, or the diphthong ai, the hèmza may likewise be changed into و or ي, whatever be the following vowel; as مَقْرُوءَةٌ for مَقْرُوءَةٌ, from مَقْرُوءَةٌ; فِيٌّ for فِيٌّ; بَرِيئَةٌ for بَرِيئَةٌ, from بَرِيئَةٌ; نَبِيٌّ for نَبِيٌّ, from نَبِيٌّ.
D شَيْئًا for شَيْئًا.—If the hèmza has gèzma, it may [lose its consonantal power and] be changed into the letter of prolongation that is homogeneous with the preceding vowel, as رَأْسٌ for رَأْسٌ, لُؤْمٌ for لُؤْمٌ, بَيْرٌ for بَيْرٌ; necessarily so, if the preceding consonant be an ḥlif with hèmza, as أَمِنٌ, أَمِنٌ, أَمِنٌ, أَمِنٌ, أَمِنٌ, أَمِنٌ, أَمِنٌ. [This is called تَخْفِيفُ الْهَمْزَةِ.]

REM. c. The name دَاوُدُ or دَاوُدُ, David, is often written دَاوُدُ, but must always be pronounced Dā'ūdū.

D. Wasla.

18. When the vowels with hèmza (أُ إُ أُ), at the commencement of a word, are absorbed by the final vowel of the preceding word, the elision of the spiritus lenis is marked by the sign ـِ, written over the ḥlif, and called وَصْلٌ, or وَصْلَةٌ, or صَلَةٌ (see § 4, rem. a), i.e. union; e.g. رَأَيْتُ أَبْنَكَ 'abdu 'l-mèliki for رَأَيْتُ أَبْنَكَ 'abdu 'l-mèliki; رَأَيْتُ أَبْنَكَ 'abdu 'l-mèliki for رَأَيْتُ أَبْنَكَ 'abdu 'l-mèliki.

REM. a. ـِ seems to be an abbreviation of ص in وَصْلٌ or صَلَةٌ; or rather, it is the word صَلَةٌ itself. In the oldest Mss. of the Kor'an the wasl is indicated by a stroke (usually red), which sometimes varies in position, according to the preceding vowel. In ancient Magribi Mss. the stroke is used, with a point to indicate the original vowel of the elided ḥlif; e.g., عَرَضَ أَللهُ, i.e. عَرَضَ أَللهُ; أَلْحَيَوَةُ, i.e. أَلْحَيَوَةُ. Hence even in modern African Mss. we find أَل أَل أَل instead of the usual أَل.

REM. b. Though we have written in the above examples أَبْنَكَ and أَبْنَكَ, yet the student must not forget that the more correct orthography is أَبْنَكَ and أَبْنَكَ. See § 15, rem. a, and § 19, rem. d.

19. This elision takes place in the following cases.

(a) With the أُ of the article أَل; as أَبُو أَلْوَزِيرِ for أَبُو أَلْوَزِيرِ, the father of the wèzīr.

(b) With the إُ and أُ of the Imperatives of the first form of the regular verb; as قَالَ أَسْمَعُ for قَالَ أَسْمَعُ, he said, listen; قَالَ أَقْتُلْ for قَالَ أَقْتُلْ, he said, kill.

(c) With the إُ of the Perfect Active, Imperative, and Nomen actionis of the seventh and all the following forms of the verb (see § 35), and the أُ of the Perfect Passive in the same forms; e.g. هُوَ أَنْهَزِمَ for هُوَ أَنْهَزِمَ, he was put to flight; وَأَسْتَعِيلُ for وَأَسْتَعِيلُ, and he was appointed governor; أَلْأَقْتَدَارُ the being able (to do something); إِلَى أَلْأَنْقِرَاضِ till the downfall or extinction.

A (d) With the ا of the following eight nouns:

ابن, and ابْنَم or ابْنَم, a son.	ابنة, a daughter.
اثنان, two (masc.).	اثنتان, two (fem.).
امرؤ, or امرؤ, a man.	امراة, a woman.
است, the anus.	اسم (rarely اسم), a name.

REM. a. With the article امرؤ and امراة take, in classical Arabic, the form المراه and المراه.

REM. b. The hêmza of ائمن, oaths, is also elided after the asseverative particle ل, and occasionally after the prepositions مع and من (which then takes fêṭha instead of gèzma); as لا ئمن الله by God (lit. by the oaths of God), for which we may also write ئمن الله, omitting the ا altogether, or, in a contracted form, ئمر الله.

C REM. c. In the above words and forms, the vowel with hêmza is in part original, but has been weakened through constant use (as in the article, and in ائمن after ل); in part merely prosthetic, that is to say, prefixed for the sake of euphony to words beginning with a vowelless consonant, and consequently it vanishes as soon as a vowel precedes it, because it is then no longer necessary. See § 345.

D REM. d. It is naturally an absurd error to write ا at the beginning of a sentence instead of ا with hêmza, as الحمد لله instead of الحمد لله. The Arabs themselves never do so, but, to indicate that the ا is an elif conjunctionis (see rem. f), they omit the hêmza and express only its accompanying vowel, as الحمد لله. See § 15, rem. a, and § 18, rem. b.

REM. e. In more modern Arabic the elision of the elif conjunctionis (see rem. f) is neglected, especially after the article, as بعد انقراضهم, بئس الاسر, الى الانقراض, الاقتدار. خروجه عن كلام العرب ولحن فاحش.

REM. f. The ا which takes wasla is called ا الوصل or ا همزة A ا الوصل, elif or hêmza conjunctionis, the connective ا; the opposite being ا القطع, elif sejunctionis or separationis, the disjunctive ا.

20. The ا conjunctionis may be preceded either by a short vowel, a long vowel, a diphthong, or a consonant with gèzma. To these different cases the following rules apply.

(a) A short vowel simply absorbs the ا conjunctionis with its vowel; see § 19, b and c. B

(b) A long vowel is shortened in pronunciation, according to the rule laid down in § 25; e.g. في الناس fî 'n-nâsi, among men; أبو الوزير 'abû 'l-wæzîri, the father of the wæzir, for fî and 'abû. This abbreviation of the naturally long vowel is retained even when the lâm of the article no longer closes the syllable containing that vowel, but begins the next syllable, in consequence of the elision of a following ا (either according to § 19 or by poetic license). Hence في ابتداء, in the beginning, is pronounced as if written C

ذو الاعلال; فلرض (for الارض), upon the earth, as فلرض; فلبتداء (for الاعلال), subject to change (a weak letter), as ذللال. In the first of these examples the ا is an elif conjunctionis; in the other two it is an elif separationis, but has been changed for the sake of the metre into an elif conjunctionis. The suffixes of the 1st pers. sing., ا and ا may assume before the article the older forms ا and ا; e.g. نعتي التي my grace which, اهدني الصراط guide me on the D way, instead of نعتي التي and اهدني الصراط, which latter forms are equally admissible.

(c) A diphthong is resolved into two simple vowels, according to the law stated in § 25, viz. ai into äi, and au into äü; as في عيني الملك fî 'ainäi 'l-mèliki, in the eyes of the king, for في عيني الملك; في عيني القوم; ihsäi 'l-kauma, fear the people; مصطفى الله muṣṭafäü 'llähi, the elect of God, for مصطفى الله. The silent ا (§ 7, rem. a) does not prevent the resolution of the diph-

A thong, as رَمَوْا الْحِجَارَةَ ramāu 'l-ḥiḡārata, they threw the stones; فَكَلِمًا رَأَوْا النَّجْمَ fa-lammā ra'āu 'n-nəḡma, and after they saw the star. But أَوْ and نَوْ take kəṣra, as أَوْ اسْمُهُ or his name; لَوْ اسْتَقْبَلَ if he went to meet.

(d) A consonant with gèzma either takes its original vowel, if it had one; or assumes that which belongs to the êlif conjunctionis; or adopts the lightest of the three vowels, which in its nature approaches nearest to the gèzma, viz. kəṣra. Hence the pronouns of the B 2d and 3d pers. plur. masc., أَنْتُمْ you, and هُمْ they, the pronominal suffixes of the same pronouns, كُمْ your, you (accus.), and هُمْ their, them, and the verbal termination of the 2d pers. plur. masc. Perf. تُمْ, take ḡamma (in which they originally ended); as أَنْتُمْ الْكَاذِبُونَ ye are the liars; لَعَنَهُمُ اللَّهُ may God curse them! رَأَيْتُمُ الرَّجُلَ ye have seen the man. The same is the case with مُذْ, since, from which time forth, because it is contracted for مُنْذُ. The preposition مِنْ, from, takes C fəṭħa before the article, but in other cases kəṣra; as مِنَ الرَّجُلِ from the man. All other words ending in a consonant with gèzma take kəṣra; viz. nouns having the tənwin, as مُحَمَّدٌ النَّبِيُّ Mohammèduni 'n-nəḡbiyu: the pronoun مَنْ, as مَنْ الْكَذَّابُ mani 'l-kaddābu; verbal forms like أَجْلَسْتُ الرَّؤْمَ katalati 'r-Rūmu; and particles, such as إِنْ, عَن, هَلْ, قَدْ, بَلْ, etc.

D REM. a. In certain cases where هُمْ becomes هِم (see § 185, rem. b) the waṣl may be made either with ḡamma or kəṣra, هِم or هيم.

REM. b. If the vowel of a prosthetic êlif be ḡamma, the waṣl is sometimes effected by throwing it back upon the preceding vowelless consonant or tənwin; as قُلْ أَنْظَرُوا, for قُلْ أَنْظَرُوا, instead of قُلْ أَنْظَرُوا; وَقَالَتْ أَخْرُجْ; قُلْ أَنْظَرُوا.

REM. c. The final ن of the second Energetic of verbs (see § 97) is rejected, so that the waṣl is effected by the preceding fəṭħa; as لَا تَضْرِبَنَّ أَبْنَكَ la taḡribanna 'bnaka, and not لَا تَضْرِبَنَّ أَبْنَكَ la taḡribanna 'bnaka.

21. Ā is altogether omitted in the following cases.

(a) In the solemn introductory formula بِسْمِ اللَّهِ, for بِأَسْمِ اللَّهِ, in the name of God, بِشَمِ الْإِلَهِים. As a compensation for the omission of the l, the copyists of Mss. are accustomed to prolong the upward stroke of the letter ب, thus: بِسْمِ.

(b) In the word ابْنٌ, son, in a genealogical series, that is to say, B when the name of the son precedes, and that of his father follows in the genitive; provided always that the said series, as a whole, forms part either of the subject or the predicate of a sentence. For example, ضَرَبَ زَيْدُ بْنُ خَلِيدٍ سَعْدَ بْنَ عَوْفِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ Zèid, the son of Hālid, struck Sa'd, the son of 'Auf, the son of 'Abdu 'llāh. [Cf. § 315, rem. b.] But if the second noun be not in apposition to the first, but form part of the predicate, so that the two together make a complete sentence, then the Ā is retained; as زَيْدُ ابْنِ عَمْرٍو Zèid (is) the son of C 'Amr; عَمْرُ ابْنِ الْخَطَّابِ 'Omar (is) the son of 'l-Hattāb.

REM. a. Even in the first case the Ā of ابْنٌ is retained, if that word happens to stand at the beginning of a line.

REM. b. If the name following ابْنٌ be that of the mother or grandfather, the Ā is retained; as عَيْسَى ابْنُ مَرْيَمَ Jesus the son of Mary; عَمَّارُ ابْنِ مَنْصُورٍ 'Ammār the (grand)son of Manṣūr. Likewise, if the following name be not the real name of the father, but a D surname or nickname; as مِقْدَادُ ابْنِ الْأَسْوَدِ Mikdād the son of 'l-'Aswad (the real name of 'l-'Aswad, "the black," being 'Amr, عَمْرٍو). Or if the series be interrupted in any way, as by the interposition of an adjective; e.g. يَحْيَى الْكَرِيمِ ابْنِ مَيْمُونٍ Yahyā the noble, the son of Maimūn; رِدْبَى كَطْرَبَى ابْنِ مُوسَى Ridbā (pronounced like the word zirbā) the son of Mūsā.

(c) In the article أَلْ, when it is preceded:

(a) by the preposition لِ to, as لِلرَّجُلِ to the man, for لِلرَّجُلِ.

A If the first letter of the noun be J, then the J of the article is also omitted, as لَيْلِيَّةٌ to the night, for لِلَّيْلِيَّةِ, and that for لِلَّيْلِيَّةِ.

(β) by the affirmative particle لَ truly, verily, as لَلْحَقُّ, for لَ الْحَقُّ*.

(d) In nouns, verbs, and the article اَلْ, when preceded by the interrogative particle اُ; as اَبْنُكَ, for اَبْنُكَ, is thy son—? اَتَكْسَرْتُ, for اَتَكْسَرْتُ, is it (fem.) broken? اَتَّحَدَّثْتُمْ, for اَتَّحَدَّثْتُمْ, have ye received? B اَلْمَاءُ, for اَلْمَاءُ, is the water—? The êlif of the article may however be retained, so that اَلْمَاءُ with the interrogative اُ is often written اَلْمَاءُ.

REM. a. In this last case, according to some, when the second êlif has fêḥa, the two êlifs may blend into one with mēdda (see below); as اَلْحَسَنُ عِنْدَكَ, is el-Husan in thy house? for اَلْحَسَنُ; اَلْقُرَشِيُّ اَمْرُ التَّقْفِي, he of Korèis or he of Takif? اَيْمُنُ اللهُ بِمِيْنِكَ, is thy oath 'by God'? (see § 19, rem. b) for اَيْمُنُ اللهُ.

C REM. b. The prosthetic êlif of the Imperative of سَأَلْ, to ask, is frequently omitted, in Mss. of the Kor'an, after the conjunction فَ; as فَسَأَلْ, for فَسَأَلْ. [Cf. § 140, rem. a.]

E. Mēdda or Maṭṭa.

22. When êlif with hēmza and a simple vowel or tēnwin (أ, إ, etc.) is preceded by an êlif of prolongation (اَ), then a mere hēmza is written instead of the former, and the sign of prolongation, = mēdda or maṭṭa D (مَدَّة or مَدَّة, i.e. lengthening, extension), is placed over the latter; e.g. جَاءَ سَمَاءُ semā'un, جَاءَ غَاةُ gā'a, يَتَسَاءَلُونَ yatasā'alūna, for جَاءَ سَمَاءُ, يَتَسَاءَلُونَ.

REM. a. As mentioned above (§ 17, a, rem.), we find in old Mss. such forms as جَاءَ رِدَاءُ, for جَاءَ رِدَاءُ.

REM. b. In the oldest and best Mss., the form of the mēdda is مَد (i.e. مد). Its opposite is قَصْر (i.e. قَصْر, shortening), though this is but rarely written. In some old Mss. of the Kor'an mēdda A is expressed by a horizontal yellow line =.

* [Note also the cases, in poetry, cited in § 358, rem. c; further the contracted tribal names بَلْعَنَبِرٍ, بَلْعَنَبِرٍ, بَلْعَنَبِرٍ—De G.]

23. When, at the beginning of a syllable, an êlif with hēmza and fêḥa (أ) is followed by an êlif of prolongation or an êlif with hēmza and gēzma (إ), then the two are commonly represented in writing by a single êlif with mēdda; e.g. إِسَاءُ for إِسَاءُ, إِسَاءُ for إِسَاءُ, إِسَاءُ for إِسَاءُ (see § 17, rem. b). In this case it is not usual to write either the hēmza, or the vowel, along with the mēdda. [But we sometimes find إِ, see § 174.]

REM. a. اَ is called اَلْاَلِفُ الْمَمْدُودَةُ, the lengthened or long êlif, in opposition to اَلْاَلِفُ الْمَقْصُورَةُ, the êlif that can be abbreviated or shortened (§ 7, rem. b).

REM. b. Occasionally a long êlif at the beginning of a word is written with hēmza and a perpendicular fêḥa, instead of with mēdda (see § 6, rem. a); e.g. اَمَّا instead of اَمَّا or اَمَّا.

REM. c. Mēdda is sometimes placed over the other letters of C prolongation, و and ي, when followed by an êlif hēmzatum, only the hēmza being written (§ 17, a); as يَسُوهُ, يَسُوهُ. Also over the final vowels of the pronominal forms اَنْتُمْ, كُمْ, هُ or هُ, هُمْ, هُمْ, هُمْ, or هُمْ, and the verbal termination تُمْ, when they are used as long in poetry; e.g. هُمْ, اَنْتُمْ.

REM. d. The mark =, often written over abbreviations of words, has nothing in common with mēdda but the form. So تَع for تَع, He (God) is exalted above all; عَمْر for عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ, peace be D upon him! صَلَعْم for صَلَّى اللهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ, God bless him and grant him peace! رَفَه for رَضِيَ اللهُ عَنْهُ, may God be well pleased with, or gracious to, him! رَح or رَحَه for رَحِمَهُ اللهُ, may God have mercy upon him! اَلخ for اِلَى آخِرِهِ or اِلَى آخِرِهَا, to the end of it, i.e. etc.; حَدَّثْنَا for حَدَّثْنَا لَنَا, he narrated to us; اَنَا or نَا for اَخْبَرْنَا, he informed us; ح for حِينِد, then.—The letters م م are written over words or verses that have been erroneously transposed in a manuscript, for

- A موخر, to be placed last, and مقدم, to be placed first.—On the margin of Mss. we often find words with the letters خ, ن, and ص over them. The first of these indicates a variant, and stands for نسخة, a copy, another manuscript; the second means that a word has been indistinctly written in the text, and is repeated more clearly on the margin, بيان, explanation; the third implies that the marginal reading, and not that of the text, is, in the writer's opinion, the correct one صح, it is correct, or تصحيح, correction, emendation.
- B Written over a word in the text, صح stands for صَحَّ, and denotes that the word is correct, though there may be something peculiar in its form or vocalization.—Again معا (i.e. معًا, together) is written over a word with double vocalization to indicate that both vowels are correct. لعله over a word on the margin implies a conjectural emendation لعله, perhaps it is.

IV! THE SYLLABLE.

- C 24. The vowel of a syllable that terminates in a vowel, which we call an open or simple syllable, may be either long or short; as قال kā-lā.
- 25. The vowel of a syllable that terminates in a consonant, which we call a shut or compound syllable, is almost always short; as قل kūl, not قُول (Heb. קוּל). Generally speaking, it is only in pause, where the final short vowels are suppressed, that the ancient Arabic admits of such syllables as in, ūn, ān, etc.
- D REM. Before a double consonant a is however not infrequent (see § 13, rem.). [Such a long a preceding a consonant with fezma sometimes receives a medda, as خَاتُون.]
- 26. A syllable cannot begin with two consonants, the first of which is destitute of a vowel, as sf or fr. Foreign words, which commence with a syllable of this sort, on passing into the Arabic language, take an additional vowel, usually before the first consonant; as إِسْفَنْج, σπάγγος; أَفْلَاطُون, Πλάτων; الْفَرَنْج, the Franks (Europeans); إِكْسِير, αν ολιαιρ, το ξηρόν (medicamentum siccum).
- 27. A syllable cannot end in two consonants, which are not either separated or followed by a vowel (except in pause).

V. THE ACCENT.

28. The last syllable of a word consisting of two or more syllables does not take the accent. Exceptions are:

(a) The pausal forms of § 29 and § 30, in which the accent remains unaltered; as ya قَالَ, kā-nūn, mu'-mi-nūn, kā-ti-bāt, fi-rīnd, 'a-kāl, ma-fār, ku-būl, bil-lāur, bu-nūi.

REM. But words ending in ي, و, أ, و, و, or أ, و, and ي, throw back the accent as far as possible in their pausal forms; قَرَشِي Ko-ra-šī-yun becomes Kō-ra-šī, نَبِي nè-bī-yun, nè-bī; عَدُو 'a-dū-wun, 'a-dū; اِقْتَنَا 'ik-ti-nā'un, 'ik-ti-nā; حَمْرَاء ham-rā'u, hām-rā; مَقْرُو mak-rā'un, māk-rū; بَطِي bu-ṭī-un, bā-ṭī.

(b) Monosyllables in combination with أ, ب, ك, ل, و, and ف, which retain their original accent; as أَلَا 'a-lā, أَفَلَا 'a-fa-lā, بِمَا bi-mā, بِهِ bi-hī, كَذَا ka-dā, لِمَنْ li-mān, لَنَا la-nā, وَلَمْ wa-lām, فَكَفَّ fa-kāf, وَقُل wa-kūl.

REM. The only exception to this rule in old Arabic is the interrogative enclitic مَر; as بِمَر bi-mā, لِمَر li-mā, in contrast with بِمَا bi-mā, لِمَا li-mā. See § 351, rem.

29. The penult takes the accent when it is long by nature, i.e. is an open syllable containing a long vowel; as قَالَ kā-la, يَقُولُ ya-kū-lu, قَانُونُ kā-nū-nun, مُؤْمِنِينَ mu'-mi-nī-na, كَاتِبَاتُ kā-ti-bā-tun.

30. The penult has likewise the accent when it is a shut syllable and consequently long by position; as قَلْبُ kāl-bun, دَيْبُ dī-bun, بُرُ būr-un, أَجَلِسْ 'aj-lis, فِرْدُنْ fi-rīn-dun, أَقْلُ 'a-kāl-lu, مَفَرُ ma-fār- run, يَقُولُنَّ ya-kū-lān-na, قُبَيْلُ ku-būi-la, بَلْوَرُ bil-lāu-run, بُنِي bu-nūi-yun.

31. When the penult is short, the accent falls upon the antepenult, provided that the word has not more than three syllables, or, if it has four or more syllables, that the antepenult is long by nature or position; as كَتَبَ kā-ta-ba, كَتَبَتْ kā-ta-bat, كَتَبُوا kā-ta-bū, تَرَأَسُوا ta-rā-bū, كَاتِبُ kā-ti-bun, طَلَبُ ṭā-la-bun, أَيْتَمَا 'ai-na-mā; كَاتِبُ kā-ti-bun, طَلَبُ ṭā-la-bun, أَيْتَمَا 'ai-na-mā; تَرَأَسُوا ta-rā-bū.

A sa-tū, فَاوْتُونَهُمْ kā-nū-nu-hum, كَاتَبْتُمَا ka-tāb-tu-mā. In other cases the accent is thrown as far back as possible; as كَاتَبْنَا kā-ta-ba-tā, مَسَلْنَا mās-'a-la-tun, مَسَلْتُمَا mās-'a-la-tu-hā, فَصَبَّأْتُمَا kā-ṣa-ba-tu-hu-mā.

VI. THE NUMBERS.

32. To express numbers the Arabs use sometimes the letters of the alphabet, at other times peculiar signs. In the former case, the numerical value of the letters accords with the more ancient order of the Hebrew and Aramaic alphabets (see § 1). They are written from right to left, and usually distinguished from the surrounding words by a stroke placed over them, as غَضَدَ, 1874. This arrangement of the alphabet is called the 'Abuǧǧed or 'Abǧǧed, and is contained in the barbarous words:

أَبْجَدِ هَوَزِ حَطِي كَلِمِن سَعْفَضِ قَرِشَتْ تَخَذُ صَطْفِغِ
(otherwise pronounced:

أَبْجَدِ هَوَزِ حَطِي كَلِمِن سَعْفَضِ قَرِشَتْ تَخَذُ صَطْفِغِ) or, as usual in North Africa:

أَبْجَدِ هَوَزِ حَطِي كَلِمِن صَعْفَضِ قَرِشَتْ تَخَذُ ظَفْشِ

The special numerical figures, ten in number, have been adopted by the Arabs from the Indians, and are therefore called الرُّقْمُ الْإِنْدِيّ، the Indian notation. They are the same that we Europeans make use of, calling them Arabian, because we took them from the Arabs. Their form, however, differs considerably from that which our ciphers have gradually assumed, as the following table shows.

Arabic:	١	٢	٣	٤	٥	٦	٧	٨	٩	٠
Europ.:	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	0

They are compounded in exactly the same way as our numerals; e.g. ١٨٧٤, 1874.

PART SECOND.

ETYMOLOGY OR THE PARTS OF SPEECH.

I. THE VERB, اِنْفَعَلَ.

A

A. GENERAL VIEW.

1. The Forms of the Triliteral Verb.

33. The great majority of the Arabic verbs are triliteral (ثَلَاثِيّ), that is to say, contain three radical letters, though quadriliteral (رُبَاعِيّ) verbs are by no means rare.

34. From the first or ground-form of the triliteral and quadriliteral verbs are derived in different ways several other forms, which express various modifications of the idea conveyed by the first.

35. The derived forms of the triliteral verb are usually reckoned fifteen in number, but the learner may pass over the last four, because (with the exception of the twelfth) they are of very rare occurrence.

اِفْعَالٌ XI.	تَفَاعَلٌ VI.	فَعَلَ I.
اِفْعَوْلٌ XII.	اِنْفَعَلَ VII.	فَعَّلَ II.
اِفْعَوْلٌ XIII.	اِفْتَعَلَ VIII.	فَاعَلَ III.
اِفْعَنْلَلٌ XIV.	اِفْعَلَّ IX.	اِفْعَلَّ IV.
اِفْعَنْلَى XV.	اِسْتَفْعَلَ X.	تَفَعَّلَ V.

REM. a. The 3d pers. sing. masc. Perf., being the simplest form of the verb, is commonly used as paradigm, but for shortness' sake we always render it into English by the infinitive; قَتَلَ to kill, instead of he has killed.

C

A REM. b. The Arab grammarians use the verb فَعَلَ (فَعَلًا) as paradigm, whence the first radical of the trilateral verb is called by them أَلْفَاءُ the fā, the second أَلْعَيْنُ the 'ain, and the third أَلْلَامُ the lam.

REM. c. As the above order and numbering of the conjugations are those adopted in all the European Lexicons, the learner should note them carefully.

36. The first or ground-form is generally transitive (مُتَعَدِّ) or intransitive (لَا زِمْرٌ or غَيْرُ مُتَعَدِّ) in signification, according to the vowel which accompanies its second radical.

B 37. The vowel of the second radical is a in most of the transitive, and not a few of the intransitive verbs; e.g. ضَرَبَ to beat, كَتَبَ to write, قَتَلَ to kill, وَهَبَ to give; ذَهَبَ to go away, رَشَدَ to go the right way, جَلَسَ to sit.

38. The vowel i in the same position has generally an intransitive signification, u invariably so. The distinction between them is, that i indicates a temporary state or condition, or a merely accidental quality in persons or things; whilst u indicates a permanent state, or a

C naturally inherent quality. E.g. فَرِحَ or جَدِلَ to be glad, حَزِنَ to be sorry, أَشْرَ or بَطَرَ to be proud and insolent, أَدِمَ to become whitish, شَبِبَ to become gray, سَلِمَ to be safe and sound, مَرِضَ to be sick, كَبِرَ to become old, عَمِيَ to be blind; but حَسَنَ to be beautiful, قُبِحَ to be ugly, ثَقُلَ to be heavy, شَرَفَ *to be high or noble, سَفُلَ to be low or mean, كَبُرَ to be large, صَغُرَ to be small.

D REM. a. Many verbs of the form فَعِلَ are transitive according to our way of thinking, and therefore govern the accusative, e.g. عَلِمَ to know (scire), حَسِبَ to think, رَحِمَ to pity or have mercy upon, سَمِعَ to hear.

* [Or, to become noble, for the form with u of the second radical often means to become what one was not before, Kāmil, p. 415.—De G.]

REM. b. The same three forms occur in Hebrew and Aramaic, A though the distinction is in these languages no longer so clearly marked. [See Comp. Gr. p. 165 seq.]

39. The second form (فَعَّلَ) is formed from the first (فَعَلَ) by doubling the second radical.

40. The signification agrees with the form in respect of being intensive (لِلْمَبَالَغَةِ) or extensive (لِلتَّكْثِيرِ). Originally it implies that an act is done with great violence (intensive), or during a long time (temporally extensive), or to or by a number of individuals (numerically extensive), or repeatedly (iterative or frequentative). E.g. ضَرَبَ to beat, ضَرَبَ to beat violently; كَسَرَ to break, كَسَرَ to break in pieces; قَطَعَ to cut, قَطَعَ to cut in pieces; فَرَّقَ to separate, فَرَّقَ to disperse; قَتَلَ to kill, قَتَلَ to massacre; جَاَلَ or طَافَ to go round, جَاَلَ or طَافَ to go round much or often; بَكَى to weep, بَكَى to weep much; مَاتَ the cattle died off rapidly or in great numbers (مَاتَ to die); بَرَكَ the camel kneeled down, بَرَكَ the (whole drove of) camels kneeled down.

41. From this original intensive meaning arises the more usual C causative or factitive signification. Verbs that are intransitive in the first form become transitive in the second; as فَرِحَ to be glad, فَرَّحَ to gladden; ضَعَفَ to be weak, ضَعَّفَ to weaken. Those that are transitive in the first become doubly transitive or causative in the second; as عَلِمَ to know, عَلَّمَ to teach; كَتَبَ to write, كَتَّبَ to teach to write; حَمَلَ to carry, حَمَّلَ to make carry.

REM. a. The causative or factitive signification is common to D the second and fourth forms, the apparent difference being that it is original in the latter, but derived in the former.

REM. b. The second form is often rather declarative or estimative than factitive in the strict sense of the term; as كَذَّبَ to lie, كَذَّبَ to think or call one a liar; صَدَّقَ to tell the truth, صَدَّقَ to think that one tells the truth, to believe him.

A REM. c. The second form is frequently denominative, and expresses with various modifications the making or doing of, or being occupied with, the thing expressed by the noun from which it is derived; e.g. خَبَّرَ to pitch a tent (خَبِيمَةٌ), to dwell in a place, جَبَّشَ to collect an army (جَيْشٌ), رَخَّمَ to pave with marble (رُخَامٌ), قَوَّسَ to become bent like a bow (قَوْسٌ), مَرَضَ to nurse the sick (مَرِيضٌ), جَلَّدَ to skin an animal, to bind a book (جِلْدٌ the skin, compare our “to stone fruit” and “to stone a person”), قَرَّدَ to clean an animal of ticks (قَرَادٌ), قَدَّى to take a mote (قَدْيٌ) out of the eye. Compare in Hebrew בָּרַחַן, בָּרַחַן, בָּרַחַן, etc. Similarly, جَدَّعَهُ he said to him جَدَّعَا لَكَ (may thy nose, or the like, be cut off), حَبَّأَهُ he said to him حَبَّأَكَ اللَّهُ (may God prolong thy life), سَلَّمَ عَلَيْهِ he said to him سَلَامٌ عَلَيْكَ (peace be upon thee), كَبَّرَ he shouted the Moslem war-cry, دَخَلَ ظَفَارِ حَمِيرٍ, (الله أكبر), must speak Himyaritic (the language of Himyar, حَمِيرٌ). Sometimes, like the fourth form, it expresses movement towards a place; as الْتَرَّقَ to set out in any direction (وَجْهٌ), شَرَّقَ to go to the east (الْمَشْرِقُ), غَرَّبَ to go to the west (الْمَغْرِبُ). صَعَدَ فِي الْوَادِي وَصَوَّبَ he went up and down the valley.

C REM. d. فَعَّلَ corresponds in form, as well as in signification, to the Heb. פָּעַל and Aram. פָּעַל, פָּעַל.—[See Comp. Gr. p. 198 seq.]

42. The third form (فَاعَلَ) is formed from the first (فَعَّلَ) by lengthening the vowel-sound ā after the first radical, as is indicated by the êlif productionis.

43. It modifies the signification of the ground-form in the following ways.

D (a) When فَعَّلَ denotes an act that immediately affects an object (direct object or accusative), فَاعَلَ expresses the effort or attempt to perform that act upon the object, in which case the idea of reciprocity (الْمُشَارَكَةُ) is added when the effort is necessarily or accidentally a mutual one. E.g. قَتَلَهُ he killed him, قَاتَلَهُ he (tried to kill him or) fought with him; جَلَّدَهُ he beat him, جَالَّدَهُ he fought with him; صَرَعَهُ he threw him down, صَارَعَهُ he wrestled with him; غَلَبَهُ he overcame him, أَغْلَبَهُ he tried to overcome him; سَبَقَهُ he outran him, سَابَقَهُ he ran a race with him; شَرَّفَهُ he surpassed him in rank, شَارَفَهُ he strove to do so; فَخَّرَهُ he surpassed him in glory, فَاخَّرَهُ he strove to do so, he vied with him in rank and glory; شَعَّرَهُ he excelled him in composing poetry, شَاعَرَهُ he competed with him in doing so; خَصَمَهُ he got the better of him in a lawsuit, خَاصَمَهُ he went to law with him.

(b) When the first or fourth form denotes an act, the relation B of which to an object is expressed by means of a preposition (indirect object), the third form converts that indirect object into the immediate or direct object of the act (accusative). The idea of reciprocity is here, as in the former case, more or less distinctly implied. E.g. كَتَبَ إِلَيْ كَتَبَ إِلَيْكَ he wrote (a letter) to the king, كَاتَبَ إِلَيْكَ he wrote to the king, corresponded with him; قَالَ لَهُ he said to him (something), قَاوَلَهُ he conversed with him; أَرْسَلَ إِلَى السُّلْطَانِ he sent (a message) to the sultan, أَرْسَلَ السُّلْطَانُ do.; جَلَسَ عِنْدَ أَمِيرِ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ he sat beside the Commander of the Faithful, جَالَسَ أَمِيرَ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ do.; وَقَعَ بِهِ he fell upon him, attacked him, وَأَقَعَهُ do.; أَشَارَ عَلَيْهِ he advised him, شَاوَرَهُ he consulted with him.

(c) When فَعَّلَ denotes a quality or state, فَاعَلَ indicates that one person makes use of that quality towards another and affects him thereby, or brings him into that state. E.g. خَشُنَ to be rough or harsh, خَاشَنَهُ he treated him harshly; حَسُنَ to be good or kind, حَاسَنَهُ he treated him kindly; لَانَ to be soft or gentle, لَايَنَهُ he treated him gently; قَسَا to be hard, قَاسَاهُ he hardened himself against him or it; نَعِمَ or نَعِمَ to lead a comfortable life, نَاعَمَهُ he procured him the means of doing so.

REM. a. The third form is sometimes denominative, but the ideas of effort and reciprocity are always more or less clearly implied. E.g. ضَاعَفَ to double, from ضَعَفَ the like or equal; طَارَقَ

A to double, fold (طَرَّقَ) on fold; عَافَاكَ اللَّهُ may God keep thee safe and well, from عَافِيَةٌ robust health; سَافَرَ to go on a journey (سَفَرٌ).

REM. b. فَاعَلَ corresponds in form and signification to the Heb. פִּעִיל (Arab. ā = Heb. ō); see Comp. Gr. p. 202 seq.

[REM. c. In a few verbs the third form is used in the sense of the fourth. Thus سَاقَطَ داخل (Gl. Geog. s.v. دخل). Zamah'ari, Fāik, i. 197 cites باعده جاناه, باعده علاه for أبعده etc. Also بالغ = أبلى, Aghānī xiii. 52.—De G.]

B 44. The fourth form (أَفْعَلَ) is formed by prefixing to the root the syllable أ, in consequence of which the first radical loses its vowel.

45. Its signification is factitive or causative (لِلتَّعْدِيَةِ). If the verb is intransitive in the first form, it becomes transitive in the fourth; if transitive in the first, it becomes doubly transitive in the fourth. E.g. جَرَى to run, أَجْرَى to make run; جَلَسَ to sit down, أَجْلَسَ to bid one sit down; أَكَلَ الْخُبْزَ he ate bread, أَكَلَهُ الْخُبْزَ he gave him bread to eat; رَأَى الشَّيْءَ he saw the thing, أَرَاهُ الشَّيْءَ he shewed him the thing.

REM. a. When both the second and fourth forms of a verb are causative (§ 41, rem. a), they have in some cases different significations, in others the same. E.g. عَلِمَ to know, عَلَّمَ to teach, أَعْلَمَ to inform one of a thing; نَجَا to escape, أَنْجَى and أَنْجَى to set at liberty, to let go. Comp. خَبَّرَ and أَخْبَرَ.

D REM. b. The fourth form is sometimes declarative or estimative, like the second; as أَبْخَلَهُ he thought him, or found him to be, niggardly; أَعْجَبَهُ he thought him, or found him to be, cowardly; أَحْمَدَهُ he found him, or it, to be praiseworthy or commendable; أَحْيَى الْأَرْضَ he found the district abounding in fresh herbage.*

REM. c. The fourth form comprises a great number of denominatives, many of which are apparently intransitive, because the Arabs often regard as an act what we view as a state. Such verbs combine with the idea of the noun, from which they are derived, that of a transitive verb, of which it is the direct object. E.g. أَبْقَلَ to produce herbage (بَقَلَ), أَوْرَقَ to put out leaves (وَرَقَ), أَمَرَ to bear A fruit (مَرَّ), أَمَطَرَ to give or yield rain (مَطَرَ); أَنْجَبَ to beget a noble son, أَكْرَهَتْ, أَنْثَتْ she bore a male or a female child, أَتَمَّتْ she bore twins (compare "to flower," "to seed," "to calve," "to lamb"); أَبْلَغَ to speak eloquently, أَفْصَحَ to speak with purity and correctness, أَسَاءَ, أَحَسَنَ, أَبْلَى to give a proof (بَلَى) of his prowess in battle; أَسَاءَ, أَحَسَنَ, أَسَأَ to act well or ill, أَذْنَبَ to commit a sin, أَخْطَأَ to commit a blunder, fault or error, أَصَابَ to do or say what is right; أَهْطَأَ to be slow or B tardy; أَسْرَعَ to make haste; أُعْنَقَ to run with outstretched neck; أَسَنَّ to become fullgrown (from سَنَّ a tooth); أَقَامَ to dwell or remain in a place.—Another class of these denominatives indicates movement towards a place (compare "to make for a place"), the entering upon a period of time (being, doing, or suffering something therein), getting into a state or condition, acquiring a quality, obtaining or having something, or becoming something, of a certain kind*. E.g. أَقْبَلَ to advance, أَدْبَرَ to retire ("reculer"), أَقْدَمَ to go on boldly C (compare, in Hebrew, הָיִטְּ, to go to the right, and הָיִטְּ, to go to the left); أَشَامَ to go to Syria (الشَّامُ), أَيَمَّنَ to go to el-Yemèn (تِيَامَةُ), أَتَمَرَ to go to Tihama (التَّمَرُ), أَتَجَدَ to go to el-Négd (النَّجْدُ), أَتَمَرَ to go to el-'Irāk (العِرَاق), أَحْرَمَ to enter the haram or sacred territory; أَظْهَرَ, أَصْبَحَ, أَمْسَى, to enter upon the time of morning (الصَّبَاحُ), mid-day (الظُّهْرُ), or evening (الْمَسَاءُ); أَصَافَ, أَشْتَى, to enter upon the summer (الصَّيْفُ) or winter (الشِّتَاءُ); أَجَمَلَ to have many D camels, أَسْبَعَ to abound in beasts of prey or to have one's flocks devoured by them, أَضَبَّ to abound in lizards (ضَبٌّ) or to be foggy (ضَبَابٌ); أَقْفَرَ to become desert, أَجْدَبَ to suffer from drought (of people) or to be dry (of a season), أَفْلَسَ to become penniless (to be

* Comp. أَقْدَرَهُ.

* [Hence in a few cases IV. serves (instead of VII. or VIII.) as the مُطَاوِعُ of I. Thus كَتَبَهُ he threw him on his face, أَكَبَهُ he fell on his face, أَحْجَمَهُ he held him back, أَحْجَمَ he drew back, he retired.]

- A reduced to the last farthing, فَلَسَ, أَعْوَزَ, أَعْدَمَ, (فَلَسَ) to be reduced to utter want; أَغْمِرَ to become cloudy, أَخْلَقَ to become worn out (of a garment); أَشْكَلَ to become dubious or confused; أَهَانَ to become plain or clear; أُمَكَّنَ to become possible.—Another shade of meaning (السَّلْبُ, deprivation) may be exemplified by such words as أَخْفَرَ, to break one's compact with a person; أَشْكَى to remove one's cause of complaint; أَعَجَرَ الْكِتَابَ he pointed (the text of) the book, literally, took away its عُجْمَة, obscurity or want of clearness.

REM. d. أَفْعَلَ corresponds in form and signification to the Heb. אַחַל, Phœn. יקטל (iktil), Aram. ܐܚܠܐ. See Comp. Gr. p. 204 seq. The Hebrew, it will be observed, has ה as the prefix, instead of the feebler Arabic and Aramaic أ. Some traces of the h are still discoverable in Arabic; as هَرَّاحٌ for أَرَّاحٌ to give rest to, to let rest; هَرَّادٌ for أَرَّادٌ to wish; هَرَّاقٌ for أَرَّاقٌ to pour out, أَتَى (rad. هَاتَ give, for هَاتِ هَاتِرٌ for أَتَّارٌ to mark a cloth; هَاتِرٌ (rad. هَاتَ هَاتِرٌ, to come); هَيَمَنَ = هَيَمَانٌ to believe. Forms like هَرَّاقٌ are treated in Arabic as quadrilaterals (see §§ 67, 69, and 118), e.g. imperf. يَهْرِيشُ or يَهْرِيشُ, nom. patient. مُهَرَّاقٌ or مُهَرَّاقٌ, مُهَيَّمَنٌ.

46. The fifth form (تَفَعَّلَ) is formed from the second (فَعَّلَ) by prefixing the syllable تَ.

- D 47. This form annexes to the significations of the second the reflexive force of the syllable تَ; it is the مُطَاوِعُ of the second form, that is to say, it expresses the state into which the object of the action denoted by the second form is brought by that action, as its effect or result. In English it must often be rendered by the passive. E.g. تَكَسَّرَ to be broken in pieces, تَفَرَّقَ to be dispersed, تَقَطَّعَ to be cut in pieces, تَضَرَّبَ to be moved or agitated; تَخَوَّفَ to be afraid (خَوْفٌ to terrify), تَقَلَّدَ سَيْفَهُ he girt on his sword (قَلَدَهُ سَيْفًا he girt a sword upon him—another person); تَعَظَّمَ, تَكَبَّرَ, to be proud; تَنَزَّرَ, تَقَيَّسَ, to side with كَايسَ or نِيزَارَ, تَشَّيَعَ, تَزَرَّقَ, to adopt the tenets of the 'Azāriḳa A (الْأَزَارِيقَةُ) or of the سَيِّئَةَ (الشَّيْعَةَ), تَعَرَّبَ to call oneself an Arab, تَبَوَّدَ to become a Jew (يَهُودِيٌّ), تَبَجَّسَ to become a fire-worshipper (مَجُوسِيٌّ), تَبَيَّنَ to give oneself out as a prophet (نَبِيٌّ); تَأَسَّدَ to become as bold or fierce as a lion (أَسَدٌ), تَنَمَّرَ to become as savage as a leopard (نَمِرٌ); تَحَلَّمَ to try to acquire, or to affect, clemency, تَمَرَّأَ, تَشَجَّعَ, to affect courage or manliness, B تَحَوَّبَ, تَحَرَّجَ, تَأَثَّرَ, to constrain oneself to endure with patience; تَحَنَّنَ, to abstain from, or avoid, sin or crime, تَذَمَّرَ to avoid blame.

REM. a. The idea of intensiveness may be traced even in cases where it seems, at first sight, to have wholly disappeared, leaving the افترق form apparently identical in meaning with the eighth. Thus افترق الناس and افترق الناس are both translated the people dispersed, but افترق expresses the mere separation, تَفَرَّقَ the separation into a great many groups or in various directions. C

REM. b. The idea of reflexiveness is often not very prominent, especially in such verbs as govern an accusative; e.g. تَتَبَعَ to pursue step by step (literally, to make oneself, or turn oneself into, a pursuer of something), تَطَلَّبَ to seek earnestly, تَعَرَّفَ to try to understand, تَبَيَّنَ to examine or study a thing carefully, so that it may be quite clear, تَبَيَّنَ, تَحَقَّقَ, to ascertain a thing for certain, تَقَصَّى to investigate thoroughly, تَشَمَّرَ to smell leisurely and carefully, تَبَصَّرَ to look at long or repeatedly, to examine or study, تَسَمَّعَ to hear D or listen to, تَكَلَّمَ to speak, تَوَلَّى to have charge of, to discharge the duties of, تَجَرَّعَ to swallow by mouthfuls, تَحَسَّى to sip or sup, تَغَوَّقَ to milk or suck at intervals, تَعَرَّقَ to gnaw, تَأَبَّطَ to put or take under one's arm, تَوَسَّدَ to put under one's head as a pillow, تَدَبَّرَ to take as an abode, تَبَيَّنَ to adopt as a son*.

* [In some cases the difference between II. and V. entirely disappears. Thus for تَوَجَّهَ, تَقَوَّسَ (§ 41, rem. c) we may substitute قَوَّسَ without change of sense.]

A REM. c. The above examples show that the subject of the fifth form is sometimes the direct object of the act (accusative), sometimes the indirect object (dative).

48. Out of the original reflexive signification arises a second, which is even more common, namely the effective. It differs from the passive in this—that the passive indicates that a person is the object of, or experiences the effect of, the action of another; whereas the effective implies that an act is done to a person, or a state produced in him, whether it be caused by another or by himself. E. g. عَلِمَ to know, عَلَّمَ to teach, تَعَلَّمَ to become learned, to learn, quite different from عُلِمَ (passive of عَلَّمَ) to be taught. We can say عَلِمَ وَتَعَلَّمَ, he was taught (received instruction), but did not learn (become learned)*. Again, بَانَ to be separate, distinct, clear, بَيَّنَّ to make clear, explain, تَبَيَّنَّ to appear clear or certain; تَحَقَّقَ to become, or prove to be, the reality or fact.

C REM. a. Such of these verbs as govern an accusative admit not only of an impersonal, but also of a personal passive; e. g. تَعَلَّمَ الطِّبَ he learned the art of medicine, تُعَلِّمُ الطِّبَ the art of medicine was learned.

REM. b. تَفَعَّلَ sometimes assumes the form اِتَّفَعَّلَ (§ 111), whence we see its identity with the Heb. הִתְקַדַּשׁ or הִתְקַדְּשׁ and the Aram. ܠܗܩܕܫܐ, ܠܗܩܕܫܐ (see § 41, rem. d).

D 49. The sixth form (تَفَاعَلَ) is formed from the third (فَاعَلَ), likewise by prefixing the syllable تَ.

50. It is the مُطَاوَعُ (see § 47) of the third form, as بَاعَدْتُهُ فِتْيَانًا, I kept him aloof and he kept (or staid) aloof.—The idea of effort and attempt, which is transitive in the third form, becomes reflexive in the sixth; e. g. تَرَامَى to throw oneself down at full length, تَغَافَلَ to be off one's guard, to neglect a thing, تَبَارَكَ بِالشَّيْءِ to draw a good omen from the thing, تَمَاوَتَ to pretend to be dead, تَعَامَى to pretend to be blind, تَخَاوَزَ to pretend to squint, تَبَاكَى to pretend to cry, تَمَارَضَى to feign sickness, تَجَاهَلَ to feign ignorance, تَخَادَعَ to pretend to be deceived.

* Using a Scoticism, we might say, he was learned (= taught), but did not learn.

Further, the possible reciprocity (المُفَارَكَةُ) of the third form becomes a necessary reciprocity, inasmuch as the sixth form includes the object of the third among the subjects that exercise an influence upon one another; e. g. فَاتَلَهُ he fought with him, تَقَاتَلَا the two fought with one another; كَانَاهُ the two spoke to him, تَكَانَوْا they (the three) conversed together; جَادَبَهُ الثَّوْبَ he tried to pull away the garment from him, تَجَادَبَا الثَّوْبَ the two pulled the garment to and fro between them; تَنَازَعُوا الْحَدِيثَ he conversed or argued with them, تَنَازَعُوا they conversed together or argued with one another; نَسَاهُ الْبَغْضَاءَ he tried to make him forget the hatred between them, تَنَسَّيَا الْبَغْضَاءَ the two forgot their mutual hatred; whence in the passive, تُجَوِّدُ الثَّوْبَ, تُنَوِّزُ and تُنَوِّسُ الْبَغْضَاءَ.

REM. a. When used in speaking of God, the assertory (not optative) perfects تَبَارَكَ and تَعَالَى are examples of the reflexive signification of this form: تَبَارَكَ اللهُ God has made Himself (is become of and through Himself) blessed, or perfect, above all; تَعَالَى اللهُ God has made Himself uplifted, or exalted, above all; قَالَ اللهُ تَبَارَكَ وَتَعَالَى God (blessed and exalted is He above all) has said [cf. vol. ii. § 1 f. rem.]. Somewhat similarly, تَعَاظَمَهُ الأَمْرُ the thing made itself (became or was) too great, or difficult, for him; هُوَ أَمْرٌ لَا يَتَعَاظَمُهُ شَيْءٌ it is a matter than which nothing makes itself greater (or more important), with which nothing can vie in importance.

REM. b. As the reciprocal signification requires at least two subjects, the singular of the sixth form is in this case always collective; e. g. تَسَامَعَ بِهِ النَّاسُ the people heard of it from one another, تَتَابَعَتِ الأَمْطَارُ the rains followed one another closely, تَتَابَعَتْ الأَخْبَارُ the tidings followed one another rapidly, تَتَابَعَتْ إتبه

A قُرَيْشٍ (the tribe of) Korèis came to him, all of them, following one another.

REM. c. The idea of reciprocity may be confined to the parts of one and the same thing; e.g. تَبَاسَكَ "partes habuit inter se coherentes," to be of compact and firm build; تَعَاوَنَتِ الْمَرْأَةُ the woman became middle-aged and corpulent (each part of her body, as it were, supporting, and so strengthening, the others); تَدَاعَى الْبَيْتُ the building cracked and threatened to fall (as if its parts

B called on one another to do so; compare تَدَاعَى عَلَيْهِ الْعَدُوُّ the enemy advanced against him from every side, تَدَاعَتِ السَّحَابَةُ بِالْبَرْقِ the cloud lightened and thundered from every quarter). [Hence this form is appropriate to actions that take place bit by bit, or by successive (and painful) efforts, as تَدَاقَطَ to fall piece by piece, تَحَامَلَ to carry oneself with difficulty (فِي الْمَشْيِ, in walking*.)]

C REM. d. اتَّفَاعَلَ sometimes assumes the form اتَّفَاعَلَ (§ 111), and is consequently identical with the Heb. הִתְקַדְּמָה (see § 43, rem. b).

51. The seventh form (انْفَعَلَ) is formed from the first (فَعَلَ) by prefixing a ن, before which is added a prosthetic ا to facilitate the pronunciation (see § 26).

REM. For the cases in which this ا becomes ا, and why, see §§ 18 and 19, c, with rem. c; and as to the orthography ا instead of ا, § 19, rem. d.

D 52. The seventh form has also originally, as مُطَاوَعٌ of the first, a middle or reflexive signification. It must be remarked, however, (a) that the reflexive pronoun contained in it is never the indirect object (dative), to which may be added another direct object (accusative), but always the direct object itself; and (b) that it never assumes the reciprocal signification. By these two points the seventh form is distinguished from the eighth, and approaches more nearly to a passive. At the same time, the effective signification is often A developed in it out of the reflexive. E.g. انشَقَّ to open (of a flower), lit. to split itself; انكسر to break (intrans.), to be broken; انقطع to be cut off, to be ended, to end; انكشف to be uncovered, to be made manifest, to appear; انحطمت to become broken, to break into pieces; انقال to be uttered or spoken.

53. Sometimes the seventh form implies that a person allows B an act to be done in reference to him, or an effect to be produced upon him; e.g. انهزم to let oneself be put to flight, to flee; انقاد to let oneself be led, to be docile or submissive; انخدع to let oneself be deceived; انجر to let oneself be drawn or dragged.

REM. a. Hence it is clear that such words as انحمق, from حمق, to be stupid or foolish; انعدم, to be non-existent or missing, not to be found, from عدم not to have; انهوى, from هوى to sink C down, to fall; انعاد, to be repeated, from عاد to return; انضاق, to be in straits or distress, from ضاق to be narrow; are incorrectly formed, though in actual use, especially in more recent times.

REM. b. Sometimes, particularly in modern Arabic, the seventh form serves as the مُطَاوَعٌ of the fourth; e.g. انغلتق to be bolted, from اغلتق to bolt; انطفأ to be extinguished, from اطفأ to extinguish; D انصلح to be put to rights, from اصلح to put to rights. [Similarly انزعج, انظلم, انزعج, the last in a tradition, and so ancient, Faik i. 63.—De G.]

REM. c. انفتعل corresponds to the Heb. נִתְקַדְּמָה; see Comp. Gr. p. 215 seq.

54. The eighth form (افتعل) is formed from the first (فعل) by inserting the syllable ت between the first and second radicals. The first radical in consequence loses its vowel, and it becomes necessary to prefix the prosthetic ا (§ 51, rem.).

A REM. One would expect ت to be placed before the first radical, as in the fifth and sixth forms, and in the Aramaic reflexive (اصهلا).

[For a possible explanation of the actual form see Comp. Gr. p. 208.]

55. The eighth form is properly the reflexive or middle voice (مطاوع) of the first. The reflex object is either (a) the direct object or accusative, as فَرَّقَ to divide, اِفْتَرَقَ to go asunder, to part; عَرَضَ to place (something) before one, اِعْتَرَضَ to put oneself in the way, to oppose;

B ضَرَبَ to beat, اِضْطَرَبَ to move oneself to and fro, to be agitated (compare the French battre and se débattre); or (b) the indirect object or dative, implying for oneself, for one's own advantage, as فَرَسَ to tear a prey in pieces, اِفْتَرَسَ do.; لَمَسَ to touch, اِتَّمَسَ to feel about for a thing, to seek for it; كَسَبَ and اِكْتَسَبَ to earn one's living; حَطَبَ and اِحْتَطَبَ to collect firewood; كَالَ and اِكْتَالَ to measure corn; اِشْتَوَى and اِشْتَوَى to roast meat.

C 56. Out of the reflexive arises the reciprocal signification, which is common to this form with the sixth; as اِقْتَتَلَ النَّاسُ the people fought with one another, = تَقَاتَلَ النَّاسُ; اِخْتَصَمَا the two disputed with one another, = تَخَاصَمَا; اِسْتَبَقَا the two tried to outrun one another, = تَسَابَقَا; اِجْتَوَرُوا they were neighbours, = تَجَاوَرُوا; اِتَّقَوْا they met one another, = تَلَقَوْا.

D 57. Occasionally the original reflexive meaning passes into the passive, especially in verbs which have not got the seventh form (see § 113); as اِبْتَفَكَ to be overturned (from اَفَكَ), اِرْتَدَعَ to be turned back, اِنتَصَرَ to be helped (by God), to be victorious; اِمْتَلَأَ to be full.

REM. In not a few verbs the first and eighth forms agree, like the Greek active and middle voices, so closely in their signification, that they may be translated by the same word; e.g. قَصَّ and اِتَّقَى, to follow one's track, to relate; قَفَا and اِقْتَفَى, to follow; اِخْتَطَفَ and اِخْتَطَفَ, to snatch away, to carry off by force.

58. The ninth form (اَفْعَلَّ) is formed from the first (فَعَلَ) by A doubling the third radical; the eleventh (اَفْعَالَّ) from the ninth by lengthening the fetha of the second syllable.

REM. As the third radical, when doubled, draws the accent upon the penult, the first radical, being more rapidly pronounced, loses its vowel, and therefore requires the prosthetic ! (see § 51, rem.).

59. Neither of these forms is very common, and the eleventh is the rarer of the two. They serve chiefly to express colours and defects, these being qualities that cling very firmly to persons and things; and hence the doubling of the third radical, to show that the proper signification of both is intensiveness (اَلْمَبَالِغَةُ). E.g. اِصْفَرَ to be yellow; اِسْوَدَّ and اِسْوَادَّ to be black; اِبْيَضَّ and اِبْيَاضَّ to be white; اِبْرَأَتْ (from وَرَقَ) to become purple (of a grape); اِعْوَجَّ and اِعْوَجَّ to be crooked; اِضْجَمَّ and اِضْجَمَّ to be wrymouthed or wry-necked; اِخْوَلَّ to squint, اِخْوَالَ to become verdant; اِزْوَرَّ and اِزْوَارَّ to turn away or retire from; اِرْبَدَّ to be ash-coloured, to be stern or gloomy; اِرْبَثَّ or اِرْبَاثَّ to be scattered or disordered; اِرْغَادَّ to become commingled, confused, or languid; اِرْفَضَّ to be dispersed, to drop or flow (of tears), اِرْقَدَّ to run quickly, to hasten; اِشْعَانَّ to be dishevelled (of hair); اِبْهَارَ اللَّيْلِ, the night reached its middle point.

REM. a. If the third radical of the root is و or ي, the ninth and eleventh forms take the shape اَفْعَلَّلَ and اَفْعَالَّلَ; as اِجْدَوَى and اِجْدَوَى (for اِجْدَوَى, see § 167, 2, a) to stand or rest on the tips of the toes, D اِرْعَوَى and اِرْعَوَى to be blackish brown or blackish green, اِرْعَوَى to refrain or abstain.

REM. b. According to some grammarians, the distinction between the ninth and eleventh forms is, that the ninth indicates permanent colours or qualities, the eleventh those that are transitory or mutable; as جَعَلَ يَحْمَارًا تَارَةً وَيَصْفَارًا أُخْرَى, it began to become red at one time and yellow at another. [Others hold that XI. indicates a

A higher degree of the quality than IX.: so most European grammarians, and the former editions of this work; but this view was ultimately abandoned by the author. The better view seems to be that the two forms are indistinguishable in sense: see Hafāgī's comm. on the Durrat al-jawāwī (Const. A. H. 1299) p. 50 seq.]

60. The tenth form (اسْتَفْعَل) is formed by prefixing the letters ست to the first (فَعَلَ). The prosthetic ! is necessary, according to § 26 (compare § 51, rem.), and the fetha of the first radical is thrown back upon the ت of است.

61. The tenth form converts the factitive signification of the fourth into the reflexive or middle. E.g. اسْلَمَ to give up, deliver over, اسْتَسَلَمَ to give oneself up; اَوْحَشَ to grieve or distress, اسْتَوْحَشَ to be grieved or sorry; اَعَدَّ to make ready, prepare, equip, اسْتَعَدَّ to get oneself ready, to be ready; اَخْلَصَ to yield up (something) wholly, اسْتَخْلَصَ to claim (something) for oneself, to take entire possession (of it); اَحْيَا to bring to life, to preserve alive, اسْتَحْيَا to preserve alive C for one's own advantage; اسْتَجَابَ دُعَاؤَهُ He (God) answered, or accepted, his prayer, اسْتَجَابَ لَهُ he complied with his desire, or obeyed him, in doing something.

62. The tenth form often indicates that a person thinks that a certain thing possesses, in reference to himself or for his benefit, the quality expressed by the first form. E.g. حَلَّ to be lawful, اسْتَحَلَّ he thought that it was lawful (for himself to do); وَجَبَ to be necessary, اسْتَوْجَبَ he thought it was necessary (for him); اسْتَحْسَنَ to think him, or it, good or beautiful; اسْتَجَادَ to think it good or excellent; اسْتَخَفَّ to think it light, to think lightly of, or despise, one; اسْتَثْقَلَ to find it heavy, oppressive or troublesome, to think one a bore.

REM. In this case the factitive is combined with the middle sense; for as the fourth form (like the second) is frequently not strictly factitive, but estimative or declarative (§ 45, rem. b), so A also the tenth. Hence اسْتَوْجَبَ literally means to make something necessary for oneself, to think it so or say it is so; but اَوْجَبَ to make it necessary for others, to think or say that it is so.

63. The tenth form likewise often expresses the taking, seeking, asking for, or demanding, what is meant by the first. E.g. غَفَرَ to pardon, اسْتَغْفَرَ to ask pardon; سَقَى to give one to drink, اسْتَسْقَى to ask for something to drink, to pray for rain; اَذِنَ to permit, اسْتَأْذَنَ to ask permission; غَاثَ to help, اسْتَفَاثَ to call for help; B حَضَرَ to be present, اسْتَحَضَرَ to require one's presence, to desire that he should be fetched.

REM. This signification is also a combination of the factitive and middle: to procure a drink, permission, &c., for oneself.

64. In many verbs the tenth form has apparently a neuter sense, but in such cases a more minute examination shows that it was, at least originally, reflexive. E.g. اسْتَقَامَ to stand upright, lit. to hold oneself upright; اسْتَكَانَ to be humble, lit. to make oneself C humble, to conduct oneself humbly; اسْتَحَقَّ to be worthy of, to deserve, lit. to cause something to be due to oneself as a right or desert (حَقٌّ); اسْتَحْيَا to be ashamed, lit. to make oneself ashamed (حَيِي to be ashamed).

65. The tenth form is frequently denominative, in which case it unites the factitive and reflexive or middle senses. E.g. اسْتَوْلَى to make oneself master (وَلِيٌّ) of a thing, to take possession of it; D اسْتَخْلَفَ to appoint one as deputy, successor, or caliph (خَلِيفَةٌ); اسْتَوْزَرَ, اسْتَعْمَلَ, اسْتَقْضَى, to appoint one as wazīr (وَزِيرٌ), governor (عَامِلٌ), or judge (قَاضٍ).—Further, اسْتَحْجَرَ to become like (lit. to make itself like) stone (حَجَرٌ); اسْتَتَمَسَّتِ الْعَنْزُ the she-goat became like a he-goat (نَاقَةٌ); اسْتَنَوَّقَ الْبَعْلُ the he-camel became like a she-camel (نَاقَةٌ);

A أَنَّ الْبَغَاةَ بِأَرْضِنَا يَسْتَنْسِرُونَ the kite in our country becomes a vulture (نَسْرٌ, our geese are all swans).

REM. The tenth form is probably the reflexive of a form سَفَعَلٌ, which is not in use, corresponding to the Aram. ܣܦܥܠܐ, and its passive ܣܦܥܠܐ, which stand in exactly the same relation to one another as the Arabic first and eighth.

Perhaps سَلَقَى to throw down flat on the back, سَقَلَبَ to dash to the ground, and سَلَعَفَ to swallow, with one or two more, may be

B regarded as traces of the form سَفَعَلٌ, since they are nearly identical in meaning with سَلَقَى, سَقَلَبَ, and سَلَعَفَ (IV. of سَلَقَ, and سَلَفَ).

If so, سَلَقَى, which has the same signification as سَلَقَى, must be a later trilateral formation.

66. Of the remaining forms of the trilateral verb it may be sufficient to give a few examples, so as to exhibit their mode of formation.—XII. أَجْدُوذَى to bear oneself erect (جَدَا do.); أِحْدُوذَبٌ to be arched, curved, or humpbacked (حَدَبٌ do.); أِحْلَوْلُوكَ to be jet C black (حَلَكٌ do.); أِحْلَوْلَى to be sweet (حَلَوٌ do.); أِحْشُوشَنٌ to become very rough (حَشُنٌ to be rough); أِحْضُوضَرٌ to become blackish brown or blackish green (= أِحْضَرٌ), to become soft or tender (حَضِرٌ do.); أِحْضُوضَلٌ to become moist (= أِحْضَلٌ); أِعْرُورَى to ride on a horse without a saddle (عَرَى to be naked); أِعْشُوشَبٌ to be covered with luxuriant herbage (عَشَبٌ); أِعْصُوصَبٌ to be gathered together D to bind); أِعْدُودَنٌ to be green and rank (of a plant), to be long and thick (of the hair).—XIII. أَخْرُوطٌ to be long or last long, to go quickly (rad. أَخْرَطَ); أَجَلُودٌ to last long (rad. أَجَلَدَ); أِعْلُودٌ to be heavy (عَلِدٌ to be hard); أِعْلُوطٌ to cling or adhere to firmly, to mount a camel (rad. أَعْلَطَ).—XIV. أِحْسَنْشَشٌ to be big (rad. أِحْسَشَ); أِحْسَنْشَكٌ to be dark, to be obscure (rad. أِحْسَكَ); أِحْلَنْشَكٌ to be jet black (حَلَكٌ do.);

أِعْلَنْشَكٌ to be long and thick (of the hair, rad. أَعْلَكَ); أِعْفَنْجَجٌ to go A quickly (rad. أَعْفَجَ); أِفْعَنْسَسٌ to have a hump in front (the reverse of أِحْدُوذَبٌ do.).—XV. أِعْلَنْدَى to be stout and strong (عَلِدٌ to be hard); أِحْبَنْطَى to be swollen or inflated, to be filled with rage (حَبِطٌ do.).

REM. All these forms are habitually intransitive, but there are a few exceptions, as XII. أِعْرُورَى الْفَرَسِ he mounted the horse; B أِحْلَوْلَاهُ he found it sweet (but also أِحْلَوْلَى, it was sweet).—XV.

2. The Quadrilateral Verb and its Forms.

67. Quadrilateral (رُبَاعِيٌّ) verbs are formed in the following ways.

(a) A biliteral root, expressing a sound or movement, is repeated, to indicate the repetition of that sound or movement. E.g. بَابَا to C say baba (papa), غَرَّغَرَ to gargle, وَسَّوَسَ to whisper, زَلَّزَلَ to shake, حَمَّحَمَرَ to neigh, غَمَّغَمَرَ to bellow, to shout, خَشَّخَشَّ to make rustle or rattle.

(b) A fourth letter, generally a liquid or sibilant, is prefixed or affixed to, or inserted in the middle of, a trilateral verbal form.
E.g. شَمَّخَرَ to be proud (شَمَخَ to be high); شَمَعَلَ to be scattered =
شَمَعَ; جَمَّجَمَرَ to collect (compare جَمَّ and جَمَعَ); زَحَلَفَ to roll along D
(زَحَفَ to advance slowly), to drive back (زَحَلَ to withdraw, to retire); سَنَّبَسَ to hasten (perhaps connected with نَبَسَ); خَلَّبَسَ to deceive with soft words = خَلَبَ; جَلَمَطَ to shave the head = جَلَطَ; زَحَوْلَ to make retire (زَحَلَ to retire); تَغَطَّطَ (غَطَّطَ).

(c) They are denominatives from nouns of more than three letters, some of them foreign words. E.g. جَوْرَبٌ to put stockings (جَوْرَبٌ, Pers. كُورَبٌ) on one; جَلَبَبٌ to put on one the garment called قَلَنْسُوتَةٌ; قَلَنْسُوتَةٌ and قَلَنْسٌ to put on one the cup called a جَلَبَابٌ;

A قَطَرَنَ to pitch, from قَطِرَانٌ pitch; تَمَنَّقَ to put on a girdle (مَنْطِقَةٌ); تَمَدَّرَجَ to put on trousers or drawers (سَرَاوِيلٌ, Pers. شَلَوَارٌ); تَمَدَّرَعَتْ to wear a مَدْرَعَةٌ or tunic; تَمَنَّدَلْ to wipe one's fingers with a napkin (مَنْدِيلٌ mantile); تَمَسَكَنَّ to affect lowliness or humility, to abase oneself (مَسْكِينٌ lowly, humble, poor); تَمَذَّهَبَ to follow a sect (مَذْهَبٌ); تَبَعَّدَتْ to assimilate oneself (in dress, etc.) to the tribe of Ma'add (مَعَدٌّ); تَلَمَّذَ to become a pupil or disciple (تَلْمِيذٌ, Heb. תַּלְמִיד); تَقَلَّسَفَ to philosophize (from قَلَّسُوفٌ, φιλόσοφος); بَيَّطَرَ to practise the veterinary art or farriery (بَيَّطَارٌ a farrier, ιππίατρος).

(d) They are combinations of the most prominent syllables or letters in certain very common formulas. E.g. بِسْمِ اللَّهِ to say بِسْمِ اللَّهِ (in the name of God); حَمِدَ to say الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ (praise belongs to God); لَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ to say لَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ (there is no power and no strength save in God); فَذَلِكَ to cast up an account, saying فَذَلِكَ كَذَا وَكَذَا this then is so and so much.

68. The derived forms of the quadriliteral verb are three in number.

I. فَعَّلَ
II. تَفَعَّلَ
III. افْعَلَّلَ
IV. افْعَلَّلَ

69. The first form of the quadrilaterals corresponds in formation and conjugation to the second form of the trilaterals, and is both D transitive and intransitive in signification. E.g. شَمَّلَ to gather ripe dates, also to be active or nimble; شَمَّرَجَ to pluck unripe dates; دَخَّرَجَ to roll; زَهَّرَقَ to laugh much; هَرَوَّلَ to run quickly.

70. The second form agrees in formation and signification with the fifth of the trilateral verb. E.g. تَجَلَّبَبَ to put on or wear a جَلَبَابٌ; تَدَخَّرَجَ to roll along; تَسَلَّطَنَّ to make oneself sultan (سُلْطَانٌ), to act as if one were sultan, to lord it over another; تَشَّيْطَنَّ to act like a devil (شَيْطَانٌ, شَيْطَانٌ).

71. The third form of the quadriliteral verb corresponds to A the seventh of the trilateral, with this difference, that the characteristic ن is not prefixed, but inserted between the second and third radicals. E.g. اِبْرَنْتَقَ to open (of a flower), to bloom or flourish; اِحْرَنْجَمَ to be gathered together in a mass or crowd; اِحْوَنْصَلَ to puff out its crop (حَوْصَلَةٌ, of a bird); اِسْلَنْطَحَ to lie on one's face, stretched on the ground; اِسْلَنْقَى to lie on one's back; اِثْعَنْجَرَ to flow.

72. The fourth form of the quadrilaterals, which answers to B the ninth of the trilaterals, is intransitive, and expresses an extensively or intensively high degree of an intransitive act, state, or quality. E.g. اِدْبَهَّرَ to be very dark; اِشْمَعَّرَ to be very high or proud; اِضْمَحَلَّ to vanish away; اِسْبَطَرَ to lie stretched out on one's side; اِشْمَعَلَّ to make haste, to be scattered or dispersed; اِبْدَعَرَ to be scattered or dispersed; اِشْمَاَزَّ and اِشْمَاَزَّ to shudder with horror; اِطْمَأَنَّ to be at rest (from طَمَأَنَّ to lean back); اِحْزَأَلَ to rise high; اِشْرَأَبَّ to raise the head and stretch out the neck; اِضْمَأَلَ to be very hard.

3. The Voices.

73. All the verbal forms, both primitive and derivative, have two voices, the active and the passive; with the exception of intransitive verbs of the form فَعَلَ (§ 38) and of the 9th, 11th, 12th, 13th, 14th, and 15th forms (cf. § 66, rem.) as well as of those verbs of the D forms فَعَلَ and فَعَلَ, which designate not an act (transitive or intransitive) but a state or condition (being or becoming), as خَضِرَ to become green, nearly = اِحْضَرَّ or اِحْضُوضَرَّ; صَلَحَ to be good, right, in order, = قَسَدَ to be bad, wrong, in disorder, = قَسَدَ. The subject of the active voice is always an agent (person or thing), whose act may affect an object, or not; the subject of the passive voice is either the object of the former (personal passive), or the abstract idea of the act (impersonal passive).

A 74. The passive is especially used in four cases; namely (a) when God, or some higher being, is indicated as the author of the act; (b) when the author is unknown, or at least not known for certain; (c) when the speaker or writer does not wish to name him; (d) when the attention of the hearer or reader is directed more to the person affected by the act (patients, the patient), than to the doer of it (agens, the agent).

REM. The active voice is called by the Arab grammarians

B صِيغَةُ الْفَاعِلِ the mould or form of the agent, بِنَاءُ الْفَاعِلِ the build of the agent, بَابُ الْفَاعِلِ the category of the agent, فِعْلُ الْفَاعِلِ the action of the agent, and اَلْفِعْلُ اَلْمَبْنِيُّ (اَلْمَصُوغُ) لِلْفَاعِلِ, or عَلَى الْفَاعِلِ, the action (or verb) put into that form of which the agent is the subject. The passive voice is in like manner called صِيغَةُ فِعْلِ مَا تَرَى سَمًّا فِعْلُ الْمَفْعُولِ the mould or form of the patient, etc.; also مَا تَرَى سَمًّا فِعْلُ الْمَفْعُولِ

C فَاعِلُهُ the doing, or being done, of that, whereof the agent has not been named, or, more shortly, مَا تَرَى سَمًّا فَاعِلُهُ, though this latter is, strictly speaking, equivalent to اَلْمَفْعُولُ الَّذِي تَرَى سَمًّا فَاعِلُهُ, the patient whereof the agent has not been named, i.e. the passive subject. The active voice is also shortly called اَلْمَعْلُومُ or اَلْمَعْرُوفُ, and the passive اَلْمَجْهُولُ, elliptical forms of expression for اَلْفِعْلُ اَلْمَعْلُومُ (اَلْمَعْرُوفُ) فَاعِلُهُ, the action of which the agent is known, and اَلْفِعْلُ اَلْمَجْهُولُ فَاعِلُهُ, the action of which the agent is unknown.

These terms, اَلْمَعْرُوفُ or اَلْمَعْلُومُ and اَلْمَجْهُولُ, are also used to designate the subjects of the active and passive voices.

75. Verbs that express a state or condition, or signify an act which is, by its very nature, confined to the person of the subject, and cannot pass to another individual as its object (as مَرِيضٌ to be sick, نَامٌ to sleep), are aptly called neuter verbs, since they are neither really active nor really passive, but something between the two. The Arab grammarians cannot class them otherwise than among the active verbs, and they therefore distinguish اَلْأَفْعَالُ اَلْمَتَعَدِّيَّةُ, transitive verbs, from اَلْأَفْعَالُ غَيْرُ اَلْمَتَعَدِّيَّةِ, intransitive verbs, or اَلْأَفْعَالُ اَللَّازِمَةُ, verbs that are confined to the subject.

76. The idea of the passive voice must not be thought to be absolutely identical with that of the fifth, seventh, and eighth forms. These are, strictly speaking, effective (see § 48), whilst the other is purely passive.

4. The States (Tenses) of the Verb.

77. The temporal forms of the Arabic verb are but two in B number, the one expressing a finished act, one that is done and completed in relation to other acts (the Perfect); the other an unfinished act, one that is just commencing or in progress (the Imperfect).

REM. a. The names Preterite and Future, by which these forms were often designated in older grammars do not accurately correspond to the ideas inherent in them. A Semitic Perfect or Imperfect has, in and of itself, no reference to the temporal C relations of the speaker (thinker or writer) and of other actions which are brought into juxtaposition with it. It is precisely these relations which determine in what sphere of time (past, present, or future) a Semitic Perfect or Imperfect lies, and by which of our tenses it is to be expressed—whether by our Past, Perfect, Pluperfect, or Future-perfect; by our Present, Imperfect, or Future. The Arabian Grammarians themselves have not, however, succeeded in keeping this important point distinctly in view, but have given an undue importance to the idea of time, in connection with the verbal forms, by their division of it into the past (اَلْمَاضِي), the present (اَلْحَالُ or اَلْحَاضِرُ), and the future (اَلْمُسْتَقْبَلُ), the first of D which they assign to the Perfect and the other two to the Imperfect.

REM. b. On the forms of these tenses see § 91 etc. The Syntax will give more precise information as to their meaning and use.

5. The Moods.

78. The Arabic verb has five moods; namely, the Indicative, Subjunctive, Jussive or Conditional, Imperative, and Energetic.

A 79. Of these moods the first is common to the perfect and imperfect states; the second and third are restricted to the imperfect; the fourth, or imperative, is expressed by a special form; and the fifth can be derived not only from the imperfect, but also from the imperative.

REM. On the forms of the moods see § 91 etc. The Syntax treats of their significations and use.

B 80. Instead of the Infinitive, the Arabs use nouns expressing the action or quality (nomina actionis or verbi). In place of participles, they have two verbal adjectives, the one denoting the agent (nomen agentis, active participle), and the other the patient (nomen patientis, passive participle). [Cf. § 192.]

6. The Numbers, Persons, and Genders.

C 81. There are three numbers, the Singular (الْفَرْدُ, الْفَرْدُ, or الْوَاحِدُ), the Dual (التَّثْنِيَّةُ or الْاِثْنَيْنِ), and the Plural (الْجَمَاعُ, الْجَمَاعُ, الْكَثْرُ, or الْكَثْرُ); and likewise three persons, the speaker (first person), الْمَتَكَلِّمُ, the individual spoken to (second person), الْمَخَاطَبُ, and the individual spoken of (third person), الْغَائِبُ (the absent). The genders are two, namely the masculine (الْمَذَكَّرُ) and the feminine (الْمَوْثَّةُ); but they are not distinguished from one another in some of the persons (1st pers. sing., 2d pers. dual, and 1st pers. plur.).

B. THE STRONG VERB (VERBUM FIRNUM).

D 82. Verbs are divided into strong (verba firma) and weak (verba infirma). We include the verba mediæ radicalis geminatæ (y"y) in the former class; the verbs which have ʾ for one of their radicals, in the second (see § 128).

83. Strong verbs are those of which all the radical letters are strong, and consequently neither undergo any change, nor are rejected in any of the inflexions, but are retained throughout.

REM. A verb which contains one of the two letters و or ي is A called فِعْلٌ مُعْتَلٌّ, a weak verb, as opposed to فِعْلٌ سَائِرٌ, a verb that is free from defect, a sound verb. A verb which has ʾ for one of its radicals, or which belongs to the class med. rad. gemin. (y"y), is designated by the special term فِعْلٌ صَحِيحٌ; but some grammarians treat صَحِيحٌ and سَائِرٌ as synonyms.

1. *The Active Voice of the First Form in the Strong Verb.—Table I.

a. THE INFLEXION BY PERSONS.

84. The numbers, persons, and genders of the verb are expressed by means of personal pronouns, annexed to the various moods and tenses.

85. The personal pronoun [مُضَمَّرٌ, ضَمِيرٌ: see § 190, f.] is either separate [مُنْفَصِلٌ], standing by itself, or connected [مُتَّصِلٌ], that is C prefixed or suffixed. The separate pronouns have longer, the connected shorter forms.

86. The suffixed pronouns are partly verbal, partly nominal suffixes.

87. The verbal suffixes express partly the nominative, partly the accusative. The former are much more closely united with the verb than the latter.

88. The connected pronouns which express the nominative to D the verb are also in part prefixed.

REM. On the verbal suffixes which express the accusative see § 185; and on the nominal suffixes, § 317.

89. The following tables give a general view of the separate personal pronouns, and of those pronominal prefixes and suffixes which express the nominative to the verb.

* The nomina verbi, agentis, and patientis, are given along with the strictly verbal forms in all the Tables.

1. Separate Pronouns.

Singular.

	Masc.	Common	Fem.
3 p.	هُوَ he.	...	هِيَ she.
2 p.	أَنْتَ thou.	...	أَنْتِ thou.
1 p.	...	أَنَا I.	...

Dual.

3 p.	...	هُمَا they two.	...
2 p.	...	أَنْتُمَا ye two.	...
1 p.

3 p.	هُمْ they.	...	هُنَّ they.
2 p.	أَنْتُمْ ye.	...	أَنْتُنَّ ye.
1 p.	...	نَحْنُ we.	...

REM. a. When هُوَ and هِيَ are preceded by the conjunctions وَ and فَ, and, the affirmative لَ, certainly, surely, or the interrogative أ, the vowel of the ة may either be dropped or retained; as أَهِيَ or أَهَى, لَهِيَ or لَهَى, وَهِيَ or وَهَوُ.

D

REM. b. The second syllable of أَنَا is regarded as short by the old poets (و), except in pause, where we find both أَنَا (و-) and أَنَا*. Compare the Æthiopic ānā, which, in combination with the enclitic particle ā, becomes ānā. أَنَا is, therefore, an example of scriptio plena, to distinguish the pronoun from the particles أَنْ, اِنْ, اَنَّ. The scriptio defectiva is found, for example, in the interjectional هَا أَنَا ذَا or هَا أَنَذَا here I am (هَإِنِّي, eccome), for هَا أَنَا ذَا. The form أَن is said also to occur.

* But أَن, out of pause, is occasionally scanned as an iambus even in old poetry. See Nöldeke in ZDMG. xxxviii. 418, note 3.

REM. c. Older forms of هُم and أَتُم are هُم and أَتُم, used in A poetry, and also in the wasl (§ 20, d, and § 23, rem. c). [Though written defectively this terminal u is commonly scanned as a long vowel.]

REM. d. For a comparison of the pronominal forms of the Arabic with those of the other Semitic languages see Comp. Gr. p. 95 seq.

2. Suffixed Pronouns, expressing the Nominative. B

Singular.

	Masc.	Common	Fem.
3 p.	سَتْ she.
2 p.	تَ thou.	...	تِ (ي-يَهِن) thou.

Dual.

3 p.	لَا (لَا, بَانِ) they two.	...	لَتَا (لَا, بَانِ) they two.
2 p.	...	تُمَا (لَا, بَانِ) ye two.	...

Plural.

3 p.	هُوَ (هُوَ, بُونِ) they.	...	نَ they.
2 p.	تُمْ (هُوَ, بُونِ) ye.	...	نُ (نَ) ye.
1 p.	...	نَا we.	...

REM. a. The forms within brackets are those of the Imperfect and Imperative; the others those of the Perfect.

REM. b. The suffix of the 1st pers. plur. is sometimes shortened in poetry (nā) and written defectively, نَ.

3. Prefixed Pronouns, expressing the Nominative.

Singular.

	Masc.	Common.	Fem.
3 p.	يَ he.	...	تَ she.

	Plural.
	3 p. ...	ي they.	...
	2 p. ...	ت ye.	...

B REM. a. These forms are restricted to the Imperfect. They are called by the grammarians حُرُوفُ الْبُضَارَعَةِ, and are comprised in the mnemonic word نَاتِي or أُنَيْتُ.

REM. b. The prefix of the third person plural of the Imperfect is ي for both genders. But the grammarians cite some rare cases where, in the fem., ي is replaced by ت, so that the distinction between 3 pl. fem. and 2 pl. fem. is lost. Thus in the Kor'an, Sūra xlii. 3, a reading تَتَفَطَّرُنَ for يَتَفَطَّرُنَ is recorded. This must be explained as due to false analogy from the sing. In the Heb. הַקְּטִילָהּ the false form has become the rule.

C 90. Of the two fethas with which the first and third radicals of a verb are always pronounced (قَتَلَ, فَرِحَ, حَسَنَ), the former is rejected after prefixed pronouns, as يَقْتُلُ, تَقْتُلُ; the latter before suffixed pronouns beginning with a consonant, as قَتَلْتِ, قَتَلْنَا. When the suffix begins with a vowel, that vowel takes the place of the fetha, as قَتَلُوا, قَتَلْتُمْ.

REM. a. When the third radical is ت, it unites in pronunciation with the ت in some of the suffixes. In such cases only one ت is written, and the union of the two is denoted by the tésdid. Thus from ثَبَّتَ, to stand firm, we get ثَبَّتْ, ثَبَّتِ, ثَبَّتُمْ, for ثَبَّتَتْ, ثَبَّتَتُمْ. See § 14, c, rem. b.

REM. b. When the third radical is one of the letters ث, ذ, ذ, ض, ط, ظ, it may unite in pronunciation with the ت of the suffixes, so as to form a double ت, but it is nevertheless retained in writing.

To indicate the assimilation, the ت takes tésdid, and the gézma, A with which the third radical ought properly to be marked, is omitted. Thus, عَبَدْتُ for عَبَدْتِ, I have served; رَبَطْتُ for رَبَطْتِ, thou hast bound; أَخَذْتُمْ for أَخَذْتُمُ, ye have taken. On this assimilation see § 14, c.

REM. c. When the third radical is ن, it unites with the ن of the suffixes into a single ن with tésdid; as أَمَنَّ they (women) believed, أَمَنَّا we believed, for أَمَنْنَ and أَمَنْنَا.

REM. d. For a view of the Inflection of the Perfect and Imperfect Indicative in Hebrew and Aramaic as compared with Arabic see Comp. Gr. p. 165 seq.

b. FORMS OF THE TENSES AND MOODE. B

91. When the second radical of the Perfect has fetha, it may take either damma or késra in the Imperfect; as قَتَلَ to kill, يَقْتُلُ; كَتَبَ to write, يَكْتُبُ; ضَرَبَ to strike, يَضْرِبُ; جَلَسَ to sit down, يَجْلِسُ. Many verbs admit of both forms; as عَطَسَ to sneeze, يَعْطُسُ and يَعِطُسُ; سَمَطَ to remove the hair by scalding, يَسْمِطُ or يَسِطُ; رَكَزَ to stick upright into the ground, يُرَكِّزُ. C

REM. a. Verbs, of which the second or third radical is a guttural letter, are an exception to the rule, for they commonly retain in the Imperfect the fetha of the Perfect; as فَعَلَ to do, يَفْعَلُ; يَبْرَأُ to create, يَبْرَأُ; يَمْنَعُ to hinder, يَقْطَعُ; قَطَعَ to cut, يَفْعَلُ; يَذْهَبُ to go away, يَسْأَلُ; سَأَلَ to ask, يَلْحَظُ; لَحَظَ to look at, يَطْرَحُ. Not a few, however, conform to the rule, particularly when the second radical is خ or غ; as شَعَرَ to perceive, know, يَشْعُرُ; قَعَدَ to sit, يَقْعُدُ; طَعَنَ to transpierce, يَطْعَنُ; صَلَحَ to be sound, right, good, يَصْلُحُ; بَلَغَ to attain to, reach, يَبْلُغُ; نَفَخَ to blow, يَنْفُخُ; نَزَعَ to draw or pull away, يَنْزِعُ; رَجَعَ to return, يَرْجِعُ; شَخَبَ to flow, يَشْخُبُ; يَنْزِعُ; شَخَرَ to bray, يَشْخِرُ. Some verbs have two

A FORMS; as نَعَقَ to croak, يَنْعِقُ; مَنَعَ to give as a present, يَنْعِجُ; نَكَحَ to marry, يَنْكِحُ; نَطَعَ to butt, يَنْطِجُ; سَلَعَ to slay, يَنْسَلِجُ; دَبَعَ to tan, يَدْبِجُ; صَبَعَ to dye, يَصْبِجُ; قَرَعَ to be at leisure, to have done with, يَفْرَعُ; and even three, as نَحَتَ to cut or hew, يَنْحِتُ; نَبَعَ to incline (of a scale of a balance), يَرْجِعُ; نَبَحَ to gush out, يَنْبِجُ.

B REM. b. Verbs of the form فَعَلَ denoting superiority, فَعَلَ الْغَلْبَةِ (see § 43, a), always have damma (the grammarian ḥl-Kisā'i alone admitting fetha with a guttural), as شَعَرَ he excelled him in composing poetry, يَشْعُرُهُ; فَخَرَهُ he surpassed him in glory, يَفْخِرُهُ; unless they be primæ rad. و, med. rad. ي, or tert. rad. ي, when they take kāra, as وَعَدَهُ he outbid him in promising, يَعِدُهُ; خَارَهُ he excelled him in goodness, يَخْبِرُهُ; رَمَاهُ he surpassed him in shooting with arrows, يَرْمِيهِ.

C REM. c. Excessively rare are cases like رَكَنَ to incline to, lean upon, يَرْكُنُ, which is probably a combination of the two forms رَكَنَ, يَرْكُنُ, and رَكِنَ, يَرْكِنُ. See § 175, rem. b.

92. When the second radical of the Perf. has kāra, the Imperf. takes fetha; as عَلِمَ to know, يَعْلَمُ; شَرِبَ to drink, يَشْرَبُ; حَزِنَ to be sorrowful, يَحْزِنُ; مَرَضَ to be sick, يَمْرُضُ; سَلِمَ to be safe, يَسْلَمُ.

D REM. a. A few verbs may retain in the Imperf. the kāra of the Perf., as حَسِبَ to think or suppose, يَحْسِبُ or يَحْسَبُ; نَعِمَ to be green and flourishing, يَنْعَمُ; بَسِيَ to be in distress or poverty, يَبْسُ or يَبْسِي. See also §§ 142 and 146.

REM. b. Very rare are cases like حَضَرَ to be present, يَحْضُرُ; رَكَنَ to incline to, lean upon, يَرْكُنُ; فَضَلَ to be in excess, abound, يَفْضُلُ; نَعِمَ to be affluent, comfortable, يَنْعَمُ; بَرِيَ to be clear, quit, or innocent of, يَبْرُؤُ or يَبْرَأُ. The most common example of this kind A is a verb med. و, viz. مَاتَ, to die (for مَوَتَ, 1st p. sing. Perf. مِتَّ), يَمُوتُ.—Similar cases in Syriac and Hebrew, Comp. Gr. p. 180*.

93. When the second radical of the Perf. has damma, that vowel is retained in the Imperf.; as حَسَنَ to be beautiful, يَحْسُنُ; شَرَفَ to be high, noble, يَشْرُفُ; بَلَدَ to be dull or stupid, يَبْلُدُ.

REM. With the above forms compare the Heb. יִשְׁלַח, יִבְחַב, יִבְדַּב. In Heb., however, verbs in o usually take a in the Imperf., as יִבְחַבָּ, יִבְדַּבָּ, whereas in Arabic instances like تَبَيَّنْتُ I became wise, أَشْرُؤْتُ I became ugly, شَرُرْتُ I became bad, أَشْرُؤْتُ, أَشْرُؤْتُ, أَشْرُؤْتُ, أَشْرُؤْتُ are very rare. Some authorities admit the forms أَشْرُؤْتُ, أَشْرُؤْتُ.

94. The difference between the Perf. and Imperf. in regard to their inflexion is, that the marks of the numbers, genders, and persons, are only suffixed to the Perf.; whereas they are both suffixed and prefixed to the Imperf., more generally the latter. C

REM. a. In the Perf. the act is placed conspicuously in the foreground, because completed; in the Imperf. the agent, because still occupied in the act (see § 77, rem. a). If we look upon the root قَتَلَ as primarily conveying the abstract idea of “killing,” we may regard قَتَلْتُ as meaning “killing-of-me” (i.e. done by me), “my killing,” = “I have killed;” and أَقْتُلُ as meaning “I-killing,” = “I am killing.” **

REM. b. In the Imperf. the pronominal prefixes mark the state D or tense, and to some extent the gender; whilst the suffixes serve solely to indicate the gender. Thus, the 2d pers. sing. masc. تَكْتُبُ is sufficiently distinguished from the 3d pers. sing. masc. يَكْتُبُ by the form of the temporal prefix; but to distinguish the 2d pers. sing. masc. from its fem. a suffix is necessary, and accordingly we get masc. تَكْتُبُ, fem. تَكْتُبِينَ.

* [Anbārī, Nozhat el-alibbā p. 459 states from personal observation in Yēmen and Hīgāz that in some dialects every verb فَعَلَ makes يَفْعَلُ and يَفْعَلُ.—De G.]

 Fleischer, Kl. Schr. i. 368 considers the root as a concrete noun.

- A REM. c. In the active voice of the first form, the prefixes of the Imperfect are pronounced with fetha. But a pronunciation with kèsr instead of fetha is regarded as admissible and was used by some of the old Arabs with any of the preformatives except ي, save in the case where the next consonant has damma (verbs med. و). That is, one must not say أَقُومُ for أَقُمُ, أَقُومُ for أَقُمُ, أَقُومُ for أَقُمُ etc. nor يَعْلَمُ for يَعْلَمُ; but on the other hand the pronunciation نَعْبُدُ and نَسْتَعِينُ in Sūra i. 4, and إِعْبُدْ in Sūra xxxvi. 60 are recognized as legitimate dialectic variations of the usual نَعْبُدُ etc. In one case, B
- أَحَالُ* for أَحَالُ, I suppose, the pronunciation with kèsr is generally preferred. The tribe of Kèlb used kèsr even with the prefix ي (يَعْلَمُ). Dialectically, too, the vowel of the prefix might be assimilated to a following damma, as in نَعْبُدُ for نَعْبُدُ.

95. The Indicative of the Imperf. is distinguished by the third radical having damma, the Subjunctive by its having fetha; as Indic. يَكْتُبُ, Subj. يَكْتُبُ. The Jussive is denoted by the absence of any vowel with the third radical, as يَكْتُبْ; whence it is sometimes called the apocopated Imperfect.

- REM. a. The damma and fetha of the Indic. and Subjunct. Imperf. in the verb, correspond to the damma and fetha of the Nom. and Accus. in the noun (see § 308); for the Imperf. is closely akin to the noun, and its government in the Subjunct. falls under the same category with the government of the noun in the Accus. Hence the technical name of the Imperf., المضارع, because it D resembles the noun. [The Indicative is called المرفوع, the Subjunctive المَنْصُوبُ, and the Jussive المَجْزُومُ.]

REM. b. The peculiar meaning of the Jussive has brought along with it the rejection of the final vowel, which seems originally to have been i. At least the poets make use of the form يَقْتُلِ in rhyme. [Cf. vol. ii. § 247.]

96. The forms of the Indic. which end in ن and ن reject these syllables in the Subjunct. and Jussive, because the genders, numbers, and persons are distinctly indicated even after their omission. The

2d and 3d pers. plur. fem. are exceptions, for in them ن is retained, A because it is absolutely necessary in order to mark the gender. Compare يَكْتُبُونَ, يَكْتُبُوا, with كُتِبَا, يَكْتُبَانِ, يَكْتُبَا, with كُتِبَا; and تَكْتُبِينَ, تَكْتُبِي, with كُتِبْتِ.

97. The Energetic is formed by adding the termination ن or ن (called by the grammarians النون المؤكدة, or the corroborative n) to the Jussive. If the Jussive ends in i or u, the fetha of ن or ن is elided, and the long vowel of the verbal form shortened, because it is in a shut syllable: تَكْتُبِينَ, تَكْتُبِي, from تَكْتُبِي; يَكْتُبِينَ, يَكْتُبِي, from يَكْتُبِي; etc. In the dual, the first fetha of ن is absorbed by the B of the termination, and the second weakened into a kèsr through the influence of the same long vowel: يَكْتُبَانِ, يَكْتُبَا, from يَكْتُبَا. In the 2d and 3d pers. plur. fem. the fetha of the verb unites with the initial fetha of ن into a long ā, and in consequence the second fetha of ن becomes kèsr: يَكْتُبْنَ (3) from يَكْتُبْنَ (3).

REM. a. The syllable ن of the second Energetic is appended only to those persons which have, in the first Energetic, a short vowel before ن; and not to the dual, because its forms would then C coincide with those of the singular, nor to the fem. plur., apparently because the sound of the syllable ن (يَكْتُبْنَ) was disagreeable to the ear.

REM. b. Before an elifu 'l-wasl (§ 19) the n of the termination ن is rejected (§ 20, rem. c), as لَا تُبِينَنَّ الْفَقِيرَ, despise not the poor, for تُبِينَنَّ, from أَهَانَ, IV. of هَانَ.

REM. c. The syllable ن is often written ا, and pronounced D in pause ا. Compare the Hebrew Energetic or Cohortative in אָהַרְבֵּה, Comp. Gr. p. 194.

98. The Imperative (الأمر the order or command) may be described as formed from the Jussive by rejecting the prefix of the 2d pers. sing. Hence it has always the same characteristic vowel as the Jussive; but, since it begins with two consonants, it takes, according to § 26, a short

A prosthetic vowel. When the second radical is pronounced with fəṭḥa or kəṣra, this vowel is kəṣra; when with ḍamma, it is ḍamma. E. g.

أَكْتَبَ، اضْرِبْ، افْعَلْ.

REM. a. Regarding the elision of the prosthetic vowel (أ), see § 19, b; and on the orthography ا and إ, in cases where that elision does not take place, § 19, rem. d.

REM. b. Fəṭḥa is never employed as a prosthetic vowel.

B REM. c. As an Imperative the Arabs also use the indeclinable form قَتَالَ; as حَضَارِ be present! حَذَارِ beware! نَزَالِ alight! سَمَاعِ listen! تَرَكَ let alone! دَبَابِ creep along! نَعَا announce the death of—! from نَعَى. This corresponds to the Hebrew Infinitive absolute קָטַל (ō for ā, and the final short vowel dropped), which is also used in the same way; as זָכַר remember!* In quadri-literals this form is very rare, the only examples mentioned being

C قَرَقَرِ = قَرَقَرُوا بِالرَّعْدِ, let thy thunder crash, and عَرَعَارِ, come and play the game called 'ar'ara. Occasionally it seems to take its meaning from one of the derived conjugations, as دَرَاكِ bring out! دَرَاكِ overtake! = اُدْرِكُوا، اُخْرِجُوا، Imper. IV.

99. The same remarks apply to the energetic forms of the Imperative as to those of the Imperf. (§ 97).

D [REM. The common phrase اضْرِبْ عُنُقَهُ، strike off his head, is sometimes pointed without tənwin (اضْرِبْ) and is then explained by the grammarians as a dual used in an intensive sense (تَشْيِةً عَلَى) التَّوَكِيدِ, cf. vol. ii. § 35, a, rem. b) in addressing a single person. Similarly Kor'an l. 23, اَلْقِيَا with a various reading اَلْقِيْنَا.—De G.]

* [And again the phrase عَقَتِ عَقَاقِ Tab. i. 1842, l. 15 is parallel to the Hebrew use of the Inf. Abs. with the finite verb.—De G.]

2. The Passive Voice of the First Form in the Strong Verb.—Table II. A

100. The Perf. and Imperf. Passive are distinguished from the corresponding tenses of the Active by a change of vowels. In the Perf. Pass. the first radical has ḍamma, and the second radical kəṣra. In the Imperf. Pass. the prefixes take ḍamma, and the second radical fəṭḥa.

REM. The vocalisation of the Passive remains always the same, whatever be the vowel of the second radical in the Perf. and Imperf. Active.

101. There is no special form to express the Imperative Passive, B the Jussive being used instead.

3. The Derived Forms of the Strong Verb.—Table III.

102. The second radical of the Perf. Act. is pronounced with fəṭḥa in all the derived forms.

103. The second radical of the Imperf. Act. is pronounced with fəṭḥa in the fifth and sixth forms, with kəṣra in the rest. C

REM. The Imperfects of the ninth and eleventh forms, يَقْتُلُ and يَقْتَالُ, are contractions for يَقْتَلِلُ and يَقْتَالِلُ. This may be seen from the Jussives يَقْتَلِلْ and يَقْتَالِلْ, and the Imperatives اِقْتَلِلْ and اِقْتَالِلْ. See §§ 106 and 120.

104. In the second, third, and fourth forms, the prefixes of the Imperf. Act. are pronounced with ḍamma, in the rest with fəṭḥa.

105. The characteristic elif of the fourth form disappears when D another letter is prefixed; as يُقْتَلُ, not يُقْتَلِ, from اُقْتَلْ.

[REM. But we find قُنْرٌ مَوْثِقَةٌ, a pot set on the fire, and also يُوْتِفِينُ, Sībawēih, i. 9, l. 21, where the أ is treated like the ء of يَهْرِيقُ, § 118, rem. b.—De G.]

106. The ninth and eleventh forms were originally اِفْعَلَلْ and اِفْعَالَلْ. But, by a rule of the language (see § 120), if the last radical

A in such words has a vowel, the preceding radical loses its vowel, and the two are combined into one letter with tèsdid; e.g. أَصْفَرُ for أَصْفَرُ, يَصْفَرُ for يَصْفَرُ. If the last radical has no vowel, the word remains uncontracted; as أَصْفَرْتُ, يَصْفَرُ, أَصْفَرُ (see § 120).

107. The formation of the Perf. and Imperf. Passive in the derived forms is exactly analogous to that in the ground-form.

REM. a. The Imperfects Pass. of the first and fourth forms are identical.

B REM. b. The Imperfects Pass. of the fifth and sixth forms are distinguished from their Imperfects Act. only by the vowel of the prefixes, which is ḍamma instead of fèṭḥa.

108. Since the idea of the Perf. Pass. is expressed by pronouncing the first radical with ḍamma, and the idea of the third form by lengthening the vowel of the first radical, there results in the Passive of the third form (in which both ideas are united) the form تُؤْتَل; and hence in the Pass. of the sixth, تُؤْتَل.

C 109. In the Perf. Pass. of the fifth and sixth forms, not only is the fèṭḥa of the first radical changed into ḍamma, but also the fèṭḥa of the characteristic ت (which expresses the reflexive idea of these forms); e.g. تُؤْتَل, تُؤْتَل. In like manner, in the Perf. Pass. of the seventh, eighth, and tenth forms, not only is the first radical, or the characteristic ت, pronounced with ḍamma, but also the prosthetic êlif; e.g. أُنْقِتِل, أُنْقِتِل, أُنْقِتِل. Compare § 98 and rem. a.

D 110. The ninth and eleventh [to fifteenth] forms, being neutral in their signification, have of course no passive (see § 73).

111. When the verbal root begins with ش, س, ز, د, ج, ث, ط, or ظ, the characteristic ت of the fifth and sixth forms occasionally (in the Ḳor'an frequently) loses its vowel, and unites with the first radical to form a double letter. The forms thus originated take a prosthetic êlif, when they happen to commence with two consonants (compare § 54). E.g. أَتَابَع, أَتَابَع, أَتَابَع.

REM. See § 48, rem. b, and compare such Hebrew forms as הִפְתִּיחַ, הִזְכִּיר, הִדְבִּיר; Comp. Gr. p. 110 seq.

112. The ت of the fifth and sixth forms is sometimes omitted B in those persons of the Imperf. Act. to which ت is prefixed (2d pers. sing. du. and plur. masc. and fem., 3d pers. sing. and du. fem.); e.g. تَتَقَدَّمُونَ, تَتَبَاعَدُ, تَتَحَمَّلُ, تَتَكَسَّرُ, for تَقَدَّمُونَ, تَبَاعَدُ, تَحَمَّلُ, تَكَسَّرُ [and necessarily تَتَابَعُ for تَتَابَعُ (Fâik i. 130)—De G.]. These shortened forms are sufficiently distinguished by the fèṭḥas of the prefixed ت and of the second radical from the same persons in the active voice of the second and third forms (تُبَاعَدُ, تُكَسِّرُ); and by the fèṭḥa of the prefixed ت from the same persons in the passive of C the second and third forms (تُبَاعَدُ, تُكَسَّرُ).

113. Verbs of which the first radical is أ, و, ر, ي, ل, or ن, have no seventh form in classical Arabic, but use the fifth or eighth, or the passive of the first, instead. In the (so far as we know) solitary example of the seventh form from a verb beginning with ن,—namely أَنْهَسَ, to lie concealed,—the characteristic ن is united by tèsdid to the first radical.

REM. a. Some grammarians regard أَنْهَسَ as being of the eighth D form, by assimilation for أَنْهَسَ.

REM. b. In modern Arabic such forms as أَنَاخَذُ, أَنَاظِرُ (Kamil, p. 569, note i.), أَنْوَلِدُ, أَنْوَجِدُ, أَنْصَرُ, أَنْرُقُصُ, are of common occurrence.

114. If the first radical is م, the characteristic ن of the seventh form often unites with it into مَر; as مَحَقُّ or إِمْحَقُ from مَحَقَّ,

A The letter is inflected exactly like قَمَطَرَ, but the former is irregular: Imperf. يَهْرِيقُ, Imperat. هَرِقْ, Nom. act. هَرِاقَةٌ, Perf. Pass. هَرِيقُ. The form أَهْرَاقُ, Imperf. يَهْرِيقُ, is also used.—The tenth form of طَاعَ, viz. اسْتَطَاعَ, to obey, is sometimes shortened into اسْطَاعَ or اسْتَاعَ, Imperf. يَسْطِيعُ or يَسْتِيعُ, and then converted into اسْطَاعَ, Imperf. يَسْطِيعُ. [Also, in verse, we find مُسْتَطَارٌ for مُسْتَطَارٌ.]

B 5. Verbs of which the Second and Third Radicals are Identical.—Table V.

119. These verbs are usually called verba mediæ or secundæ radicalis geminatae (ϣ'ϣ). The Arab grammarians name them أَفْعَلٌ الْأَصْرُ, the solid verb, or أَفْعَلٌ الْمَضَاعَفُ, the doubled verb.

120. They differ from other strong verbs in two points.

(a) When both the first and third radicals have vowels, the second radical rejects its vowel, and unites with the third, so as to form a double letter, which is marked with tèsdid. E.g. فَرَّ to flee, for فَوَرَّ; شَقَّ to split or cleave, for شَقَّقَ; مَسَّ to touch, for مَسَسَ; شَمَّ to smell, for شَمِمَ; حَبَّ to become dear (to one), for حَبَّبَ; لَبَّ to become wise or intelligent, for لَبَّبَ.

(b) If the third radical has a vowel, but the first is without one, the second radical throws back its vowel upon the first, and then combines with the third, so as to form a double letter. E.g. يَجِلُّ for يَجَلِلُ, يَمُدُّ for يَمُدُّ, يَمَلُّ for يَمَلُّ. But if the third radical has no vowel, the second retains its vowel, and no contraction takes place; as فَرَرْتُ, مَلَلْتُ, يَفِرُّ, لَبَّبْتُ.

REM. a. Transitive verbs of this class, of the form فَعَّلَ, have damma in the Imperfect, with the exception of six, which also admit kèsra; viz. بَتَّ to sever or separate entirely, make decisive or absolute, رَمَّ to repair, شَدَّ to make hard or firm, tie firmly, عَلَّ to water (camels) a second time, نَرَّ to spread abroad or divulge secretly, أَهَرَ to abhor, detest, Imperf. يَبِيْتُ or يَبِثُّ, etc. One verb has only kèsra, viz. حَبَّ to love (instead of the common IV. أَحَبَّ), Imperf. يَحِبُّ.

REM. b. Uncontracted verbs of the forms فَعَّلَ and فَعَّلَ sometimes occur; as صَكَّكَ to be knock-kneed or weak in the hocks, مَشَّ to have a swelling [splint] on the pastern (of a horse), أَلَّ to smell badly, ضَبَّ to abound in lizards (ضَبٌّ), لَجَّ to be sore (of the eye), ضَبَّ to be curly, حَكَّكَ to have its hoof worn at the edges (of a horse, etc.); لَبَّ to be wise or intelligent, دَمَّرَ to be ugly, شَرَّ to be bad, فَكَّكَ to be silly, in one's dotage, عَزَّ to have narrow orifices of the teats (of a she-camel, ewe, etc.).

REM. c. Forms like فَرَرْتُ, مَدَدْتُ, ظَلَلْتُ, are, however, sometimes contracted in different ways.—1. The second radical is dropped, along with its vowel, or else its vowel is transferred to the first radical; as, رَدَّتْ, رَدَّنْ, for رَدَدَتْ, رَدَدَنْ, أَحَسَّتْ for أَحَسَّتْ, ظَلَّتْ or ظَلَّتْ for ظَلَلَّتْ, مَسَّتْ for مَسَّتْ (compare the Aramaic form בָּהַר for בָּהַר) [also يَقْرِنَ for يَقْرِرَنَّ, يَزْفِنَ for يَزْفِرَنَّ etc.*]. 2. The third radical is united with the second, and a vowel-sound inserted before the pronominal suffix. This may be either (a) the diphthong ي, as قَصَّيْتُ for قَصَصْتُ, اِسْتَسْرَيْتُ for اِسْتَسْرَيْتُ, a form which is not uncommon in the fifth conjugation, as تَسْرَيْتُ, تَلَعَّعْتُ, تَقَضَّضْتُ, تَطَلَّطْتُ, تَسْرَرْتُ, for تَلَعَّعْتُ, تَقَضَّضْتُ, تَطَلَّطْتُ; (compare in the Hebrew Imperf. הִסְפִּינָה for הִסְפִּינָה); or (b) the long vowel ā, as مَدَّاتُ for مَدَدْتُ (compare in Hebrew הִסְפִּינָה, where $\delta = \alpha$). The form described under 2 a is the usual one in modern Arabic, but in N. Africa ai becomes i, as reddit for رَدَيْتُ. Such forms as أَحَسَّيْتُ for أَحَسَسْتُ also occur.—Comp. Gr. p. 227 seq.

* [See De Goeje, Gloss. to Ibn al-Faḥīh s.v. رَفَّ.]

A 121. In the Jussive, however, the second radical not unfrequently throws back its vowel upon the first, and combines with the third, in which case the doubled letter necessarily takes a supplemental vowel (§ 27). In verbs that have a or i in the Imperf., this vowel may be either ʃəṭḥa or kəṣra; in those that have u, it may be any one of the three vowels. E.g. يَعَضُّ or يَعَضُّ, يَمَلِّ or يَمَلِّ, for يَعَضُّ, يَمَلِّ; يَغْرِ or يَغْرِ, يَحِبُّ or يَحِبُّ, for يَغْرِ, يَحِبُّ; يَمُدُّ, يَمُدُّ, or يَمُدُّ, يَمُدُّ, for يَمُدُّ, يَمُدُّ.*

B 122. Those persons of the Imperative in which the third radical has a vowel (sing. fem., dual, and plur. masc.), sometimes do not follow the rule given in § 120, b, but keep the second radical apart from the third; as اَفِرُّوا, اَفِرُّوا, اَفِرُّوا. When the usual contraction takes place, the prosthetic ḥif is obviously no longer necessary, and therefore the Arabs say اَفِرُّوا, اَفِرُّوا, اَفِرُّوا—not اَفِرُّوا, اَفِرُّوا, اَفِرُّوا—instead of اَفِرُّوا, etc. The masc. sing. undergoes exactly the same contraction as the Jussive (§ 121), rejecting at the same time the prosthetic ḥif; e.g. عَضَّ for اِعَضَّ, مَدَّ for اَمَدَّ, مَدَّ for اَمَدَّ.

C REM. If the verb has a suffix, the choice of the supplemental vowel depends to some extent upon that of the suffix; say رَدَّه (رَدَّه), عَضَّه (عَضَّه), but رَدَّه, عَضَّه, not رَدَّه, عَضَّه. In the wasl (§ 20) say رَدَّ الْقَوْمَ or رَدَّ الْقَوْمَ.

D 123. The same rules that apply to the Active of the first form, apply also to its Passive, and to the third, fourth, sixth, seventh, eighth, and tenth forms. But in the second, fifth, ninth, and eleventh, the second or third radical cannot be united with the other, because it is already doubled. Consequently فَرَّرَ, تَفَرَّرَ, اَفَرَّرَ, and اَفَرَّرَ, undergo no contraction. [But cf. § 120, rem. c, for Conj. V.]

* [The uncontracted forms are said to belong to the dialect of Hijāz, the contracted to that of Tamim, Faḥk ii. 566.—De G. Cf. Sibawēh ii. 443.]

REM. In the Passive some of the Arabs substituted kəṣra for ḍamma, as حَلَّ for حَلَّ (contracted from حَلَّلَ), whilst others gave the vowel of the first radical a sound between those of kəṣra and ḍamma (technically called الإشمار, giving the one vowel a scent or flavour of the other), as رُدَّ, رُدَّ, رُدَّ, رُدَّ (with the German ü or French u), instead of رُدَّ, رُدَّ.

124. In the third, sixth, and eleventh forms, a long vowel, namely ā, precedes the double consonant, which is allowed in the case of ʃəṭḥa alone (§ 25, rem.). However, the uncontracted forms, B such as سَارَر, قَاصَص, حَاجَج, شَاقَق, شَاحَح, يَسَابَب, يَمَادِد, مُصَافَفَة, مُحَاجَجَة, not unfrequently occur. Forms like فُورِر, فُورِر, and اَفِرِرَار, are not contracted.

125. The Jussive of the derived forms may undergo exactly the same contraction as the Jussive of the ground-form, by throwing back the vowel of the second radical upon the first, combining the second radical with the third, and giving the double letter an auxiliary vowel. E.g. اَقْبَلْهُ for اَقْبَلْهُ, اَقْبَلْهُ for اَقْبَلْهُ, the 1st pers. sing. Juss. of the fourth C form of قَلَّ and ذَلَّ.

C. THE WEAK VERB.

126. Weak Verbs (verba infirma) are those in which one of the radicals is subject, on account of its weakness, to transformation or rejection; and which consequently differ more or less, in some parts of their inflexion, from strong verbs (see §§ 82 and 83). D

127. The weak letters are أ, و, and ي.

128. There are two sorts of weak verbs.

(a) Those that have among their radicals a moveable ḥif or həmza, the weakest of the gutturals. These are called verba hēmzata.

(b) Those that have among their radicals one of the weak consonants و and ي, which approach very nearly in their nature to the vowel-sounds u and i. These are more particularly called weak verbs.

A REM. The Arab grammarians do not reckon the verba hêmzata among the weak verbs, restricting this appellation to those that contain a و or ي (§ 83, rem.).

129. In a root there may be two, or even three weak letters; as رَأَى, وَقَى, أَوَى. Verbs that have two weak radicals are said to be doubly weak; those that have three, to be trebly weak. These may be reckoned as forming a third class of weak verbs.

1. Verbs that have a Hêmza among their Radicals (Verba Hêmzata).—Tables VI., VII., VIII.

B 130. These are divided into three classes, according as the hêmza is the first, second, or third radical (verba primæ, mediæ, ultimæ radicalis hêmzatæ). The following sections point out wherein they differ from the strong verbs.

131. If the êlif with hêmza and gëzma, at the end of a syllable (ئ), be preceded by one of the heterogeneous vowels ðamma and kësra, it is converted, after the ðamma, into و with hêmza (ؤ); after the kësra, into ي with hêmza (ئي). Hence بُرئْتُ for بُرأتُ, 1st pers. sing. Perf.

C Pass. of بَرَأَ; يُؤتِرُ for يُأْتِرُ, 3d pers. sing. masc. Imperf. Pass. I. or IV. of أْتَرُ; دَنوتُ and سَنَتُ for دَنأتُ and سَنأتُ, 2d pers. sing. masc. Perf.

Act. of دَنُو and سَنِي, for دَنأُ and سَنأُ (see § 133).

132. The و and ي represent in these cases the sound to which the hêmza inclines through the influence of the preceding vowel*.

* [This is a convenient formula, and cannot well be improved upon without reference to the history of the Arabic language and writing, a consideration that lay quite beyond the scope of the native systematic grammarians, to whose method of exposition this work, for good practical reasons, is closely conformed. But from an historical point of view, when we consider the cases when hêmza is expressed by ؤ, ئ or by ء alone without a kursî, or supporting letter, we must distinguish between two pronunciations—that indicated by the consonants alone, which in the oldest times were written without any supplementary signs, and that indicated by the later points, such as ء. It is known

The hêmza is retained, not only to show their origin from ئ, but also to A remind us that the syllables وُ and يُ are not to be confounded in pronunciation with وُ, û, and يُ, î. The ðamma and kësra remain short, whilst ؤ and ئ are pronounced like ئ itself; that is to say, at the commencement of a syllable, with the spiritus lenis between the preceding syllable and the vowel that accompanies the hêmza (as دَنُو, danu'-a, not danu-wa); at the end of a syllable, with a slight emphasis and resting of the voice upon the soft breathing (as سَنَتُ, sanî'-ta, not sanî-ta).

REM. a. In modern Arabic, hêmza in the middle and at the B end of words has so completely disappeared, that ؤ and ئ, when preceded and followed by vowels, become و and ي; except when the former has ðamma (ؤ) and the latter kësra (ئي), as explained in §§ 133-4. The modern Arab also pronounces وُ and يُ like the long vowels وُ û and يُ î. Even in the ancient language, especially among the poets, we find traces of a softer pronunciation, or total rejection, of the hêmza [تَخْفِيفُ الْهَمْزَةِ § 17, b, rem. b]; and hence the custom, at the present day, of resolving the verba C tert. rad. hêmzatæ into verba tertiæ yâ, as قَرَأَ for قَرَأُ to read, يَقْرَأُ for قَرَأْتُ, يَقْرَأُ for يَقْرَأُ. This change has already begun in Hebrew, and is almost universal in Aramaic.

that the people of the Hîgâz in the time of Mohammed gave up the original guttural sound of hêmza in very many cases where the other Arabs still preserved it. Now the rules of Arabic orthography were mainly fixed by the Kōr'an, which was originally written down in the D Hîgâz in accordance with the local pronunciation. This pronunciation did not ultimately prevail over the Arabic area, but the old orthography could not lightly be tampered with, having the character of a sacred tradition. The first scribes wrote جاءك, جئت, بوس because they said ba'usa, gîta, gâka (or nearly so). The pronunciation that prevailed, however, was ba'usa, gî'ta, gâ'aka and this was expressed, without touching the old consonants, by writing جاءك, جئت, بوس. Rules for writing hêmza as ؤ, ئ or ء are therefore really rules for preserving the old guttural ' in cases where it was already lost or transformed by the first scribes of the Kōr'an.]

- A REM. b. The hêmza gézmatum over و and ى falls away after an êlif hêmzatum, because of the impossibility of pronouncing it (§ 17, b, rem. b). Hence ايسرُ, not ايسرُ, Imperat. of اَسْرَ ; ايدُنْ, not ايدُنْ, Imperat. of اِدْنَ ; اوملُ, not اوملُ, Imperat. of اَمَلَ ; اوتيمرُ, not اوتيمرُ, 3d pers. sing. Perf. Act. VIII. of اَمَرَ ; اوتيمينُ, not اوتيمينُ, 3d pers. sing. Perf. Pass. VIII. of اَمِنَ, all with êlif conjunctionis (هَمْزَةُ الْوَصْلِ) ; اومينُ, not اومينُ, 3d pers. sing. Perf. Pass. IV. of اَمِنَ ; ايمانُ, not ايمانُ, Infin. IV. of اَمِنَ ; اوتيرُ, not اوتيرُ, 1st pers. sing. Imperf. Act. IV. of اَتَرَ, all with êlif separationis (هَمْزَةُ الْقَطْعِ).—When a word of this sort, beginning with the êlif conjunctionis, comes into the wasl, the êlif conjunctionis falls away in pronunciation, though it may be retained in writing. In Imperatives, when preceded by و or ف, and, it is usually rejected; as واتيروا, فأتوا, فأتوا, فأتوا (from أتى, Imper. of أتى to come), فأتوا, فأتوا. In other cases it is retained, and the radical hêmza is left in its altered form (ئ, ؤ) ; as فأتتارت فأتتارت fā'tazarat, ba'dā'tilāfin, أهدى أهدى alḥudā'tinā, yakūlū'dan, أهدى أهدى (also written أهدى أهدى) alḥudā'tumina. In later times the pronunciation was softened in some of these cases by rejecting the hêmza and lengthening the preceding vowel; e.g. alḥudā'tinā, yakūlū'dan, alḥudā'tinā (as if written أهدى أهدى).
- D REM. c. ا is always retained after fetha in the ancient language, as يأسرُ ; but in modern Arabic it passes into the êlif of prolongation, as يأمرُ, يأكلُ, يأكلُ. [And so even of old in Mecca, Nöldeke Gesch. d. Qorāns, p. 250, 257, whence with scriptio defectiva (§ 6, rem. a) such variations as يتكلمُ for يتكلمُ Sūra xlix. 14.] Those who used the form تعلمُ (see § 94, rem. c) also said تيممُ for تيممُ, from أيمرُ.

133. In the same way, ا passes into ؤ or ئ, when it is pronounced with ḍamma or kësra and preceded by fetha, or with fetha and preceded by ḍamma or kësra; and into ئ, when it is pronounced with kësra and preceded by ḍamma (see § 17, b). E.g. بؤسُ, for بؤسُ, to be brave; يلائمُ, for يلائمُ or يلائمُ, it agrees with, Imperf. III. of لَأَمَرُ ; دنؤُ, for دنؤُ, agrees with, be reconciled to, Imperat. VIII. of لَأَمَرُ ; دناُ, to be mean, worthless; يوترُ, for يوترُ, an impression is made, Imperf. Pass. II. of أَمَرَ ; أتاُمُ, for أتاُمُ, Infin. VIII. of لَأَمَرُ ; he was asked, for سألُ, Perf. Pass. of سَأَلَ لؤيمرُ peace is made (between them), for لؤيمرُ, Perf. Pass. III. of لَأَمَرُ.

REM. At the end of a word, ا, pronounced with ḍamma and preceded by fetha, is usually left unchanged; as يهناُ, قرأُ يقرأُ from يهناُ, يهناُ, يهناُ Imperf. Pass. II. of يهناُ, instead of يهناُ, يهناُ, يهناُ. But the latter form is commonly used before the accusative suffixes, as يقرؤهُ.

134. Finally, ا pronounced with ḍamma or kësra (ا or ا), becomes ؤ or ئ at the beginning of a syllable which is preceded by a syllable ending in a consonant. E.g. يبؤسُ, for يبؤسُ, Imperf. of يبؤسُ ; يبؤسُ, for يبؤسُ, Pass. Particip. of سَأَلَ ; يبؤسُ, for يبؤسُ, Imperf. of نَأَمَرَ, to groan, to twang; يلبؤمُ, for يلبؤمُ, he acts stingily and meanly, Imperf. IV. of لؤمَرَ ; لؤمَرَ, put on armour, Imperat. X. of لَأَمَرُ.

REM. ا at the beginning of a word remains unchanged, except in the cases stated in § 135. E.g. أتاُمُ, أتاُمُ. D

135. At the beginning of a word, if an êlif productionis follows the radical ا, the two êlifs are combined into one, which is written either with mèdda alone, or with mèdda accompanied by a hêmza to the right of the êlif, or sometimes with hêmza and a perpendicular fetha (see § 6, rem. a); as أامرُ, أامرُ, or أامرُ, for أامرُ, to consult, III. of

A أَمَرَ to order. The same thing takes place when a radical أ with gèzma (أ) is preceded by an êlif hèmzatum with fèṭha (compare § 132, rem. b); as أَكْرَأَ, or أَأْتَرُ, for أَأْتَرُ, to prefer, IV. of أْتَرُ. In old Mss. we often find أَأْتَرُ, أَأْمَرُ.

136. In a more modern stage of the language, êlif hèmzatum with fèṭha passes into و, when preceded by fèṭha and followed by an B êlif of prolongation (compare § 17, b, rem. b); as تَأَمَّرُوا, for تَأَمَّرُوا, or تَأَمَّرُوا, they deliberated together, 3d pers. plur. Perf. Act. VI. of أَمَرَ, for تَأَخَّيَا or تَأَخَّيَا, the two became intimate friends, from أَخَا (for أَخَو).

C REM. The same change sometimes takes place even with the initial êlif of the third form; as وَأَزَى to be intimate with, وَأَسَى to be opposite or parallel to, وَأَكَل to eat along with, for أَأَخَى, etc. It commenced, of course, in the Imperf. and the Nomina agentis and actionis, where, according to § 17, b, rem. b, و took the place of و; as مُؤَاسَى, مُؤَاسَى, and مُؤَاسَاة.

137. The verbs أَخَذَ to take, أَمَرَ to order, and أَكَلَ to eat, reject the first radical in the Imperat., making خُذْ, مُرْ, and كُلْ.

D 138. When preceded by و or ف, and, the Imperative مُرْ generally recovers its radical êlif, وَأْمُرْ or وَمُرْ; but not so خُذْ and كُلْ, which make only وَحُذْ and وَكُلْ. For the rule as regards other verba prim. rad. hèmz., see § 132, rem. b; and on the Imperative of أَتَى, to come, see also § 175, rem. a.

139. The first radical of أَخَذَ is assimilated in the eighth form to the characteristic ت of that form; أَتَّخَذَ, for أَيْتَخَذَ (§ 132, rem. b), to take for oneself.

REM. a. The same assimilation sometimes takes place in أَزَّرَ, to put on one the article of dress called إِزَارٌ, and أَجَّرَ, to give wages, which makes أَيَزَّرَ or أَيَزَّرَ, to put on an 'izâr, and أَيَجَّرَ or أَيَجَّرَ to give alms, to receive wages; still more rarely in أَمِنَ, to be safe, A أَتَمَّنَ, for أَيْتَمَّنَ, to trust or confide in, and أَهَلَ, to marry, أَيْهَلَ, for أَيْهَلَ, do.—The tenth form of أَخَذَ may also lose its êlif and be written أَسْتَحَذَ.

REM. b. From the above assimilated forms are derived the secondary radicals تَخَذَ, to take, and تَجَرَ, to trade (see § 148, rem. b). Compare in Syriac ܬܚܕܐ, ܬܚܕܐ, ܬܚܕܐ; and with B أَسْتَحَذَ, أَسْتَحَذَ, if from the rad. أَخَذَ.

140. Verba med. hèmzatae are occasionally inflected like verba med. rad. و et ي (§ 149, etc.), and take an êlif of prolongation instead of the radical hèmza with fèṭha. This is particularly the case with the verb سَأَلَ to ask, which has سَأَلَ for سَأَلَ, 2d pers. sing. m. سَأَلْتِ [not سَأَلْتِ], يَسْأَلُ for يَسْأَلُ, يَسْأَلُ for يَسْأَلُ, سَأَلْ for سَأَلْ (Imperat.), Perf. Pass. سِئِلَ.—Sometimes the êlif hèmzatum is elided, its vowel being transferred to the preceding (previously vowelless) consonant. E. g. يَسْأَلُ C for يَسْأَلُ, from سَأَلَ; يُرَى for يُرَى, from رَأَى to see; أَلِكْ to send, for أَلِكْ, whence مَلِكْ, for مَلِكْ, an angel (ܡܠܝܟܐ).

REM. a. The Imperative سَأَلْ makes in the fem. سَأَلِي, du سَأَلَا, plur. سَأَلُوا, not سَأَلِي, etc. When preceded by و and ف, we may say وَأَسْأَلْ or وَسَلْ, فَأَسْأَلُوا, فَسَأَلُوا (§ 21, d, rem. b), or فَسَلُوا.

REM. b. The elision of the êlif occasionally happens in Hebrew, and in Syriac it is the rule; see Comp. Gr. p. 46, p. 282. D

2. Verbs which are more especially called Weak Verbs (§ 128, b).

141. These likewise fall into three classes, according as the letter و or ي is the first, second, or third radical (verba primæ, secundæ, tertię rad. و et ي).

A A. Verbs of which the First Radical is و or ی (verba primæ rad. و et ی).—Table IX.

142. Those verbs primæ rad. و, which have kâsra as the characteristic vowel of the Imperf. and Imperat., reject the و in these forms. E.g. وَلَدَ to bear children, Imperf. يَلِدُ for يُولِدُ, Imper. لِدْ for اِلِدْ (اُولِدْ); وَعَدَ to promise, Imperf. يَعِدُ for يُوْعِدُ, Imper. عِدْ for اِعِدْ (اُوْعِدْ).

B REM. a. Eight verbs primæ rad. و, of the form فَعَلَ, have in the Imperf. يَفْعَلُ instead of يَفْعُلُ (contrary to the rule laid down in § 92), and hence elide their first radical; وَتَقَى to trust or confide in, يَتَّقَى; وَرِثَ to inherit, يَرِثُ; وَرَعَ to abstain from (what is unlawful), يَرَعُ; وَرِمَ to swell, يَرِمُ; وَرِي to be firm and hard (of fat), يَرِي; وَلِي to be in good condition and handsome, يَفِي; وَلِيَ to be near, to be in charge of, يَلِي; وَمَقَى to love, يَمَقَى. Of these وَرَعَ has also dialectically the form يُورَعُ, and a few more admit both forms; e.g. وَجَرَ to be angry with, full of hatred of, يَجِرُ; وَجَرَ to be rough and broken (of ground), يُوجِرُ; وَعَرَ to be hot, angry, يَعِرُ; يُوعِرُ; وَلَهُ to be stupefied with grief, to be melancholy, يَلَهُ; يُؤَلَهُ; وَهَلَ to be cowardly, to forget, يَهَلُ, يُؤَهَلُ.

D REM. b. The Imperat. عِرْ in the phrases عِرْ صَبَاحًا good morning! عِرْ مَسَاءً good evening! seems to come from وَعَمَرُ, but is in reality from نَعِمَ, Imperf. يَنْعِمُ, to be happy, comfortable. This is the solitary instance in Arabic of the loss of the initial n in the Imperat. of verbs 'D, which is so common in Heb. and Aram.

143. But those verbs primæ rad. و, which have fêṭha or damma as the characteristic vowel of the Imperf. and Imperat., retain the و in these forms. E.g. وَجِرَ or وَجَلَّ to be afraid, يُوجِرُ or يُوجَلُّ; اِجَرَ or اِجَلَّ (for اُوجَرَ or اُوجَلَّ); وَجِعَ to be in pain, يُوجِعُ; وَجَلَّ to stick in the mud, يُوحَلُّ; وَبَقَ to perish, يُوبَقُ; وَبُوَ to be visited by the mur-rain, يُوبُوُ; وَبَلَّ to be unwholesome or insalubrious, يُوبُلُّ; وَضُوُ to be clean and fair, يُؤَضُوُ. The same is the case with those verbs which are at once primæ rad. و and mediæ rad. geminatæ; as وَدَّ (for وَدَدَ) to love, يُودُدُ for يُودُّ, اُودُدُ for اُودُّ.

B REM. In verbs primæ rad. و, of which the second and third radicals are strong, and in which the Imperf. has fêṭha, some Arabic dialects change the و into ا or ی. E.g. يُوجَلُّ and يُيَجَلُّ, for يُوجَلُّ, from وَجَلَّ, to be afraid; يُيَجَعُ and يُيَجَعُ or يُيَجَعُ, for يُوجَعُ, from وَجِعَ, to be in pain; يُيَاهِرُ and يُيَاهِرُ, for يُؤَاهِرُ, from وَاهَرَ, to make a mistake. Others even use the forms يُيَجَلُّ, يُيَجَعُ, and يُيَاهِرُ.

C 144. In a few verbs, of which the eight following are those that most commonly occur, the initial و is dropped in the Imperf. and Imperat., notwithstanding that the characteristic vowel of these forms C is fêṭha.

وَدَعَ	to let alone,	يُدَعُ.	دَعُ.
وَذَرَ	to let alone,	يَذَرُ.	ذَرُ.
وَزَعَ	to restrain,	يَزَعُ.	زَعُ.
وَسَعَ	to be wide or spacious,	يَسَعُ.	سَعُ.
وَضَعَ	to put down or place,	يَضَعُ.	ضَعُ.
وَطَأَ	to trample upon,	يَطَأُ.	طَأُ.
وَقَعَ	to fall,	يَقَعُ.	قَعُ.
وَهَبَ	to give,	يَهَبُ.	هَبُ.

D REM. a. The reason why the و is elided in these verbs probably is, that the fêṭha of the Imperf. and Imperat. owes its existence only to the fact of the second or third radical being in each case a guttural or semiguttural (ج).

REM. b. وَدَعَ and وَذَرَ are not used in the Perf.

A 145. In those forms in which a kèsra or damma precedes a vowelless و, the و is changed into ي or و productionis, according to the preceding vowel. Hence اِيَجَلُّ, اِيَدُدُّ, اِيُجَلُّ, Imperat. I.; اِسْتَوْدَعُ, اِيُدَاعُ, for اِيُدَاعُ, Infin. IV. and X.; اِيُوجِبُ for اِيُوجِبُ, Imperf. Act. IV.; اُسْتَوْدِعُ, اُوَجِبُ, for اُسْتَوْدِعُ, Perf. Pass. IV. and X.

REM. In the Passive of verbs primæ rad. و, the و is sometimes changed into ا, on account of a certain repugnance of the Arabs to the sound of the syllable وُ; e.g. اُقَاتُ, for اُرُقَاتُ, it is fixed or determined (of time); اُحْيَى, for اُوْحْيَى, it is revealed.

146. Verbs primæ rad. ي are inflected in almost all their forms like the strong verbs; e.g. يَسْرُ to play at hazard, or to be gentle, easy, يَسْرُ; يَنْفَعُ to ascend (a hill), to be grown up, يَنْفَعُ; يَبْقُظُ to be awake, يَبْقُظُ do., يَبْقُظُ; يَنْعُ to become ripe, يَنْعُ or يَنْعُ.

C REM. يَبْسُ, to be dry, has يَبْسُ or يَبْسُ, and يَبْسُ, to despair, يَبْسُ or يَبْسُ. See § 92, rem. a. Dialectic varieties are يَبْسُ, for يَبْسُ, and يَبْسُ or يَبْسُ, for يَبْسُ. See § 143, rem.

D 147. In those forms in which a kèsra or damma precedes a vowelless ي, the ي is changed into ي or و productionis, according to the preceding vowel. Hence اِيَسْرُ for اِيَسْرُ, Imperat. I.; اِيَسْرُ and اِيَسْرُ, for اِيَسْرُ and اِيَسْرُ, Infin. IV. and X.; اِيُوسِرُ, اِيُوقِظُ, for اِيُوسِرُ, Imperf. Act. IV. of اِيَسْرُ and اِيُوقِظُ.

148. In the eighth form, و and ي are assimilated to the characteristic ت, producing ت for وُت and يُّت; as اِتَعَدَّ, for اِيَتَعَدَّ, (اُوْتَعَدَّ), to receive a promise; اِتَسَّرَ, for اِيَتَسَّرَ, (اِيَتَسَّرَ), to play at hazard.

REM. a. Sometimes, however, although many grammarians disapprove of it, و and ي are not assimilated to the ت, but pass after fetha, damma, and kèsra, into the homogeneous letters of prolonga-tion, ا, و, ي. E.g. اِيَتَصَلَّ for اُوْتَصَلَّ, اِيَتَعَدَّ for اُوْتَعَدَّ (§ 145), A اِيَتَسَّرَ for اِيَتَسَّرَ, اِيُوسِرُ for اِيُوسِرُ (§ 147), in the Perf.; اِيَاتَصَلَّ for اِيَاتَصَلَّ, اِيُوتَعَدُّ for اِيُوتَعَدُّ, اِيُوتَسَّرُ for اِيُوتَسَّرُ, in the Imperf. Compare § 139, and rem. a.

REM. b. From these assimilated forms are derived secondary radicals; such as تَجَهَّ to turn oneself towards, to face; تَخِمَّرُ to suffer from indigestion; تَسَّعَ to be wide or spacious; تَقَى to fear (God); تَدَدَّ to be born in one's house (of a slave), to be hereditary, inherited, B or long possessed; تَكَلَّ to rely upon; تَلَّهَ to be stupefied by grief, to be melancholy; تَلَّهَ, or تَلَّى, to follow; and in the fourth form, اَتَّكَأَ to make one lean, to prop him up; اَتَّلَجَّ to insert; اَتَّهَمَّ to suspect a person. Compare § 139, rem. b.

REM. c. For the inflection of verbs of this class in the cognate languages, see Comp. Gr. p. 234 seq.

B. Verbs of which the Second Radical is و or ي (verba mediæ radicalis و et ي).—Tables X.—XIII. C

149. Verba mediæ rad. و et ي (called by the Arab grammarians اَلْفِعْلُ الْاَجْوَفُ, the hollow verb) differ from strong verbs only in the first, fourth, seventh, eighth, and tenth forms. The following sections indicate the principal points of difference.

150. If the first radical is without a vowel, and the third has one, the vowel of the second radical is thrown back upon the first, and the و or ي is changed into that letter of prolongation which is homogeneous to the vowel that the first radical has now assumed. E.g. D

يَقُولُ, he says,	becomes	يُقُولُ, Imperf. Act. I.
يَسِيرُ, he goes,	"	يُسِيرُ, do.
يَخَوْفُ, he is afraid,	"	يَخَافُ, do.
يَهَيَّبُ, he is afraid,	"	يَهَابُ, do.
يُقُولُ, it is said,	"	يُقَالُ, Imperf. Pass. I.
يُقِيلُ, pardon is granted,	"	يُقَالُ, Imperf. Pass. IV.

A	يُقَوْمُ, he remains,	becomes	يُقِيمُ, Imperf. Act. IV.
	يُلِينُ, he softens,	„	يُلِينُ do.
	أَقْوَمُوا, remain,	„	أَقِيمُوا, Imperat. Plur. IV.
	الْيَنُوا, soften,	„	الْيَنُوا do.
	أَقْوَمَ, he remained,	„	أَقَامَ, Perf. Act. IV.
	الْيَنَ, he softened,	„	الْأَنَ do.
B	يَسْتَقِيمُ, he stands upright,	„	يَسْتَقِيمُ, Imperf. Act. X.
	أُسْتَلِينُ, he was thought gentle,	„	أُسْتَلِينُ, Perf. Pass. X.
	يُسْتَقِيلُ, pardon is asked,	„	يُسْتَقَالُ, Imperf. Pass. X.

151. But if the third radical loses its vowel, the long vowels ا, ي, و are changed into the corresponding short ones, because a shut syllable does not admit of a long vowel (§ 25). E.g.

C	يَقُلُ, for يَقُولُ (يَقُولُ), Jussive Act. I.
	يَسِرُ „ يَسِيرُ (يَسِيرُ) do.
	يَخْفُ „ يَخَافُ (يَخَوْفُ) do.
	يُقَالُ „ يَقَالُ (يَقُولُ), Jussive Pass. I.
	يُقِيمُ „ يَقِيمُ (يُقَوْمُ), Jussive Act. IV.
	أَقِيلُ „ أَقِيلُ (أَقِيلُ), Imperat. IV.
	أَقِمُ „ أَقِيمُ (أَقْوِمُ) do.
D	أَقَامَتْ „ أَقَامَتْ (أَقْوَمَتْ), 2d p. sing. m. Perf. Act. IV.
	أَقْدَتُ „ أَقِيدَتْ (أَقْوَدْتُ) do. Pass. IV.
	أُسْتَلِنْتُ „ أُسْتَلِينَتْ (أُسْتَلِينَتْ) do. Pass. X.
	أَقْمَنَ „ أَقَامَنَ (أَقْوَمَنَ), 3d p. plur. f. Perf. Act. IV.
	أَقْمِنَ „ أَقِيمِنَ (أَقْوَمِنَ), 2d p. plur. f. Imperat. IV.

REM. The form يَكُنُّ for يَكُونُ, Jussive of كَانَ, to be, is sometimes still farther abbreviated, especially by the poets, into يَكُ.

152. In consequence of the changes produced by the operation A of the two preceding rules, the Imperative of the first form loses its prosthetic ا (see §§ 98 and 122). E.g.

أَقُولُ	becomes successively	أَقُولُ	أَقُلُ	قُلْ
أَسِيرُ	„	أَسِيرُ	أَسِرْ	سِرْ
أَخَوْفُ	„	أَخَافُ	أَخَفْ	خَفْ
أَهَيْبُ	„	أَهَابُ	أَهَبْ	هَبْ
أَقُولُوا	„	أَقُولُوا	... قُولُوا	B
أَسِيرُوا	„	أَسِيرُوا	... سِيرُوا
أَخَوْفُوا	„	أَخَافُوا	... خَافُوا
أَهَيْبُوا	„	أَهَابُوا	... هَابُوا

153. If three open syllables follow one another in immediate succession, the first of which has fetha and the last any vowel, then the و or ي of the middle syllable is changed into êlif productionis, without any regard to the nature of the vowel that accompanies it. C E.g.

قَوْمَ	becomes	قَامَ	Perf. Act. I.
خَوْفَ	„	خَافَ	do.
طَوْلَ	„	طَالَ	do.
سِيرَ	„	سَارَ	do.
هَيْبَ	„	هَابَ	do.
أَنْقَادَ	„	أَنْقَادَ	Perf. Act. VII.
يَنْقَادُ	„	يَنْقَادُ	Imperf. do.
أَقْتَادَ	„	أَقْتَادَ	Perf. Act. VIII.
أَزْدَادَ	„	أَزْدَادَ	do.
يَزْدَادُ	„	يَزْدَادُ	Imperf. do.

REM. The forms زَيْلٌ and كَيْدٌ are mentioned as being dialectically used instead of زَالَ (for زَيْلٌ), to cease, and كَادَ (for كَوَدَ), to be near or on the point of.

A 154. But if the vowel of the first syllable be ḍamma, and the و or ى is accompanied by kəra, the ḍamma is elided and the kəra substituted in its place, in consequence of which the و or ى becomes ى productionis. E.g.

	قَوْلٌ	becomes	(قَوْلٌ)	قِيلَ	Perf. Pass. I.
	سَيْرٌ	"	(سَيْرٌ)	سِيرَ	do.
	أَسْتَوْقٌ	"	(أَسْتَوْقٌ)	أُسْتِيقَ	Perf. Pass. VIII.
B	أَخْتِيرَ	"	(أَخْتِيرَ)	أُخْتِيرَ	do.

REM. a. Instead of قِيلَ (قول), حِيلَ (حول), سَيْقَ (سوق), غَيْضَ (غيض), and the like, some Readers of the Ḳorān give the vowel i an اَشْمَارُ الضَّمِيرِ, a scent or flavour of the u-sound (حَرَكَةٌ بَيْنَ الضَّمِيرِ) (وَأَلْتَكْسِيرِ), that is to say, they pronounce it with the sound of the German ü in hüten or the French u in lune (compare § 123, rem.), kūla, hūla, sūka, jūda.

C REM. b. Some of the Arabs take another method of forming the Passive, namely by rejecting the vowel of the و or ى, and changing those letters into و productionis; as قَوْلٌ (for قَوْلٌ, قَوْلٌ), أَحْتِيرَ (for أَحْتِيرَ, أَحْتِيرَ), أُخْتِيرَ (for أُخْتِيرَ, أُخْتِيرَ). The verb سَأَلَ, for سَأَلَ (see § 140), is said to admit of the forms سَوَّلَ, سَيَّلَ, سَيْلًا, and سَوَّلَ.

D REM. c. In forms like أُسْتِيقَ, أُخْتِيرَ, some assimilate the vowel of the prosthetic ḥlif to the following i, أُخْتِيرَ, أُسْتِيقَ, pronouncing i or ü.

155. If the first radical has fetha and the third is without a vowel, three cases arise.

(a) The second radical is و or ى with fetha. In this case the second radical is elided along with its vowel, but its influence is strong enough to change the fetha of the first radical into ḍamma, if it was و, and into kəra, if it was ى. E.g.

قَمَيْتَ	for	قَوْمَيْتَ	2d pers. sing. m. Perf. Act. I.
سِرْتُ	"	سَيْرْتُ	do.

(b) The second radical is و with ḍamma or ى with kəra. In this case the second radical is elided along with its vowel, as in a, but its influence is sufficient to change the fetha of the first radical into the homogeneous vowel. E.g.

طَلْتُ	for	طَوْتُ	2d pers. sing. m. Perf. Act. I.

(c) The second radical is و with kəra. In this case the same elision takes place, but the influence of the characteristic vowel i suffices to change the fetha of the first radical into kəra. E.g.

خَفْتُ	for	خَوْتُ	2d pers. sing. m. Perf. Act. I.

156. In the Perfect Passive of the first, seventh, and eighth forms, if the third radical loses its vowel, the ى productionis (§ 154) is shortened into kəra, according to § 25. E.g.

بَعْتُ	for	بَيْعْتُ	(بَيْعْتُ), 2d pers. sing. m. Perf. Pass. I.
لَيْتَ	"	لَيْتَ	(لَوَيْتَ), do.
أَسْتَيْتَ	"	أَسْتَيْتَ	(أَسْتَوَيْتَ), do. VIII.

REM. a. In verbs mediæ rad. ى, and in those mediæ rad. و of the form فَعِلَ, the 1st and 2d pers. m. and fem. sing. dual and plural Perf. Act. and Pass. are identical in form; e.g. بَعْتُ for بَيْعْتُ (§ 155, a) and خَفْتُ for خَوْتُ (§ 155, c).

REM. b. Those who pronounce in the 3d pers. kūla, bū'a, etc., D say in the 1st and 2d persons kūtu, bū'tu, etc.; whilst those who prefer قَوْلٌ, بُوَعٌ, say قُلْتُ, بَعْتُ. [The prophet himself in the ḥadīth al-waḥy says قُلْتُ.—De G.]

157. Most verba mediæ rad. و take ḍamma, and most verba mediæ rad. ى kəra, as the characteristic vowel of the Imperf.; e.g. from زَالَ (زَوَّلَ), to move away, comes يَزُولُ (يَزْوُلُ); from نَالَ (نَوَّلَ), to give in a present, comes يَنْوُلُ (يَنْوُلُ); from طَالَ (طَوَّلَ), to be long, comes يَطْوُلُ (يَطْوُلُ, § 93); from زَانَ (زَيَّنَ), to adorn, comes يَزِينُ (يَزِينُ); from سَارَ (سَيَّرَ),

A to go, يَسِيرُ (يسير). But in some, which are of the form فَعِلَ, the Imperf. takes fetha (§ 92); e.g. from زَالَ (زبل), to cease, comes يَزَالُ (يزال); from نَالَ (نبل), to get, obtain, يَنَالُ (ينال); from شَاءَ (شيو), to wish, يَشَاءُ (يشاء); from خَافَ (خوف), to fear, يَخَافُ (يخوف); from نَامَ (نوم), to sleep, يَنَامُ (ينوم). مَاتَ, to die, has usually the form مُتَّ (for مَوْتٌ, موتت, Heb. מָוַת, Syr. مَوْت) in the Perfect, and أَمُوتُ (Heb. מָוַת, Syr. مَوْت) in the Imperfect, though مُتَّ, يَمُتُّ, and يَمُوتُ are mentioned by the lexicographers.

158. In verba mediæ rad. و et ي, of which the third radical is ت or ن, these letters combine with an initial ت or ن in the pronominal suffixes so as to form ت and ن. E.g. مُتَّ, مُتُّم, for مُتُّت, مُتُّم, from مَاتَ (موت) to die; بُتَّ, for بُتُّت, from بَاتَ (بيت) to pass the night; صُنَّ, for صُنُّت, and يُصَنَّ, for يُصَنَّت, from صَانَ (صون) to guard; بُنَّا, for بُنُّنَّا, and يَبْنِي, for يَبْنِيْن, from بَانَ (بين) to be separate. See § 90, rem. a, b, c.

159. In the Passive of the third and sixth forms of verba mediæ rad. و, the و productionis (§ 108) does not coalesce with the second radical into و, for, if it did, the peculiar feature of these forms would be effaced, and they would become identical in appearance with the second and fifth (تَقُولُ and قَوْلٌ). Hence we write تَقْوُولٌ, قَوْوُولٌ, not قَوْلٌ. For the same reason, no coalition takes place in the same forms of verba mediæ rad. ي, which are always written, for example, تُبْوِيْعٌ and تُبْوِيْعٌ. See § 11, rem. a.

160. Some verba mediæ rad. و, and a few mediæ rad. ي, of the form فَعِلَ, are inflected throughout like strong verbs; as أَوْدَ to be curved or bent, Imperf. يَأْوُدُ; سَوِدَ to be black, Imperf. يَسْوَدُ, IV. أَسْوَدَ; عَوَرَ to be one-eyed, Imperf. يَعْوَرُ, IV. أَعْوَرَ; صَوِفَ to be woolly, Imperf.

يَصَوِفُ; حَوَلَ to squint, Imperf. يَحْوَلُ, IV. أَحْوَلَ; عَوَرَ to be wanting, A Imperf. يَعْوَرُ, IV. أَعْوَرَ; صِيدَ to have a particular disease (صيد, the glanders), said of a camel, Imperf. يَصِيدُ; جَبَدَ to have a long, slender neck, Imperf. يَجِيدُ; غَيْدَ to be tender and flexible, Imperf. يَغِيدُ; هَيْفَ to have a slender waist, Imperf. يَهَيْفُ.

161. Some verba mediæ rad. و et ي follow in the fourth form either the strong or the weak inflection. E.g. أَثَوَبَ or أَثَوِبَ, to reward, from ثَابَ to return; أَرُوْحَ or أَرُوِحَ, to perceive the smell or odour of a B thing, from رَاحَ do.; أَغَامَ or أَغِيْمَ, to be cloudy, from غَامَ do.; أَخَالَ or أَخِيْلَ, to watch a rain-cloud, from خَالَ.

162. A few verba mediæ rad. و have only the strong inflection in the eighth form, used to denote reciprocity; as أَجْتَوَرَ to be neighbours, from the rad. جَارَ; إِزْدَوَجَ to pair, to marry or intermarry, from the rad. زَاجَ; أَعْتَوَرَ to borrow, from the rad. عَارَ; إِعْتَوَرَ to help one another, C from the rad. عَانَ.

163. Many verba mediæ rad. و admit in the tenth form of either inflection, but they generally prefer the weak, with the exception of a few, [chiefly denominatives], which almost always adopt the strong. E.g. أَسْتَجَابَ or أَسْتَجَوِبَ, to give an answer, grant a prayer, from the rad. جَابَ; أَسْتَصَابَ or أَسْتَصَوِبَ, to consider right, from the rad. صَابَ; أَسْتَفَوَسَ to be bent with age, from the rad. فَوَسَ a bow; أَسْتَنَوَقَ to become like a she-camel (ناقَة). Similarly, from verba mediæ rad. ي, أَسْتَيْسَ to become like a he-goat (تيس); أَسْتَيْلَ to become like an elephant (فيل).

REM. a. On أَسْتَطَاعَ or أَسْتَاعَ, shortened from أَسْتَطَاعَ, to obey, to be able to do, X. of طَاعَ, and on the secondary أَسْتَطَاعَ, see § 118, rem. b.

REM. b. On the formation of the nomina agentis et patientis of the first form from verba mediæ rad. و et ي, see §§ 240-1.

REM. c. For the inflection of verbs יָ and יָ in Hebrew and Aramaic see Comp. Gr. p. 242 seq.

A C. Verbs of which the Third Radical is و or ی (verba tertiae radicalis و et ی; الفعل الناقص the defective verb).—Tables XIV.—XVIII.

164. These verbs are of five kinds; namely:—

(a) Verba tertiae rad. و of the form فَعَلَ; as غَزَا to make a foray or raid, for غَزَوْ (§ 167, a, β, α).

(b) Verba tertiae rad. ی of the form فَعَلَ; as رَمَى to throw, for رَمَى (§ 167, a, β, α).

B (c) Verba tertiae rad. و of the form فَعِلَ; as رَضِيَ to be pleased with, for رَضَوْ (§ 166, a).

(d) Verba tertiae rad. ی of the form فَعِلَ; as خَزِيَ to be ashamed.

(e) Verba tertiae rad. و of the form فَعَلَ; as سَرَوُ to be noble.

165. There are three things to be noticed regarding the third radical of these verbs; namely, that it retains its power as a consonant, C or it resolves itself into a vowel, or it is elided.

166. At the commencement of a syllable, one of two things takes place. Namely:—

(a) The third radical maintains its power as a consonant between the vowels ā—ā (وَا, حَا, سَا), ū—ū (وُو, حُو, سُو), ī—ā (وَا, حَا, سَا), ī—ā (وَا, حَا, سَا), ē—ā (وَا, حَا, سَا); as also when the preceding syllable ends with a consonant. E.g. غَزَوْ; تَرْمِيَانِ, تَرْمِي, رَضِيََا, رَضِيَ; يَغْزَوَانِ, يَغْزَوُ, سَرَوُتَ, رَمِيَا, غَزَوْا.

D (b) The letter و between the vowels ī—ā (وَا) and ē—ā (وَا) always passes into ی; as غَزِيَ, رَضِيَ, for رَضَوْ. The letter ی is never found between the vowels ū—ā, ē—ā.

REM. In the first and second classes, the 3d pers. fem. sing. and dual of the Perf. Act. I. and II. might have been غَزَوْتُ, غَزَوْتَا, رَمَيْتُ, رَمَيْتَا, etc., after the analogy of رَضَيْتُ, رَضَيْتَا, and سَرَوْتُ; but the Arabs followed in the sing. the masc. forms غَزَا, رَمَى (§ 167, a, β, α), and, not being able to say غَزَاتُ and رَمَاتُ or رَمَيْتُ (§ 25), they substituted غَزَتْ and رَمَتْ. In the dual, on the other hand, where they might have said غَزَاتَا and رَمَاتَا, they followed the received fem. sing. A in adopting غَزَاتَا and رَمَاتَا. The form رَمَاتَا is said to occur dialectically, but is condemned by the grammarians.

(b) The third radical is elided between a short vowel and the long vowels ī and ū, and the two vowels are contracted in one of two ways.

a. Into a long vowel; namely ū into ū, as سَرَوُ for سَرُوُوا, يَغْزَوُ for يَغْزُوُوا and يَغْزَوُ for يَغْزُوُوا; ī into ī, as رَضُوا for رَضِيُوا and يَرْمِيُوا for يَرْمِيُوا and يَرْمِيُوا for يَرْمِيُوا, رَضِيُوا.

B (c) Into ī; as رَضِيُوا for رَضِيُوا and تَغْزِيُوا for تَغْزِيُوا and تَغْزِيُوا for تَغْزِيُوا; as رَمِيُوا for رَمِيُوا and تَرْمِيُوا for تَرْمِيُوا and تَرْمِيُوا for تَرْمِيُوا.

REM. The 2d pers. sing. fem. Imperat. اُغْزِي may be pronounced either 'uǧzī, with the pure sound of the u (as in the masc. 'uǧzu), or 'uǧzī, with the إشْهَامُ (see §§ 123, rem., and 154, rem. a), owing to the influence of the ī in the second syllable.

C (d) Into a diphthong; namely ū into ū, as غَزَوْ for غَزُوُوا; ī into ī, as رَمَوْ for رَمِيُوا and يَرْمِيُوا for يَرْمِيُوا and يَرْمِيُوا for يَرْمِيُوا; as رَضِيُوا for رَضِيُوا and تَغْزِيُوا for تَغْزِيُوا and تَغْزِيُوا for تَغْزِيُوا.

167. At the end of a syllable, the third radical is either vocalised or elided. It may stand at the end of a syllable either naturally, as in غَزَوْتُ = فَعَلْتُ, or after dropping a short vowel, as in يَرْمِي for يَرْمِي = يَفْعَلُ. Hence arise the following cases.

(a) a. When standing naturally at the end of a syllable, the third radical is vocalised in two ways.

(a) If the preceding vowel be homogeneous (ُ or ـ), و and ی become letters of prolongation, that is to say, ū and ī pass into ū and ī. E.g. سَرَوْتُ for سَرَوْتُ, خَزَيْتُ for خَزَيْتُ, رَضَيْتُ for رَضَيْتُ (from رَضِيُوا for رَضِيُوا, according to §§ 166, a, and 168).

A (b) If the preceding vowel be heterogeneous (ـِ), it forms with و and ي the diphthongs وَو and يَي. E.g. غَزَوْتُ, gazawta, for gazawta; رَمَيْتُ, ramaita, for ramayta.

β. When the third radical stands at the end of a syllable, not naturally, but in consequence of a short vowel having been dropped (وَو for وَو, يَي for يَي and يَي for يَي, وَو for وَو, يَي for يَي), it is vocalised in three different ways.

- (a) aw and ay become ā, but for the sake of distinction we write َا for aw, and َا (§ 7, rem. b) for ay. E.g. غَزَا for غَزَوُ, يَرَمَى for يَرَمَى and يَرَمَى, يَغْزَى for يَغْزَى and يَغْزَى, يَرَمَى for يَرَمَى and يَرَمَى.
- (b) uw becomes ū; as يَسْرُو, يَسْرُو, for يَسْرُو, يَسْرُو.
- (c) iy becomes ī; as تَرْمَى for تَرْمَى.

(b) The third radical is elided:—

C a. When standing naturally at the end of a syllable. This happens in the Jussive and Imperative, in which the signification of the form produces the abbreviation. E.g. يَغْزُ, Yagzu, for يَغْزُو, (يَغْزُو) Yagzu; يَرْمُ, Yarmu, for يَرْمَى, (يَرْمَى) Yarmu; يَرْمُ, Yarmu, for يَرْمَى, (يَرْمَى) Yarmu for يَرْمَى, (يَرْمَى) Yarmu.

β. When it does not naturally stand at the end of a syllable. This happens in the nomina agentis, فَاعِلٌ (§ 80), مَفْعَلٌ, etc. (see § 236), before the tènwin of ḍamma and kèsra. These vowels are elided at the same time, but the tènwin is thrown back upon the kèsra of the second radical. E.g. رَامٍ for رَامِي and رَامِي; غَارِي for غَارِي and غَارِي (رَامِي, رَامِي); رَامِي for رَامِي and رَامِي; غَارِي for غَارِي and غَارِي; etc.

168. It has been already mentioned (§ 166, a) that when the third radical is و, it passes between the vowels ī—ā (وَو) and ī—ā

(وَو) into ي. After ي has been introduced in this manner into the 3d pers. sing. masc. Perf., it maintains itself throughout the whole inflection, as far as the aboye rules permit. Consequently, we get from رَضِيَ (for رَضُو) the forms رَضِيَتْ, يَرْضَى, اَرْضَى, تَرْضَيْنَ; from تُغْزِي, تُغْزِيْنَ, غَزِيَتْ, غَزِيَتْ.

169. Final و is changed into ي in all the derived forms of the verb; as اِسْتَرْضَى, اِسْتَرْضَى, اِنْجَلَى, تَرَضَى, تَجَلَى, اَغْزَى, رَضَى, غَزَى. B

REM. The ninth and eleventh forms conform to this rule, instead of contracting the two wāws into و. The Arabs say اِرْعَوَى to abstain or refrain, for اِرْعَوُ, and not اِرْعَوُ (اِفْعَلْ, see § 59, rem. a).

170. In the nomina patientis, مَفْعُولٌ (§ 80), of verba tertie rad. و, the و of the long vowel ū coalesces with the radical و into و; as مَغْزُو for مَغْزُو. In verba tertie rad. ي, the influence of the third radical converts this secondary و into ي, the two coalesce into ي, and, in consequence, the preceding ḍamma becomes kèsra; C as مَرْمَى for مَرْمَى, مَرْمَوَى. Such verbs as رَضَى, in which the final ي stands for و (§ 166, a), admit of either form, though مَرْمَى is far more common than مَرْمَوَى.

REM. a. The form مَغْزِي is occasionally found in verba tert. rad. و, instead of مَغْزُو; e.g. اَرْضُ مَسْنِيَّةٌ or اَرْضُ مَسْنُوَّةٌ, irrigated land, from سَنَّ to irrigate, Imperf. يَسْنُو; اَنَا اَللَّيْتُ مَعْدِيًّا عَلَيْهِ وَعَادِيًّا; يَسْنُو. I am (like) the lion, whether attacked or attacking, from عَادَا عَلَى to D run at, to attack, Imperf. يَعْدُو (عَادِيًّا in rhyme for عَادِيًّا)*.

REM. b. For verbs final و and ي as compared with the corresponding forms in the other Semitic dialects see Comp. Gr. p. 255 seq.

3. Verbs that are Doubly and Trebly Weak (§ 129).

171. Doubly weak verbs are divisible into two classes, each of which comprises several varieties. The first class consists of those which have both an élif hémzatum and a و or ي among their radicals; the second of those in which the letter و or ي occurs twice.

* The tribe of Taiyi' said بَقِيَ for بَقِيَ, رَضَا for رَضَى, بَقِيَ for بَقِيَ.

A REM. There is no trilateral verb that has more than one radical hêmza.

172. Of the first class there are three sorts:—

- (a) Verba hêmzata and primæ rad. و or ي ;
- (b) Verba hêmzata and secundæ rad. و or ي ;
- (c) Verba hêmzata and tertiæ rad. و or ي .

Each of these admits of two varieties, according to the position of the êlif hêmzatum.

B 173. The first sort consists of (a) verba secundæ rad. hêmzatae, as وَأَرَّ to frighten; and (β) verba tertiæ rad. hêmzatae, as وَدَأَّ to smooth, وَطَى to tread upon. Such words follow in their inflection both the classes to which they belong; e.g. Imperf. يَتَرُّ, يَدَأُّ, يَطَأُّ (§§ 132—3, and 142, 144).

REM. The Imperf. of يَتَسَّرُ, to despair, is يَتَسَّرُّ, more rarely يَتَسَّرُّ or يَتَسَّرُّ, [also يَتَسَّرُّ and يَتَسَّرُّ]; its Imperat. اِتَسَّرْ, rarely اِتَسَّرْ. See § 146, rem.

C 174. The second sort is divided into (a) verba primæ rad. hêmzatae, as أَبَّ or أَبَّ (for أَوَّبَ) to return, آلَّ or آلَّ (for أَوَّلَّ) to return; and (β) verba tertiæ rad. hêmzatae, as سَاءَ (for سَوَّأَ) to illtreat, جَاءَ (for جَاءَ) to come, شَاءَ (for شَاءَ) to wish. Each variety unites the peculiarities of the two classes to which it belongs.

Perf. 3d p. s.	أَبَّ	سَاءَ	جَاءَ	شَاءَ
2d p. s.	أَبْتِ	سَوْتِ	جِئْتِ	شِئْتِ
Imperf.	يُؤَبِّ	يَسْوَأُ	يَجِيءُ	يَشَاءُ
Imper.	أَبِّ	سَوِّ	جِي	شَأْ
Perf. pass.	أُبِّ	سِيءَ	جِيءَ	شِيءَ

175. The third sort is divided into (a) verba primæ rad. hêmzatae, as أَتَى to come, أَبَى to refuse, أَسَى to grieve or mourn; and (β) verba secundæ rad. hêmzatae, as نَأَى to be far off, صَأَى to utter a cry. They are treated in their inflection like the two classes of verbs to which they belong.

a. أَتَى, أَتَتْ, أَتَيْتَ; يَأْتِي, يَأْتِي, يَأْتِي (§ 132, rem. b); أَتَّ. A أَبَّ, أَبَّت, أَبَيْتَ; يَأْبِي, يَأْبِي, يَأْبِي.
 β. نَأَى, نَأَتْ, نَأَيْتَ; يَنْأِي, يَنْأِي, يَنْأِي.

REM. a. The Imperat. of the verb أَتَى is not unfrequently shortened into تِ (compare § 137, and the Syriac form ܐܬܝܢܐ), which, at the end of a sentence, is written تِه. The same thing holds good in pause of all imperatives that consist of only one letter; as رَهْ for رِهْ, from رَأَى to see (§ 176); فَهْ for فِهْ, from وَفَى to keep faith (§ 177).

REM. b. The verb أَبَى, imperf. يَأْبِي, is an example of the rare forms mentioned in § 91, rem. c. Lexicographers mention the forms يَأْبِي, يَأْبِي, and يَأْبِي [§ 94, rem. c], as being occasionally used.

176. The êlif hêmzatum of the verb رَأَى is almost always elided in the Imperf. and Imperat.

S.	أَر	يَر	تَر	تَر	تَرِي	أَر
D.	تَر	يَرِيَا	تَرِيَا	تَرِيَا	تَرِيَا
P.	تَر	يَرُوا	يَرِينَ	تَرُوا	تَرِينَ	تَر

S. m. رَ or رَهْ (§ 175, rem. a), f. رِي; D. c. رِيَا; P. m. رُوا, f. رِينَ.

REM. a. The Perf. Act. of رَأَى almost always retains the hêmza, which may however be transposed, رَاءَ; [for رَأَيْتَ some say رَيْتَ]. The Imperf. يَرَأَى and the Imperat. ارْ are used dialectically.

A REM. b. The Perf. Pass. is رُبِّي (like رُمِّي) or, by transposition, رِي*. In the Imperf. Pass. the hêmza is elided, just as in the Active voice; e.g. بُرِّي, بُرِّ, for بُرَّاي.

REM. c. In the fourth form, when it signifies to show, the hêmza is always elided: أَرِي, أَرَيْتَ, أَرَيْتَ, أَرِي. Otherwise it is retained.

B 177. Of the second class, in which و or ي occurs twice, there are two sorts: (a) those in which و or ي is the first and third radical, as وَقَى to guard, وَلَى to be near, وَجَى to be sorefooted (of a horse); and (β) those in which و or ي is the second and third radical, as شَوَى to roast, قَوَى to be strong, حَيَى (for حَيَو) to live, عَيَى to have an impediment in one's speech.

178. The first sort follows in its inflection the verbs of the two classes primæ and tertiæ rad. و or ي. E.g.

وَقَى ; وَقَيْتَ ; وَقَيْتَ ; وَقَيْتَ ; وَقَى ; وَقَى
 وَجَى ; وَجَيْتَ ; وَجَيْتَ ; وَجَيْتَ ; وَجَى ; وَجَى
 حَيَى ; حَيَيْتَ ; حَيَيْتَ ; حَيَيْتَ ; حَيَى ; حَيَى
 (أَوْجَ for إِيحَ) ; يَوْجَى ; يَوْجَيْتَ ; يَوْجَيْتَ ; يَوْجَى ; يَوْجَى

179. In the second sort, the second radical undergoes no change whatever. E.g.

D شَوَى ; شَوَيْتَ ; شَوَيْتَ ; شَوَيْتَ ; شَوَى ; شَوَى
 قَوَى ; قَوَيْتَ ; قَوَيْتَ ; قَوَيْتَ ; قَوَى ; قَوَى
 حَيَى ; حَيَيْتَ ; حَيَيْتَ ; حَيَيْتَ ; حَيَى ; حَيَى
 عَيَى ; عَيَيْتَ ; عَيَيْتَ ; عَيَيْتَ ; عَيَى ; عَيَى

REM. a. We write يَحَيَا, يَعْيَا, not يَحْيَى, to prevent the union of two ي, and also, in the former case, to distinguish the Imperf. of حَيَى from the proper name يَحْيَى Yahyā (John).

REM. b. حَيَى admits (1) of the contraction of the two ي, (a) in those persons of the Perf. I. in which the second ي has a vowel, as

* [A more recent form is رُوِي; see the Gloss. to Tabari. D. G.]

حَيَى for حَيَى; (b) in the Imperf. I., as يَحَيُّ, يَحَيُّ, يَحَيُّ; (c) in the A nomen actionis II. (§§ 80 and 202, rem.), تَحَيَّة for تَحَيَّة; (2) of the elision of the second ي in the Perf. and Imperf. X., when it signifies to feel shame, as يَسْتَحِي, يَسْتَحِي, for اسْتَحَى, اسْتَحَى. عَيَى also admits of being contracted into عَيَّ, and يَعْيَا into يَعْيَّ.—The forms حَيَّ and عَيَّ are said to occur (compare § 123, rem., and § 153, rem.).

180. Trebly weak verbs are divisible into two classes; namely B (a) those in which one radical is hêmza and the other two و or ي; and (b) those in which all the three radicals are و or ي.

REM. We pass over the second class, as it seems to consist of only one verb, which is hardly ever used; viz. يَيَا to write the letter ي.

181. Verbs of the first class are of two sorts, namely (a) those in which the hêmza is the first radical, as أَوَى to betake oneself to, to repair to; and (β) those in which the hêmza is the second radical, C as أَوَى to promise. The former are inflected like أَسَرَ and شَوَى (§ 179), e.g. أَوَى, أَوَيْتَ, أَوَيْتَ, أَوَى; the latter like سَأَلَ and وَقَى (§ 178), e.g.

I. The Verb نَيْسَ.

182. The negative substantive verb نَيْسَ, he is not, has no Imperf. or Imperat., and is inflected like verba mediæ rad. و et ي.

C

	3. m.	3. f.	2. m.	2. f.	1. c.
S.	نَيْسَ	نَيْسَتْ	نَسْتَ	نَسْتِ	نَسْتُ
D.	نَيْسَا	نَيْسَتَا	نَسْتُمَا	نَسْتُمَا
P.	نَيْسُوا	نَسْنَ	نَسْتُمْ	نَسْتُنَّ	نَسْنَا

REM. a. نَيْسَ is compounded of لَا, not, and the unused أَيَسَ* = Heb. אִי, he is, Aramaic אִיִּן, אִיִּן, אִיִּן; originally a substantive, signifying being, existence, as in the phrase لَا يَعْرِفُ أَيَسَ مِنْ لَيْسَ, he does not know what is from what is not. [Therefore the suffix of the 1st person sing. added to نَيْسَ is not only لَيْسِنِي (and لَيْسَ إِيَّايَ), but also لَيْسِي (§ 185, rem. a, Vol. ii. § 186, e)] The Assyrian seems also to have the word isu, with its negative lā isu, in the double sense of 'to be' and 'to have'.

REM. b. Instead of نَيْسَ we find occasionally [as in the Kor'anic phrase وَوَلَاتَ حِينَ مَنَاصِي] the indeclinable وَوَلَاتَ, which corresponds to the Aramaic وَوَلَاتَ, وَوَلَاتَ, compounded of وَوَلَاتَ and وَوَلَاتَ.

* [Or rather يَسَ according to Nöldeke, Mand. Gramm. p. 293, note 5.]

 Gähiz, Bayān i. 10, 6 and 3 from below has الأَيْسِيَّةَ opp. الأَيْسِيَّةَ.

II. The Verbs of Praise and Blame.

183. The verbs of praise and blame (أَفْعَالُ الْمَدْحِ وَالذَّمِّ) are بِشَسَ, to be good, and نَعِمَ, to be bad. They are used as exclamations, and are generally indeclinable, though the fem. نَعِمْتُ and بِشَتُّ (and, it is said, the dual نَعِمَتَا, نَعِمَتَا, and the plur. نَعِمُوا, نَعِمُوا) occur. [The following noun must be defined by the article or a dependent genitive, as: نَعِمَ الصَّاحِبُ زَيْدًا, Zdid is an excellent companion, lit. excellent is the companion Zdid, or else the indefinite accusative must be used نَعِمَ صَاحِبًا زَيْدًا, excellent as a companion is Zdid.]

REM. a. Instead of نَعِمَ we may say نَعِمَ, نَعِمَ, and نَعِمَ, which last is obviously the original form. In like manner بِشَسَ admits of the forms بِشَسَ, بِشَسَ, and بِشَسَ. If followed by مَا, we may write مَا نَعِمًا or بِشَسًا, and نَعِمَ مَا or, by contraction, نَعِمَا.

REM. b. These forms are to be explained as follows. (1) Every Arabic verb of the form فَعَلَ or فَعُلَ may also be pronounced فَعْلَ; as رَضِيَ for رَضِيَ, عَلِمَ for عَلِمَ, ضَجَرَ for ضَجَرَ, دَبَرَ for دَبَرَ, بَدَخَ for بَدَخَ, رَضِيَ for رَضِيَ, قَصَرَ for قَصَرَ, قَرَّبَ for قَرَّبَ, حَسَنَ for حَسَنَ, شَهَدَ for شَهَدَ and شَهَدَ, كَرَّمَ for كَرَّمَ,—a contraction which is sometimes extended to the passive فُعِلَ, as مُطِيَ for مُطِيَ (from مَطَا). Hence نَعِمَ and نَعِمَ become نَعِمَ and نَعِمَ. (2) If the second radical be guttural, its vowel, instead of being elided, may be transferred to the first radical; as شَهَدَ for شَهَدَ, ذَهَبَ for ذَهَبَ. Hence نَعِمَ for نَعِمَ, بِشَسَ for بِشَسَ. (3) The form فَعْلَ, which has been thus attained, may take an additional kësra to lighten the pronunciation (فَعْلَ); as ذَهَبَ, نَعِمَ. Hence نَعِمَ [or rather, according to Comp. Gr. p. 166, شَهَدَ becomes شَهَدَ by assimilation of the vowels, and the latter may then be shortened to شَهَدَ, as the former may be shortened

A to شَهَدَ].—These observations cast light on the peculiar form of intransitive verbs in Æthiopic; as gabra ("to do") for gabiru (compare عَمِلَ), and, when the second radical is guttural, māhira ("to have pity upon," رَحِمَ) for māhira, shāna ("to be hot," سَخِنَ) for sāhina or sahūna, see Comp. Gr. l.c.

REM. c. Other verbs of this class are حَبَّ or حَبَّبَ, to be pleasing or charming (contracted from حَبَّبَ)*; حَسَنَ, usually contracted into حُسْنٌ, to be good or excellent; سَاءَ, to be bad or evil; بَعُدَ, commonly contracted into بُعْدٌ, to be far off; and سَرَعَ or سُرِعَ, to be quick (contracted from سَرَعَ). The first of these is frequently combined with the demonstrative ذَا (§ 340), and forms the indeclinable حَبِّذَا, lovely, charming, or excellent, is —
On such forms as رَمَوُ, غَزُو, قَضُو, see above, note to p. 30.

III. The Forms expressive of Surprise or Wonder.

184. The Arabic language possesses two forms of expression, C called by the native grammarians أَفْعَالُ التَّعَجُّبِ or verbs of surprise or wonder. The one is the 3d pers. sing. masc. Perf. Act. IV., preceded by مَا (مَا التَّعَجُّبِيَّةُ) the nū expressive of surprise), and followed by the accusative of the object that causes surprise; as مَا أَفْضَلَ زَيْدًا what an excellent man Zèid is! The other is the 2d pers. sing. masc. Imperat. IV., followed by the preposition بِ with the genitive; as أَفْضَلْ بِزَيْدٍ, with the same signification as before.

REM. a. The first formula literally means: what has made Zèid excellent? can anything make him more excellent than he is? The second: make Z. excellent (if you can,—you cannot make him more excellent than he is); or, more literally: try (your ability at) making excellent upon (بِ) Zèid. They are, of course, indeclinable. delete the remark in square brackets.

REM. b. Verbs of surprise are, generally speaking, formed only from trilateral verbs in the active voice, which are capable of being fully inflected, and express an act or state in which one person may vie with or surpass another. They cannot be formed from the A passive voice; nor from quadrilaterals; nor from verbs that are defective in inflection, like نَعِمَ and بُئِسَ, or in meaning, like the substantive verb كَانَ to be (from كَانَ زَيْدٌ قَائِمًا, Zèid was standing up, we cannot say أَكُونُ بِزَيْدٍ قَائِمًا or مَا أَكُونُ زَيْدًا قَائِمًا); nor from verbs like مَاتَ to die and فَنِيَ to perish, expressing an act or state in which one agent cannot excel another; nor from negatived verbs (as مَا عَاجَ بِالِدَوَاءِ, he did not heed the medicine); nor from verbs signifying colours and defects, whence are derived adjectives B of the form أَفْعُلُ (as سَوْدٌ to be black, أَسْوَدٌ; حَوِيلٌ to squint, أَحْوَلٌ). The grammarians add that verbs of surprise cannot be formed from the derived forms of the trilateral verb; but neither this limitation, nor that with respect to the passive voice, is strictly observed (compare § 235). We find, for example, from the Passive مَا أَشْغَلَهُ, how much he is busied! from شَغِلَ to be busy; مَا أَزْهَاهُ, how proud or vain he is! from زَهِيَ to be proud or vain; مَا أَمْقَتَهُ عِنْدِي, how hateful he is to me! from مُقِتَ to be hated; and from derived forms, C especially the fourth, مَا أَعْطَاهُ, how liberal he is! from أَعْطَى to give, IV. of عَطَا to take in the hand; مَا أَوْلَاهُ لِلْمَعْرُوفِ, how liberal he is in bestowing gratuities! from أَوْلَى to bestow, IV. of وَلَى to be near; مَا أَحْوَلَهُ, or مَا أَحْيَلَهُ, how wily he is! from أَحْتَالَ to practise an artifice or wile, VIII. of حَالَ to be shifted or changed; مَا أَخْصَرَهُ, how short, or shortened, it is! from أَخْصَرَ to be shortened or abridged, D passive of VIII. from the rad. خَصَرَ. The rule with regard to verbs expressing colours or defects is violated, for example, by مَا أَحْمَقَهُ, how stupid he is! from حَمَقَ to be stupid, أَحْمَقُ, مَا أْبْيَضَ هَذَا الثَّوْبَ, how white this piece of cloth is! from أَبْيَضَ to be white, أَبْيَضٌ.

REM. c. When formed from verbs med. rad. gemin. or tert. rad. و et ي, the verbs of surprise follow the inflection of these classes; as مَا أَشَدَّ أَبَاهُ or أَشَدُّ بِأَبِيهِ, how strong his father is! مَا أَغْنَاهُ, how sweet it is! مَا أَغْنَاهُ, how rich he is! But if formed from verbs med. rad.

A rad. و et ي, they follow the inflection of the strong verb; as أَقُولُ بِهٖ or مَا أَقُولُهُ, how well he speaks! أَجُودُ بِهٖ or مَا أَجُودُهُ, how excellent or generous he is!

REM. d. When a verb of surprise cannot be formed directly from a root, recourse must be had to a circumlocution (compare § 235); as مَا أَشَدَّ حُمْرَتَهُ, how red it is! مَا أَتَقَى بِيَاضَهُ, how pure white it is! مَا أَكْثَرَ قَائِلَتَهُ, what a pretty brown it is! مَا أَكْثَرَ بَسْمَرَتِهِ, how often he takes a siesta! مَا أَجُودَ بِجَوَابِهِ or مَا أَجُودَ جَوَابَهُ, how good

B his reply is! and not مَا أَحْمَرَهُ, how red it is! مَا أَبْيَضَهُ, how white it is! مَا أَكْثَرَ قَائِلَتَهُ, how often he takes a siesta! مَا أَجُودَ بِجَوَابِهِ or مَا أَجُودَ جَوَابَهُ, how good

REM. e. To form the past tense of such verbs, كَانَ is prefixed to the Perfect form; as مَا كَانَ أَفْضَلَ زَيْدًا, how excellent Zèid was! But we may also say مَا أَفْضَلَ مَا كَانَ زَيْدٌ (literally, what has made excellent that which Zèid was? What has produced the past excellence of Zèid!).

C REM. f. مَا أَحْسَنَهُ, how good, or goodly, he is! مَا أَمْلَحَهُ, how handsome he is! and less frequently مَا أَحْلَاهُ, how sweet it is! admit of the diminutive forms (see § 269) مَا أَحْسِنَتَهُ, مَا أَمْلَحَتَهُ, and مَا أَحْلَاهَتَهُ.

APPENDIX B.

The Verbal Suffixes, which express the Accusative.

D 185. The following are the verbal suffixes, which express the accusative:

Singular.
Masc.	Common.	Fem.
3. p. هِ	...	هَا her.
2. p. كِ	...	كِ thee.
1. p. ...	نِي me.	...

Dual.			A
Masc.	Common.	Fem.
3. p. ...	هُمَا them both.	...
2. p. ...	كُمَا you both.	...
1. p.
Plural.
3. p. هُمْ	...	هُنَّ them.
2. p. كُمْ	...	كُنَّ you.	B
1. p. ...	نَا us.	...

REM. a. The same forms serve, when appended to the noun, to express the genitive; excepting that my is نِي instead of نِي (see § 317). The ن of the suffix نِي is called by the grammarians نُونُ الْوَقَايَةِ, the guarding or preventive n, because it prevents the final vowels of the verb from being absorbed by the long vowel نِي, as happens with the noun (see § 316, b); and also نُونُ الْإِعْمَادِ, the supporting n, because it serves as a sort of prop or support to the نِي, which is regarded as the essential portion of the suffix.

REM. b. The damma of هِ, هُمَا, هُمْ, and هُنَّ, is changed after نِي, نِي, and نِي, into kësra; as يَأْتِيهِ, he will come to him, to them; يَأْتِيهِمَا, come to them (dual m. and f.); يَأْتِيهِمْ, to them (plur. fem.); لَمْ تَرْضَيْهِ, thou (fem.) hast not been pleased with him.

REM. c. The ي of the suffix 1st pers. sing. is sometimes dropped; as أَتَّقُونَ for أَتَّقُونِي, fear me; [comp. § 6, rem. a.]

REM. d. Old and poetic forms are: نِي and نِي (هُم or هُم), كُمْ. See § 89, 1, rem. c, and § 20, b and d. [The pausal forms نِي and نِي, see Vol. ii. § 228, rem. b. Instead of كِ some dialects have شِ; see Lane and the Mohit. D. G.]

REM. e. The Hebrew and Aramaic suffixes, in general, closely resemble those of the modern Arabic; see Comp. Gr. p. 153 seq.

A 186. Some forms of the verb are slightly altered by the addition of the accusative suffixes.

(a) Those persons which end in the êlif otiosum (see § 7, rem. a), reject it before the suffix, as being no longer necessary (since it was added only to prevent the possibility of the termination و being in some cases mistaken for the conjunction و, and); as نَصَرُوا they helped, نَصَرُونِي they helped me.

B (b) The final consonant of the 2d pers. masc. plur. Perf. retains before the suffixes, to avoid cacophony, the long qamma which it had in an older stage of the language; as رَأَيْتُمْ ye have seen, رَأَيْتُمُونِي ye have seen me. The same thing takes place with the accusative suffix of the 2d pers. masc. plur. كُمْ, when it is followed by another suffix (see § 187); as يُرِيكُمْوَهُمْ he shews them to you.

(c) The 2d and 3d pers. masc. plur. Imperf. occasionally reject the termination ن before the suffixes نِي and نَا; as تَأْمُرُونِي for تَأْمُرُونِي, ye order me*, تَقْلُونَا for تَقْلُونَا, ye hate us, يَجِدُونِي for يَجِدُونِي, they will find me. The same thing happens to the 2d pers. sing. fem.; as تُسَوِّقِينِي, thou makest me long, for تُسَوِّقِينِي.

(d) The vowel ـ in the termination of the 2d pers. fem. sing. Perf. is sometimes lengthened before the suffixes; as كَسَرْتِيه for كَسَرْتِيه, thou hast broken it.

D (e) The ي of the 3d pers. masc. sing. Perf. in verba tertie rad. ي, may be retained before the suffixes, or (which is far more usual) be changed into !; as رَمَاهُ (§ 7, rem. c) or رَمَاهُ, he threw, or shot, at him.

[* In Sûra xxxix. 64 a third reading is recorded, viz. تَأْمُرُونِي, and there are similar variations in other passages. So also with verbs third ن we occasionally find such contractions as مَكْنِي for مَكْنِي (Sûr. xviii. 94), تَأْمُنْنَا for تَأْمُنْنَا (Sûr. xii. 11).]

[REM. In case of the suffixes ك, ك, etc. being affixed to the A Jussive of a verb tertie: ك, the two ك are assimilated; the latter loses its gêzma, the ك of the suffix takes têdid, as يُدْرِكُكُمْ.]

187. A verbal form may take two suffixes, provided they do not indicate one and the same person. These two may both be appended to the verb, the suffix of the 1st pers. naturally preceding that of the 2d or 3d, and the suffix of the 2d pers. that of the 3d. E.g. أَعْطَانِيكَ, he gave thee, it, to me; أَعْطَيْتُكَه, I gave it to thee; يَكْفِيكُمْ, he will suffice thee against them (will be sufficient to protect thee B against them); أَنْلِزِمُكُمْوَهَا, shall we compel you (to receive) it?

[REM. Combinations like أَعْطَاهَاه, he gave him to her, أَعْطَاهُومَا, he gave her to him, are legitimate but rare. (Note the orthography in the latter case.) But أَعْطَاهُه is not used; see § 189, rem. a.]

188. Sometimes, however, we find the pronominal object expressed, not by the accusative suffixes attached to the verb, but by the genitive suffixes appended to the word إِيَّاهُ 'iyā (which never occurs alone). The following are the compound pronouns thus formed Singular.

	Masc.	Fem.
	Common.
3. pers.	إِيَّاهُ	إِيَّاهَا
2. pers.	إِيَّاكَ	إِيَّاكِ
1. pers.	إِيَّايَ	...
	Dual.
3. pers.	إِيَّاهُمَا	...
2. pers.	إِيَّاكُمَا	...
1. pers.
	Plural.
3. pers.	إِيَّاهُمْ	إِيَّاهُنَّ
2. pers.	إِيَّاكُمْ	إِيَّاكنَّ
1. pers.	إِيَّانَا	...

A REM. a. The suffix of the 1st p. sing. is in this case ي, instead of ي, because all nouns ending in ل take that form. See § 317, rem. a.

REM. b. For the linguistic affinities of إِيَّاهُ (dialectically هِيَ) in the other Semitic languages, see Comp. Gr. p. 112 seq.

189. These suffixes compounded with إِيَّاهُ are used in two cases.

(a) Very frequently, but not always (see § 187), when two suffixes B would otherwise have to be appended to the same verb; as أَعْطَانِي إِيَّاهُ, instead of أَعْطَانِيهِ, he gave it to me.

(b) When the pronoun is, for the sake of emphasis, placed before the verb; as إِيَّاهُ نَعْبُدُ وَإِيَّاهُ نَسْتَعِينُ, Thee (none but Thee) we worship, and to Thee we cry for help. Compare in Heb. וְאֵלֹהֵינוּ, Jerem. v. 22.

C REM. a. The suffix attached to إِيَّاهُ is always that which would occupy the second place, if appended to the verb. In certain cases this form alone is used, either for the sake of precision or of euphony. Thus, he gave me to him must be worded أَعْطَاهُ إِيَّاهُ, to distinguish it from أَعْطَانِيهِ he gave him to me; but it is euphony which requires إِيَّاهُ, he gave it to him, instead of أَعْطَاهُ.

D REM. b. A very strong emphasis is expressed by prefixing the pronoun with إِيَّاهُ, and at the same time appending the pronominal suffix to the verb; as وَإِيَّاهُ فَاتَّقُونِ, Me therefore, fear Me.

II. THE NOUN.

190. The Noun, الْإِسْمُ, nomen, is of six kinds.

(a) The nomen substantivum, or Substantive, more especially designated الْإِسْمُ, and also الْمَوْصُوفُ, or الْمَنْعُوتُ, qualificabile, that is, a word which admits of being united with a descriptive epithet (adjective).

(b) The nomen adjectivum, or Adjective, الصِّفَةُ, الْوَصْفُ, or الْتَعْتُ, A quality, descriptive epithet.

(c) The nomen numerale, or Numeral Adjective, إِسْمُ الْعَدَدِ, the noun of number.

(d) The nomen demonstrativum, or Demonstrative Pronoun, إِسْمُ الْإِشَارَةِ, the noun of indication, that is, by which some object is pointed out.

(e) The nomen conjunctivum, or Relative Pronoun, الْإِسْمُ الْمَوْصُولُ B or الْمَوْصُولُ الْإِنْسِي, the noun that is united (with a relative clause), as opposed to الصِّلَةُ, the relative clause itself.

(f) The pronomem, or Personal Pronoun, الْمُضْمَرُ or الضَّمِيرُ, the word by which something is concealed or kept in, and so conceived of by, the mind, as opposed to الظَّاهِرُ or الْبَطْنُ, that which is apparent or manifested, the substantive to which the pronoun refers. It is also C called الْكِنَايَةُ, anonymia.

REM. a. Of the pronouns we have already treated in part in §§ 84—89 and 185—189, and some further remarks regarding them will be given in § 317. The numeral adjectives and the demonstrative and relative pronouns will be handled separately, after the nouns substantive and adjective (see §§ 318—353). The nouns substantive and adjective we shall treat of together, because, in regard to form, they are identical in almost every respect.

REM. b. The names of the pronoun, الْمُضْمَرُ and الضَّمِيرُ, are D elliptical expressions, for الْمُضْمَرُ بِهِ and الضَّمِيرُ بِهِ, as the above translation shows.

A A. THE NOUNS SUBSTANTIVE AND ADJECTIVE.

1. The Derivation of Nouns Substantive and Adjective, and their different Forms.

191. Nouns are divisible, in respect of their origin, into two classes, primitive and derivative. The primitive nouns are all substantives; as رَجُلٌ man, فَرَسٌ horse, عَيْنٌ eye, مَاءٌ water. The derivative nouns may be substantives or adjectives, and are either verbal, that is, derived from verbs, as قَسْرٌ تَقْسِيمٌ division (from قَسَرَ to divide), مِفْتَاحٌ a key (from فَتَحَ to open), مَرِيضٌ sick (from مَرَضَ to be sick); or denominative, that is, derived from nouns, as مَأْسَدَةٌ a place which abounds in lions (from أَسَدٌ a lion), إِنْسَانِيٌّ human (from إِنْسَانٌ a human being), كَلْبِيٌّ a little dog (from كَلْبٌ a dog). At a later period, nouns were formed, in the language (or rather jargon) of the philosophical schools, from pronouns and particles (we might call them departiculative), as أَنَانِيَّةٌ egotism (from أَنَا I), كَيْفِيٌّ qualitative, and كَيْفِيَّةٌ quality (from كَيْفٌ how?).

REM. a. In such Arabic Lexicons as are arranged according to the etymological principle, a verb is frequently given as the etymon of what are really primitive nouns, and a comparison of the meaning of the two shows that the former is in fact the derivative word. Thus مَاءٌ water, is not derived from مَأَى to be full of water, which is given in the Dictionaries as its root, but, conversely, مَأَى is a denominative verb, formed from مَاءٌ; nor is فَرَسٌ to be skilled in horsemanship, the root of فَرَسٌ a horse, but a denominative from it.

REM. b. By the native grammarians nouns are classified as follows.

(1) أَسْرٌ جَامِدٌ, a noun that is stationary or incapable of growth, one that is not itself a nomen actionis or infinitive, nor derived from a nom. act., and which does not give birth to a nom. act. or verb, as رَجُلٌ a man, بَعْطَةٌ a duck; opposed to أَسْرٌ مُسْتَقٌّ, a noun that is derived from a nom. act. or verbal root, as كَاتِبٌ a writer, قَتِيلٌ slain.

(2) أَسْرٌ مُجَرَّدٌ, i.e. أَسْرٌ عَنِ الزِّيَادَةِ, a noun that is bare of any accessory or increment, which comprises merely the letters of the root and no more, as عِلْمٌ knowledge, سَفْرَجَلٌ a quince; opposed to أَسْرٌ مَزِيدٌ فِيهِ, a noun that is augmented by additional letters, as عَلَامَةٌ a very learned man, اِحْتِجَامٌ the being gathered together in a mass.

(3) أَسْرٌ عَلِيٌّ, or أَسْرٌ عَلِيٌّ, a proper name, the distinctive mark of an individual; opposed to أَسْرٌ جِنْسِيٌّ, a generic or common noun, designating a whole kind or genus (γένος, جنس).

(4) The أَسْرٌ أَلْجِنْسِيٌّ may be either (a) أَسْرٌ عَيْنِيٌّ, a noun denoting a concrete object, as رَجُلٌ a man, فَرَسٌ a horse; or (b) أَسْرٌ جَهْلِيٌّ, a noun denoting an abstract idea, as عِلْمٌ knowledge, جَهْلٌ ignorance. The same terms may be applied to adjectives; رَاكِبٌ riding, is an أَسْرٌ عَيْنِيٌّ, but مَفْهُومٌ understood, an أَسْرٌ مَعْنِيٌّ.

(5) The أَسْرٌ أَلْعَلِيٌّ may be either (a) أَسْرٌ جِنْسِيٌّ, a proper name applicable to every individual of a whole kind, as أُسَامَةٌ the lion, جَعَارٌ the female hyena (like "Puss" for the cat, "Renard" for the fox); or (b) أَسْرٌ شَخْصِيٌّ, a proper name applicable to only one individual of a kind, as دَاحِسٌ and أَلْغَبْرَاءُ, names of horses, قَرُوبٌ, the name of a camel, سَعْدٌ, عَوْفٌ, نَعْلِيَّةٌ, names of men, أُمَمِيَّةٌ, أَلْخَنَسَاءُ, names of women.

(6) The أَسْرٌ أَلْعَلِيٌّ may also be either (a) an أَسْرٌ, or name, in its strictest sense, as عَمْرُوٌ, جَعْفَرٌ, بَيْتَةٌ; or (b) a كُنْيَةٌ, i.e. a name compounded with أَبُو, father of, as أَبُو الْعَبَّاسِ, or أُمٌّ, mother of, as أُمُّ كَلْبُومٍ, or ابْنٌ, son of, as ابْنُ حَيَّانٍ, or ابْنَةٌ or بِنْتُ, daughter of,

A as بِنْتُ هِنْدٍ; or (c) اَلْقَبُّ, a surname, which may be either a nickname (نَبِيٌّ), as بَطْلَةُ Duck or Bottle, اَنْكُ اَلنَّاقَةِ Camel's-nose, بَبَّة Bibba (imitation of a sound), or an honourable epithet, as زَيْنُ اَلْعَابِدِيْنَ, the pride or glory of those that worship (God), شَمْسُ اَلْمَعَالِي, the sun of virtues. The كُنْيَةُ is also employed in reference to animals, as اَبُو اَيُّوبَ, Job's father, the "patient" camel; اَبُو اَلْحَصِيْبِيْنَ, the father of the little fort, the fox; اُمُّ عَامِرٍ, the female hyena; اِبْنُ عُرْسٍ, the weasel; بِنْتُ طَبَقٍ, the tortoise; (Seybold).

B (7) An اِسْمٌ عَلِيٌّ may likewise be either (a) مُفْرَدٌ, simple, consisting of a single word, as عَنْتَرَةٌ, اَوْنَسٌ; or (b) مُرَكَّبٌ, compounded. The مُرَكَّبٌ may be either (a) اِسْنَادِيٌّ, predicative, when the words that compose it constitute a جُمْلَةٌ or proposition, as بَرَاقٌ نَحْرُهُ (his throat shone), تَاطَبٌ شَرُّا (he carried mischief under his arm), شَابٌ قُرْنَاهَا (her two locks became gray); or (β) a mixed compound, مُرَكَّبٌ مَزْجِيٌّ, which is not a proposition (غَيْرُ جُمْلَةٍ), as بَعْلَبَكٌ, Ba'al-bek, مَعْدِيكَرِبٌ, Ma'di-karib, سِيبَوِيَهٌ, Siba-weih; or (γ) مُضَافٌ وَمُضَافٌ اِلَيْهِ, a substantive governing another in the genitive, as اُمُّ كَلْبُوْرٍ, اَبُو ذُوَيْبٍ, اِمْرُؤُ الْقَيْسِ, عَبْدُ مَنَابٍ.

(8) Finally, an اِسْمٌ عَلِيٌّ may be either (a) مُرْتَجَلٌ, improvised, extemporised, impromptu, existing only as a proper name, as عِمْرَانٌ, حَيَوَةٌ, فَقْعَسٌ; or (b) مَنْقُولٌ, transferred from some other use, tropical. The latter class is of six kinds, viz. (α) مَنْقُولٌ عَنِ اَسْمِ عَيْنٍ, as اَسَدٌ (a lion); (β) مَنْقُولٌ عَنِ اَسْمِ مَعْنَى, as فَضْلٌ (excellence), اِبَاسٌ (giving, gift); (γ) مَنْقُولٌ عَنِ صِفَةٍ, as حَاكِمٌ (judging), تَاكَلَةٌ (bestowing); (δ) مَنْقُولٌ عَنِ فِعْلِ, as شَمَّرٌ, بَشَّرٌ, يَحْيَى; (ε) مَنْقُولٌ عَنِ صَوْتٍ, as بَبَّةٌ (see above, 6, c); and (ζ) مَنْقُولٌ عَنِ مُرَكَّبٍ (see above, 7, b).

192. Deverbal nouns are divisible into two principal classes; A namely:—

(a) Nomina verbi or nomina actionis, اَسْمَاءُ اَلْفِعْلِ (infinitives).

(b) Nomina agentis, اَسْمَاءُ اَلْفَاعِلِ, and nomina patientis, اَسْمَاءُ اَلْمَفْعُوْلِ, (participles).

The nomina verbi are by their nature substantives, but have come to be used also as adjectives; the nomina agentis et patientis are by their nature adjectives, but have come to be used also as B substantives.

193. Connected with the nomina verbi are the four following classes of deverbal nouns.

(a) Nomina vicis, اَسْمَاءُ اَلْمَرَّةِ, nouns that express the doing of an action once.

(b) Nomina speciei, اَسْمَاءُ اَلنَّوْعِ, nouns of kind or manner.

(c) Nomina loci et temporis, اَسْمَاءُ اَلْمَكَانِ وَاَلزَّمَانِ, also called nomina vasis, اَسْمَاءُ اَلظَّرْفِ, nouns of place and time. C

(d) Nomina instrumenti, اَسْمَاءُ اَلْاَلَةِ, nouns denoting the instrument.

194. Denominative nouns are divisible into six classes; namely:—

(a) Nomen unitatis vel individualitatis, اِسْمٌ اَلْوَحْدَةِ, the noun that denotes the individual.

(b) Nomen abundantiae vel multitudinis, اِسْمٌ اَلْكَثْرَةِ, the noun D that denotes the place where anything is found in abundance.

(c) Nomen vasis, اِسْمٌ اَلْوَعَاءِ, the noun that expresses the vessel which contains anything.

(d) Nomen relativum, اَلْاِسْمُ اَلْمُنْسُوْبُ or اَلنِّسْبَةُ (lit. the referred noun, the reference or relation), a particular class of derivative adjectives.

A (e) Nomen abstractum qualitatis, اسْمُ الْكَيْفِيَّةِ, the abstract noun of quality (see § 191).

(f) Nomen diminutivum, الْإِسْمُ الْمَصْفَرُّ or التَّصْغِيرُ (lit. the lessened noun, the lessening), the diminutive.

a. THE DEVERBAL NOUNS.

(a) The Nomina Verbi.

195. The nomina verbi, اَسْمَاءُ الْفِعْلِ, are abstract substantives,

B which express the action, passion, or state indicated by the corresponding verbs, without any reference to object, subject, or time.

They are called also اَسْمَاءُ الْاَحْدِيثِ opp. to اَسْمَاءُ الْاَعْيُنِ (Hamasa ٩٠).

REM. The nomen verbi is also called الْمَصْدَرُ (lit. the place whence anything goes forth, where it originates), because most Arab grammarians derive the compound idea of the finite verb from the simple idea of this substantive. We may compare with it the Greek Infinitive used with the article as a substantive.

C 196. The nomina verbi, which may be derived from the ground-form of the ordinary trilateral verb, are very numerous. The following is a nearly complete list of them, the rarest forms being included within brackets.

1. جَرَى, عَزُو, سَيَر, قَوْل, فَهَر, عَجَز, رَدَّ, ضَرَبَ, فَعَلَ, as فَعْلٌ.
2. فَرَحَ, سَخَطَ, عَمِلَ, كَرَمَ, نَظَرَ, جَلَبَ, هَرَبَ, طَلَبَ, فَعَلَ, as فَعْلٌ.
3. حَلَفَ, سَرَقَ, حَرِمَ, ضَحِكَ, كَذَبَ, فَعَلَ, as فَعْلٌ.

 مَرْثِيَّةٌ.
 C [44. مَفْعَلَةٌ, as مَهْلِكَةٌ, مَقْدَرَةٌ.]

[REM. For the forms with prefix ma-, 39—44, the so-called مَصْدَرٌ مِهْمِيٌّ, see further §§ 208, 221, rem. c, and the remarks to §§ 222—225.]

197. All these nouns cannot, however, be formed from every trilateral verb. The majority of verbs admit of but one form, very few of more than two or three. What these are, must be learned D from the Lexicon.

198. The five forms, which are most frequently used, are :

1. فَعْلٌ, 2. فَعَلٌ, 28. فَعَالَةٌ, 33. فَعُولٌ, 34. فَعُولَةٌ.

(a) فَعْلٌ is the abstract noun from transitive verbs of the forms فَعَلٌ and فَعِلٌ; as قَتَلَ to kill, قَتْلٌ killing or being killed (§ 201); فَهَمٌ to understand, فَهْمٌ understanding, insight; خَطَفٌ to snatch, خَطْفٌ

(b) فَعُولٌ is the abstract noun from intransitive verbs of the form A فَعَلَ; as قَعَدَ and جَلَسَ to sit, قَعُودٌ and جُلُوسٌ sitting; خَرَجَ to go out, خُرُوجٌ going out.

(c) فَعَلٌ is the abstract noun from intransitive verbs of the form فَعِلٌ (§§ 38 and 92); as فَرِحَ to be glad, فَرَحٌ joy; مَرَضَ to be sick, مَرَضٌ sickness.

(d) فَعَالَةٌ and فَعُولَةٌ are the abstract nouns from verbs of the form فَعَلَ; as جَزَلَ to be thick and large, to be of sound judgment, جَزَالَةٌ firmness or soundness of judgment; سَرُوٌ to be generous, سَرَاوَةٌ generosity; خَشَنَ to be rough, خَشُونَةٌ roughness; سَهَلَ to be smooth, سُهُولَةٌ smoothness.

REM. The abstract nouns of verbs which express FLIGHT, or REFUSAL, usually take the form 26. فِعَالٌ; as فَرَّ, نَفَرَ, فَرَّ, to flee, شَرَادٌ, نَفَارٌ, فِرَارٌ; جَمَحَ to become refractory, to run away with his rider (of a horse), جِمَاحٌ; نَارٌ to flee from, shun with horror, نَوَارٌ;

أَبَى to refuse, أَبَاءٌ. Those that express SICKNESS or AILMENT of any C kind have 27. فِعَالٌ, as عَطَسَ to sneeze, عَطَاسٌ; سَعَلَ to cough, سَعَالٌ; VIOLENT OR CONTINUOUS MOTION, 21. فِعْلَانٌ, as طَارَ to fly, طَيْرَانٌ; خَطَرَ to run, خَطِرَانٌ, جَرِيَانٌ, خَطَرَ to lash the tail, to brandish, خَطِرَانٌ; بَرَقَ to gleam, بَرِقَانٌ; وَمَضَ to flash, وَمَضَانٌ; خَفَقَ to palpitate, دَبَّ; رَحَلَ to travel, رَحِيلٌ, دَبٌّ; CHANGE OF PLACE, 37. فَعِيلٌ, as رَحَلَ to travel, رَحِيلٌ, دَبٌّ to creep, دَبِيْبٌ, رَسَمَ to gallop (of a camel), رَسِيْمٌ; دَمَلَ to trot (of a camel), دَمِيْلٌ, وَجِفَ to be agitated, palpitate, run quickly, وَجِيْفٌ;

D فِعَالٌ and وَمِيضٌ; SOUND, 27. فِعَالٌ and وَمِيضٌ; بَرِقَ to gleam, بَرِيْقٌ; وَمَضَ to flash, وَمِيضٌ; نَهَتَ to sob, to bray, نَهِيْقٌ, as نَعَبَ to croak, نَعَابٌ and نَعِيْبٌ; نَهَتَ to sob, to bray, نَهِيْقٌ and نَهَاتٌ; نَهَتَ to roar, نَهَاتٌ and نَهِيْتٌ; صَاحَ to cry out, صِيَاحٌ; صَرَخَ to cry out for help, صُرَاخٌ; نَبَحَ to bark, نُبَاخٌ; بَكَى to weep, بُكَاءٌ; عَوَى to

A howl, عَوَا; نُغَا to bleat, نُغَا; رَغَا to grumble (of a camel), رَغَا; OFFICE, TRADE OR HANDICRAFT, 29. فِعَالَةٌ, as خَلْف to succeed, خِلَافَةٌ the office of successor (خَلِيفَةٌ) or caliph, the caliphate; أَمْرٌ to be chief or emir, إِمَارَةٌ the office of emir; وَلى to be in charge or command of, وَلايَةٌ, governorship; نَابٌ to take one's place, act as deputy, نَيْابَةٌ deputyship; كَتَبٌ to write, كِتَابَةٌ the office of secretary; حَاطٌ to sew, حَيَاطَةٌ the trade of tailor; تَجَرَ to trade, تِجَارَةٌ trade, traffic.

B 199. If the middle radical of a verb can be pronounced with two or three vowels, and its signification varies accordingly, that verb may have several abstract nouns, one for each form and meaning of the Perfect. Thus, فَرَّقَ, to part, divide, has فَرَقٌ, but فَرِقٌ, to be afraid, فَرَقٌ; جَهَرَ, to be plain, open or public, has جَهْرٌ or جَهَارٌ, but جَهْرٌ, to be unable to see in the sunlight, جَهْرٌ, and جَهْرٌ, to be loud, جَهَارَةٌ; شَرَفَ, to surpass or excel in rank or nobility, has شَرَفٌ, but شَرْفٌ, to be high or prominent, شَرْفٌ, and شَرْفٌ to be exalted, noble or eminent, شَرِيفٌ or شَرِيفَةٌ.

200. If a verb has only one form, but several different significations, it often has different abstract nouns, one of which is peculiar to, or more generally used in, each of its meanings. E.g. حَكَمَ, to judge, has حُكْمٌ, but when it signifies to curb (a horse), حَكْمٌ; خَرَّ, to fall prostrate, has خَرٌّ or خَرُورٌ, but when it means to sound like rushing water, خَرِيرٌ; رَفَعَ, to be exalted or noble, has رِفْعَةٌ, but in the sense of to have a loud voice, رِفَاعَةٌ; وَجَدَ, to find, usually has وَجْدَانٌ, but when it means to be wealthy, وَجْدَةٌ, and to be moved by love, grief or anger, وَجْدٌ.

201. The nomina verbi are used both in an active and a passive sense; as قَتَلَهُ his killing (another) or his being killed himself; لَا تُفْسِدُوا فِي الْأَرْضِ بَعْدَ إِصْلَاحِهَا work no evil upon the earth after its having been well ordered; فِي هَذِهِ السَّنَةِ أَظْهَرَ الْأُمَمُونَ الْقَوْلَ بِخَلْقِي بِهَا A in this year el-Ma'mun publicly adopted the doctrine of the Kor'an's having been created.

REM. There are also nomina verbi that have always a passive signification; as سُورٌ joy, gladness, from سُرٌّ to be glad; وَجُودٌ existence, from وَجِدٌ to be found, to exist (see § 200)*.

202. The nouns formed from the derived forms of the strong trilateral verb are as follows.

- II. 1. تَفْعِيلٌ. B
2. تَبْصِرَةٌ, تَفْرِقَةٌ, تَكْبَلَةٌ, تَقْدِمَةٌ, تَكْرِمَةٌ, تَذَكُّرَةٌ, تَفْعَلَةٌ, تَزْكِيَةٌ, تَذَكُّبَةٌ, تَجَزِيَةٌ, تَهْنِئَةٌ, تَضَرَّةٌ, تَسْرَةٌ.
[3. تَفْعَلَةٌ, as تَهْلِكَةٌ, تَسْرَةٌ, تَضَرَّةٌ.]
4. تَكَرَّرٌ, تَرْدَادٌ, تَضْدَاقٌ, تَهْتَانٌ, تَهْطَالٌ, تَضَمُّنٌ, تَفْعَالٌ, تَسْيَارٌ, تَطْوِافٌ, تَجْوَالٌ, تَوَمَّاضٌ.
5. تَهْتَالٌ, تَبْكَاءٌ, تَشْرَابٌ, تَهْمَاءٌ, تَلْقَاءٌ, تَبْيَانٌ, تَفْعَالٌ, تَنْضَالٌ. C Of these examples some allow only the two first, pointing the others as examples of تَفْعَالٌ.]
6. قِيَاضٌ, قِدَامٌ, جِرَاقٌ, فَسَارٌ, عَلَامٌ, كِلَامٌ, كِدَابٌ, فِعَالٌ, قِيَابٌ, حِمَالٌ, كِبَارٌ.
7. حِطْبِيٌّ, قِلْبِيٌّ, حِلْبِيٌّ, حَصْبِيٌّ, حَبْمِيٌّ, فِعْعَلِيٌّ, حِمْبِيٌّ, قِمْبِيٌّ, فِمْبِيٌّ, دِمْبِيٌّ, مِيمِيٌّ. D
[8. مِكْبِيَّاءٌ, حَصْبِيَّاءٌ, فِعْعِلَاءٌ.]

To these may be added تَفْعُولٌ, as تَهْلُوكُ. Here the vowel of the

* وَجُودٌ is also employed in the active signification; see the Gloss. to Bibl. Geogr. viii. and Lane. D. G.]

A first syllable seems to have been assimilated to that of the second; تَفْعُول for تَفْعُول.

- III. 1. مُفَاعَلَةٌ. 2. فَعَالٌ.
[3. فِعَالٌ, as ضَمِيرَاتٌ.] [4. فَعَالٌ, as فَيْتَالٌ.]

IV. اِفْعَالٌ.

- V. 1. تَفَعَّلٌ. [2. تَفَعَّلٌ, as بِحَمَلٍ, بِحَمَلٍ, بِحَمَلٍ.]

- B VI. 1. تَفَاعُلٌ. [2. تَفَاعُلٌ, as تَفَاوُتٌ.]
[3. تَفَاعُلٌ, as تَفَاوُتٌ.]

- VII. اِنْفَعَالٌ. VIII. 1. اِنْفَعَالٌ. [2. فَعَالٌ, as فَيْتَالٌ.]

IX. اِفْعِلَالٌ. X. اِسْتِفْعَالٌ.

XI. اِفْعِيلَالٌ. XII. اِفْعِيَالٌ.

XIII. اِفْعِوَالٌ. XIV. اِفْعِنَالٌ.

- C XV. اِفْعِنَالٌ.

REM. a. In II. the form فَعَالٌ is the original infinitive, but تَفَعَّلٌ is by far the most common; تَفَعَّلٌ is chiefly used in verba tert. rad. hémz. and tert. rad. و et ي (in which latter the form تَفَعَّلٌ is excessively rare, as تَنْزَى from نَزَا); فَعِيلٌ and فَعِيلٌ are usually ascribed to I., but as their use is بِقَصْدِ اَلْمُبَالَغَةِ, to express energy or intensity, [or frequency,] they seem as deserving of a place here as تَفَعَّلٌ [which in like manner differ from the infin. of I., only by expressing greater energy or frequent repetition]. These forms with tésdid are akin to the Heb. infin. absol. קָפַל (קָפַל, קָפַל), to Heb. substantives like שָׂפַל, and to the Eastern Aramaic infin. קָפַל; whereas تَفَعَّلٌ, تَفَعَّلٌ, تَفَعَّلٌ and تَفَعَّلٌ are, strictly speaking, the infinitives, not of فَعَّلٌ, but of an obsolete تَفَعَّلٌ, akin to תַּפְעֵל, תַּפְעֵל, תַּפְעֵל, and are represented in the cognate dialects by such substantives as תַּבְּרִיךְ, תַּבְּנִיחַ, תַּבְּלִית, תַּבְּלִית, תַּבְּנִיחַ, תַּבְּנִיחַ, etc.*—In III. فِعَالٌ is the original infinitive, which the great majority of the Arabs shortened into فَعَالٌ, whilst some compensated the loss of the long vowel by doubling the following consonant, فَعَالٌ. The most common form of all is مُفَاعَلَةٌ ([in form identical with the] pass. particip. fem.).—In V. the original form is تَفَعَّلٌ, which has however been almost entirely supplanted by تَفَعَّلٌ.—In VIII. those B Arabs alone use فَعَالٌ, who shorten the Perf. and Imperf. into فَعَلٌ, يَفْعِلٌ, or فَعَلٌ, يَفْعِلٌ, etc. in the cases mentioned in § 117*.—The form تَفَعَّلٌ is sometimes ascribed to III., as تَرَمَّأٌ; and تَرَمَّأُوا (VI.), as تَحَاجَرُوا (VII.), تَحَاجَرُوا (VII.), تَحَاجَرُوا (VII.), تَحَاجَرُوا (VII.).

[REM. b. For the مَصْدَرٌ مِيمِيٌّ of the derived conjugations see § 227, rem.]

203. The nouns formed from the quadriliteral verbs are:—

- I. 1. فَعْلَلَةٌ, as دَحْرَجَةٌ, سَرْهَفَةٌ, حَوْقَلَةٌ, جَهْوَةٌ, بَيْعَةٌ, سَلْقَاءٌ, زَلْزَلَةٌ, زَلْزَلَةٌ.

2. فَعْلَالٌ, as دَحْرَاجٌ, سَرْهَافٌ, حَوْقَالٌ, جَهْوَالٌ, سَلْقَاءٌ, زَلْزَالٌ, زَلْزَالٌ.

- [3. فَعْلَالٌ, as زَلْزَالٌ.]

II. تَفَعَّلٌ, as تَدَحْرَجٌ.

III. اِفْعِنَالٌ, as اِحْرَنْجَامٌ.

IV. اِفْعِلَالٌ, as اِطْمِئِنَانٌ, اِطْمِئِنَانٌ. [The irregular form طْمَأْنِينَةٌ is rather to be considered as a substantive, اِسْمٌ مَصْدَرٌ.]

REM. In I. فَعْلَلَةٌ is the common form, whilst the employment of فَعْلَالٌ depends upon the usus loquendi (like that of فَعَالٌ in III.).

* [Barth, Nominalbildung, § 180 disapproves of this theory. D. G.]

A of the trilateral verb). The form فُعْلَالُ seems to be restricted to reduplicated verbs, like وَلَزَلُ.—A variation of the fourth form is presented to us in the word طَعْنَانُ, mutual thrusting and stabbing with lances = تَطَاعُنٌ, which comes from طَعْنَنٌ = اطْعَنَنَّ.

204. The abstract nouns of the verba mediæ rad. geminatae are formed according to the rules given in § 120. Hence مَدَدٌ for مَدَّدٌ, مَرَدٌ for مَرَّدٌ (from رَدَّ), تَغْرِيرَةٌ for تَغْرِيرَةٌ (from the second form of غَرَّ).

B REM. a. Those nouns, of which the first and second radicals are pronounced with fêṭḥa, undergo no contraction; as سَدَدٌ, عَلَلٌ, مَلَلٌ, غَصَصٌ.

REM. b. The nouns of the third and sixth forms may either be contracted or not; as مَادِدَةٌ or مَادَّةٌ, تَسَابُبٌ or تَسَابٌ. See § 124.

C 205. The formation of nouns from the verba hêmzata takes place according to the rules laid down in §§ 131—136.

206. Those verba primæ rad. و, that reject the و in the Imperf. and Imperat. (§§ 142 and 144), drop it also in the verbal noun. E.g.

	عِدَّةٌ	from وَعَدَ ,	Imperf.	يَعِدُ ,	Imperat.	عِدْ
	عِظَّةٌ	„	وَعَظَ	„	يَعِظُ	„	عِظْ
	دَعَّةٌ	„	وَدَعَ	„	يَدَعُ	„	دَعْ
D	زِنَةٌ	„	وَزَنَ	„	يَزِنُ	„	زِنْ
	دِيَةٌ	„	وَدَى	„	يَدِي	„	دِ

The termination ة, with which these nouns are furnished, is a compensation for the lost radical.

REM. a. Not a few verba primæ rad. و, however, have nouns of the form فُعْلٌ, though they drop the first radical in the Imperf.; e.g. وَجَرَ, يَجِرُ; وَجَرَ, يَجِرُ; وَجَرَ, يَجِرُ. Others have both forms;

e.g. يَعُدُ, وَعَدٌ; زِنَةٌ and وَزْنٌ, يَزِنُ, وَزَنٌ; ضَعَةٌ and وَضَعٌ, يَضَعُ and وَضَعٌ, يَعُدُ and وَعَدٌ.

REM. b. Initial و, if pronounced with damma or kèsra, may be changed into أ (see § 145, rem.), as أُجُودٌ, أُجْدَانٌ, for وُجُودٌ, وُجْدَانٌ.

REM. c. In nouns from verba primæ rad. و, this radical is changed into ي, if it be without a vowel, and kèsra precede; as إِسْتِيفَاءٌ for وَجَبٌ; إِسْتِيفَاءٌ for وَجَبٌ; إِسْتِيفَاءٌ for وَجَبٌ; إِسْتِيفَاءٌ for وَجَبٌ; إِسْتِيفَاءٌ for وَجَبٌ. See § 145.

REM. d. Compare in Hebrew, רִשְׁתָּ (רִשְׁתָּ), רִשְׁתָּ (רִשְׁתָּ), רִשְׁתָּ (רִשְׁתָּ), רִשְׁתָּ (רִשְׁתָּ), רִשְׁתָּ (רִשְׁתָּ), רִשְׁתָּ (רִשְׁתָּ), רִשְׁתָּ (רִשְׁתָּ), רִשְׁתָּ (רִשְׁתָּ). Corresponding forms in Syriac are ܕܢܝܘܢܐ (rad. ܢܝܘܢܐ), ܕܢܝܘܢܐ (rad. ܢܝܘܢܐ).

207. Nouns derived from verba mediæ rad. ي and و are subject to the same irregularities as those verbs (§ 150, etc.).

208. If the noun from a verb mediæ rad. و or ي be of the form فُعْلٌ, the و or ي remains unchanged; as سَيْرٌ, قَوْلٌ. In the form فُعُولٌ from verba med. و, the و may be changed into وُ, as ثُووبٌ, حُوُولٌ, حُوُولٌ, ثُووبٌ, etc. Verba med. ي of the form فُعُولٌ, Imperf. يَفْعِلُ (see § 157), frequently take kèsra in the مَصْدَرٌ مَجِيئِيٌّ, as مَزِيدٌ (مَزِيئٌ), مَجِيئٌ (مَجِيئٌ), مَجِيئٌ (مَجِيئٌ) (or by assimilation مَجِيئٌ), مَجِيئٌ (مَجِيئٌ), مَجِيئٌ (مَجِيئٌ), and the like. [See § 223, rem.]

209. If the letter و, pronounced with fêṭḥa, be preceded by kèsra, it is converted into ي; as قِيَامٌ for قَوَامٌ, صِيَانَةٌ for صَوَانَةٌ, قِيَامٌ for قَوَامٌ, صِيَانَةٌ for صَوَانَةٌ, قِيَامٌ for قَوَامٌ, صِيَانَةٌ for صَوَانَةٌ, قِيَامٌ for قَوَامٌ, صِيَانَةٌ for صَوَانَةٌ, قِيَامٌ for قَوَامٌ, صِيَانَةٌ for صَوَانَةٌ. Except in the third form, where it remains

A unchanged; as سَوَار from سَوَار, جَوَار from جَوَار, نَوَار from نَوَار, عَوَان from عَوَان, سَوَار from سَوَار, جَوَار from جَوَار, نَوَار from نَوَار, عَوَان from عَوَان, قَوَام from قَوَام, لَوَام from لَوَام, نَوَا from نَوَا.

210. Peculiar to verba mediæ rad. و et ی is the nominal form فَعْلُوَّة, in which ی always takes the place of the second radical; as فَعْلُوَّة from فَعْلُوَّة, دَبْمُوَّة from دَبْمُوَّة (دوم), كَبْمُوَّة from كَبْمُوَّة (كود), شَبْمُوَّة from شَبْمُوَّة (بين), سَبْمُوَّة from سَبْمُوَّة (سود), قَبْمُوَّة from قَبْمُوَّة (صير), غَبْمُوَّة from غَبْمُوَّة (غيب), قَبْلُوَّة from قَبْلُوَّة (قبيل).

REM. Some grammarians regard فَعْلُوَّة as the original form. The impossible صَبْرُوَّة, شَبْمُوَّة, were, they say, first changed into صَبْرُوَّة, شَبْمُوَّة, and then altered, on account of the discord between i and ū in successive syllables, into صَبْرُوَّة, شَبْمُوَّة. Others look upon فَعْلُوَّة as a contraction for فَعْلُوَّة, so that قَبْمُوَّة was originally دَبْمُوَّة, by assimilation دَبْمُوَّة, and then shortened دَبْمُوَّة (like مَبْمُوَّة for مَبْمُوَّة); but there is no verbal form فَعْلَل, with which such a nomen verbi could be connected. The rare substantive forms سَوَدْد (or سَوَدْد) from سَاد, to be chief or ruler, and عَوَطَط from عَاط to desire the male (of a she-camel); the cognate forms فَبْضُوَّة and فَبْضُوَّة, فَبْضُوَّة and فَبْضُوَّة, mixture, confusion; and the analogy of the Aramaic verbal form فَعْلَل (as فَعْلَل) and the Heb. فَعْلَل (as فَعْلَل).—all combine to prove that فَعْلُوَّة comes directly from a quadriliteral فَعْلَل.

211. In nouns of the fourth and tenth form of verba mediæ rad. و et ی, the second radical is elided, after throwing back its vowel upon the vowelless first radical; and the termination ـة is appended to the noun by way of compensation (compare § 206). E.g. اِقَامَة and اِسْتِقَامَة for اِقْوَام and اِسْتِقْوَام; اِنْقَادَة and اِسْتِقَادَة for اِنْقَاد and اِسْتِقَاد.

REM. Nouns of the fourth form without the i very rarely occur; e.g. اِقَام in the Kōr'an, Sūr. xxi. 73 (for اِقْوَام, اِقْوَام or اِقَام); اِرَا (for اِرَا) from اَرَى to make or let see, to show (§ 176, rem. c).

212. In nouns formed from verba tertiæ rad. و et ی, the third radical is retained, when the second immediately precedes it and is vowelless; as غَزُو, رَمَى, رَهَى, رَفَى, رَضُو, رَشَى. If the second radical be و and the third ی, an assimilation takes place in the form نَوَى, طَوَى, زَوَى, حَوَى, as حَمَى, زَمَى, طَمَى, رَمَى.

213. In nouns from verba tertiæ rad. و et ی of the forms فَعْلَل, فَعْلَل, the third radical (which in this case always [if the root be of the latter, often if it be of the former class,] assumes the form of ی) rejects its ḍamma, throws back the t̄enwin upon the fetha of the second radical, and becomes quiescent. E.g. جَلَى for جَلَى (جَلَى), سُرَى for سُرَى (رَضُو), رَضَى [or رَضَا] for رَضَى, نَطَى for نَطَى (جَلَى), هَدَى for هَدَى (compare § 167, α, β, and b, β).

214. In nouns from verba tertiæ rad. و of the form فَعْلَة, the و is changed, after the elision of its fetha, into ḍlif productionis; as صَلَاة for صَلَاة, حَيَاة for حَيَاة, زَكَاة for زَكَاة, شَكَاة for شَكَاة.

REM. a. We often find, however, the (etymologically more correct) orthography صَلَاة, حَيَاة, زَكَاة (§ 7, rem. d).

REM. b. In the same way as حَيَاة for حَيَاة, we find مَرَضَاة for مَرَضَاة (مَرَضَاة), مَرْتَبَاة for مَرْتَبَاة, etc.

215. If the noun from a verb tertiæ rad. و be of the form فَعْوَل or فَعْوَل, the و productionis of the second syllable combines with the radical و into و; as عَلُو, دُنُو, عَلُو, دُنُو. But, if these forms come from verba tertiæ rad. ی, the و productionis is changed, through the influence of the third radical, into ی, and combines with it into ی, whilst, at the same time, the ḍamma of the second radical becomes a k̄esra; as رَمَى, رَمَى, رَمَى, رَمَى.

A مُضَوًى (compare § 170). A further assimilation of the vowel of the first syllable sometimes takes place, as أَتَى for أَتَى, أَوَى for أَوَى, عَتَى for عَتَى; just as in the plural of substantives we find عَصَى, عَصَى, دَلَى for دَلَى, عَصَى, عَصَى, دَلَى, from قَوْسٌ, عَصَا, قَوْسٌ, دَلَى.

216. If the noun from a verb tertiæ rad. ى be of the form فَعِيلٌ, the ى productionis of the second syllable combines with the radical ى into ى; as هَوَى for هَوَى, from هَوَى. In the same form from verba tertiae rad. و, the third radical is converted into ى, and combines in the same manner with the ى productionis into ى.

217. In the nomina verbi of the forms فَعَالٌ, فَعَالٌ, and فَعَالٌ, the third radical of verba tertiae rad. و et ى is changed into hêmza; as بُكَأٌ, بُنَاٌ, خَفَاٌ. The same thing takes place in the verbal nouns of the fourth, seventh, and following forms, as إِنجَلَاٌ, إِعطَاٌ, أَرعَوَاٌ; and in that of the third, when it has the form فَعَالٌ, as نَادَى from نَادَى. This change is caused by the preceding long fetha.

218. The nomina verbi of the second form of verba tert. rad. و et ى always take the form تَفَعَّلَ (§ 202, rem.), as تَعَزَّى, تَسَلَّى. In those of the fifth and sixth forms, the influence of the third radical (always ى, § 169) converts the damma of the penult syllable into kâsra, and the syllables ى are contracted into ى (according to § 167, b, β). Hence تَجَلَّى for تَجَلَّى, تَوَالَى for تَوَالَى.

(β) The Nomina Vicis or Nouns that express the Doing of an Action once.

219. That an act has taken place once (مَرَّةً), the Arabs indicate by adding the feminine termination ة to the verbal noun. For this purpose the form فَعُلٌ is always selected in the first form of the triliteral verb, تَفَعَّلٌ in the second, and فَعَلَلٌ in the first form of the quadrilaterals. E.g. نَصْرَةٌ, قَعْدَةٌ, ضَرْبَةٌ, شَرْبَةٌ, فَرْحَةٌ, فَرَةٌ, تَقْلِيْبَةٌ, إِسْتِنْسَاقَةٌ, إِنْتِفَاقَةٌ, إِنكِسَافَةٌ, تَغَافُلَةٌ, تَقَلُّبٌ, إِحْرَامَةٌ, إِحْرَاقَةٌ, تَرْوِيْحَةٌ, دِحْرَاجَةٌ, إِفْشِرَارَةٌ, تَدْحِرَجَةٌ, دِحْرَاجَةٌ, the act of helping, sitting down, striking, drinking, rejoicing, fleeing, turning over, giving rest, vexing, honouring, rolling over, neglecting, being uncovered, turning round, inhaling or snuffing, rolling, being rolled, shuddering, once. These nouns are called أَسْمَاءُ الْمَرَّةِ, nomina vicis, or nouns that express the doing of an action once.

REM. a. Nouns of this sort, derived from weak verbs, do not differ in form from those of the strong verbs; as عَدُوَّةٌ, قَوْمَةٌ, وَعْدَةٌ, لَقِيٌّ, رَمَى, أَتَى, عَدَا, قَامَ, وَعَدَ from لَقِيَةٌ, رَمِيَةٌ, أَتِيَةٌ.

REM. b. If the verbal noun happens to end in ة, the feminine termination ة cannot, of course, be appended to it, and the singleness of the action can only be expressed by adding the adjective وَاحِدَةٌ one, as رَحِمَهُ رَحِمَةً وَاحِدَةً, he had pity or compassion upon him once; and so with عِيْمَةٌ, مُقَاتَلَةٌ, إِقَامَةٌ, إِسْتِعَانَةٌ, دِحْرَجَةٌ.

REM. c. From these nouns a dual and a plural may be formed to express the doing of the act twice or oftener; as du. نَصْرَتَانِ, pl. نَصْرَاتٍ.

REM. d. Other verbal nouns are but rarely used in this way; as إِثْبَانَةٌ, لِقَاءَةٌ, رُؤْيَةٌ, حِجَّةٌ, the act of going on a pilgrimage, seeing, meeting, coming, once.

(γ) The Nomina Speciei or Nouns of Kind.

220. The إِسْمُ النَّوْعِ or noun of kind, has always the form فَعْلَةٌ, and indicates the manner of doing what is expressed by the verb; as نِيْمَةٌ, مِيْمَةٌ, قِتْلَةٌ, طَبْعَةٌ, قَعْدَةٌ, رُحْبَةٌ, جِلْسَةٌ, manner, mode, or

A way of sitting, riding, sitting, eating, killing, dying, sleeping. E.g. هُوَ حَسَنُ الْكُتْبَةِ he is good as to his manner of writing, he writes a good hand, بُنِسَتْ أَلِيمَةً he was killed in a miserable way, 't is a wretched death!

REM. a. The nom. speciei may, like the nom. verbi and nom. vicis, be used in a passive sense, as صِرْعَةً, way of being thrown (from horseback), e.g. سُوهُ الْإِسْتِمْسَاكِ خَيْرٌ مِنْ حُسْنِ الصِّرْعَةِ to sit fast badly is better than to be thrown easily. Sometimes too it takes the meaning of one of the derived forms of the verb; as عِذْرَةً manner of excusing oneself, from اعْتَذَرَ to excuse oneself; خِمْرَةً mode of veiling oneself, from اِخْتَمَرَتْ she put on the خِمَارَ or yashmak; عِيَةً way of putting on a turban, from تَعَمَّرَ or اعْتَمَرَ to put on a turban (عِيَامَةً).

REM. b. If the nom. verbi has the form فَعْلَةٌ, we must have recourse to a circumlocution to express the idea of the nom. speciei; as حَمِيَّتُهُ حَمِيَّةَ الْمَرِيضِ I made him observe a regimen like a sick man, نَشَدْتُهُ نَشْدَةَ النَّفِيسِ I searched for it as for something precious; or else نَشَدْتُهُ نَوْعًا مِنَ النَّشْدَةِ, حَمِيَّتُهُ نَوْعًا مِنَ الْحَمِيَّةِ. So too with the derived forms of the verb, أَكْرَمْتُهُ إِكْرَامَ الصَّدِيقِ I honoured him as a friend is honoured, or أَكْرَمْتُهُ نَوْعًا مِنَ الْإِكْرَامِ.

D (8) The Nomina Loci et Temporis or Nouns of Place and Time.

221. The nouns called أَسْمَاءُ الظُّرُوفِ (nomina vasis), or أَسْمَاءُ الزَّمَانِ وَالْمَكَانِ (nomina loci et temporis), are formed after the analogy of the Imperfect Active of the first form of the verb, by substituting the syllable م for the prefixes, and giving the second radical fðḥa, if the Imperfect has fðḥa or ḡamma, but kðsra, if the Imperfect has kðsra. E.g. مَشْرَبٌ a place for drinking, a reservoir or water-trough, from شَرِبَ to drink, imperf. يَشْرَبُ; مَنْهَلٌ the time or place for watering

(camels), from نَبَلَ to drink, imperf. يَنْبَلُ; مَصْرَعٌ the time when, or A place where, one is thrown down or slain, from صَرَغَ to throw down, imperf. يَصْرَعُ; مَكْتَبٌ a place where writing is taught, a school, from كَتَبَ to write, imperf. يَكْتُبُ; مَخْرَجٌ and مَدْخَلٌ, a place of egress and ingress, from خَرَجَ to go out, imperf. يَخْرُجُ, and دَخَلَ to go in, imperf. يَدْخُلُ; مَجْلِسٌ the place where, or time when, several persons sit, room, assembly, party, from جَلَسَ to sit, imperf. يَجْلِسُ; مَقْصِدٌ the place aimed at or made for, from قَصَدَ to aim at, make for, imperf. يَقْصِدُ. B

REM. a. These nouns are called أَسْمَاءُ الظُّرُوفِ, because time and place are, as it were, the vessels in which the act or state is contained.

REM. b. Twelve of these nouns, though derived from verbs in which the characteristic vowel of the Imperfect is ḡamma, take, notwithstanding, kðsra; viz.

1. مَجْزِرٌ the place where animals are slaughtered, slaughterhouse or C shambles.
2. مَرْفِقٌ whereon one rests, the elbow.
3. مَسْجِدٌ of prostration in prayer, a mosque.
4. مَسْقَطٌ where anything falls.
5. مَسْكِنٌ where one dwells, habitation.
6. مَشْرِقٌ where the sun rises, the east. D
7. مَطْلِعٌ of ascent or rising.
8. مَغْرِبٌ where the sun sets, the west.
9. مَفْرِقٌ of division, in particular, where the hair divides in different directions, the crown of the head.
10. مَنْبِتٌ where a plant grows.

A 11. مَنْخِرٌ the place where the breath passes through the nose, the nostril.

12. مَنْسِكٌ where a sacrifice is offered during a religious festival.

Of these, nos. 5, 7, 9, 11, and 12, may be pronounced with fêtha, and the same license is extended by some grammarians to all the rest. Instead of مَنْخِرٌ some say مَنْخَرٌ, مَنْخِرٌ, and even مَنْخُورٌ.

The verb جَمَعَ, to collect, which has fêtha in the imperf., also makes

B مَجْمَعٌ or مَجْمِيعٌ, a place of collecting, meeting or assembling. The vowel of the first syllable is variable in مَخْدَعٌ, also مُخْدَعٌ and مُخْدَعٌ, a place of hiding or concealment, a small room or closet.

See § 228, rem. a; and compare the variations in مُجَسَّدٌ a garment worn (by a woman) next the skin; بُضْحَفٌ a book, a copy of the Kor'an; and مَطْرَفٌ a robe with ornamental borders.

C REM. c. The kèsra of the second syllable distinguishes in many cases the nomina temp. et loci from the مُضَدَّرٌ مِيبِيٌّ, which, as a general rule, takes fêtha in the second syllable. Thus مَجْلِسٌ, مَجْلِسٌ, مَجْلِسٌ, مَجْلِسٌ, مَجْلِسٌ, مَجْلِسٌ, مَجْلِسٌ, are nomina verbi or infinitives; whilst مَجْلِسٌ, مَجْلِسٌ, مَجْلِسٌ, مَجْلِسٌ, are nomina temporis or loci.

REM. d. This class of nouns exists in the other Semitic languages. In Hebrew, the vowel of the first syllable has frequently been weakened into – and –; as מִשְׁפָּחָא, מִצָּב, מִנְצֵב, מִנְצֵב, D מִקְוֵה (מִקְוֵה), מִרְכָּב (מִרְכָּב), מִרְכָּב (מִרְכָּב), מִרְכָּב (מִרְכָּב), מִרְכָּב (מִרְכָּב).

222. Nouns of time and place, formed from verba primæ rad. ו et י, retain the first radical, even though it be rejected in the Imperfect of the verb (§§ 142, 144), and have invariably kèsra in the second syllable. E.g. مَوْزِدٌ watering-place, from وَرَدٌ to go down (to draw water), imperf. يَرِدُ; مَوْعِدٌ the time or place of a promise or appointment, فَاعِدٌ time or place, from وَعَدٌ to promise, imperf. يَعِدُ;

مَوْضِعٌ the place where anything is put, a place, from وَضَعَ to put down, A to place, imperf. يَضَعُ; مَوْجَلٌ a place that is dreaded, from وَجَلَ to be afraid, imperf. يَوْجَلُ; مَوْجَلٌ a slough or quagmire, from وَجَلَ to stick in the mud, imperf. يَوْجَلُ; مَيْسِرٌ a game at hazard, from يَسَرَ to play at hazard, imperf. يَيْسِرُ.

REM. Here the مُضَدَّرٌ مِيبِيٌّ should, strictly speaking, have the same form as the nomina loci et temp., but the grammarians give B some examples with fêtha in the second syllable, as مَوْضِعٌ, مَوْجَلٌ.

223. Those formed from verba mediæ rad. و et ي undergo changes analogous to those suffered by the Imperfect of the verb (§ 150); that is to say, after the second radical has taken fêtha or kèsra, according to § 221, this vowel is thrown back upon the vowelless first radical, and the و or ي is changed into the homogeneous letter of prolongation (ا or ي). E.g. مَقَامٌ (مَقَوْمٌ) place of standing, place, from قَامَ to stand, imperf. يَقُومُ (يَقُومُ); مَغَاصٌ (مَغُوصٌ) diving-place, C from غَاصَ to dive, imperf. يَغُوصُ (يَغُوصُ); مَخَافٌ (مَخُوفٌ) and مَهَابٌ (مَهَيْبٌ), a place that is dreaded, from خَافَ to fear, imperf.
يَخَافُ (يَخُوفٌ), and هَابٌ to fear, imperf. يَهَابُ (يَهَيْبُ); مَقِيلٌ (مَقِيلٌ) place of resting at mid-day, from قَالَ to sleep at mid-day, imperf. يَقِيلُ (يَقِيلُ).

REM. The مُضَدَّرٌ مِيبِيٌّ has in this case regularly the form with ā in the second syllable, as مَأَبٌ, مَأَلٌ, مَعَادٌ, return (from أَبَ for D أُوبَ, etc.), مَشَاعٌ being divulged or published (from شَاعَ for شَيْعَ); but many verba med. ي take in preference the form with ī, as مَسَائِلٌ or مَسِيلٌ, مَحَافِصٌ or مَحَيْضٌ, مَبَائِعٌ or مَبَيْعٌ, مَعَائِشٌ or مَعِيشٌ, مَقَائِلٌ or مَقِيلٌ, مَكَائِلٌ or مَكِيلٌ, مَعَائِشٌ or مَعِيشٌ.
See § 208.

224. Those formed from verba tertie rad. و et ي violate the rule laid down in § 221, for they always take fêtha in the second syllable,

A whatever be the vowel of the Imperfect. In regard to their contraction, they follow the analogy of the verbal nouns فُعِل from the same verbs (§ 213). E.g. مَنْجَى (مَنْجُو, مَنْجَى) place of refuge, from نَجَا to escape, imperf. يَنْجُو; مَرْعَى (مَرْعَى, مَرْعَى) pasture-ground, from رَعَى, to pasture or graze, imperf. يَرْعَى; مَثْوَى (مَثْوَى, مَثْوَى) the place where one stops, from ثَوَى to stop, imperf. يُثْوَى; مَأْوَى (مَأْوَى, مَأْوَى) do., from أَوَى to go or resort to a place, imperf. يَأْوَى; مَطْوَى (مَطْوَى, مَطْوَى) a fold, from طَوَى to fold, imperf. يَطْوَى; مَثْنَى (مَثْنَى, مَثْنَى) a bend, from ثَنَى to bend, imperf. يُثْنَى.

REM. The مَصْدَرٌ مِيبِيٌّ has the same form, as مَجْرَى from جَرَى, imperf. يَجْرَى; مَسْرَى from سَرَى, imperf. يَسْرَى.

225. Nouns of time and place not unfrequently take the feminine C form ة; as مَشْغَلَةٌ time or place of occupation, business; مَشْرَعَةٌ the place where cattle, etc., are watered; مَضْرِبَةٌ the part of a sword with which the blow is struck, the edge; مَنْزِلَةٌ a halting-place, a station; مَغَارَةٌ (مَغْوَرَةٌ) a cave; مَرْعَاءٌ (مَرْعِيَّةٌ) pasture-ground. If derived from a strong verb, the second rad. frequently has in this case damma instead of fatha; as مَقْبَرَةٌ cemetery, مَشْرَبَةٌ place for drinking, banqueting-room, مَشْرَعَةٌ watering-place. Some nouns have even three D forms; as مَشْرِيقَةٌ a place where one suns oneself or sits in the sunshine, مَهْلِكَةٌ a place where people perish, a desert. Peculiar is مَطْنَةٌ the place where a thing is supposed to be, from ظَنَّ to think, suppose, imperf. يُظَنَّ.

REM. The مَصْدَرٌ مِيبِيٌّ is liable to the same variations, though مَفْعَلَةٌ is the normal form, as مَسْعَبَةٌ hunger. For example: مَحْبَدَةٌ, مَدْمَةٌ, in preference to مَحْبَدَةٌ, مَدِيمَةٌ; مَطْلَبَةٌ, مَعْتَبَةٌ, مَغْفِرَةٌ, مَغْفِرَةٌ A or مَرْثِيَةٌ (مَرْثِيَةٌ); مَحْمِيَّةٌ; مَعْدِرَةٌ; مَأْرَبَةٌ; مَقْدُرَةٌ.

226. Some nouns of time and place, derived from verba primæ rad. و et ي, take the form مِفْعَالٌ (see § 228). E.g. مِيلَادٌ time of birth, from وَلَدَ to bear; مِيعَادٌ appointed time [or place] for the fulfilment of a promise, from وَعَدَ to promise; مِيقَاتٌ appointed time [or place for the performance of some action], from وَقَّتَ to fix a time. B

REM. From the strong verb this form is very rare, as مِشْرَاقٌ or مِشْرِيقٌ = مَشْرِيقَةٌ; but in Æthiopic it is the usual form from all verbs, as mēsrāk = مَشْرِيقٌ, mē'rāb = مَغْرِبٌ, mēr'ay = مَرْعَى.

227. The nouns of time and place from the derived forms of the trilateral verb, or from the quadrilateral, are identical in form with the nomina patientis or passive participles. E.g. مُصَلَّى a place of prayer (صَلَّى to pray); مُمَسَّى, مُصْبِحٌ, the time of entering upon the morning or evening (أَمَسَ, أَصْبَحَ, to enter upon the time of morning or evening); مُدْخَرٌ, مُدْخَرٌ the place through which, or the time when, one is made to enter (أَدْخَلَ to make one enter) or go out (أَخْرَجَ to make go out); مُنْصَرَفٌ place or time of returning (انْصَرَفَ to return); مُجْتَمِعٌ a place where things are collected (اجْتَمَعَ to be collected); مُلْتَقَى place D or time of meeting (التَقَى to meet); مُسْتَهْلٌ the first day of the month (أَسْتَهَلَ the new moon appeared); مُدْخَرٌ a place where one rolls anything (دَخَرَ to roll); مُحْرَنْجَمٌ a place where (camels) are crowded together (أَحْرَنْجَمَ to be gathered together in a crowd).

REM. The same form is also used as a مَصْدَرٌ مِيبِيٌّ from the derived forms of the trilateral verb and from the quadrilateral; e.g. مُنْدَى, تَجْرِبَةٌ or تَجْرِبَةٌ = مُجَرَّبٌ the being tried or tested.

A letting (camels) graze in the interval of their being watered = تَدْرِيبَةٌ; the rending in pieces = تَجْزِئَةٌ; the guarding carefully = مَوْئِي; fighting = مَقَاتِلٌ or قِتَالٌ or مُقَاتِلَةٌ; the making a raid or foray = إِغَارَةٌ; affliction = إصَابَةٌ; turning or tossing to and fro = تَقْلِبٌ; the pressing heavily on, wronging = تَحَامُلٌ; to make a clashing or ringing sound = مَصْلَعَةٌ; to God is (our) complaint of this event (وقبحة) and (on Him) is (our) reliance.

B (c) The Nomina Instrumenti or Nouns that indicate the Instrument.

228. The nouns which denote the instrument that one uses in performing the act expressed by a verb, are called in Arabic أَسْمَاءُ آلَاتٍ, nomina instrumenti. They have the forms مَفْعَلٌ, مَفْعَالٌ, and مَفْعَلَةٌ, and are distinguished from the nouns of place and time by the kësra with which the prefixed م is pronounced. When derived from verba med. rad. و et ي, they remain uncontracted. E.g. مِبْرَدٌ, a file, from بَرَدٌ, to file; مِبْضَعٌ, a lancet, from بَضَعَ, to cut; مِشْرَاطٌ and مِشْرَاطٌ, a lancet; مِقْرَاضٌ, a pair of scissors; مِفْتَاحٌ or مِفْتَاحٌ, a key; مِشْرَحٌ and مِشْرَحَةٌ, a comb; مِحْجَمَةٌ, a cupping-glass; مِثْنَسَةٌ and مِثْنَسَةٌ, a broom; مِقْصٌ (for مِقْصَصٌ), a pair of scissors; مِثْلَةٌ, a packing-needle; مِثْرَةٌ, an iron instrument for marking a camel's foot (from أَمْرٌ); مِثْرَةٌ, a pad placed under a horse's saddle (from أَمْرٌ); مِيسِرٌ, a branding-iron (from وَسَرَ); مِيزَانٌ, a balance or pair of scales (from وَزَنَ); مِروُحٌ and مِروُحَةٌ, a fan; مِقْوَدٌ, a bridle or halter; مِرْوَدٌ, a small probe for applying kohl to the eyes; مِخِيطٌ, a needle; مِضِيدٌ and مِضِيدَةٌ, a net or snare; مِرْقَاةٌ (for مِرْقِيَةٌ), a staircase or ladder; مِصْفَاةٌ, a strainer; مِثْوَاةٌ, a branding-iron or cautery.

REM. a. A very few have the form مَفْعَلٌ or مَفْعَلٌ; as مَنخَلٌ, A a sieve; مَنصَلٌ, a sword; مَغزَلٌ = مَغزَلٌ, a spindle; مَسْعَطٌ = مَسْعَطٌ, an instrument for introducing medicine into the nose; مَدَقٌ = مَدَقٌ, a pestle or mallet; مَجْمَرٌ = مَجْمَرٌ, a censor. The form مَغزَلٌ is also used.

REM. b. The corresponding Hebrew nouns have מ and נ, as well as נ, in the first syllable; e.g. מִזְרָק, מְלַחֲחִים, מְזַלֵּן, מְפַתֵּחַ, B מְזַמְרֵן.

(c) The Nomina Agentis et Patientis.

229. The nouns which the Arab Grammarians call أَسْمَاءُ الْفَاعِلِ, nomina agentis, and أَسْمَاءُ الْمَفْعُولِ, nomina patientis, are verbal C adjectives, i.e. adjectives derived from verbs, and nearly correspond in nature and signification to what we call participles.

REM. These verbal adjectives often become in Arabic, as in other languages, substantives.

230. The verbal adjectives, derived from the first form of the trilateral verb, have two principal forms, namely, the nomen agentis, فَاعِلٌ, and the nomen patientis, مَفْعُولٌ. E.g. كَاتِبٌ writing, a scribe or secretary, from كَتَبَ to write, مَكْتُوبٌ written, a letter, from كَتَبَ; D خَادِمٌ servant, a servant, from خَدِمَ to serve, مَخْدُومٌ served, a master, from خَدِمَ; حَاكِمٌ judging, a judge, from حَكَمَ to judge; كَائِنٌ being, from كَانَ to be; مَوْجُودٌ found, existing, from وَجَدَ to be found, to exist; مَجْنُونٌ mad, a madman, from جَنَّ to be possessed, to be mad.

REM. a. When formed from فَعَّلٌ and the transitive فَعَّلٌ (as رَهَبٌ fear, رَكَبٌ to ride on, عَلِمَ to know, مَسَّ to touch), these nomina agentis are not only real participles, indicating a temporary,

- A transitory or accidental action or state of being, but also serve as adjectives or substantives, expressing a continuous action, a habitual state of being, or a permanent quality; e.g. خَادِمٌ, كَاتِبٌ, خَادِمٌ, كَاتِبٌ (see above), عَالِمٌ a scholar, رَاهِبٌ an ascetic. But if from the intransitive فَعَلَ and from فُعِلَ, they have only the participial sense, the adjectival being expressed by one or other of the nominal forms enumerated in § 231. Thus فَارِحٌ or جَادِلٌ being glad, rejoicing, جَائِدٌ being cowardly, جَائِدٌ being liberal, ضَائِقٌ being narrow or confined, are participles; the adjectives which indicate the corresponding permanent qualities or characteristics are فَرِيحٌ and جَدَلٌ or جَدَلَانٌ, جَدَلَانٌ gladsome, cheery, جَبَانٌ cowardly, جَوَادٌ bountiful, generous, and ضَيِّقٌ narrow. [Comp. however § 232, rem. b.]

- REM. b. The nomen agentis فَاعِلٌ is said to be used occasionally in place of the nomen verbi or actionis, as in the phrase قُرْمٌ قَائِمًا, for قُرْمٌ قِيَامًا; but this is more frequently the case with the nomen patientis (compare § 227, rem.) مَفْعُولٌ. E.g. جَهْدٌ = مَجْهُودٌ, labour, effort, one's utmost; جَلْفٌ = مَحْلُوفٌ, swearing, an oath; رَدٌّ = مَرْدُودٌ, giving or sending back, rejection; عَقْلٌ = مَعْقُولٌ, understanding, intelligence; وَعْدٌ = مَوْعُودٌ, شِعْرٌ = مَشْعُورٌ, knowledge, perception; عُسْرٌ = مَعْسُورٌ, affluence, opposed to عُسْرٌ = مَعْسُورٌ, penury, distress; رَفَعٌ = مَرْفُوعٌ, to trot quickly (of a camel); وَضْعٌ = مَوْضُوعٌ, to trot easily (do.); حَفْضٌ = مَحْفُوضٌ, to go gently (do.); مَجْلُودٌ = مَحْضُولٌ, being in existence, being got or acquired; جَلَادَةٌ = مَجْلُودَةٌ, hardiness, sturdiness, endurance. The fem. مَفْعُولَةٌ is likewise occasionally so used, as مَحْلُوفَةٌ, مَشْعُورَةٌ, مَوْعُودَةٌ; مَضْدُوقَةٌ = مَضْدُوقَةٌ, the telling of the truth, opposed to مَكْذُوبَةٌ = كَذِبٌ, lying; and also a cognate form مَفْعُولَاءٌ, as مَحْلُوفَاءٌ, مَشْعُورَاءٌ.

REM. c. Conversely, the nomen actionis is sometimes used instead of the nomen agentis and patientis, or as an adjective. E.g. كَاتِمْتُهُ مُشَاقِهَةٌ, رَاكِضًا = كَاتِمْتُهُ رَكِيضًا, I came to him riding hard,

I spoke to him face to face (lit. lip to lip), = مُشَاقِهَةٌ; لَقِيْتُهُ عِيَانًا, A
I met him face to face (lit. eye to eye), = مُعَايِنًا; قَتَلْتُهُ صَبْرًا, I slew him in cold blood (lit. bound, confined or held, so that he could not resist or escape), = مَضْبُورًا; رَجُلٌ عَدْلٌ, رَجُلٌ عَدْلٌ, رَجُلٌ عَدْلٌ, a just man, a just woman, just men, = عَادِلٌ, عَادِلَةٌ, عَدُولٌ, عَدُولٌ, عَدُولٌ; مَاءٌ غُورٌ, مَاءٌ غُورٌ, مَاءٌ غُورٌ, water which sinks into the ground, = غَائِرٌ; دِرْهَمٌ ضَرْبُ الْأَمِيرِ, a dirham struck by the emir, = مَضْرُوبُ الْأَمِيرِ; هُمُ خَلْقُ اللَّهِ, they are B the creatures (lit. the creation) of God, = مَخْلُوقُ اللَّهِ.

REM. d. فَاعِلٌ is the Aram. קפיל, ضهلأ, and Heb. קפיל (with ō for ā). The form مَفْعُولٌ does not occur in either of these languages, the Heb. using instead of it קפול = فَعُولٌ, and the Aram. קפיל = فَعِيلٌ (see § 232, rem. c).

231. Besides these, there are other verbal adjectives derived from the first form of the verb, and called صِفَاتٌ مُشَبَّهَةٌ بِأَسْمَاءِ الْفَاعِلِ C صِفَاتٌ مُشَبَّهَةٌ بِأَسْمَاءِ الْفَاعِلِ, وَالْمَفْعُولِ, adjectives which are made like, or assimilated to, the participles, viz. in respect of their inflection. Of these the following are the principal.

1. فَعْلٌ	9. فَعَالٌ

232. Most of these adjectives come from neuter verbs, and express, partly, a quality inherent and permanent in a person or

- A thing,—which is their most usual signification (see § 38),—and, partly, a certain degree of intensity. Examples: 1. صَعْبٌ difficult, from صَعَبٌ; سَهْلٌ easy, from سَهْلٌ; عَذْبٌ sweet, from عَذْبٌ; كَبِيرٌ large, from كَبِيرٌ; طَفْلٌ tender, from طَفُلٌ; شَهْمٌ strong, hardy, acute, clever, from شَهْمٌ; شَاظٌ rough, rugged, from شَتْرٌ; قَذْرٌ unclean, from قَذْرٌ.
2. بَطْلٌ brave, from بَطْلٌ; حَسَنٌ handsome, from حَسَنٌ; قَدْرٌ from قَدْرٌ. 3 and 4. فَرِحٌ, جَدِلٌ, glad, from فَرِحَ; أَشْرٌ, بَطِرٌ, proud, from أَشْرٌ and بَطِرٌ; وَجَعٌ in pain, from وَجَعٌ; حَبِيطٌ having a swollen stomach, from حَبِيطٌ; دَنَسٌ dirty, from دَنَسٌ; رَدٌّ (for شَجِيءٌ, جَوِيءٌ) in grief, from جَوِيءٌ; رَدٌّ (for رَدِيءٌ) perishing, from رَدِيءٌ; حَفٌّ having his foot or hoof chafed, from حَفٌّ; وَجٌّ do., from وَجِيءٌ; فَطِنٌ, فَعِلِنٌ, clever, intelligent, from فَطِنٌ; حَزِنٌ, حَزِينٌ, sorry, from حَزِنٌ; يَقِظٌ, يَقِظٌ, awake, from يَقِظٌ; فَطِنٌ, فَطِنٌ.
- C from حَزِنٌ; نَدِسٌ, نَدِسٌ, timid, cautious, wary, from حَذِرٌ; عَجَلٌ, عَجَلٌ, quick, in haste, from عَجَلٌ; طَيِّبٌ clean, pure, from طَيِّبٌ; قَدِيرٌ from قَدِيرٌ; قَدِيرٌ liberal; طِفْلٌ, small, young, from طَفُلٌ to be tender; جَلٌّ large, coarse, fat, from جَلٌّ; دَقٌّ fine, thin, from دَقٌّ. 6 and 7. مَرٌّ bitter, from مَرٌّ; حَلْوٌ sweet, from حَلْوٌ; صَلْبٌ hard, from صَلْبٌ; غَمْرٌ, غَمْرٌ, inexperienced, untaught, from غَمْرٌ; جَنْبٌ polluted, from جَنْبٌ.
- D عَدْرٌ breaking, crushing, bruising, from حَطَمٌ; غَدْرٌ perfidious, treacherous, from غَدْرٌ to forsake, abandon, betray; بَدٌّ remaining in one place, abundant, from بَدٌّ; زَكَنٌ knowing, from زَكَنٌ. 9. جَبَانٌ cowardly, from جَبْنٌ; شَجَاعٌ brave, from شَجَاعٌ; زَكَنٌ liberal, from جَادٌ; حَصَانٌ chaste, from حَصْنَةٌ; كَبَاهٌ blunt, from كَبَاهٌ; كَبَاهٌ large, from كَبَاهٌ. 10. شَجَاعٌ brave, from شَجَاعٌ; كَبَاهٌ large, from

- A فَرَاتٌ noble, from كَرَمٌ; حَسَانٌ handsome, from حَسَنٌ; فَضِيمٌ sweet (of water), from فَرَّتٌ; حَرَاقٌ salt (of water), from حَرَقٌ to burn; طَوَالٌ long, tall, from طَالَ; [قَدَارٌ a cook, from قَدَرَ to cook]. 11. بَخِيلٌ stingy, niggardly, from بَخَلَ; كَثِيرٌ much, many, numerous, from كَثُرٌ; شَرِيفٌ noble, from شَرَفٌ; كَرِيمٌ noble, from كَرَمٌ; ضَعِيفٌ weak, from ضَعْفٌ; طَوِيلٌ heavy, from ثَقُلَ; غَلِيظٌ thick, coarse, from غَلِظَ; سَلِيمٌ long, tall, from طَالَ; رَحِيمٌ compassionate, merciful, from رَحِمَ; سَلِيمٌ safe, from سَلِمَ; سَقِيمٌ, مَرِيضٌ, sick, from مَرَضَ; سَقِيمٌ light, agile, from خَفَّ; جَلِيلٌ great, glorious, from جَلَّ; دَقِيقٌ small, slender, paltry, from دَقَّ. 12. أَكُولٌ gluttonous, from أَكَلَ; كَذُوبٌ addicted to lying, from كَذَبَ; صَدُوقٌ veracious, from صَدَقَ; قَوُولٌ or قَوُولٌ, talkative [or ready to speak], from قَالَ; [فَعُولٌ ready to do, from فَعَلَ]; دَفُوعٌ pushing, thrusting or kicking violently, from دَفَعَ; عَطُولٌ moved by affection or pity, from عَطَفَ; جَسُورٌ daring, from جَسَرَ; جَهُولٌ ignorant, foolish, from جَهَلَ; حَصُورٌ continent, impotent, from حَصَرَ. 13. سَكْرَانٌ drunk, from سَكَرَ; غَضَبَانٌ angry, from غَضِبَ; عَطْشَانٌ hungry, from عَطِشَ; ظِمْآنٌ thirsty, from ظَمِئَ; عَطِشَانٌ satisfied with food, from شَبِعَ; غَرِيثٌ satisfied with drink, from رَوِيَ; خَزِيَانٌ ashamed, from خَزِيَ. 14. نَدَمَانٌ repentant, from نَدِمَ. 15. عُرْيَانٌ naked, from عَرِيَ. 16. أَبْلَجٌ having a clear space between the eyebrows, bright, open, cheerful in countenance, from أَبْلَجٌ; أَشْمٌ having a high, straight nose, from أَشْرَ; أَهْيَبٌ having a slender waist, from هَيْبٌ; أَذْقَنٌ having a long chin (ذَقْنٌ); أَحْدَبٌ humpbacked, from أَحْدَبَ; أَعُورٌ one-eyed, from أَعُورَ; أَحْمَقٌ foolish, stupid, from أَحْمَقَ; أَصْمٌ deaf, from أَصَمَ; أَخْرَقٌ unskillful, clumsy, stupid, from أَخْرَقَ; أَخْرَقٌ unseemly, ugly, foul, from أَخْرَقَ; أَحْمَرٌ red, أَسْوَدٌ black, أَبْيَضٌ white, أَصْفَرٌ yellow.

A REM. a. As is shown by the above examples, the forms فَعْل and فَعِيل are principally derived from فَعَلَ; فَعِيل and فَعْل come respectively from فَعِلَ intrans. and فَعَلَ, though the distinction is not always observed; فَعْلَانٌ is principally formed from فَعِلَ intrans.; فَعَالٌ and فَعَالٌ mainly from فَعَلَ; أَفْعَلٌ chiefly from فَعِلَ intrans., sometimes from فَعَلَ.

B REM. b. فَاعِلٌ is rarely used as a verbal adjective from فَعِلَ intrans. or فَعَلَ (see § 230, rem. a); e.g. أَمِينٌ safe, secure, = أَمِنَ or أَمِنَ, from أَمِنَ; سَالِمٌ, safe, sound, = سَلِمَ, from سَلِمَ; عَاقِرٌ barren, from عَقَرَتْ; عَاقِرٌ sour, acid, from حَمِضَ or حَمِضَ.

REM. c. فَعِيلٌ, when derived from transitive verbs, has usually a passive sense; as مَجْرُوحٌ wounded = مَجْرُوحٌ; مَقْتُولٌ slain = مَقْتُولٌ; مَذْبُوحٌ slaughtered, a victim, = مَذْبُوحٌ; مَخْضُوبٌ dyed = مَخْضُوبٌ; مَأْسُورٌ bound, a prisoner, = مَأْسُورٌ; مَكْحُولٌ rubbed with kohl = مَكْحُولٌ. The same is sometimes the case with فَعُولٌ, as رَكُوبٌ ridden upon, حَلُوبٌ milked.*

D REM. d. Adjectives of the forms فَعِيلٌ and فَعُولٌ, but more especially the latter, often indicate, as shown by some of the above examples, either a very high degree of the quality which their subject possesses, or an act which is done with frequency or violence by their subject; and hence they are called أَنْبِيَّةُ الْمُبَالَغَةِ, intensive forms. The form فَعِيلٌ is dialectically pronounced فَعِيلٌ, especially if the second radical be a guttural, as كَبِيرٌ, سَعِيدٌ, رَحِيمٌ, شَهِيدٌ, كَبِيرٌ, كَبِيرٌ; and so also in substantives, as رَغِيفٌ, شَعِيرٌ, بَعِيرٌ, أَلْمِيسِخٌ.

* رَسُولٌ does not belong to this class; according to the native scholars, it is originally a nomen actionis like قَبُولٌ, meaning message. Hence, as in the case of Latin nuntius, it got the signification of bearer of a message. D. G.]

REM. e. Many of these forms exist in Hebrew and Aramaic. A For example, in the former, فَعْلٌ, as חָדַשׁ = חָדַשׁ; فَعِيلٌ, as חָדַשׁ = חָדַשׁ; فَعَالٌ, as חָדַשׁ (ō for ā); فَعُولٌ, as חָדַשׁ; فَعِيلٌ, as חָדַשׁ, חָדַשׁ.

233. From verbal adjectives of the form فَاعِلٌ, as well as from some others, is derived an adjective فَعَالٌ, which approaches very nearly in meaning to فَعُولٌ and فَعِيلٌ, since it adds to the signification B of its primitive the idea of intensiveness or of habit. Hence it is called أَسْمُ الْمُبَالَغَةِ, the noun of intensiveness. E.g. أَكَالٌ eating, أَكَالٌ a glutton, = أَكُولٌ; كَاذِبٌ lying, كَذَّابٌ a (habitual) liar, = كَذُوبٌ; دَفَعٌ pushing, thrusting, repelling, دَفَاعٌ pushing, etc., violently, = دَفُوعٌ; سَأَلَ asking, سَأَلٌ importunate, a beggar, = سَوُولٌ; شَارِبٌ drinking, شَارِبٌ drinking much, addicted to wine, = شَرُوبٌ; عَالِمٌ knowing, learned, عَالِمٌ very learned; بَكَى weeping, بَكَاءٌ weeping much; هَائِبٌ fearing, هَائِبٌ timid.

REM. a. The nouns which indicate professions and trades have usually this form; as عَطَّارٌ a druggist, طَبَّاحٌ a cook, خَبَّازٌ a baker, خَبَّاطٌ a tailor, نَجَّارٌ a carpenter, سَقَّاءٌ a water-carrier, جَنَّانٌ a gardener, رِءَاسٌ a seller of sheep's heads, صَرَّافٌ a money-changer or banker, بَنَّاءٌ a builder or architect, حَمَّالٌ a porter. Compare in Hebrew and Aram. חָטָא, גָּנַב, טָבַח, בָּכָא, סָבַל, etc. D

REM. b. Other intensive adjectives, less common than فَعَالٌ, are 1. فَعَالٌ, 2. فَعِيلٌ, 3. فَعُولٌ or فَعُولٌ, 4. فَعْلٌ, and 5. فَاعُولٌ; as 1. حَسَّانٌ, وَضَاءٌ, very handsome, كُرَّامٌ very noble, كُبَّارٌ very large, دَفَّاعٌ one who devotes himself to reading (the sacred writings), دَفَّاعٌ a strong propeller or repeller, a great rush (of water or of people); 2. شَرِيبٌ, سَكِيرٌ, حَمِيمٌ, addicted to wine, drunken, ضَلِيلٌ going astray,

- A wandering; عَرِيضٌ fond of opposition, فَخِيرٌ boastful, صِدِّيقٌ exceedingly veracious, خَرِيصٌ very liberal, صَرِيحٌ one who throws down often or violently, a wrestler; دَرِيءٌ glistening intensely (also دَرِيءٌ; the only instance of the form فَعِيلٌ, except مُرِيءٌ); 3. فَرُوقٌ timid, قَبُورٌ everlasting, سَتُوقٌ or سُتُوقٌ bad (of money), سَبُوحٌ or سُبُوحٌ all-pure, all-glorious, قُدُوسٌ or قُدُوسٌ most holy; 4. حَوَلٌ, حَوَلٌ, قَلْبٌ, حَوَلٌ, فَارُوقٌ shifting, turning, knowing, cunning, خُلْبٌ deceitful; 5. فَارُوقٌ timid, جَاسُوسٌ a spy.—On the other hand, مَفْعَلٌ, مَفْعَلٌ, and مَفْعِيلٌ, are, strictly speaking, substantives (nomina instrumenti, § 228), but used metaphorically as adjectives to mean “doing something like a machine, mechanically, and therefore invariably (habitually).” E.g. مَدْفَعٌ thrusting or pushing much, مَزْحَمٌ pushing or pressing much, مِضْمَرٌ a brave warrior, مِخْرَابٌ, مِخْرَابٌ, do., مِطْعَنٌ thrusting with the spear, مِطْعَانٌ, مِطْعَانٌ, thrusting with the spear, مِطْعَمٌ, مِطْعَمٌ, eating much or giving much to eat, hospitable, مِقْوَلٌ, مِقْوَالٌ, talkative, eloquent, مِغْرَاحٌ cheerful, مِذْعَانٌ docile, tractable, مِخْرَاقٌ very liberal, مِقْدَامٌ advancing boldly, daring, مِثْكَالٌ slothful, مِذْكَارٌ bearing male children, مِثْنَاتٌ bearing female children, مِثْكَارٌ very liberal, مِثْكَارٌ, مِثْكَارٌ, very talkative, مِعْطَارٌ, مِعْطَارٌ, using perfumes, مِسْكِينٌ mean, poor (مِسْكِينٌ).—
- C Similar, too, is the use of such forms as تَفْعَالٌ or تَفْعَالٌ, and تَفْعِيلٌ, which are abstract substantives (nomina actionis, § 202) used concretely; e.g. تَلْعَابٌ, تَلْعَابٌ, تَلْعَابٌ, given to play or sport; تَلْقَامٌ, تَلْقَامٌ, swallowing big morsels, greedy; تَضْرَابٌ covered by the stallion (of a she-camel), تَلْقَامٌ talking much and foolishly, تَكْدَابٌ mendacious, تَلْبِاطٌ fickle, تَفْوَتَةٌ loquacious, تَعْلِمَةٌ very learned.

* [To this class belongs also مُتْنِنٌ, مُتْنِنٌ, مُتْنِنٌ stinking. D. G.]

REM. c. Nearly all these adjectives and quasi-adjectives admit A of being strengthened in their meaning by the addition of the termination ـة, which is here used, as the grammarians say, لِلْمَبَالَغَةِ, to signify intensiveness, or تَأْكِيدِ الْمَبَالَغَةِ, to strengthen the idea of intensiveness. For example, from فاعِلٌ comes فاعِلَةٌ, as رَاوٍ one who hands down poems or historical facts by oral tradition, رَاوِيَةٌ crafty, دَاهِيَةٌ calling or summoning, an emissary or missionary, دَاعِيَةٌ clever, crafty; خَائِنَةٌ treacherous, faithless; B باقِرَةٌ a deep investigator (compare in Heb. קִקְיָל from קִקַּל); from فَعَلٌ, فَعَلَةٌ, as حَطَمَةٌ breaking in pieces, crushing to bits, طَلَعَةٌ always on the watch, صَرَعَةٌ throwing down or prostrating often, سَوَّلَةٌ asking often, begging, فَحَكَةٌ prone to laughter, فَوَلَةٌ loquacious, نُومَةٌ given to sleep, نُومَةٌ abusive, عَيْبَةٌ finding fault; from فَعِيلٌ, فَعِيلَةٌ, as كَرِيمَةٌ noble, excellent; from فَعُولٌ, فَعُولَةٌ, as مَنُونَةٌ taunting (one) with favours (conferred on him), كَذُوبَةٌ lying, مَلُونَةٌ tired of, disgusted with, هَمُوبَةٌ timid; from فَعَالٌ, C فَعَالَةٌ, as عَلَامَةٌ very learned, نَسَابَةٌ a great genealogist, رَحَالَةٌ a great traveller, فَهَامَةٌ very quick of comprehension, وَقَاعَةٌ ill-natured, slanderous, قَوَالَةٌ very talkative, جَمَاعَةٌ a great collector, صَنَاجِدٌ an excellent player on the cymbals or harp (صَنْج); from فَعَالٌ, as صَرَاعَةٌ prostrating or throwing down very often, كَرَامَةٌ very generous or noble, لَقَاعَةٌ talking much and rashly or foolishly; from فَعِيلٌ, فَعِيلَةٌ, as خَلِيفَةٌ very contrarious; from فَعُولٌ, فَعُولَةٌ, as فَرُوقَةٌ very timid; from فَعُولٌ, فَعُولَةٌ, as حَاذِرَةٌ very wary or cautious, D فَرُوقَةٌ very timid; from مَفْعَالٌ, مَفْعَالَةٌ, as مِلْحَادَةٌ very unjust, مَقْدَامَةٌ very bold in attacking, مِهْدَارَةٌ talking much and sillily; from تَفْعَالٌ, تَفْعَالَةٌ, as تَلْعَابَةٌ addicted to play or sport, تَفْوَالَةٌ loquacious, تَعْلَامَةٌ very learned, تَعْجَابَةٌ causing great wonder or marvel, تَلْقَامَةٌ swallowing big morsels, greedy (the cognate form تَفْعِيلَةٌ also occurs, as

- A making clearer or purer, from صَفَّى to clarify or clear, II. of صَفَا to be clear; أَسْلَمَ preserving better, from سَلِمَ, II. of سَلِمَ to be safe; أَقَامَ confirming or establishing better, from قَامَ, IV. of قَامَ to stand upright; أَثَبْتُ making more firm or sure, from ثَبَّتَ, IV. of ثَبَّتَ to be firm; أَخَوَّفَنِي causing me greater alarm about, from خَوَّفَ or أَخَافَ, II. or IV. of خَافَ to fear; أَعَوَّنَ عَلَيَّ giving more help towards, from عَانَ to help, IV. of عَانَ; أَذْهَبَ making depart more quickly, B from ذَهَبَ, IV. of ذَهَبَ to go away; أَرْخَاهِمَا that of the two which relaxes, or loosens, more, from رَخِيَ, IV. of رَخِيَ or رَخِيَ to be flaccid or flabby; أَبْقَى causing to last longer, عَلَى أَبْقَى more merciful to, from بَقِيَ, IV. of بَقِيَ to remain, last; أَهَبَ inspiring more fear or respect, from هَابَ, IV. of هَابَ to fear; أَنْصَفَ more just than, from نَصَفَ to be just, IV. of نَصَفَ to take the half, reach the middle; أَطَوَّلَ causing to last longer, from طَالَ, IV. of طَالَ to be long; C أَحْيَى preserving alive better, from حَيِيَ, IV. of حَيِيَ to live; أَطْلَلُ giving more shade than, from أَطْلَلُ to give shade, IV. of ظَلَّ; أَجَادَ causing to be better, from جَادَ, IV. of جَادَ to be good, excellent; أَوْلَى giving more freely, from أَعْطَى to give, IV. of عَطَا; أَوْلَى bestowing more liberally, from أَوْلَى to bestow, IV. of وَلَى; D أَكْرَمَ showing greater honour to, from كَرَّمَ, IV. of كَرَّمَ to be noble; أَفْقَرُ more desert than, from فَقَرَ, IV. of فَقَرَ; أَفْلَسُ poorer than, from فَلَسَ to be poor, IV. of فَلَسَ; أَحْوَلُ more crafty than, from حَاتَلَ to be crafty, VIII. of حَالَ; أَقْوَدُ more easily led, or more docile, than, from قَادَ, VII. of قَادَ to lead. (β) Examples of أَفْعَلُ formed from the passive voice: أَخَشَى, أَخَوْفَ, أَهَيَّبَ, more feared or formidable; أَحْمَدُ more praiseworthy or commendable; أَحْرَفُ better A known; أَلْوَمُ more deserving of blame; أَسْرُ more glad of or pleased by; أَعْلَزُ more to be excused; أَوْجَدُ more readily found; أَشْغَلُ more occupied; أَزْهَى prouder (زَهَى to be proud); أَمَقَتْ more hated or hateful; أَعْنَى more occupied with (عَنَى or VIII. اعْتَنَى); أَخْصَرَ shorter (from أَخْصِرَ, pass. of VIII.). (γ) Examples of أَفْعَلُ from words denoting colours or defects: أَبْيَضُ whiter than; أَسْوَدُ blacker than; أَحْمَقُ more stupid than. B

236. The verbal adjectives formed from the active and passive voices of the derived forms of the trilateral verb, and from the quadrilateral verb, are the following.

Trilateral Verb.
	Act.	Pass.		Act.	Pass.
	II. مَفْعَلٌ	مُفْعَلٌ	VII.	مُنْفَعِلٌ	مُنْفَعَلٌ	C
	III. مَفَاعِلٌ	مُفَاعِلٌ	VIII.	مُنْفَاعِلٌ	مُنْفَاعَلٌ
	IV. مَفْعَلٌ	مُفْعَلٌ	IX.	مُفْعَلٌ
	V. مَتَفَعَّلٌ	مُتَفَعَّلٌ	X.	مُسْتَفَعِّلٌ	مُسْتَفَعَّلٌ
	VI. مَتَفَاعِلٌ	مُتَفَاعِلٌ	XI.	مُتَفَاعِلٌ
Quadrilateral Verb.
	I. مَفْعَلِلٌ	مُفْعَلِّلٌ	III.	مُنْفَعَلِّلٌ	مُنْفَعَلِّلٌ	D
	II. مَتَفَعَّلِلٌ	مُتَفَعَّلِّلٌ	IV.	مُنْفَعَلِّلٌ	مُنْفَعَلِّلٌ

REM. a. The characteristic vowel of the second and third radicals is the same in all these verbal adjectives as in the corresponding Imperfects, excepting the active participles of the fifth and sixth forms of the trilateral verb and the second form of the

A quadriliteral, in which the second and third radicals have $_$ instead of $_$.

REM. b. The preformative $_$ takes in Arabic the vowel $_$, in Heb. and Aram. $_$ (e.g. $_$, $_$ = $_$, $_$ = $_$), but the Æthiopic seems to have retained the original vowel in its prefix $_$: ma, as $_$ (ma'ammēz) oppressor (ወጠኛ); $_$ (makwānnēn) judge (ጠቅላይ); $_$ (manāfēk) sceptic, heretic (ጠቃላይ); $_$ (mār'ed) causing to tremble, dreadful (ጠቅላይ); $_$ (māfri) fruitful (ጠቅላይ); $_$ (mastāmḥēr) imploring mercy (ጠቅላይ); $_$ (matārgwēm) an interpreter (ጠቅላይ).

237. In the formation of verbal adjectives from verba mediæ rad. geminatae, the rules laid down in § 120 are to be observed. Hence $_$ becomes $_$ (see § 13, rem.); $_$; $_$; etc.

238. In the formation of verbal adjectives from the verba hêmzata, the rules laid down regarding those verbs (§§ 131-6) are to be observed. Hence we write $_$ for $_$ (§ 135), $_$ for $_$ (§ 133), $_$ or $_$ for $_$, $_$ for $_$, $_$ for $_$ (§ 133), $_$ for $_$ (§ 131).

D REM. a. $_$ preceded by kësra becomes $_$; as $_$ for $_$.

REM. b. Final hêmza, preceded by $_$ and $_$, admits of assimilation; as $_$ or $_$; $_$ or $_$; $_$ or $_$. See § 17, b, rem. b.

239. In the formation of verbal adjectives from verba primæ rad. $_$, the rule laid down in § 147 must be observed; as $_$ for $_$.

240. In the nomina agentis of the first form of verba mediæ rad. $_$ et $_$, the place of the middle radical is occupied by a $_$ with hêmza (arising, according to § 133, out of $_$); as $_$ (for $_$), $_$ (for $_$), instead of $_$, $_$.

REM. a. This rule does not apply to the verbs mentioned in § 160, which retain their middle radical unchanged; as $_$, $_$.

REM. b. The form $_$ admits in certain words of being contracted into $_$ (compare the Heb. $_$ for $_$), as $_$ for $_$ in the phrase $_$ or $_$, bristling with weapons; $_$ for $_$, in the phrase $_$ or $_$, water-hearted, cowardly, stupid; $_$ for $_$; $_$ for $_$, timid or greedy, for $_$; $_$ for $_$, sharp (of sight), for $_$; $_$ for $_$, corroded or decayed (of a tooth), for $_$; $_$ for $_$, obedient, for $_$; $_$ for $_$, going about, for $_$; $_$ for $_$. Sometimes the second radical $_$ is transposed; as $_$, $_$, $_$, $_$, $_$, $_$, $_$, $_$.

REM. c. In the form $_$ the medial $_$ is usually changed into $_$; as $_$, $_$, $_$, $_$.

241. In the nomina patientis of the first form of verba mediæ rad. $_$, the middle radical is elided, after throwing back its $_$ upon the preceding vowelless letter; as $_$, for $_$, from $_$. The same thing takes place in verba mediæ rad. $_$, with this difference, that (to indicate the elision of the radical $_$) the $_$ is changed into kësra, and, in consequence, the $_$ production is into a $_$; as $_$, instead of $_$, from $_$.

* [A poet even allows himself to say $_$ for $_$ (from $_$); see Abū Zèid, Nawadir, 26 infra. D. G.]

A REM. The forms مَدُونٌ, مَدُونٌ, and مَقْوُودٌ, are said to be used dialectically. From verba med. ي the uncontracted forms are more common, but still rare; as مَزُونٌ, مَدِينٌ, مَخْبُوطٌ, مَبِينٌ, مَقْبُولٌ, مَقْبُولٌ, مَقْبُولٌ, مَقْبُولٌ, مَقْبُولٌ, مَقْبُولٌ, etc.

242. Verbal adjectives of the form فَعِيلٌ, derived from verba mediæ rad. و et ي, become by transposition فَعِيلٌ, and then pass into فَيْلٌ, which is in its turn frequently shortened into فَيْلٌ. E.g. مَيِّتٌ

B or مَيِّتٌ, dead, for مَيِّتٌ, مَيِّتٌ (مَاتَ); [فَعِيلٌ dependent for sustenance, for فَعِيلٌ (عَالَ)]; هَيِّنٌ or لَيِّنٌ, soft, easy, for لَيِّنٌ, لَيِّنٌ (لَانَ); نَيِّبٌ or هَيِّنٌ, easy, contemptible (هَوِينٌ); نَيِّبٌ or نَيِّفٌ, exceeding (نَوَيْفٌ); نَيِّبٌ, good (نَوَيْبٌ); نَيِّبٌ, clear (نَوَيْبٌ); نَيِّبٌ, wicked (سَوِيٌّ); نَيِّبٌ, straight, right, tall, (نَوَيْبٌ). The verb قَامَ has قَوِيٌّ in the sense of straight, right, tall, and قَيِّمٌ in that of having charge of, managing.

243. Verbal adjectives from the derived forms of verba mediæ rad. و et ي follow the same rules as their Imperfects.

REM. The learner should observe that the participles of III. and VI. of verba med. ي are written and pronounced with ي, and on no account with hêmza; e.g. مَبِينٌ, مَبِينٌ, like مَبِينٌ, مَبِينٌ, and not مَبِينٌ, مَبِينٌ.

D 244. The nomina agentis et patientis of the first form of verba ultimæ rad. و et ي have already been mentioned (§ 167, b, β, and § 170). Verbal adjectives of the forms فَعُولٌ and فَعِيلٌ are treated according to the same rules as the nomina patientis (§ 170); e.g. عَدُوٌّ hostile, an enemy, بَغِيٌّ a harlot, سَرِيٌّ generous, noble, صَبِيٌّ a boy, سَبِيٌّ captive, for عَدُوٌّ, بَغُوٌّ, سَرِيٌّ, صَبِيٌّ, سَبِيٌّ.

245. In all adjectives derived from verba tertiæ rad. و et ي, if the second radical be pronounced with fetha, the و and ي (which is converted into ي) reject their vowel or ténwin, and assume the nature of the ðlif maḳṣûra (§ 7, rem. b). If the form be one that admits of complete declension, the ténwin is transferred to the second radical. According to this rule are formed: (a) the nomina patientis of the derived forms, as مَوْتَى for مَوْتَى, مُعْطَى for مُعْطَى; (b) adjectives of the form أَفْعَلٌ, as أَرْمَى for أَرْمَى, أَبْكَى for أَبْكَى, أَرْضَى for أَرْضَى (أَرْضُوْ), أَحْلَى for أَحْلَى (أَحْلُوْ). Compare § 167, a, β, a, and b, β.

b. THE DENOMINATIVE NOUNS.

(a) The Nomina Unitatis or Nouns that denote the Individual.

246. The أَسْمَاءُ الْوَحْدَةِ, or nouns of individuality, designate one individual out of a genus, or one part of a whole that consists of several similar parts. They are formed, like the analogous nomina vicis (§ 219), by adding the termination ة to the nouns that express the genus or whole. E.g. حَمَامَةٌ a pigeon (male or female), from حَمَامٌ pigeons, with the article, الْحَمَامُ, the genus pigeon or the whole number of pigeons spoken of; بَطَّةٌ a duck or drake, from بَطٌّ the duck; بَقْرَةٌ one head of cattle (bull or cow), from بَقَرٌ cattle; ثَمْرَةٌ a fruit, from ثَمَرٌ fruit; تَمْرَةٌ a date, from تَمْرٌ dates; بَصَلَةٌ an onion, from بَصَلٌ the onion; ذَهَبَةٌ a bit of gold, a nugget, from ذَهَبٌ gold; تَبْنَةٌ a straw, from تَبْنٌ straw.*

REM. a. The use of the nom. unit. is almost entirely restricted, as the above examples show, to created things or natural objects. D

* [A peculiar application of the اِسْمُ الْوَحْدَةِ is its use for a dish or portion of any food, as اُرْزَةٌ a dish of rice, سَكَّةٌ a dish of fish (ðl-Mubarrad 173, l. 4), لَحْمَةٌ a portion of meat, جُبْنَةٌ a portion of cheese, etc. Comp. Gloss. Fragm. Add. 129. This ة is called اِلْتِمَاذٌ لِلتَّخْصِيصِ (Zamahsari, Fa'ik, i. 331, 417, ii. 323. D. G.]

A Examples of artificial or manufactured objects are very rare; e.g. كِبْنَةٌ or لِبْنَةٌ a brick, from كَبِنٌ or لَبِنٌ bricks; سَفِينَةٌ a ship or boat, from سَفِينٌ shipping, boats.

REM. b. Similar forms in Heb. are: נֶזֶדָה, שִׁעָרָה; שִׁעָרָה, שִׁעָרָה; שִׁירָה, שִׁירָה; שִׁירָה, שִׁירָה.

(β) The Nomina Abundantiae vel Multitudinis.

B 247. The أَسْمَاءُ الْكَثْرَةِ, or nouns of abundance, designate the place where the object signified by the noun from which they are formed, is found in large numbers or quantities. They have the form مَفْعَلَةٌ, and are, consequently, a mere variety of the nouns of place (§ 221). E.g. مَأْسَدَةٌ, مَذْبَعَةٌ, مَسْبَعَةٌ a place abounding in lions (أَسَدٌ), wolves (ذئبٌ), beasts of prey (سَيْحٌ); مَنْحَوَاءٌ or مَنْحِيَاءٌ, مَنْحَوَاءٌ, a place abounding in snakes (حَيَّةٌ), vipers (أَفْعَى); مَنْقَاةٌ, مَنْبَطَخَةٌ, a bed of melons (بَطِيخٌ), cucumbers (قَيْثَاءٌ); مَرْمَنَةٌ, a place where pomegranates (رَمَانٌ) grow abundantly.

REM. a. From quadrilaterals this formation is rare; as مَنْعَلَةٌ, مَعْقَرَةٌ, a place abounding in foxes (عَقْرَبٌ, عَقْرَبٌ), scorpions (عَقْرَبٌ).

REM. b. Sometimes the fem. participle of the fourth form is used in this sense, with or without أَرْضٌ; as مُجْعَلَةٌ, مُضَبَّةٌ, (a place) abounding in lizards (ضَبٌّ), black beetles (جَعَلٌ), مُقْتَنَةٌ (a spot)

D producing cucumbers. Similarly from quadrilaterals, مَعْقَرَةٌ, مَنْعَلَةٌ, مَعْقَرَةٌ, مَوْزَنَةٌ (a place) abounding in foxes, scorpions, chameleons (حِرْبَاءٌ), hares. Also from XII. مُغْلَوْنَةٌ (a spot) producing many trees.

REM. c. The use of nouns of the form مَفْعَلَةٌ to indicate the cause of a certain state or feeling, is only a tropical application of their ordinary meaning; as أَوْلَادٌ مَجْنُونَةٌ مَبْخَلَةٌ children are a cause of cowardice and niggardliness (in their parents); مَطِيْبَةٌ, مَحْسَنَةٌ, A مَحْسَنَةٌ, a cause of good health, joy or happiness, evil or ill-feeling; مَجْلَبَةٌ لِلسَّقَامِ a cause of bringing on or producing disease; مُفَوِّدَةٌ إِلَى الْأَدَى joking leads to annoyances; and the like.

(γ) The Nomina Vasis or Nouns denoting the Vessel which contains anything.

248. The nomina vasis, أَسْمَاءُ الْوَعَاءِ, have the same form as the nomina instrumenti (§ 228); e.g. مِئْبَرَةٌ a needle-case, from إِبْرَةٌ a needle; B مِخْلَبٌ a milk-pail, from حَلَبٌ or حَلِيبٌ milk; مِخْلَبٌ a milk-pail, from مِخْلَبٌ milk, or a brick-mould, from لِبْنَةٌ a brick; مِوَالَةٌ a urinal, from بَوْلٌ urine; مِزْرَقَةٌ a spittoon, from بُرَاقٌ saliva.

REM. A very few take the form مَفْعَلَةٌ or مُفْعَلَةٌ (see § 228, rem.); as مُدَهْنَةٌ or مُدَهْنَةٌ an oil-jar, from دُهْنٌ oil; مُحْرَضَةٌ = مُحْرَضَةٌ a vessel for keeping حُرْضٌ, i.e. the plants from which alkali or potash is obtained; مُحْكَلَةٌ a phial for keeping كُهْلٌ or eye-salve C (كُحْلٌ), to be carefully distinguished from مِخْلٌ, the mil (مِيل) or instrument with which it is applied to the eye.

(δ) The Nomina Relativa or Relative Adjectives.

249. The relative adjectives, الْأَسْمَاءُ الْمَنْسُوبَةُ, or simply النِّسَبَاتُ (relations), are formed by adding the termination يٌّ to the words D from which they are derived, and denote that a person or thing belongs to or is connected therewith (in respect of origin, family, birth, sect, trade, etc.). E.g. أَرْضِيٌّ earthly, from أَرْضٌ the earth; شَمْسِيٌّ solar, from شَمْسٌ the sun; جَوِّيٌّ aerial, from جَوْ the air, the sky; حَسَنِيٌّ descended from el-Hasan (أَلْحَسَنُ); تَمِيمِيٌّ belonging to the tribe of Temim (تَمِيمٌ); دِمَشْقِيٌّ born or living at Damascus (دِمَشْقٌ);

A مِصْرِيٌّ Egyptian, from مِصْرُ Egypt; سَعْدِيٌّ a freedman of Sa'd (سَعْدٌ);
 عَلِيٌّ scientific, from عِلْمٌ knowledge, science; حِسِّيٌّ relating to sense
 (حِسٌّ), perceptible by one of the senses; عَقْلِيٌّ intellectual, from عَقْلٌ the intellect; شَرْعِيٌّ legal, legitimate, from شَرَعٌ the law; عُرْفِيٌّ according to common use and wont (عُرْفٌ); قِيَّاسِيٌّ according to analogy (قِيَاسٌ); مَجُوسِيٌّ belonging to, or one of, the Magūs or fire-worshippers
 B (الْمَجُوسِ); مَالِكِيٌّ belonging to, or one of, the sect of Mālik (مَالِكٌ); طَوِيلِيٌّ from طَوِيلٌ long; خَيْرِيٌّ from خَيْرٌ good; إِنِّي from إِنَّ truly, verily.

REM. a. The nomina relativa are chiefly formed from substantives and adjectives, but in more modern Arabic, and especially in the language of the schools, also from the other kinds of nouns, and even from particles (see § 191).

C REM. b. The nomina relativa derived from adjectives properly express "belonging to the class designated by such and such an adjective." [However, in such words as أَخْمَرِيٌّ, خَارِجِيٌّ, أَتَادِيٌّ, قَوَارِيٌّ the termination يٌّ has, according to some, a corroborative or intensifying force (لِلْمَبَالَغَةِ). D. G.]

D REM. c. This termination is common in Heb. (m. יִי, f. יִיָּ) and תִי), as יִשְׂרָאֵלִי Israelite, לְבָרִי Hebrew, נְכַרִי strange. In Æthiopic, ī is generally used to form certain adjectives which are derived from other adjectives, as ሐራሲ: (ḥarrāsī) a ploughman, መሐራ: (mahḥārī) compassionate, from the obsolete ሐራሲ: (= ሐራሲ, ሐራሲ) and መሐራ:; whilst āwī and āy are the usual relative terminations, as ማድራዊ: (mēdrāwī) terrestrial, ክርስቲያንዊ: (krēstiyānāwī) Christian, አዋዊ: ('aiyāwī) or አዋይ: ('aiyāy) like (from አዋ: 'ay, of what kind? which?). The Aram. has the last of these forms, viz. ܐܘܝܐ, in general use; as ܡܘܨܪܝܐ Egyptian, ܡܘܨܪܝܐ eastern.

250. In forming the nomina relativa, the primitive nouns undergo A various changes in regard to the auxiliary consonants, to the final radicals و and ي, and to the vocalisation.

I. Changes of the Auxiliary Consonants.

251. The feminine terminations ـة, ـية, and ـية are rejected; as مَكَّة Məkkā, مَكِّيٌّ مَكِّيٌّ الَبَصْرَةُ Ḥ-Baṣra, بَصْرِيٌّ; الْكُوفَةُ Ḥ-Kūfa, كُوفِيٌّ; مَلَطِيَّةٌ Malatya, مَلَطِيٌّ مَلَطِيَّةٌ Sicily, صِقِلِيٌّ; صِقِلِيَّةٌ إفريقيا, إِفْرِيقِيَّةٌ Africa, إِفْرِيقِيٌّ; أَلْسِنَةُ the corpus of traditions relating to the ways and habits of Muḥammad, سَنِيٌّ; [الشَّيْخَةُ the party of Alī, شَيْخِيٌّ]; الْقِبْلَةُ the kibla or direction of Məkkā, to which the Muslim turns in praying, قِبْلِيٌّ; كَوَّةٌ a window, كَوِّيٌّ; خَاصَّةٌ refined, عَامِيَّةٌ vulgar, from الْخَاصَّةُ distinguished persons, the higher classes, and الْعَامَّةُ the common people, the vulgar; رَنْةٌ a promise, عِدِّيٌّ; رَنْةٌ weight, مِيزَانِيٌّ. C

REM. In the case of nouns which, like عِدَّةٌ, have lost their first radical, if the third radical be a weak letter, the first ought to be restored and the second to take fetha; as شَيْخَةٌ (from وَشَى), [وَشَوِيٌّ] or [وَشَوِيٌّ] (on the second و see §§ 258 and foll.). The forms وَشِيٌّ [or وَشِيٌّ] are mentioned by the grammarians, and also the very irregular عِدَوِيٌّ from عِدَّةٌ, [and شَيْخِيٌّ from شَيْخَةٌ (Ḥammād in 'Anbarī's Nozhat Ḥ-alibba 52. D. G.). D

252. 1, (a) The feminine termination ـية is rejected in nouns that have four or more letters, besides the ي; as حُبَارِيٌّ a bustard, جُمَادِيٌّ جُمَادِيٌّ Gumādā, the name of two months, جُمَادِيٌّ. (b) But if the nouns ending in ـية fem. have only three letters besides the

* [Lane has شَيْخِيٌّ; of this form, however, only a single instance has been mentioned in the T. A. D. G.]

- A ى, two cases are to be distinguished. (a) If the second letter has a vowel, the ى is rejected; as جَمَزَى a swift ass, جَمَزَى; بَرْدَى Barudā, the name of a river, بَرْدَى. (β) If the second letter is without a vowel, the ى may either be rejected (which is preferable), or changed into و; as حَبَلَى pregnant, حَبَلَى or حَبَلَوَى; قُرْبَى relationship, قُرْبَى or قُرْبَوَى; دُنْيَا the (present) world, دُنْيَى or دُنْيَوَى.—
- 2, (a) The letter ى is likewise rejected in nouns that contain four or more letters besides the ى, if it belongs neither to the root nor to the feminine termination, but is what the Arab grammarians call أَلِفُ الْإِلْحَاقِ or the appended elif (i. e. which serves to give to the word to which it is appended the form of a quadriliteral or quinqueliteral word, e. g. دِفْرَى to give it the form of دِرْفَمَرَى; قُبَاةَ to assimilate it to قُبَاةَ); as حَبْرَكَى a bug or tick, حَبْرَكَى; قَبْعَتْرَى a big, stout camel, قَبْعَتْرَى; as حَبْرَكَى a bug or tick, حَبْرَكَى; قَبْعَتْرَى a big, stout camel, قَبْعَتْرَى; بَابِلَى or بَابِلَى, the bean, بَابِلَى or بَابِلَى. (b) But if such
- C nouns have only three letters besides the ى, it may either be changed into و (which is preferable), or rejected altogether; as عَلَقَى a sort of heath, عَلَقَوَى or عَلَقَى; أَرْطَى a sort of shrub or small tree, أَرْطَوَى.

REM. In 1, b, β, and 2 b, a third form is admissible, viz. دُنْيَاةَى as حَبَلَاوَى, قُرْبَاوَى, دُنْيَاوَى, عَلَقَاوَى, أَرْطَاوَى; but دُنْيَاةَى with hêmza, is a vulgarism.

- D 253. The terminations ى and ة of relative adjectives fall away when new relative adjectives are to be formed from them; as جَعْفَى belonging to Makkî, جَعْفَى (جَعْفَى, names of men); سَافَى a Sāfi'ite, one of the sect of es-Sāfi'i (السَّافَى); مَرَى belonging to Almeria (الْمَرِيَّة) in Spain; إِسْكَندَرَى a native of Alexandria (الإِسْكَندَرِيَّة). Similarly, from substantives like كُرْسَى a chair, a seat, and بَرْدَى a bullrush, the relative adjectives are كُرْسَى and بَرْدَى.

254. The plural terminations ُونَ and َاتُ, and the dual termination َانِ, are rejected; as اِثْنَانِ two, اِثْنَانِ relating to two, dualistic; اِثْنَانِ the two harams (or sacred territories of Mekka and el-Medina), اِثْنَانِ; قَيْسَانِ two men named Kais, قَيْسَانِ; اَلْمُسْلِمُونَ the Muslims, اَلْمُسْلِمُونَ; زَيْدُونَ men of the name of Zaid, زَيْدُونَ; مُسْلِمِيَّاتُ women of the name of Hind, مُسْلِمِيَّاتُ; عَرَفَاتُ Arafāt, the name of a place, عَرَفَاتُ.

REM. a. It need hardly be remarked that this rule does not apply to proper names ending in َانُ and ُونَ, as عِمْرَانُ Imrān, زَيْدُونِ Zaidūn, حَلِيلَانِ Halīlān, عِمْرَانِيَّاتُ.

REM. b. It is only in later times that such forms are possible as عِشْرِينِيَّاتُ from عِشْرُونَ twenty, instead of عِشْرِيَّاتُ, from عِشْرِينَ, plur. of مِئَةٌ a hundred, for مِئَوِيَّاتُ dualistic, from اِثْنَانِ two, instead of اِثْنَوِيَّاتُ or اِثْنِيَّاتُ.

REM. c. Foreign names of towns, ending in بَيْنُ, sometimes change this termination in Arabic into ُونَ at other times retain it. In the former case the termination is rejected, in the latter it is preserved; as قَنْسَرِيَّاتُ Qansarīn, قَنْسَرُونَ Qansarūn, but قَنْسَرِيَّاتُ Qansarīn; يَبْرُونِ Yabrūn, يَبْرُونِ Yabrūn, but يَبْرُونِ Yabrūn.

REM. d. Some proper names, chiefly foreign, are very irregular in their formations; e. g. دَارَانِيَّاتُ Dārānī, دَارَانِيَّاتُ Dārānī; بَحْرَانِيَّاتُ Bahrānī, بَحْرَانِيَّاتُ Bahrānī; بَغْشُورِيَّاتُ Baghshūr, بَغْشُورِيَّاتُ Baghshūr; رَاوِيَّاتُ Rāwī, رَاوِيَّاتُ Rāwī; سِجِسْتَانِيَّاتُ Sijisṭān, سِجِسْتَانِيَّاتُ Sijisṭān; مَرْوِيَّاتُ Mārw, مَرْوِيَّاتُ Mārw; أَذْرَبَيْجَانِيَّاتُ Adzribājan, أَذْرَبَيْجَانِيَّاتُ Adzribājan; طَبْرِيَّاتُ Tiberias, طَبْرِيَّاتُ Tiberias; طَبْرِيَّاتُ Tiberias, طَبْرِيَّاتُ Tiberias; أَذْرَبِيَّاتُ or أَذْرَبِيَّاتُ Adzribī. We may, however, use حَمِيرِيَّاتُ Hamīrī, حَمِيرِيَّاتُ Hamīrī; حَرَانِيَّاتُ or حَرَانِيَّاتُ Harān.—حَرَانِيَّاتُ Harān makes either حَرَانِيَّاتُ or حَرَانِيَّاتُ.

A II. Changes of the Final Radicals و and ی.

258. The klif maḥṣūra (l or ی, § 7, rem. b), as the third radical of a triliteral noun, is changed into و before adding the termination ی: as عَصَوِيٌّ a staff, رَحَوِيٌّ a mill, قَتَوِيٌّ a youth; قَدَوِيٌّ a mote. But if the noun has four letters, the final ی (l does not occur in such words in good Arabic) may either be changed B into و, which is the better form, or be rejected; as أَعْمَى purblind, مَلَبِيٌّ or مَلَبَوِيٌّ play, or مَلَبِيٌّ a musical instrument, مَعْنَى meaning, مَعْنَوِيٌّ or مَعْنِيٌّ. If the noun contains five or more letters, the ی is always rejected; as مُصْطَفَى chosen.—The same rules apply to the final ی of radicals tertiæ و et ی, which falls away in some nouns after kèra (see § 167, b, β); but it must be borne in mind that the missing ی is to be counted as one of the letters C of the word, and also, if it be changed into و, that the kèra always becomes fetha. E.g. عَمِيٌّ (for عَمِيٌّ) blind, سَجِيٌّ (for سَجِيٌّ) sorrowful, قَاضِيٌّ (for قَاضِيٌّ) a judge, مُسْتَعْلِيٌّ (for مُسْتَعْلِيٌّ) for مُسْتَعْلِيٌّ (for مُسْتَعْلِيٌّ), مُسْتَعْلِيٌّ (for مُسْتَعْلِيٌّ).

REM. a. The addition of the feminine termination ة does not D affect the rule of formation; as دَوَاةٌ an inkhorn or writing-case, حَمَوِيٌّ one who carries an inkhorn; حَمَاءٌ Hamā (חממת), حَانَاةٌ a district in Palestine, شَرَوِيٌّ a ladder, مِرْقَوِيٌّ a wine-shop, or حَانَوِيٌّ or حَانِيٌّ a vintner.

REM. b. Such forms as دَوَوِيٌّ for دَوَوِيٌّ, مَعْنَوَوِيٌّ for مَعْنَوَوِيٌّ, and مُصْطَفَوَوِيٌّ for مُصْطَفَوَوِيٌّ, are modern and corrupt.

259. The hèmza of the termination ة (the klif maddada, § 23, A rem. a), is always changed into و; as عُذْرَاءٌ a virgin, بَيْضَاءٌ Zachariah, زَكَرِيَّاءٌ. But in the termination ة, whether the hèmza be sprung from an original radical و or ی, or be not a radical but merely the so-called هَمْزَةُ الْإِلْحَاقِ (see § 252, 2, a), it may either be retained unaltered (which is better) or be changed into و; as تَاةٌ the letter B كِسَائِيٌّ, رِدَائِيٌّ, تَائِيٌّ, كِسَاءٌ a garment, رِدَاءٌ a robe, سَمَاءٌ the heaven, سَمَائِيٌّ, or تَاوِيٌّ, سَمَائِيٌّ, رِدَائِيٌّ, كِسَائِيٌّ; عِلْبَاءٌ a large sinew in the neck, حِرْبَاءٌ a male chameleon, بَاقِلَاءٌ the bean, عِلْبَائِيٌّ, حِرْبَائِيٌّ, بَاقِلَائِيٌّ, or عِلْبَوِيٌّ, حِرْبَوِيٌّ, بَاقِلَوِيٌّ. On the contrary, if the hèmza be an original أ, it always remains unaltered; as قُرَائِيٌّ (rad. قُرَاءٌ).

REM. The termination ة is very rarely dropped in proper C names; as حَرُورِيٌّ, جَلُولِيٌّ.—In a few cases too the letter ن is substituted for the hèmza; as رُوحَاءٌ (a place), رُوحَانِيٌّ (a city in el-Yemèn), بَهْرَانِيٌّ (a tribe), بَهْرَانِيٌّ; with which compare the Hebrew forms בְּהַרְיָה, בְּהַרְיָה, from בְּהַרְיָה.

260. Primitive defective substantives, i.e. those which have lost D their third weak radical,—as أَبٌ, خَمْرٌ, نَفْعٌ, etc.,—necessarily recover it only in cases where it reappears in the dual and plural; but if this reappearance be not necessary, the third radical may be omitted in the relative adjective. In all cases where the third radical is restored, it appears as و, whether it was originally ی or not. E.g. أَبٌ (for أَبُو, dual أَبَوَانِ) a father, أَخٌ (for أَخُو, du. أَخَوَانِ) a brother, أَخَوِيٌّ (for أَخُو) a husband's father or brother, أَخَوِيٌّ;

A مَثَّةٌ (rad. ثَوَى) the gum, ثَوَى; لُغَةٌ (rad. لَغُو) a dialect, لُغَوَى; ثَمَّةٌ (rad. ثَمَى) a hundred, مَثَوَى; أَمَةٌ (rad. اَمَو) a female slave, أَمَوَى; سَنَةٌ (rad. سَنَو) a year, سَنَوَى; ابْنٌ (for بَنَى, du. ابْنَانِ) a son, ابْنَوَى or ابْنَوَى; اسْمٌ (rad. سَمَو) a name, اسْمَوَى or اسْمَوَى (from سَمَر); يَدٌ (rad. يَدَى) a hand, يَدَوَى or يَدَوَى; دَمٌ (rad. دَمَى) blood, دَمَوَى or دَمَوَى; غَدٌ (rad. غَدَى) tomorrow, غَدَوَى or غَدَوَى.

REM. a. أُخْتٌ, a sister, and بِنْتُ, a daughter, make أُخْتَوَى and بِنْتَوَى, as well as أُخْوَى and بِنْوَى.—شَفَةٌ, a lip, has the three forms شَفَوَى, شَفَوَى, or شَفَوَى; حِرٌّ, vulva, makes حِرْوَى or حِرْوَى (from حَرَجَ); شَاءٌ (شَاءَ) has شَاءَوَى, شَاهَوَى and شَاهَوَى (حَرَجَ).

REM. b. Where the original form was فَعَلَ, some retain the gèzm; as حِرْوَى, دَمَوَى, يَدَوَى.

261. The third radical و or ي of the forms فَعَلَ and فَعَلَةٌ is retained unchanged; as نَحْوٌ grammar, نَحْوَوَى a grammarian; ظَبِيٌّ a gazelle, ظَبِيَّوَى; غَزْوَةٌ a foray, غَزْوَوَى; رِشْوَةٌ a bribe, رِشْوَوَى; عُرْوَةٌ a handle, عُرْوَوَى; قَرْيَةٌ a village, قَرْيَوَى; دُمِيَّةٌ an image, دُمِيَّوَى. But

D if the final ي of فَعَلَةٌ be changed into و, the second radical takes fetha, as قَرْيَوَى, دَمَوَى, يَدَوَى, from قَرْيَةٌ, دُمِيَّةٌ, and قَرْيَةٌ a possessum; a rule which is extended by some to words in which the third radical was originally و, as عُرْوَوَى, رِشْوَوَى, غَزْوَوَى, etc.—If the second radical in such nouns be a و or ي, combining with the third radical into وَي, this وَي is resolved into its original consonants, the second radical takes fetha, and final ي is converted into و; as طَوِيٌّ (for طَوَى) a fold, طَوَوَى; حَيٌّ (for حَيَى) living, حَيَوَى; حَيٌّ a twist or turn, لَوَوَى; حَيَّةٌ a snake, حَيَوَى.—In words of the form أ فَعَالَةٌ, final و is retained, as شَقَاوَةٌ misery, شَقَاوَى; but final ي is changed into hémza, as سَقَايَةٌ a drinking-vessel, سَقَايَوَى, عَطَايَةٌ a sort of lizard, عَطَايَوَى.—Words of the form آيَةٌ a sign, آيَوَى a place where cattle, etc., rest at night, آيَوَى a banner, آيَوَى, آيَوَى, or آيَوَى, etc.

REM. a. بَدْوٌ, a desert, makes irregularly بَدَوَى (instead of بَدَوَى) an inhabitant of the desert, a Bédawi.

REM. b. Nouns of the forms فَعِيلٌ, فَعِيلَةٌ, فَعِيلٌ, etc. from verba tertiae rad. و et ي, reject the ي productionis and change a radical ي into و; as غَنَوَى: غَنَوَى (a town), غَنَوَى; ضَرَوَى; قَصَى; ضَرَوَى; غَنَوَى: غَنَوَى (rarely أَمَوَى, and, though very incorrectly, أَمَوَى). See §§ 255-6.

III. Changes in the Vocalisation.

262. In the forms فَعِلٌ and فَعِلَةٌ, the kèsra of the middle radical is changed into fetha; as مَلِكٌ a king, مَلِكِيٌّ the liver, كَبِدِيٌّ; شَقْرِيٌّ (a tribe), شَقْرِيٌّ; نَمْرِيٌّ, صَدْفِيٌّ, أَلْبَدِيٌّ (tribes), أَلْبَدِيٌّ. So also in دَوَلِيٌّ (a tribe), دَوَلِيٌّ. But in فَعِلٌ, the kèsra may be retained, as إِبِلِيٌّ camels, إِبِلِيٌّ or إِبِلِيٌّ.

REM. In nouns that consist of more than three consonants, the vowel of the penultimate letter is not altered. From تَغْلِبٌ (a tribe) and يَثْرِبٌ (the ancient name of el-Medina) the forms تَغْلِبِيٌّ and يَثْرِبِيٌّ are admissible, though تَغْلِبِيٌّ and يَثْرِبِيٌّ are preferred; أَتَبَجَانِيٌّ makes أَتَبَجَانِيٌّ; مَنِيحٌ makes مَنِيحِيٌّ; أَتَبَجَانِيٌّ, as well as مَنِيحِيٌّ.

A 263. Kāra or damma of the penultimate consonant is changed into fetha in all forms in which a و or ی has been rejected, or in which a final ی has been changed into و; as جَزْرِي، الْجَزِيرَةُ; غِنِي، جَزْرِي، الْجَزِيرَةُ; غِنِي (see the preceding §).

REM. Of rare and arbitrary changes, such as بُصْرِي from أَلْبَصْرَةُ، دَهْرِي from أَلْحَرَمُ the sacred territory of Mēkka، ذَهْرِي from ذَهْرُ time، اَمْسِي from اَمْسٍ yesterday, a grammar can take no account.

264. If a relative adjective is to be formed from a proper name which is compounded of two words, the following points must be attended to.—A. If the two words form a proposition (مُرَكَّبٌ اِسْنَادِيٌّ) or (تَرْكِيْبٌ اِسْنَادِيٌّ), as تَأْتَبُ شَرًّا (he carried mischief under his arm, the nickname of a celebrated poet and warrior), بَرَقَ نَحْرُهُ (his throat shone)*—or are contracted into one compound word (مُرَكَّبٌ مَزْجِيٌّ), mixed compound) as مَعْدِيكَرْبٌ, a man's name, قَالِيْقَلَا، بَعْلَبَكْ، the towns of Ba'albēk and Kālīkalā,—then the second word is omitted, and the termination يُّ appended to the first; as مَعْدِيٌّ، بَرَقِيٌّ، تَأْتَبِيٌّ، قَالِيٌّ.—B. If the first word is in the status constructus, governing the second in the genitive, two cases arise. (1) If the governing word be one of the nouns اَبٌ father، اِبْنٌ son، اُمٌّ mother، or بِنْتٌ daughter, it is rejected, and يُّ appended to the governed word; as اَبُو بَكْرِيٌّ، اِبْنُ الزَّيْبِرِ، اَبُو بَيْهَسٍ، اَبُو بَيْهَسٍ، اَبُو حَنِيفَةَ، اِبْنُ الزَّيْبِرِ، اَبُو بَيْهَسٍ، اَبُو بَيْهَسٍ، اَبُو حَنِيفَةَ، اَبُو حَنِيفَةَ، اَبُو حَنِيفَةَ. (2) If the first word be any other than these four, two secondary cases arise. (a) If the idea of definiteness through the status constructus still exists in the consciousness of the speaker,—as in غُلَامٌ حُسَيْنٍ، the slave of Hosdīn,—the first word is rejected, and the second takes يُّ; as حُسَيْنِيٌّ. (b) But if the idea of definiteness is no longer present to the mind of the speaker, then: (a) in cases where no uncertainty can arise as to the person intended, يُّ is attached to the first word, and the second is omitted; as فَخْرٌ اَلدِّيْنِ، عُبَيْدِيٌّ، عُبَيْدُ اَللّٰهِ، نِظَامِيٌّ، نِظَامُ اَلْمَلِكِ، تَقْوِيٌّ، تَقِيُّ اَلدِّيْنِ، فَخْرِيٌّ، تَيْمِيٌّ، تَيْمَرُ اَللَّاتِ، اَنْفِيٌّ (Camel's-nose, nickname of a man)، اَنْفُ اَلنَّاقَةِ، عَبْدِيٌّ، عَبْدُ اَلْقَيْسِ، مَرْوِيٌّ or اِمْرِيٌّ، اِمْرُو اَلْقَيْسِ، سَعْدِيٌّ، سَعْدُ اَلْعَشِيْرَةِ، [وَادِيٌّ، وَادِيُّ اَلْقَرْيِ]; but (β) if uncertainty might arise by so doing, the first is omitted, and the termination added to the second; as وَادِيٌّ، مَنَايِيٌّ، عَبْدُ مَنَابٍ، اَشْهَلِيٌّ، عَبْدُ اَلْاَشْهَلِ، مُطَلَبِيٌّ، عَبْدُ اَلْمُطَلَبِ، اَزْدٌ شَنْوَةٌ، حِجَارِيٌّ، اَلْحِجَارَةُ، شَنْوَةٌ (from the assimilated form شَنْوِيٌّ or شَنْوِيٌّ).

REM. a. In the case of the مُرَكَّبَاتٌ مَزْجِيَّةٌ، some allow a double formation, from both parts of the word; e.g. from رَامِرْمُرٌ، رَامِيٌّ هُرْمِيٌّ. In later times it became very common to form the nisba from the whole compound word, as رَامِرْمُرِيٌّ، بَعْلَبَكِيٌّ; and this license was extended to innumerable names which fall under the class B. For example: from بَيْتٌ سَوَانِيٌّ بَيْتٌ سَوَا، with the article تَلْعُكْبِرِيٌّ، تَلُّ مَنَسٍ and تَلُّ عُكْبَرَا، اَلْبَيْتُ سَوَانِيٌّ; from دَارُ قَطْنِيٌّ، دَارُ اَلْقَطْنِ، عَيْنُ زَرْبِيٌّ، عَيْنُ زَرْبِيٌّ، تَلْمَسِيٌّ; from مَرُوُّ اَلرُّودِ، نَهْرُ تَيْرِيٌّ، نَهْرُ تَيْرِيٌّ، دَيْرُ اَلْعَاقُولِ، دَيْرُ اَلْعَاقُولِ، مَرُوُّ رُوْدِيٌّ; from وَادِيٌّ اَشِيٌّ، وَادِيٌّ اَشِيٌّ، Guadix in Spain، وَادِيٌّ اَشِيٌّ; from تَاخُ مَلِكِيٌّ، تَاخُ اَلْمَلِكِ، عَبْدُ مَلِكِيٌّ، عَبْدُ اَلْمَلِكِ. To this stage of the language, too, belong such words as دُونِيٌّ from دُوُّ اَلنَّوْنِ (a

A family in Spain); ^{أبو مالك} from ^{بومالك}; ^{بلعدوية} a woman of the Bēnū 'Adī (§ 21, c, footn.); ^{بوجدي} an ignoramus (Fr. abbécatoire), from ^{ابجد} 'abjūd', the first four letters of the alphabet (§ 32).

REM. b. In many cases falling under B, 2, b, a and β, strange forms arise by the rejection of some consonants, or the combination into one word of a few letters (generally four) selected from the two nouns. E.g. ^{حَضْرَمَوْت} from ^{حَضْرَمِي} Hadramaut; ^{عَبْدِي}

B from ^{عَبْدُ الدَّارِ} (a family in Mēkka); ^{عَبْدُ الْقَيْسِ} from ^{عَبْدِي} (a tribe); ^{عَبْدُ شَيْبِ} from ^{عَبْدِي} (a tribe); ^{رَأْسُ عَيْنِ} from ^{رَسْعِي} Rās-ain; ^{شَبْرِي} from ^{شَبْرِي} (a village in Egypt); ^{طَبْرِسْتَانِ}, the name of a poet, whose mother was from ^{طَبْرِسْتَانِ}, and his father from ^{خَوَارِزْمِ}.

265. A relative adjective is never formed, in classical Arabic, from the plural, even where the sense might seem to demand it, but C always from the singular; e.g. ^{قَرَضِي} acquainted with the divine institutions, from ^{قَرِيضَةٌ}, plur. ^{قَرَائِضُ}; ^{حَصِيرِي} a seller of mats, from ^{حَصِيرٌ}, plur. ^{حَصَرٌ}; ^{صَحِيحِي} one who makes mistakes in reading manuscript, also a learner or student, from ^{صَحِيفَةٌ} a written sheet, a letter, a book, plur. ^{صُحُفٌ} or ^{صَحَائِفٌ}. Such plurals, however, as are either really proper names, or approximate to them in sense, are excepted; D e.g. ^{أَنْمَارٌ} (plur. of ^{نَمْرٌ} a leopard) the tribe of 'Anmār, ^{أَنْمَارِي}; ^{كِلَابٌ} (plur. of ^{كَلْبٌ} a dog), the tribe of Kilāb, ^{كِلَابِي}; ^{هَوَازِنٌ} (a tribe), ^{هَوَازِينِي}; ^{مَعَاظِرٌ} (a tribe), ^{مَعَاظِرِي}; ^{أَلْمَدَائِنُ} (the name of a city, Ctesiphon, properly the plur. of ^{مَدِينَةٌ}), ^{أَلْمَدَائِنِي}; ^{أَلْأَنْصَارُ} the Helpers (of Muḥammad, epithet of the tribes of el-'Aus, and el-Hazraǧ, ^{أَلْأَنْصَارِي}, at el-Medina), ^{أَلْأَنْصَارِي}; ^{أَلْأَعْرَابُ} the Arabs of the desert,

^{أَعْرَابِي}; ^{أَخْلَافِي} the confederate tribes, ^{أَخْلَافِي}, as 'Omar is called in a A tradition; ^{أَبْنَاوِي} the Persian colonists in el-Yemen, ^{أَبْنَاوِي}. D. G.]

REM. In more modern Arabic, on the contrary, a host of relative adjectives are formed from the plurals of nouns that indicate the object with which a person usually occupies himself in his trade, studies, etc. E.g. ^{أَنْمَاطِي} (plur. of ^{نَمِطٌ}) rugs, ^{أَنْمَاطِي} a maker or seller of rugs; ^{كُتُبِي} (plur. of ^{كِتَابٌ}) books, ^{كُتُبِي} a bookseller; ^{حُصَرِي} (plur. of ^{حَصِيرٌ}) mats, ^{حُصَرِي} a maker or seller of mats; ^{قَوَارِيرِي} (plur. of ^{قَارُورَةٌ}) glass bottles, ^{قَوَارِيرِي} a dealer in B bottles; ^{مَنَاجِلِي} (plur. of ^{مَنْجَلٌ}) sieves, ^{مَنَاجِلِي} a maker or seller of sieves; ^{سَاعَاتِي} (plur. of ^{سَاعَةٌ}) watches, ^{سَاعَاتِي} a watchmaker; ^{خَرَائِطِي} (plur. of ^{خَرِيطَةٌ}) pouches or bags, ^{خَرَائِطِي} one who makes or sells them; ^{جَرَائِحِي} (pl. of ^{جَرِيحَةٌ}) wounds, ^{جَرَائِحِي} a surgeon; ^{صِفَاتِي} (pl. of ^{صِفَةٌ}) qualities, attributes, ^{صِفَاتِي} one who recognises in God attributes distinct from C His essential nature; ^{فَرَأْنِصِي} = ^{فَرَضِي}; ^{صَحِيفِي} = ^{صَحِيفِي}.—Similar forms in Syriac, of early date, are ^{نِسْنَا}, belonging to women, from ^{نِسَاءٌ}, plur. of ^{نِسَاءٌ}, a woman, and ^{صَهْنَانَا} from ^{صَهْنَانَا}, plur. of ^{صَهْنَانَا}.

266. Biliteral particles may double their second consonant or D not, at pleasure, if it be a strong letter; as ^{كَمْ} how much? ^{كَمْ} or ^{كَمْ}; ^{لَمْ} not, ^{لَمْ} or ^{لَمْ}. But if the second consonant be weak, the opinions of grammarians differ. In the case of و, the simple doubling is permitted, as ^{لَوْوِي}; or else a fetha is inserted between the two waws, as ^{لَوَوِي}. In the case of ي, this latter form is alone admissible, the second ي being changed into و; as ^{كَيْوِي} that, ^{كَيْوِي} in,

A فِيَوْمِي. If the second letter be a quiescent šlif, there is inserted between it and the termination ي a hêmza, which may be changed into a w; as لَا not, لَاي or لَاوِي. The pronoun مَا what? forms مَاي and مَاي.

267. We have seen above (§§ 231, 232) that the termination ان or ان in adjectives is one of those which imply a certain degree of intensity; and a few examples of rarer forms may here be given, as جَلْبَان daring, reckless; صِفْتَان or صِفْتَان, strong, robust; جَلْبَان clamorous, vociferous; إِنْفِخَان corpulent; أَسْحَلَان or مُسْحَلَان tall or straight-haired; مَلَكْعَان vile, sordid; كُدْبَان and مَكْدَبَان or مَكْدَبَانَة, mendacious. Hence we may form from many nouns a relative adjective ending in انِي, as the grammarians say, تَأَكِيد to strengthen the relation; e.g. from مَنْظَر, aspect, appearance, the ordinary nisba is مَنْظَرِي, but مَنْظَرَانِي is = حَسَنُ الْمَنْظَرِ good-looking. So: شَعْرَانِي having much or long hair (شَعْر), رَقَبَانِي having a long beard (رَقَبَة), جِسْمَانِي having a large head of hair (جِسْمَة), رَقَبَانِي bull-necked (رَقَبَة the neck), جِسْمَانِي large in the body (جِسْم), إِنْفِخَانِي corpulent, إِسْحَلَانِي tall or long-bearded, مُسْحَلَانِي tall or straight-haired, حَوْصَلَانِي having a large crop or crow (حَوْصَلَة), نَفْسَانِي smiting with the evil eye (from نَفْس in the sense of eye), صَيْدَلَانِي or صَيْدَلَانِي a drugseller (from original صَنْدَلَانِي seller of sandalwood, Fleischer, Kl. Schr. i. 245, n. 1). D. G.] In later times this termination was more extensively employed, both in common speech and in scientific writings (in the latter, perhaps, under the influence of the Aramaic); e.g. فَاكِهَانِي a fruiterer, بَاقِلَانِي one who sells beans, بَاقِلَانِي or بَاقِلَانِي one who sells sesame, instead of فَاكِهِي, بَاقِلِي or

REM. A form expressing intensiveness, and applicable exclusively to the members of the body, is فُعَالِي; as رُؤَاسِي having a B large head; أُذَانِي, أُنَافِي, عُضَادِي, having a large or long nose, ears, arms; أُيَارِي, سُتَاهِي. Another rare form is exemplified by شَدَقَر and أَشْدَق = أَشْتَه.

(c) The Abstract Nouns of Quality, أَسْمَاءُ الْكَيْفِيَّةِ.

268. The feminine of the relative adjective serves in Arabic O as a noun to denote the abstract idea of the thing, as distinguished from the concrete thing itself; and also to represent the thing or things signified by the primitive noun as a whole or totality. It corresponds therefore to German substantives in heit, keit, schaft, thum, and to English ones in head, dom, ty, etc. E.g. أَلِلَهِيَّة [and أَلِلَهَانِيَّة D. G.] the divine nature, Godhead (أَلِلَه God); إِنْسَانِيَّة humanity (إِنْسَان a human being); الرُّبُوبِيَّة Lordship, Godhead (الرُّبُوب); وَصْفِيَّة, إِسْمِيَّة, رُجُولِيَّة, وَصْفِيَّة, إِسْمِيَّة, رُجُولِيَّة manhood; أَسْمِيَّة, رُجُولِيَّة, وَصْفِيَّة, إِسْمِيَّة, رُجُولِيَّة particularity [أَسْمِيَّة or رُجُولِيَّة]; أَسْمِيَّة, رُجُولِيَّة, وَصْفِيَّة, إِسْمِيَّة, رُجُولِيَّة substantivity, adjectivity, from أَسْم, a substantive, and وَصْف, an adjective; أَسْمِيَّة the belonging to the fully-inflected class (أَسْمِيَّة of nouns); مَاهِيَّة substance, quiddity (مَا what?); مَائِيَّة wateriness (مَاء water); جَمْعِيَّة totality; شَاعِرِيَّة what constitutes the being a poet, the poetic mind or temperament; مَفْهُومِيَّة the capability of being understood, intelligibility; أَحْفِيَّة what constitutes being a Handfite, the school of

A the Handites; اَلتَّصْرَانِيَّةُ Christendom, the Christian religion; اَلْيَهُودِيَّةُ Judaism.

REM. In a few cases the termination وت, borrowed from the Aramaic תא, is similarly employed; as لاهُوت divinity, (اَللَّاهُوتُ), humanity (اَلنَّسَاطُ), kingdom (مَلِكُوت), pride, haughtiness, omnipotence, etc. [These nouns are, in Arabic, of the masculine gender.]

B (c) The Diminutive.

269. The diminutive, اَلْاِسْرُ الْمَصْفَرُّ or اَلتَّصْفِيرُ, and اَلْاِسْرُ الْمَحْقَرُّ or اَلتَّكْبِيرُ, when formed from a trilateral noun (اَلْاِسْرُ الْمَكْبَرُ or اَلتَّكْبِيرُ), takes the form فَعِيل; as رَجُلٌ a man, رُجَيْلٌ; كَلْبٌ a dog, كَلَيْبٌ; عَمْرٌ Amr (a man's name), عَمْرِيٌّ; جَبَلٌ a hill, جَبَيْلٌ. When the noun is quadrilateral, it takes the form فَعْيَعِل; as عَقْرَبٌ a scorpion, عَقْرَيْبٌ; اِرْطَى a kind of tree, اِرْطَيْيٌّ (for اِرْطَيْيٌّ). When the noun is quinqueliteral, but the fourth letter weak, the diminutive is فَعْيَعَيْل; as عُصْفُورٌ a sparrow, عُصْفُورِيٌّ; مِفْتَاحٌ a key, مِفْتَاحِيٌّ; عَصْفِيرٌ.

REM. a. The diminutive is used, not merely in its literal sense, but also to express endearment (as أَبِيٌّ, أَخِيٌّ, بَنِيٌّ) or contempt (as عَدِيٌّ), and even enhancement (لِلتَّعْظِيمِ, as دَوْبِيَّةٌ a great misfortune, صَدِيْقِيٌّ a terrible year of drought or dearth, خَيْرٌ the very best, صَدِيْقِيٌّ a special friend), [اَلدَّهِيْمَاءُ a very black calamity, a severe trial].

REM. b. In forming a diminutive, it is not usual to fall back upon the root-consonants. On the contrary, the servile letters are generally taken into account, as long as the word does not exceed the form فَعْيَعِل; as أَزْرَقٌ blue, اَزْرَقِيٌّ; مِعْطَفٌ a mantle, مِعْطَفِيٌّ. See however § 283.

REM. c. The first syllable of the form فَعْيَل is occasionally pronounced with kèsa instead of damma, when the second radical of the primitive is ي; as بَيْتٌ, شَيْخٌ, شَيْخِيٌّ, for بَيْتِيٌّ, شَيْخِيٌّ, شَيْخِيٌّ, from بَيْتٌ, شَيْخٌ, and نَابٌ (for نَيْبٌ).

REM. d. Traces of this diminutive form in Aramaic are عَوْرِيْمَا a youth (عَلِيْمٌ, from عَلَامٌ), and خَسَامَلٌ a fawn (عَزَالٌ, from عَزَالٌ). In Hebrew we may perhaps consider as such, עֲרֵבִים little, a little (صَغِيْرٌ), פְּלִיטָה a band of fugitives, צְרִיסְתִים the cerastes, a sort of snake (سَفٌّ), and בְּמִנְיָן (from בְּמִנְיָן, a contemptuous diminutive, like אֲלֻחִים). If so, the vowel י must be regarded as a weakening of י (orig. י), like בְּלִיָּה for בְּלִיָּה (בְּלִיָּה). This view derives some confirmation from the modern pronunciation of North Africa, where, for example, قَفِيْفَةٌ, the diminutive of قَفَّةٌ a basket, is sounded kʃʃʃ or gʃʃʃ,—in post-biblical Hebrew קופפה and קפפיה.

REM. e. Diminutives may be formed not only from nouns (substantive or adjective), but also (1) from the demonstrative pronoun זֶ and its derivatives, as well as the relative pronoun אֲדִי; (2) from certain prepositions, which are, however, obviously substantives in the accusative, as קִבֵּילٌ a little before, בְּעֵד a little after, فَوْיָק a little above, دَوּיָן a little below, a little nearer than, etc.; and (3) from a few of the verbs of surprise or wonder (§ 184, rem. f). On the other hand, they cannot be formed from nouns which have already the measure of a diminutive, as جَمِيْلٌ a kind of small bird, كَمِيْمٌ a bay horse.

270. When the noun contains five letters, of which the fourth is strong, or more than five, the diminutive فَعْيَعِل is commonly formed from the first four, and the rest are rejected; as سَفْرَجَلٌ a quince.

A عُنَيْكِبٌ a spider, عَنْكَبُوتٌ; عُنَيْدِلٌ a nightingale, عُنْدَلِيْبٌ; سُفْرِيْجٌ.
 But if there be among the consonants several servile letters, these are rejected, or some of them; as أَهْرَقٌ thick gold-brocade, إِسْتَبْرَقٌ;
مُتَدَخِرِجٌ rolling oneself, دُخِرِجٌ; مُسْتَكْمِلٌ trying to render perfect, مُفَعَّنِسٌ; مُفَعِّتِرٌ (for مُفَعِّيرٌ), and not مُفَعِّتِرٌ; مُفَعِّسٌ chosen, مُفَعِّنَارٌ; مُكْبِيلٌ having a hump in front, مُفَعِّسٌ.

B REM. a. The rule as to quinqueliterals like سَفْرَجَلٌ is not always strictly observed. Thus جَحْمِرِشٌ a fat, lazy, old woman, فُرَزْدَقٌ a burnt cake, and قُدْعِيْلٌ a big camel or a little, ugly woman, are said to make either جَحْمِرِشٌ, فُرَزْدَقٌ, or جَحْمِرِشٌ, قُدْعِيْلٌ.

REM. b. If there be more servile consonants than must necessarily be cut off, their relative importance for the signification of the word is taken into account in choosing which is to be retained.

C In مُسْتَكْمِلٌ, for example, م is preserved in preference to س or ت, because it indicates the participial form. But if all the consonants are of equal value, we may select which we please, and therefore the diminutive of عَلْنَدِي, a sort of thorn, is either عَلْنَدِي or عَلْنَدِي (for عَلْنَدِي); of قَلْنَسُوَّةٌ, a sort of cap, قَلْنَسِيَّةٌ or قَلْنَسِيَّةٌ; of حَبْنَطِي, short and big-bellied, حَبْنَطِي or حَبْنَطِي (for حَبْنَطِي).

D REM. c. The termination أَن, when appended to nouns of four or more letters, is not rejected, but remains attached to the diminutive, which is formed out of the preceding consonants; as زَعْفَرَانٌ saffron, زَعْفَرَانٌ; أَفْعِيَانٌ a male snake, أَفْعِيَانٌ.

REM. d. Nouns containing five or more consonants do not exceed the form فَعْيَلٌ, as قَرَعْبَلَانَةٌ a tick, قَرَعْبَلَانَةٌ; and therefore a word which consists of four radical and one or more servile consonants, rejects the latter at once (except in the cases specified in rem. b, and in § 269). In place of the rejected consonants, however, ي may be inserted immediately before the last letter; as سُفْرِيْجٌ, أَعْيَابٌ, مُكْبِيْلٌ, and the like.

271. The feminine terminations ة, ى, and آة; the relative termination ى; the ending أَن in adjectives of which the feminine is فَعْلَى, and in proper names; the dual and plural terminations أَن, وَن, and أَت; and the second syllable of the plural form أَفْعَالٌ; are all disregarded. The diminutives must be formed out of the preceding consonants, and these terminations added to them. E.g. قَلْعَةٌ a castle, قَلْعِيَّةٌ; طَلْحَةٌ (a man's name), طَلْحِيَّةٌ; مَسْلَمَةٌ (a man's name), مَسْلَمِيَّةٌ; حَبْلَى pregnant, حَبْلِيَّةٌ; سَلْمَى (a woman's name), سَلْمِيَّةٌ; عَبْقَرِيَّةٌ (from a place called عَبْقَرٌ, supposed to be inhabited by the ginn) demoniacal, mighty, perfect, عَبْقَرِيَّةٌ; بَصْرِيَّةٌ belonging to el-Basra, بَصْرِيَّةٌ; سَكْرَانٌ (fem. سَكْرَى) drunken, سَكْرَانِيَّةٌ; سَكْرِيَانٌ; سَلْمَانٌ (a man's name), سَلْمَانِيَّةٌ; سَلْمَانِيَّةٌ two Muslims, سَلْمَانِيَّةٌ; مُسْلِمِيَّةٌ Muslim women, مُسْلِمِيَّةٌ; مُسْلِمِيَّةٌ camels, أَصْحَابٌ companions, أَفْعَالٌ words, أَبْيَاتٌ verses, أَبْيَاتٌ, أَبْيَاتٌ, أَبْيَاتٌ.

REM. a. The fem. ى is rejected, when the noun consists of five letters, the third of which is strong, or of more than five; as قُرْقَرِيَّةٌ the back, قُرْقَرِيَّةٌ; لُغَيْزِيَّةٌ a riddle, لُغَيْزِيَّةٌ. But if, in the quinqueliteral noun, the third letter be a weak servile, either it, or the ى, may be omitted; as حَبَارِيَّةٌ a bustard, حَبْرِيَّةٌ or حَبْرِيَّةٌ (for حَبْرِيَّةٌ).

REM. b. Other plurals, besides أَفْعَالٌ, of the class called جُمُوعُ أَقْلَةٍ (see § 307) form their diminutives regularly; viz. أَفْعَلٌ, as وَلْدَةٌ children, وَلْدِيَّةٌ; غَلْمَةٌ boys, slaves, غَلْمِيَّةٌ, as فَعْلَةٌ,

- A أَكَلَبٌ dogs, أَكْبَلِبٌ; أَضْلَعٌ ribs, أَضْلَيْعٌ; and أَفْعَلَةٌ as أَجْرَبَةٌ bags, أَصْبِيَةٌ; أَغْلِيْمَةٌ boys, slaves, أَغْلِيْمَةٌ; أَغْمِيْمَةٌ pillars, أَغْمِيْمَةٌ; أَجْيِرِيَّةٌ children, أَصْبِيَّةٌ. In regard to the جُمُوعُ الْكَثْرَةِ (see § 307), two courses may be adopted. We may fall back on the singular, adding to its diminutive the appropriate plural termination; e.g. شُعْرَاءٌ poets, شُوَيْعِرُونَ, شَاِعِرٌ, شُوَيْعِرٌ (see § 277); دُورٌ houses, دُوَيْرَاتٌ, دُوَيْرَةٌ (see § 274). Or we may have recourse to the فِئَاتُ الْقَلَّةِ, if such exist; e.g. فِتْيَانٌ youths, فِتْيُونَ, فِتْيَةٌ, from the plural فِتْيَةٌ, فِتْيَةٌ, from the plural فِتْيَةٌ; أَدْلِيُونَ base fellows, أَدْلِيَةٌ, from the plural أَدْلِيَةٌ (for أَدْلِيَةٌ), or أَدْلِيَةٌ (for أَدْلِيَةٌ).

272. The termination اِنٌ in trilateral nouns, of which the feminine is not فَعْلَى, and which are not proper names, is regarded as radical, and consequently the diminutive takes the form فَعْيَعِيْلٌ; as شَيْطَانٌ power, a sultan, سَلِيطِيْنٌ; سَرْحَانٌ a wolf, سَرْحِيْنٌ; رُوَيْحِيْنٌ a devil, شَيْعِيْلِيْنٌ; رُوَيْحِيْنٌ sweet basil, رُوَيْحِيْنٌ.

273. Proper names, consisting of two words (see § 264), form their diminutives from the first word, the second remaining unchanged; as عَبْدُ اللَّهِ 'Abdu 'llāh, عَبْدِيْدُ اللَّهِ 'Obèidu 'llāh; مَعْدِيْدِيْكِرِبٌ, مَعْدِيْدِيْكِرِبٌ; حَضْرَمَوْتُ, حَضْرَمَوْتُ; بَعْلِيْكِيْكٌ, بَعْلِيْكِيْكٌ.

274. If a diminutive be formed from a trilateral feminine noun, which has not however a feminine termination, ة is added to the diminutive, provided that the primitive has no nomen unitatis (§ 246). E.g. هِنْدٌ (a woman's name), هِنْدِيَّةٌ; شَمْسٌ the sun, شَمْسِيَّةٌ; دَارٌ a house, دَارِيَّةٌ; سِنٌ a tooth, سِنِيَّةٌ; اِبِلٌ camels, اِبِيْلَةٌ; غَنَمٌ a flock of sheep or goats, غَنَمِيَّةٌ; عَيْنٌ an eye or fountain, عَيْنِيَّةٌ or عَيْنِيَّةٌ (see § 269, rem. c).

But if the primitive has a nomen unitatis, ة is not appended to the diminutive, in order to avoid ambiguity. E.g. شَجَرٌ trees, شَجَرِيْنٌ, but شَجْرَةٌ a tree, شَجْرِيَّةٌ; بَقَرٌ cattle, بَقَرِيْنٌ, but بَقْرَةٌ an ox or cow, بَقْرِيَّةٌ.

REM. a. The diminutives of the fem. cardinal numbers, from 3 to 10 inclusive, do not take ة for the same reason; e.g. خَمْسٌ five (fem.), خَمْسِيْنٌ, but خَمْسَةٌ five (masc.), خَمْسِيَّةٌ. But see § 319, rem. a.

REM. b. If the noun contains more than three consonants, ة is not added to the diminutive.

REM. c. There are a few exceptions to the rules of this § and rem. b. For example, حَرْبٌ war, makes حَرْبِيْنٌ; دِرْعٌ a coat of mail, دُرَيْعٌ; ذُوْدٌ a herd of she-camels, ذُوَيْدٌ; عَرَبٌ Arabs, عَرَبِيْنٌ; قَوْسٌ a bow, قَوْسِيْنٌ; نَعْلٌ a shoe, نَعْلِيْنٌ; [عَرُوسٌ a bride, عَرُوسِيْنٌ; قَلْبُوسٌ a young she-camel, قَلْبِيْصٌ, D. G.]; whilst قَدَامٌ the front, and قَوْمٌ the rear or back, have قَدِيْدِيْمَةٌ, and وَرِيْقَةٌ (for وَرِيْقِيَّةٌ) one's people or tribe, which is masc. and fem., has قَوْمِيْنٌ or قَوْمِيَّةٌ; but نَفْرٌ and رَهْفٌ, though also of both genders, seem to make only نَفْرِيْنٌ and رَهْفِيْنٌ. عُرْسٌ a wedding-feast, is usually masculine, and therefore has عُرْسِيْنٌ. بَحْرٌ a sea, which is masc., makes بَحْرِيَّةٌ.

275. The double consonants in nouns formed from verba medix rad. geminatæ are resolved; as تَلٌّ a hill, تَلِيْلٌ; طَسٌ a cup (Fr. tasse), طَسِيْسٌ; مُدِيْدَةٌ time, مُدِيْدَةٌ.

276. If the second radical be a weak letter, and have been changed by the influence of the vowels into another, the original letter is restored in forming the diminutive. E.g. بَابٌ (بَوْبٌ) a door, بَوْبِيْنٌ; رِيْحٌ (رُوْحٌ) wind, رِيْحِيْنٌ; نَابٌ (نَيْبٌ) an eye-tooth or canine tooth, نَابِيْنٌ; مِيْسِرٌ (مِيْسِرٌ) rich, مِيْسِرِيْنٌ; قِيْمَةٌ (قَوْمَةٌ) price, value, قَوْمِيْنٌ; رُوَيْحَةٌ goats, رُوَيْحِيْنٌ; مِيْرَانٌ (مُوْرَانٌ) a pair of scales, مُوَيْزِيْنٌ.

A REM. شَيْءٌ, a thing, commonly makes شُؤْنِي (for شُؤْنِي), and vulgarly شُؤْبِيَّة, instead of شُؤْنِي. From بَيْتٌ a house, شَيْخٌ an old man, عَيْنٌ an eye or fountain, بَيْضَةٌ an egg, and ضِمْعَةٌ a farm, may be formed بُؤْبِيَّة, شُؤْبِيَّة, بُؤْبِيَّة, and ضُؤْبِيَّة, but the regular forms are preferable. Conversely, عِيدٌ, a festival, though derived from the radical عَوَد, makes عَيْدِيَّة, following the plural أَعْيَادٌ.

277. If the second letter be either a servile êlif, or an êlif, the origin of which is unknown, it is changed into و; as شَاعِرٌ a poet, شُؤْبِعِرٌ; دَاهِيَةٌ a calamity, دُؤْبِيَّة; فَارِسٌ a horseman, فُؤْبِرِسٌ; خَاتَمٌ a signet-ring, خُؤْتَمِرٌ; صَابَةٌ an animal, صُؤْبِيَّة (for دُؤْبِيَّة); عَاجٌ ivory, عُؤِجٌ; خُؤْبِيَّةٌ certain bitter tree, صُؤْبِيَّةٌ.

REM. a. Words of the form فَاعِلٌ, in which the initial letter is و, change it into أ in forming the diminutive; e.g. وَأَصِلٌ, not وُؤْبِصِلٌ. In other cases this change is optional, as in أُرَيْشٌ for

C أُورِشٌ, formed according to § 283 from أُورِقٌ.

REM. b. Words of the form of دُؤْبِيَّةٌ sometimes substitute أ for ي, to lighten the pronunciation, as دُؤَابَةٌ and شُؤَابَةٌ, the latter for شُؤَابَةٌ, from شَابَةٌ a young woman. [Oomp. § 13, rem.]

278. If the third letter be weak, it coalesces with the preceding ي of the diphthong يَـ into يِ; as غُلَامٌ a youth, a slave, غُلَيْمٌ; طَعَامٌ food, طُعَيْمٌ; أَكُولٌ a glutton, أَكَيْلٌ; ظَلِيمٌ a male ostrich, ظَلَيْمٌ; عَصَاٌ a staff, عُصَيٌّ; أَسَدٌ black, أَسَيْدٌ; فَتَىٌ a youth, فُتَيٌّ; جَدْوَلٌ a brook, جُدَيْلٌ; أَسْوَدٌ black, أَسْوَدٌ; رَحِيَّةٌ a mill, رُحَيَّةٌ; عُرْوَةٌ a handle, عُرْوَةٌ.

REM. a. The forms جُدَيْوَلٌ and أَسْوَدٌ are also used.

REM. b. In words of which the second and third radicals are contracted into يِ, these letters must be separated, and treated according to this rule and § 276; e.g. طَوِيٌّ (طَوِيٌّ), طَوِيٌّ; حَيَّةٌ a snake, (حَيِّيَّةٌ), حَيِّيَّةٌ.

279. A quadrilateral or quinqueliteral, of which the last two A letters are weak, rejects one of them; as يَحْيَى Yahyā (John), يَحْيَى (for يَحْيَى); أَحْوَى black, أَحْوَى (for أَحْوَى); صَبِيٌّ a boy, صَبِيٌّ (for صَبِيٌّ); عَدُوٌّ an enemy, عُدَيْيٌّ (for عُدَيْيٌّ); عَطَاءٌ a gift, pay, عَطِيٌّ (for عَطِيٌّ); سَمَاءٌ the sky or heaven, سَمِيَّةٌ; إِدَاوَةٌ a small water-skin, إِدِيَّةٌ (for إِدِيَّةٌ); مُعَاوِيَةٌ (a man's name), مُعِيَّةٌ (for مُعِيَّةٌ).

REM. Instead of أَحْوَى, some say أَحْوِيٌّ (accus. أَحْوِيٌّ, like B أَسْوَدٌ, § 278, rem. a), others أَحْوِيٌّ (accus. أَحْوِيٌّ, for أَحْوِيٌّ, like مُعَاوِيَةٌ, § 278), and others still, but irregularly, أَحْوِيٌّ.—From مُعَاوِيَةٌ the forms مُعِيَّةٌ and مُعِيَّةٌ are also said to be in use.

280. The infinitives of verba primæ و, which reject the first radical and take the fem. termination ة in exchange (§ 206), resume C the و in their diminutives; as عِدَّةٌ a promise, عُدَيْدَةٌ; جَدَّةٌ affluence, جُدَيْدَةٌ; وَشِيَّةٌ being spotted, spots, وَشِيَّةٌ.

REM. They are distinguished by the ة from the diminutives of the form فَعْلٌ in the same verbs; such as وَعْدٌ from وَعْدَةٌ, etc.

281. Nouns which have lost their third radical,—whether they have the fem. termination ة or not,—recover it in the diminutive. D E.g. دَمٌ blood, دُمِيٌّ (أَخِيٌّ), أَخٌ a brother (أَخِيٌّ), أَخِيٌّ; أَبٌ a father (أَبِيٌّ), أَبِيٌّ; مَوِيٌّ and مُؤِيٌّ water, مَآءٌ; حَرِيٌّ vulva, حُرِيٌّ; يَدٌ a hand, يُدِيَّةٌ; شَاةٌ a sheep or goat, شُؤْبِيَّةٌ; شَفَاةٌ a lip, شُؤْبِيَّةٌ; أَمَةٌ a maidservant, أُمِيَّةٌ; هَنَةٌ a thing, هَنِيَّةٌ and هَنِيَّةٌ; لُغَةٌ a dialect, لُغِيَّةٌ; سَنَةٌ a year, سُنِيَّةٌ and سُنِيَّةٌ; هَنِيَّةٌ, هَنِيَّةٌ, and هَنِيَّةٌ.

REM. a. فَمٌ, mouth, of which the radical is فَوَهٌ or فَوَهٌ, forms its diminutive accordingly, فُؤِيَّةٌ.

REM. b. A lost first or second radical is not restored, if the

A word consists of three letters, exclusive of the feminine ة; as نَاسٌ (for أَنَاسٌ) people, نَوَيْسٌ; هَازٌ (for هَازِرٌ, § 240, rem. b) feeble, شَوَيْكٌ; شَاكٌ (for شَاكٌ) bristling (with weapons), هُوَيْرٌ; مَيْتٌ (for مَيْتٌ § 242) dead, مَمِيَّتٌ; خَيْرٌ (for خَيْرٌ) good, خَيْرٌ. Otherwise the diminutives would have been مَيْتِسٌ, مَمِيَّتِسٌ, and خَيْرِسٌ. [Words of the form فَاعِلٌ retain in the diminutive the termination ـٍ, as فَوَيْضٌ from قَاضٍ a judge, رَوَيْعٌ from رَاعٍ a pastor. D. G.]

B 282. Those nouns which, after having lost their third radical, take a prosthetic êlif, reject the êlif, and recover their original letter. E.g. اِسْمٌ a name, سُمِيٌّ; اِبْنٌ a son, بَنِيٌّ; اِنْتٌ the anus, سْتَمِيَّةٌ.

REM. The diminutives of اُخْتٌ sister, بِنْتٌ daughter, and هَنْتٌ a thing, are formed like those of اَخٌ, اِبْنٌ, and هَنْتٌ, and distinguished in the first two by the fem. termination; اُخْتِيَّةٌ, بِنْتِيَّةٌ, اُخْتِيَّةٌ (see § 281).

C 283. Another way of forming diminutives is to fall back upon the root. If this consists of three consonants, the diminutive is فُعَيْلٌ; if of four, فُعَيْعِلٌ (see § 269, rem. b). E.g. مِعْطَفٌ; عَطِيْفٌ, مِعْطَفٌ; اِسْمٌ a name, سُمِيٌّ; اِبْنٌ a son, بَنِيٌّ; اِنْتٌ the anus, سْتَمِيَّةٌ; هَمِيْرٌ, هَمَامٌ; سُوَيْدٌ, اَسْوَدٌ; قَاضٍ, حَمِيْدٌ, حَامِدٌ; حَرِيْثٌ, حَارِثٌ; قَرِيْطِسٌ, قَرِيْطَانِسٌ; عَصِيْفِرٌ, عَصْفُوْرٌ; اَرِيْقٌ or وَرِيْقٌ, اَوْرَقٌ; نَفِيْعٌ, نَافِعٌ; مَعِيْدِيٌّ [مَعِيْدِيٌّ]. This sort of diminutive is called اِتْرَاقِيٌّ, the softened or curtailed diminutive.

284. With regard to this kind of diminutive the following rules are to be observed. (a) If a masc. noun ends in ـة, this termination falls away; e.g. حَارِيْثَةٌ (a name), حَرِيْثٌ. (b) Fem. nouns in ـى and ـاء reject these terminations and take ـة; as حَبِيْلَةٌ, حَبْلِيٌّ; حَمْرَاءٌ, حَمِيْرَةٌ.

REM. Very irregular diminutives are: رُوَيْجَلٌ a man, رُوَيْجَلٌ; اِسْمٌ a name, سُمِيٌّ; اِبْنٌ a son, بَنِيٌّ; اِنْتٌ the anus, سْتَمِيَّةٌ; هَمِيْرٌ, هَمَامٌ; سُوَيْدٌ, اَسْوَدٌ; قَاضٍ, حَمِيْدٌ, حَامِدٌ; حَرِيْثٌ, حَارِثٌ; قَرِيْطِسٌ, قَرِيْطَانِسٌ; عَصِيْفِرٌ, عَصْفُوْرٌ; اَرِيْقٌ or وَرِيْقٌ, اَوْرَقٌ; نَفِيْعٌ, نَافِعٌ; مَعِيْدِيٌّ [مَعِيْدِيٌّ]. Further, دِيْنَارٌ a dinār, دُنْيِيْرٌ, and دِيْوَانٌ a register, an account-book, دُوُوِيْوِيْنٌ, as if from دُوُوِيْوِيْنٌ a collection of poems, a public office or bureau, دُوُوِيْوِيْنٌ, as if from دُوُوِيْوِيْنٌ and دُوُوَانٌ (see § 305, II., rem. b); دِيْبَاجٌ brocade, دِيْبِيْبِيْجٌ or دِيْبِيْبِيْجٌ, as if from دِيْبَاجٌ.

(7) Some other Nominal Forms.

285. (a) The form فُعَلَةٌ frequently means a small piece of C anything; as فِلْدَةٌ, فِلْدَةٌ, a piece, كِسْرَةٌ a fragment, جِذْوَةٌ a firebrand, اِحْيَاةٌ a live coal, جِرْقَةٌ a rag, فِرْقَةٌ a sect, حِصَّةٌ a portion, خِطَّةٌ a piece of land, an allotment.—(b) The form فُعَلَةٌ is often used to signify a small quantity, such as can be contained in a place at once; as قُبْضَةٌ a handful; مَضْغَةٌ, لَقْمَةٌ, اُكْلَةٌ, a morsel, a mouthful; بُلْعَةٌ, جُرْعَةٌ, a gulp, a sup or sip; شُرْبَةٌ a draught (of water). It also denotes colour; as حُمْرَةٌ redness, صُفْرَةٌ yellowness, زُرْقَةٌ a light blue, دُكْنَةٌ a blackish D brown.

286. (a) The form فُعَالٌ indicates vessels and implements; as اِنَاءٌ, وِعَاءٌ, a vessel, جِرَابٌ a bag, حِلَابٌ a milk-pail, حِلَالٌ a wooden pin, اِسْمٌ a water-skin, شِرَاكٌ the thong or strap of a sandal, لِبَاسٌ a garment, اِرْزَارٌ, رِدَاءٌ, certain garments, لِحَافٌ a coverlet, a pelisse.—(b) The form فُعَالٌ denotes diseases; as حُمَامٌ a fever, زُكَامٌ a cold, سُعَالٌ a cough,

A صَدَاعٌ a headache, طَحَالٌ, كَبَادٌ, disease of the spleen (طِحَالٌ), of the liver (كَبِدٌ)*.

287. (a) The form فَعَالَةٌ indicates a post or office; as كِتَابَةٌ the post of secretary (كَاتِبٌ); وَلَايَةٌ, عِمَالَةٌ, the post of governor (عَامِلٌ, وَالٍ);

إِمَارَةٌ the office of emir (أَمِيرٌ); خِلَافَةٌ the caliphate; نَيْبَانَةٌ deputyship

B نَائِبٌ); قِيَادَةٌ the post of general (قَائِدٌ); عِرَافَةٌ the post of inspector, centurion, etc. (عَرِيفٌ).—(b) The form فَعَالَةٌ denotes small portions which are broken off or thrown away; as بَرَادَةٌ, فُرَاضَةٌ, filings; بُرَايَةٌ chips, shavings; فُصَامَةٌ, فُصَامَةٌ, parings; كُنَانَةٌ, كُنَاحَةٌ, sweepings;

رُضَافَةٌ brayed or pounded fragments; كُسَارَةٌ broken pieces; قُطَاعَةٌ cuttings; عُجَالَةٌ a little food got ready in haste; عَفَاوَةٌ a small quantity

C of broth (left in a borrowed pot, when it is returned). Some of these words admit of a masculine collective form فُعَالٌ, indicating a larger quantity, as فُعَالٌ, رُضَافٌ, كُسَارٌ, فُعَالٌ, بُرَادٌ.

288. The form فَعَالَةٌ (the feminine of فَعَالٌ, § 233) is frequently employed to designate (a) an instrument or machine, as doing something, or by means of which something is done, regularly and constantly; or (b) the place where something is constantly obtained or prepared.

D E.g. بَرَادَةٌ a vessel or stand for cooling water; حَرَّاقَةٌ a fire-ship, a galley; رَعَادَةٌ, عَرَادَةٌ, دَبَابَةٌ, engines of war; طَرَّاحَةٌ a mattrass or cushion, a fishing-net; زَرَّاقَةٌ a short javelin; طَرَّادَةٌ a spear, a bolt; حَرَّاصَةٌ a place where potash is made (by burning the plants called حُرْفُسٌ); A جَمَّاصَةٌ a place where gypsum or plaster (جِصٌّ) is made; كَلَانَةٌ a chalk-pit or quarry (كَلَسٌ); مَلَّاحَةٌ a salt-pan or salt-mine (مَلْحٌ); قَبَارَةٌ a well of bitumen (قَارٌ); جَبَانَةٌ a place where gypsum is found or prepared; زَرَّاعَةٌ a land that is sown. Hence the tropical application of this form to persons, as an intensive (§ 233, rem. c).

REM. As فَعَالَةٌ has been transferred from things to persons, as an intensive adjective, so also فَاعِلَةٌ (§ 233, rem. c); for سَالِيَةٌ is B a camel that draws water, an irrigating machine, a water-wheel; سَانِيَةٌ, a water-wheel and the camel that works it; رَاوِيَةٌ, a water-skin, a camel that carries or draws water; دَاعِيَةٌ, a call or invitation; عَادِيَةٌ, a hindrance, an injury; etc.

2. The Gender of Nouns.

289. In respect of gender, Arabic nouns are divisible into three C classes; (a) those which are only masculine (مَذَكَّرٌ); (b) those which are only feminine (مُؤَنَّثٌ); (c) those which are both masc. and fem., or, as it is usually phrased, of the common gender.

REM. a. None of the Semitic languages have what we call the neuter gender.

REM. b. Feminines may be either real or natural (مُؤَنَّثٌ حَقِيقِيٌّ), as أَمْرَاءَةٌ a woman, نَاقَةٌ a she-camel; or unreal, unnatural (غَيْرٌ حَقِيقِيٌّ), or tropical (مَجَازِيٌّ), as الشَّمْسُ the sun, نَعْلٌ a shoe or D sandal, ظُلْمَةٌ darkness, بُشْرَى good news.

290. That a noun is of the fem. gender may be ascertained either (a) from its signification, or (b) from its form.

a. Feminine by signification (المؤنث المعنوي) are:—

(a) All common nouns and proper names which denote females, as أُمٌّ a mother, عَرُوسٌ a bride, عَجُوزٌ an old woman, [خَادِمَةٌ a female

A servant]; مَرِيْمٌ Mary, هِنْدٌ Hind, سَعَادٌ Su'ād, زَيْنَبٌ Zēinēb [; or that are represented as females, as شَعُوبٌ Death, ذُكَاةٌ the Sun].

(β) Proper names of countries and towns, because the common nouns أَرْضٌ country, بَلَدَةٌ town, مَدِينَةٌ city, قَرْيَةٌ village, are feminine*; as مِصْرٌ Egypt, مَوْحَا Mocha. Those names, however, which belong to the triptote declension, are originally masculine, as الشَّامُ Syria, الْعِرَاقُ the Irak, مِثْنَى Misna, وَاسِطٌ Wasit, etc.

B as diptotes, and are then feminine, as مِثْنَى Misna, etc.

REM. The names of the quarters or directions, as قُدَامٌ the front, أَمَامٌ the rear, وَرَاءٌ the rear, خَلْفٌ the rear, may also be treated as feminine, following the gender of جِهَةٌ direction.

(γ) The names of the winds and the different kinds of fire, because the common nouns رِيْحٌ wind, and نَارٌ fire, are feminine; as قَبُولٌ the east wind, دُبُورٌ the west wind, شَمَالٌ the north wind, جَنُوبٌ the south wind; سَعِيرٌ blazing fire, جَحِيمٌ blazing fire, سَقَرٌ hell-fire, لَطْفَى hell-fire.

Except اِعْصَارٌ a dust-storm with whirlwinds, which is masc.

(δ) The names of many parts of the body, especially those that are double; as يَدٌ a hand, رِجْلٌ a leg or foot, عَيْنٌ an eye, أُذُنٌ an ear, سِنٌّ a tooth, كَتِفٌ a shoulder, سَاقٌ a shank, رَحِمٌ the womb, اِسْتٌ the anus.

D REM. رَأْسٌ the head, وَجْهٌ the face, أَنْفٌ the nose, فَمٌّ the mouth, صَدْرٌ the breast, ظَهْرٌ the back, [خَدٌّ the cheek,] and the names of the blood, muscles, sinews, and bones, are masc.; as also, in most instances, رَحِمٌ relationship. [قَدَمٌ is sometimes masc. and so كَفٌّ.]

* [Some admit also the use of the masculine gender, because the word مِصْرٌ is masc., بَلَدٌ masc. or fem. See Muḥaddasī, p. 7, l. 16 seq. D. G.]

(ε) Collective nouns (شِبْهُ الْجَمْعِ resembling the plural), which A denote living objects that are destitute of reason, and do not form a nomen unitatis; as اِبِلٌ camels, ذُوْدٌ a herd of she-camels, غَنَمٌ sheep or goats.

b. Feminine by form (اَلْمَوْتُتُ اللَّفْظِيَّةُ) are:—

(a) Nouns ending in ـة; as جَنَّةٌ a garden, ظُلْمَةٌ darkness, حَيَاةٌ life, حَيَوَةٌ life.

(β) Nouns ending in ـى or ـا (ēlif maḥṣūra, § 7, rem. b), when B that termination does not belong to the root; as دَعْوَى a claim, a demand, نَجْوَى a secret, تَوْمَى blame, اُرْبَى misfortune, ذِكْرَى memory, دِفْلَى the oleander, ذِفْرَى the prominent bone behind the ear, مِعْزَى goats, بُهْمَى barley-grass, رُؤْيَا the world, رُؤْيَا a vision or dream, بُشْرَى good news, حُمَى a fever.

REM. But those who say دِفْلَى regard C them as masculine, the ـى being considered as an اَلْفٌ اِلْحَاقِيٌّ [§ 252].

(γ) Nouns ending in ـاء, when that termination does not belong to the root; as صَحْرَاءٌ a plain or desert, بَيْدَاءٌ harm, mischief, بَغْضَاءٌ hatred, فَاصِعَاءٌ a jerboa's hole, كِبْرِيَاءٌ glory (of God), pride (of man), سَبْرَاءٌ vainglory, arrogance, سَبْرَاءٌ a sort of striped cloth.

REM. A few nouns ending in ـة, and those verbal adjectives D to which ـة is added to intensify their signification (§ 233, rem. c), are masc., because they apply to males; e.g. خَلِيْفَةٌ a successor, deputy, or caliph (compare in Italian il podestà), عِلْمَةٌ very learned, رَاوِيَةٌ a traditionary.

291. The following is a list of nouns which are feminine, not by form or signification, but merely by usage.

- A أَرْضُ the earth, the ground, the floor.
 الشمسُ the sun.
 عروضُ metre.
 C عصاُ a staff.

- عقربُ a scorpion.
 أفعى a viper.
 [قدومُ an adze.]
 كأسُ a cup.
 [كرشُ or كرشُ the maw.]
 منجنونُ a water-wheel.
 نعلُ a shoe or sandal.
 نوىُ a traveller's destination.

REM. Of these حربُ, خمرُ, درعُ, دلوُ, دارُ, ريحُ, منجنيقُ, ضبعُ, نارُ, are occasionally used as masculine; whilst درعُ a woman's shift, شمسُ a collar or pendant, and فردوسُ a garden or park, are masculine. Those who say موسى instead of موسى, regard the word of course as masculine.

D 292. Masculine or feminine are:—

(a) Collective nouns (أَسْمَاءُ الْجِنْسِ), chiefly denoting animals and plants, which form a nomen unitatis; e.g. حمامُ pigeons, شاةُ sheep or goats, بقرةُ cattle, جرادُ grasshoppers, locusts, نحلةُ bees; شجرةُ trees, نخلةُ palm-trees, تمرُ dates; [شعيرُ barley (gen. masc.)]; سحبُ clouds, لبنُ or لبنُ bricks, ذهبُ gold. These are masc. by form, fem. by signification (الْجَمَاعَةُ totality).

(b) Collective nouns (أَسْمَاءُ الْجَمْعِ or أَشْبَاهُ الْجَمْعِ), denoting A rational beings and not forming a nomen unitatis; e.g. قومُ one's people or tribe, رَهْطُ do., نفرُ a small number of men (3—7), ناسُ men (gen. masc.), تجارُ a company of merchants, ركبُ a company of wayfarers, etc. But أهلُ and آلُ one's family, are masc. D. G.]

(c) The names of the letters of the alphabet, which are more usually feminine; as هذه الألفُ, or هذا الألفُ, this alf.

(d) The nomina verbi (maṣdar). One may say أوجعتني ضربتك B and أوجعتني ضربتك *your striking caused me pain. D. G.]

(e) Words regarded merely as such. These may be masculine, following the gender of لفظُ, or feminine, following that of كلمةُ or لغةُ. A noun may also be masculine, taking the gender of إنسُ; a verb, taking that of فعلُ; and a particle, taking that of حرفُ. But a particle is more usually feminine, following the gender of أداةُ. The C verb كانُ, to be, seems by common consent to be taken as feminine (كانُ الناقصةُ, كانُ التامةُ). Such mere words are treated like proper names, and therefore do not take the article, as ماءُ هذا or هذه ماءُ, this word ماءُ (water).

(f) A considerable number of nouns, of which the following are those that most frequently occur.

- | | | |
|--|--|---|
| إبطُ the armpit (gen. masc.) | بطنُ the belly (gen. masc.) | D |
| إزارُ an article of dress. | بعيرُ camel (gen. masc.) | |
| آلُ the mirage. | إبهامُ the thumb or great toe (gen. fem.) | |
| بشرُ a human being, human beings. | ثدىُ a breast (mamma). | |

* [This seems to be the explanation of صوتُ being used as a fem. noun, Hamāsa 78, vs. 1, هذه الصوتُ this crying. Comp. Lane. D. G.]

- A ثَعْلَبٌ a fox.
 جَنَاحٌ a wing (gen. masc.).
 حَالٌ state, condition (gen. fem.).
 حَانُوثٌ a booth, a shop.
 [خَيَالٌ a phantom.]
 أَرْتَبٌ a hare (gen. fem.).
 دُكَّانٌ a shop.
- B ذِرَاعٌ cubit (gen. fem.).
 ذَنْوَبٌ a large bucket.
 رُوحٌ spirit, soul [when signifying a celestial being always masc.]
 [رُقَاقٌ a street or lane.]
 زَنْدٌ the upper of the two pieces of wood, used in producing fire (gen. masc.).
- C سَبِيلٌ a path, a road.
 سُرَىٌ journeying by night.
 سِكِّينٌ a knife (gen. masc.).
 سِلَاحٌ a weapon, weapons.
- D سُلْطَانٌ [prop. authority, hence power, a sovereign.]
 سَلْمٌ peace.
 سَلْمٌ a ladder.
 سَمَاءٌ the sky or heaven, the clouds, rain.
 [سُورٌ a wall (gen. masc.).]
 سُوقٌ a market.

- إِصْبَعٌ a finger (gen. fem.).
 صَلْحٌ peace.
 صَاعٌ a measure for corn, etc.
 فَسْحَىٌ the forenoon.
 [فِزْرِسٌ a tooth.]
 طَبَاعٌ nature, natural disposition [gen. fem.]
 طَرِيقٌ a road.
 عَجْزٌ *the hinder part, the rump
 [gen. fem.]*
 عَوْسٌ a wedding, a marriage.
 عَسَلٌ honey.
 [عَنْبِرٌ ambergris.]
 عُنُقٌ the neck.
 عَنَكَبُوثٌ a spider (gen. fem.).
 [فِهْرٌ a stone for bruising perfume.]
 قَدْرٌ a pot, a kettle (gen. fem.).
 قَفَاٌ the nape of the neck.

- كُرَاعٌ the tibia or shin-bone.
 لِسَانٌ the tongue.
 لَيْلٌ the night (gen. masc.).
 مَرْكَبٌ a ship (Seybold).
- مِسْكٌ musk (gen. masc.).
 مَعَىٌ an intestine (gen. masc.).
 مِلْحٌ salt (gen. fem.).
 [مُلْكٌ dominion.]
- [هُدَىٌ the right direction.]

REM. a. زَنْدٌ the bone (either radius or ulna) of the fore-arm, سَمَاءٌ a roof or ceiling, and usually عَوْسٌ a wedding feast, are masculine.

REM. b. The above list, and that contained in § 291, cannot lay claim either to absolute completeness or to perfect accuracy, since the usage of the language has varied considerably at different periods. For example, in later times فَمْرٌ the mouth, and مَرْكَبٌ a boat or ship, are used as feminine; whilst عَضُدٌ the upper arm, كَتِفٌ the shoulder, [كَرْشٌ the maw,] and بَيْتْرٌ a well, become masculine. The masculine gender too preponderates in later times over the feminine in words which were anciently of both genders, as نَارٌ fire, كَبِدٌ the liver.

293. From most adjectives and some substantives of the masculine gender, feminines are formed by adding the terminations ة, ى, or اء (§ 290, b).

REM. Only ة is appended to the masculine without further affecting the form of the word; ى and اء have forms distinct from the masculine, which must be learned by practice.

294. The most usual termination, by the mere addition of which to the masculine feminines are formed, is ة; as عَظِيمٌ great, عَظِيمَةٌ; دَرِيحٌ glad, دَرِيحَةٌ; نَدَمَانٌ repentant, نَدَمَانَةٌ; ضَارِبٌ striking, ضَارِبَةٌ; مَضْرُوبٌ struck, مَضْرُوبَةٌ; جَدٌّ a grandfather, جَدَّةٌ a grandmother; فَتَى (for فَتَى) a young man, فَتَاةٌ (for فَتَاة) a young woman.

[REM. a. The hêmza of the termination اء of nouns derived from verbs tertie and ى may be replaced, before ة, by the radical letter, as سَمَاءٌ from سَمَاءٌ, سَقَاةٌ from سَقَاةٌ, a water-carrier, but the

A forms with hēmza, as سَقَاءَةٌ, غَزَاءَةٌ, are preferable; comp. Kāmil, p. 87, l. 10—15, and below § 299, rem. c, § 301, rem. c.]

REM. b. اَ is a compromise in orthography between the original ات, at, the old pausal form اه, ah, and the modern ا, a, in which last the ه is silent (see the footnote to p. 7 supra). This view is confirmed by the comparison of the other Semitic languages; see Comp. Gr. 133—137.

B 295. Feminines in يَ are formed:—

(a) From adjectives of the form فَعْلَانُ, the feminine of which is فَعْلَى; as غَضِبَانُ angry, غَضِبَى; سَكْرَانُ drunk, سَكْرَى; سَبَعَانُ sated, سَبَعَى; ظَمْأَى, عَطَشَى, ظَمْأَانُ, عَطَشَانُ, غَرْتَى, غَرْتَانُ hungry; شَبْعَى; خَشْيَانُ timid, خَشْيَانُ fearing, مَلْأَى, مَلْأَانُ full.

(b) From adjectives of the form أَفْعَلُ, when they have the superlative signification, and are defined by the article or by a following genitive, in which case the feminine is فَعْلَى; as الْأَكْبَرُ the largest, الْأَكْبَرَى; الْأَصْغَرُ the smallest, الْأَصْغَرَى; الْأَعْظَمُ the greatest, الْأَعْظَمَى; كُبْرَى the largest of the cities, كُبْرَى the largest of the cities.

REM. a. Adjectives of the forms فَعْلَانُ and فَعْلَانُ form their feminine by adding هَ; as سَيْفَانُ tall and slender, سَيْفَانَةٌ; عُرْيَانُ naked, عُرْيَانَةٌ.

D REM. b. The feminine of الْأَوَّلُ (for الْأَوَّلُ or الْأَوَّلُ) the first, is الْأَوَّلَى; that of الْآخَرُ (for الْآخَرُ) other, another, الْآخَرَى. The latter word can be used indefinitely, because it is superlative only in form, not in signification. The numeral أَحَدٌ, one, has أَحَدَى.

REM. c. There are some feminine adjectives of the form فَعْلَى, not superlatives, without any corresponding masculines; as أَنْثَى female, feminine, حَبْلَى pregnant, رُبَى which has recently yeaned (of a ewe or she-goat).

296. Feminines in اَ are formed from adjectives of the form أَفْعَلُ, which have not the comparative and superlative signification; as أَصْفَرُ yellow, صَفْرَاءُ; أَجْمَرُ of pleasing aspect, جَمْرَاءُ; أَحْدَبُ hump-backed, حَدْبَاءُ. Many of these adjectives are not in actual use in the masculine; as هَطْلَاءُ heavy and continuous (rain), حَسَنَاءُ beautiful, شَوْكَاءُ rough to the feel (a new dress), الْعَرَبُ الْعَرَبَاءُ the Arabs of pure race.

REM. The form فَعْلَاءُ sometimes serves as feminine to فَعْلَانُ, e.g. جَدْلَانُ joyful, جَدْلَاءُ; حَيْرَانُ perplexed, amazed, حَيْرَى and حَيْرَاءُ.

297. All adjectives have not a separate form for the feminine. The following forms are of both genders.

(a) فَعُولٌ when it has the meaning of فَاعِلٌ (transitive or intransitive), and is attached to a substantive in the singular, or serves as predicate to a substantive or a pronoun in the singular; as امْرَأَةٌ صَبُورٌ وَشَكُورٌ a patient and grateful woman; امْرَأَةٌ كَذُوبٌ a lying woman; رَأَيْتُهَا صَبُورًا I saw that she was patient; [بَقْرَةٌ شَبُوبٌ a full grown antelope]. But if no substantive or pronoun be expressed, فَعُولٌ makes a feminine فَعُولَةٌ, and also if it has the meaning of مَفْعُولٌ; as رَأَيْتُ صَبُورَةً I saw a patient (woman); مَا لَهُ رَكُوبَةٌ وَلَا حَمُولَةٌ وَلَا حَلُوبَةٌ he has not a she-camel to ride, nor one to carry loads, nor one for milking, where رَكُوبَةٌ and حَمُولَةٌ = مَرْكُوبَةٌ and مَحْمُولَةٌ, whilst حَلُوبَةٌ = حَامِلَةٌ.

REM. a. Exceptions are rare; as عَدُوٌّ hostile, an enemy, fem. عَدُوَّةٌ; [and again, فِي الْبَيْتِ لَا حَلُوبٌ there is no milch-ewe in the tent, as we read in the tradition of Umm Ma'bad, نَاقَةٌ ضَبُوبٌ or نَاقَةٌ ضَفُوبٌ and شَاةٌ جَنُوزٌ a shorn sheep. D. G.]

A [REM. b. Hence the fem. nouns صَعُودٌ an acclivity, كُؤُودٌ a mountain-road difficult of ascent, حَدُورٌ and هَبُوبٌ a declivity. D. G.]

(b) فَعِيلٌ, when it has the meaning of مَفْعُولٌ, and under the same conditions as فَعُولٌ; e.g. عَيْنٌ كَحِيلٍ an eye adorned with kohl,

أَمْرَأَةٌ جَرِيحٌ a wounded woman, فَتَاةٌ قَتِيلٌ a murdered woman; but رَأَيْتُ قَتِيلَةَ الْحَرُورِيَّةِ I saw (the woman) whom the Harūris had murdered; هَذِهِ أَكِيْلَةٌ سَبَّحَ this is (a sheep) which has been (partly)

B eaten by a beast of prey. If فَعِيلٌ has the meaning of فَاعِلٌ (transitive or intransitive), it forms a feminine in ة; as نَصِيرَةٌ a helper, نَصِيرٌ; شَفِيعَةٌ an intercessor, شَفِيعٌ; عَفِيفَةٌ temperate, chaste, عَفِيفٌ; مَرِيضَةٌ sick, مَرِيضٌ.

REM. Exceptions in either case are rare. For example: فَعْلَةٌ حَمِيدَةٌ a praiseworthy way of acting, = مَحْمُودَةٌ; عَصْلَةٌ ذَمِيمَةٌ a

C مَلْحَفَةٌ جَدِيدٌ = مَذْمُومَةٌ; and, on the other hand, إِنَّ رَحْمَةَ اللَّهِ قَرِيبٌ مِنَ الْمُحْسِنِينَ verily God's mercy is nigh unto them who do well.

(c) مَفْعَلٌ, مَفْعَالٌ, and مَفْعِيلٌ, which were originally nomina instrumenti (§ 228), but afterwards became intensive adjectives (§ 233, rem. b), under the same conditions as فَعُولٌ and فَعِيلٌ; e.g.

D أَمْرَأَةٌ مَغْشُرٌ an obstinate, self-willed woman; نَاقَةٌ مَذْعَانٌ a docile she-camel; جَارِيَةٌ مَعْطَارٌ, or جَارِيَةٌ مَعْطِيرٌ, a young woman who uses much perfume; but رَأَيْتُ مَعْطَارَةً I saw (a woman) who uses much perfume.

REM. Exceptions are rare; as مِسْكِينٌ poor, مِيقَانٌ speaking the truth, fem. مِسْكِينَةٌ; but أَمْرَأَةٌ مِسْكِينٌ is allowed. D. G.]

[(d) Those adjectives that are properly infinitives (§ 230, rem. c A and Vol. ii. § 136, a) e.g. بُورٌ, جَدْبٌ, جُنْبٌ, دَنْسٌ, عَدْلٌ, غَمْرٌ, قَلْبٌ, عُزْرٌ and some others as جَبَانٌ, عُضَالٌ etc. D. G.]

REM. Adjectives which are, by their signification, applicable to females only, do not form a feminine in ة, when they designate an action or state as natural and permanent, or, at any rate, as lasting for a certain period of time (صِفَةٌ ثَابِتَةٌ); as حَامِلٌ pregnant, عَاقِرٌ barren, كَاعِبٌ, نَاهِدٌ, having swelling breasts, حَائِضٌ, طَامِثٌ, عَارِكٌ, مُعْضِرٌ, [مِيلَاتٌ 'Ibn Hišām 15, last l. R. S.] menstruating, طَالِقٌ divorced, عَاطِلٌ without ornaments, حَاسِرٌ with the head and bust naked, مُرْضِعٌ giving suck, مُتْتَبِرٌ bearing twins, مُطْفِلٌ having a child or a young one with her, مُشْدِنٌ having a fawn with her, مُجْرٍ having a whelp with her, [حَصَانٌ chaste, رَزَانٌ staid, عَائِشٌ unmarried and of middle age] and likewise مُرَاسِلٌ. But if they designate the said action or state as beginning, actually in progress, C or about to begin (صِفَةٌ حَادِثَةٌ), they form a feminine in ة; as هِيَ حَائِضَةُ الْيَوْمِ she is menstruating to-day; هِيَ طَالِقَةٌ غَدًا she will be divorced to-morrow; كُلُّ حَامِلَةٍ تَمَامٌ every woman who is pregnant has her time or term; يَوْمَ تَرَوْنَهَا تَذْهَلُ كُلُّ مُرْضِعَةٍ عَمَّا أَرْضَعَتْ on the day when ye shall see it, every woman who is suckling (in the act of giving suck) shall become heedless of that which she has been suckling. D

3. The Numbers of Nouns.

298. Nouns have, like verbs, three numbers, the singular, dual, and plural (see § 81).

299. The dual is formed by adding ان to the singular (omitting, of course, the tənwin); as كِتَابٌ a book, كِتَابَانِ; رَشَأٌ a fawn, رَشَأَانِ or رَشَائِنِ.

- A constantly associated, in virtue either of natural connection or opposition, a dual may be formed from one of them, which shall designate both, and the preference given to the one over the other is termed تَغْلِيْبٌ, the making it prevail over the other. For example: أَبَوَانِ father and mother, from أَبٌ father; أُخَوَانِ brother and sister, from أَخٌ brother; الْقَمَرَانِ the sun and moon, from القَمَرُ the moon; الْمَشْرِقَانِ the east and west, from الْمَشْرِقُ the east; [بَغْرَقَانِ Basra and Kufa; الرَّقَّتَانِ Rakka and Rāfika; الْفَرَاتَانِ *the Euphrates and Tigris; الْحَسَنَانِ el-Hasan and el-Hossein, from الْحَسَنُ el-Hasan (the elder son of 'Ali); الْعَمْرَانِ 'Omar 'ibn el-Hattāb and 'Abū Bekr, from عَمْرٌ 'Omar. Compare in Sanskrit pitarau, "father and mother," bhrātarau, "brother and sister," rōdasī, "heaven and earth," ahani, "day and night," usāsan, "morning and evening," Mitrā, "Mitra and Varuṇa," etc.]

- C [REM. g. The Arabs like to designate two different objects by the dual of an adjective used as a substantive and denoting a quality that the two have in common, as الْأَبْرَدَانِ the two coolest (of things) for morning and evening; الْأَطْيَبَانِ the two best ones for eating and coitus; الْأَحْمَرَانِ the two red ones for meat and wine; الْأَسْوَدَانِ dates and water; الْأَبْيَضَانِ milk and water; الْجَدِيدَانِ the two new ones for the night and the day; الْأَصْغَرَانِ the heart and the tongue; الْكُرَيْمَتَانِ the two eyes; الْأَخْيَانِ wine and dung or sleeplessness and disquietude of mind; الرَّافِدَانِ the Tigris and Euphrates. D. G.]

REM. h. The dual is sometimes formed from broken plurals (§ 300, b), or from أَشْيَاءُ الْجَمْعِ (§ 290, a, ε), to designate two bodies or troops (فِرْقَتَانِ or جَمَاعَتَانِ) of the objects in question. E.g. إِبِلَانِ two herds of camels (إِبِلٌ), عُتَمَانِ two flocks of sheep or goats (غَنَمٌ), جَمَلَانِ two herds of he-camels (from جَمَلٌ, pl. of جَمَلٌ); لِقَاحَانِ two herds of milch-camels (from لِقَاحٌ, pl. of لِقَاحَةٌ); بَيْنَ رِمَاحِي مَالِكٍ وَنَهْشَلِ between the (collected) spears of (the tribes of) Mālik and Nahšal (from رِمَاحٌ, pl. of رِمَاحٌ); الْأُصُولَانِ the fundamental principles of theology (أُصُولُ الدِّينِ) and of law (أُصُولُ الفِئَةِ), from أُصُولٌ, pl. of أُصْلٌ a root; [comp. in Hebrew עֲרֵבָה]

REM. i. Proper names of the class مُرَكَّبٌ مَزْجِيٌّ (§ 264) vary in their mode of forming the dual. If the first part of the compound be indeclinable and the second declinable, the latter takes the termination أَبَانِ; as مَعْدِي كَرِبَانِ, مَعْدِي كَرِبٌ. But if both parts be indeclinable, as in سَيبَوِيهِ,—or, when taken together, form a proposition, as in تَأَبَّطَ شَرًّا,—recourse must be had to a periphrasis with ذُو possessor of; as ذُو تَأَبَّطَ شَرًّا, ذُو سَيبَوِيهِ, two men called Sibawèih or Ta'abbata šarran. If the first part be in the status constructus, it is simply put in the dual, as عَبْدَا مَنَافٍ two men called عبد مَنَافٍ 'Abd Menāf, أَبُو زَيْدٍ two men called أبو زَيْدٍ 'Abū Zēid, إِبْنُ الزُّبَيْرِ two men called إِبْنُ الزُّبَيْرِ 'Ibnu 'z-Zubèir. But in the case of compounds with أَبٌ, إِبْنٌ, etc., it is allowable to put the second part in the dual likewise, as أَبُو زَيْدَيْنِ.

300. There are two kinds of plurals in Arabic.

(a) The one, which has only a single form, is called الْجَمْعُ الصَّحِيحُ, or الْجَمْعُ الْمَصْحُوحُ, the sound or perfect plural (pluralis sanus), and الْجَمْعُ السَّالِمُ, or الْجَمْعُ السَّلَامَةُ, the complete or entire plural, because all the vowels and consonants of the singular are retained in it.

(b) The other, which has various forms, is called الْجَمْعُ الْمَكْسُرُ,

- A and strong, عَلَجَاتٌ ; حُلُواتٌ sweet, حُلُواتٌ. Exceptions are, رُبْعَةٌ of middle stature, رَبَعَاتٌ or رَبَعَاتٌ, and نَجْبَةٌ having little milk (of a sheep or goat), نَجَبَاتٌ.

REM. c. If و and ي, as third radicals, reject their fêṭha in the fem. singular, and become quiescent before ة, passing into ا (§ 214, and § 7, rem. c and d), they are restored in the plural along with the vowel. E.g. صَلَوةٌ or صَلَاةٌ, prayer (for صَلَوةٌ), صَلَوَاتٌ, قَنَاةٌ,

- B a cane, spear, tube (for قَنَوَةٌ), قَنَوَاتٌ ; قَنَاةٌ, a young woman (for قَنِيَّةٌ), قَنِيَّاتٌ ; قَتِيَّاتٌ, thrown (for مَرْمِيَّةٌ), مَرْمِيَّاتٌ (compare § 167, a, β, a, with § 166, a).

REM. d. If the third radical has been elided in the sing. before ة, it may be restored in the plural or not, according to usage.

E.g. عِضَّةٌ (for عِضْوَةٌ or عِضْبَةٌ) a thorny tree, عِضْوَاتٌ and عِضْبَاتٌ ;

- C or شَفَاةٌ (for سَنَةٌ or سَنِيَّةٌ) a year, سَنَاتٌ and سَنِيَّاتٌ ; شَفَاةٌ (for شَفِيَّةٌ or شَفْوَةٌ) a lip, شَفِيَّاتٌ or شَفَوَاتٌ ; أَمَةٌ (for أَمْوَةٌ) a female slave, أَمَّاتٌ or أَمَّاتٌ ; هَنَةٌ (for هَنْوَةٌ), a thing, هَنَاتٌ or هَنَوَاتٌ (for هَنْوَةٌ) the point of a weapon, هَنَاتٌ ; بَرَّةٌ (for بَرُوَّةٌ) an armlet, بَرَّاتٌ ; كِبَةٌ (for كِبُوَّةٌ) a troop or band, كِبَاتٌ ; لَثَاةٌ (for لَثِيَّةٌ) the gum, لَثَاتٌ ; رِئَةٌ (for رِئِيَّةٌ) a lung, رِئَاتٌ ; مِئَةٌ (for مِئِيَّةٌ) a hundred, مِئَاتٌ ; ابْنَةٌ (for ابْنِيَّةٌ), a daughter, makes بَنَاتٌ ; and أُخْتُ (for أُخْوَةٌ), a sister, أُخَوَاتٌ.

- D REM. e. The hêmza in the terminations اِءٌ and اِءٌ is subject to the same rules in the plural as in the dual (§ 299, rem. c). Hence from صَحْرَاءٌ, دَكَّاءٌ, بَرَقَاءٌ, سَمَاءٌ, are formed صَحْرَاوَاتٌ, دَكَّاَوَاتٌ, بَرَقَاوَاتٌ, سَمَاوَاتٌ or سَمَوَاتٌ.—Words of five or more letters sometimes reject the terminations ي and اء. (see § 299, rem. c) ; as حُبَارِيٌّ or حُبَارِيَّاتٌ ; قَاصِعَةٌ a jerboa's hole, قَاصِعَاتٌ.

302. The pluralis sanus masc. is formed from :—

- (a) Proper names of men (excepting those which end in ة, as طَلْحَةٌ), their diminutives, and the diminutives of common nouns A which denote rational beings ; as عُثْمَانُونَ, عُثْمَانُ 'Othmān, عُيَيْدٌ 'Obaid (dimin. of عَيْدٌ 'Aid), رَجَائِلٌ (dimin. of رَجُلٌ a man), شَوَيْعِرُونَ (dimin. of شَاعِرٌ) an inferior poet, رَجَائِلُونَ.

- (b) Verbal adjectives which form their fem. by adding َـ.

(c) Adjectives of the form أَفْعُلٌ, which have the comparative and superlative signification. [The corroboratives of كَلٌّ viz. أَكْتَعٌ, أَجْمَعٌ, etc. have also the plur. san. masc., though by their fem. sing. جَمَعَاءٌ, B كَتَعَاءٌ, etc. they might seem to belong rather to the class of adjectives exemplified by أَصْفَرٌ, etc. § 296. For the plur. fem. see § 304, II. 2, rem. D. G.]

- (d) The relative adjectives in يُّ. The ending يُّونٌ is often shortened to يُّونٌ, as usually in الْأَشْعَرُونَ for الْأَشْعَرِيُّونَ. Other instances are الْأَخْزَرِيُّونَ, النَّجْمِيُّونَ.

(e) The words ابْنٌ (for بَنِيٌّ) a son, عَالِمٌ one of the four classes of created beings, أَرْضٌ the earth, أَهْلٌ one's family, إوزٌ the goose, ذُوٌ the possessor (of a thing) ; which make بَنُونَ, عَالِمُونَ, أَرْضُونَ, C (rarely أَرْضُونَ), إوزُونَ and ذوُونَ (used only in the construct state ذووٌ, see § 340, rem. c)*.

REM. a. Adjectives, however, have the plur. sanus masc. only when joined to substantives denoting rational beings.

REM. b. Plurales fracti are also formed from substantives and adjectives that have the plur. sanus masc., but more especially from adjectives when used substantively. D

REM. c. To the words enumerated under (e) may be added عِلِّيُّونٌ, the highest heavens, and أَوْلُوٌ or أَلُوٌ (construct form of

* In a poem of ʿan-Nābiḡa (Ahlw. App. 13, vs. 5) we find تَبَعُونَ from تَبِعٌ, and in the commentary on the Diw. of Hudḡil, p. 120, last l. بُوهُونٌ from بُوهُ. We ought to mention also the expressions عَمِلَ بِهِ الْعَمَلِيَّينَ and بَلَّغَتْ مِنَّا الْبَلَّغِيَّينَ, لَقِيتُ مِنْهُ الْبَرَجِيَّينَ.

A أولون, with the first syllable short, see § 340, rem. c), possessors, which have no singular; as also the numerals denoting the tens, from 20 up to 90 (§ 323). Further, حُشٌّ a privy, حُشُونٌ; هَرْنٌ a thing, هَرُونٌ; حَرٌّ vulva, حَرُونٌ; and the rarer forms أَبُونٌ, أَخُونٌ, from أَبٌ and أَخٌ.

REM. d. Some fem. nouns in ة, especially those of which the third radical (و, ي, ه) has been elided, have a plur. sanus masc., the termination ة disappearing entirely; as حَرَّةٌ a stony, volcanic

B district, حَرُونٌ (and, very irregularly, أَحْرُونٌ); عِضَّةٌ a thorny tree, عِضُونٌ; رِئَةٌ a lung, رِئُونٌ; كُرَّةٌ a ball, a sphere, كُرُونٌ; قَلَّةٌ a stick used by children at play, قَلُونٌ [cas. obliq. قَلِينٌ]; سَنَةٌ a year, سِنُونٌ. From the oblique case of this last word, viz. سِنِينٌ, arises a secondary formation سِنِينٌ, [like مِثِينٌ § 325, rem. a. Comp. also ii. § 108].

C REM. e. In proper names of the class مُرَكَّبٌ مُرَجَعٌ (§ 264), the formation of the plural is analogous to that of the dual (§ 299, rem. h). Thus مَعْدِيكِرِبٌ, in which the second member only is declinable, makes مَعْدِيكِرِبُونٌ; but تَابَطٌ شَرًّا and سِبَوِيَّةٌ, which are wholly indeclinable, form ذُوو تَابَطٌ شَرًّا and ذُوو سِبَوِيَّةٌ, men called Sibawih and Ta'abbafa sarran. Construct compounds, like عَبْدٌ عَيْدٌ مَنَافٍ, أَبُو زَيْدٍ مَنَافٍ, and ابْنُ الزُّبَيْرِ مَنَافٍ, form عَيْدُو مَنَافٍ, أَبُو زَيْدٍ مَنَافٍ, and ابْنُ الزُّبَيْرِ مَنَافٍ, men called 'Abd Menāf, 'Abū Zēid, and 'Ibnu 'z-Zubēir; but in the case of compounds with أَبٌ, ابْنٌ, etc., it is also allowable to say أَبُو زَيْدِينِ and the like.—It may be added that compounds with ابْنٌ, when they are the names, not of persons, but of animals or other objects (see § 191, rem. b, 6), take the feminine plural بَنَاتٌ (from بِنْتٌ or ابْنَةٌ); e.g. ابْنٌ عَرَسٍ a weasel, ابْنٌ مَاءٍ a water-fowl, ابْنٌ نَعِشٍ any one of the stars in the tail of the Great Bear, بَنَاتٌ عَرَسٍ, etc.

[REM. f. If a word in the status constructus is put in the plural, A the following genitive of possession may be put also in the plural, as فِعْلٌ أَلْقَلِبِ pl. أَشْبَاهُ الْجُمُوعِ or أَشْبَاهُ الْجَمْعِ; أَصْحَابُ الْبُرْدِ, صَاحِبُ الْبَرِيدِ; أَفْعَالُ الْقُلُوبِ or أَفْعَالُ الْقَلْبِ; أَصْحَابُ الْبَرِيدِ, لَيْلَةُ الْجَمْعَةِ; بَيْتُ أَلْمَالِ; نَيْلَى الْجَمْعِ; بَيْوتُ الْأَمْوَالِ; etc. D. G.]

303. The pluralis sanus fem. is formed from :—

(a) Proper names of women, and such names of men as end in ة; as زَيْنَبٌ Zīnab, زَيْنَبَاتٌ Hind, هِنْدَاتٌ 'Azza, عَزَّاتٌ Talha (a man's name), طَلْحَاتٌ (§ 301, rem. b).

REM. According to some grammarians the plur. sanus fem. may be formed from any word ending in ة; as ظَلِيَّةٌ a gazelle, ظَلِيَّاتٌ قريةٌ a village, قَرِيَّاتٌ; عَلَّامَةٌ a very learned man, عَلَّامَاتٌ.

(b) Feminine adjectives, the masculine gender of which has the pluralis sanus.

(c) Feminine nouns in يَ and آء; as حُبْلِيَّاتٌ pregnant, حُبْلِيَّاتٌ; ذِكْرِيَّاتٌ memory, ذِكْرِيَّاتٌ; ضَرَّاءٌ distress, ضَرَّاءَاتٌ (§ 301, rem. e); حَبَارِيَّاتٌ a bustard, حَبَارِيَّاتٌ.

(d) The names of the letters, which are usually feminine (§ 292, b); as أَلِفٌ an ālif, أَلِفَاتٌ; مِيمٌ an m, مِيمَاتٌ.

(e) The names of the months; as أَلْحَرَمُ the Moharram, D شَوَّالَاتٌ, شَوَّالٌ Sāuwāl, رَمَضَانَاتٌ, رَمَضَانَ Ramadān, مَحَرَّمَاتٌ.

(f) The feminine nomina verbi (§ 196), and all nomina verbi of the derived forms (§ 202); as تَعْرِيفَاتٌ a definition, تَعْرِيفَاتٌ; إِقْطَاعٌ a seaf, إِقْطَاعَاتٌ; اصْطِلَاحَاتٌ a technical term, اصْطِلَاحَاتٌ.

REM. The nomina verbi of the second and fourth forms, when used in a concrete sense, admit also of a pluralis fractus; as تَصْنِيفَاتٌ,

A تَأْلِيفٌ, a literary composition, a book, تَصَانِيفٌ, تَوَالِيفٌ (compare § 136); تَأْرِيخٌ a date, an era, a chronicle, تَوَارِيخٌ; تَبَارِيحٌ distresses, difficulties; تَبَاشِيرٌ annunciations, prognostics; تَعَاجِيبٌ wonders, marvels; إِرْجَافٌ a false rumour, أَرْجَافٌ; إِسْنَادٌ a chain or series of authorities, أَسَانِيدٌ.

B (g) Substantives of foreign origin, even when they denote persons; as سُرَادِقٌ an awning, a tent, سُرَادِقَاتٌ; بِيْمَارِسْتَانٌ a hospital, أَغَا an Aga, شَاذِرْوَانَاتٌ شَاذِرْوَانٌ a jet d'eau, a fountain, بِيْمَارِسْتَانَاتٌ; أَشْوَاتٌ أَسْتَا (for أَسْتَاذٌ) a teacher, أَسْتَوَاتٌ; بَاشَا a Pasha, بَاشَوَاتٌ; أَغْوَاتٌ.

(h) Many masc. substantives, which have no plur. fractus; and some fem. nouns, which have not a fem. termination; as سِبْحَلٌ a stout camel, سِبْحَلَاتٌ; حَمَامٌ a warm bath, حَمَامَاتٌ; جَمَادٌ an inanimate or inorganic thing, جَمَادَاتٌ; حَيَوَانٌ a living thing, an animal, حَيَوَانَاتٌ; عَقَارٌ landed property, عَقَارَاتٌ; مَاجِرَى an event or occurrence (lit. مَا جَرَى what happened or occurred), مَاجِرِيَّاتٌ; أَهْلٌ one's family or relations, أَهْلَاتٌ or أَهْلَاتٌ, which some, however, derive (according to § 301, rem. b) from أَهْلَةٌ; عَيْرٌ a caravan of loaded camels, عَيْرَاتٌ or عَيْرَاتٌ; سَمَاوَاتٌ سَمَاوَاتٌ the sky or heavens, سَمَاوَاتٌ (though this word is also masc.); أَرْضٌ the earth or ground, أَرْضَاتٌ (see § 301, rem. b); مَنْجُونٌ a waterwheel, مَنْجُونَاتٌ; عَرَسٌ or عَرَسٌ a wedding or marriage, عَرَسَاتٌ. From أَرْبَعِينَ a collection of forty traditions is formed أَرْبَعِينَاتٌ.

(i) Verbal adjectives, which are used in the plural as substantives; as كَائِنَاتٌ entities (from كَانَ being); مَوْجُودَاتٌ beings (from مَوْجُودٌ found, existing); مَخْلُوقَاتٌ creatures (from مَخْلُوقٌ created); مُصَنَّفَاتٌ literary compositions, works (from مُصَنَّفٌ arranged, classified);

مُجَلَّدَاتٌ bound books, volumes (from مُجَلَّدٌ covered with skin, A bound).

(j) All diminutives, except those specified in § 302, a; as جَبِيلٌ a hillock, جَبِيلَاتٌ; كُتَيْبٌ a little book, كُتَيْبَاتٌ.

304. The more common forms of the plur. fractus of substantives and adjectives, which are derived from trilateral roots, and in none of which (excepting أَفْعَلٌ) does any letter precede the first radical, are B twenty-nine in number. The following is a list of these forms, with the principal corresponding singulars, and examples.

Plur. Fract.

I. فَعْلٌ.

Sing.

1. فَعْلَةٌ; as تُحْفَةٌ a present, تُحَفٌ; رُكْبَةٌ a knee, رُكَبٌ; غُرَّةٌ the white spot, or blaze (Germ. Blässe), on a horse's forehead, غُرَرٌ; قُبَّةٌ [a leather tent,] a dome, قُبَبٌ; أُمَّةٌ a nation, أُمَمٌ; غُرْرٌ; جُدُوَةٌ a fire-brand, جُدَى (for جُدَى or جُدُوٌ, § 213); كُلَيْةٌ a kidney, كُلَى (for كُلَى); [بُهْمَةٌ courageous, بُهَمٌ].
2. فُعْلَى, fem. of أَفْعَلٌ as a superlative (§ 234 and § 295, b); as أَلْعَظْمَى the largest, أَلْكَبَرَى; أَلصَّغْرَى the smallest, أَلصَّغْرَى; أَلْعَظْمَى the greatest, أَلْعَظْمَى; أَلأَوَّلَى the first (fem. of أَلأَوَّلُ); أَلأَوَّلَى the highest, أَلْعَلَى.

REM. Similarly أُخْرَى other, another (fem. of أَخْرٌ, see D § 295, rem. b), أُخْرٌ, without tænwin.

- C 6. أَفْعَلٌ, fem. فَعْلَاءَةٌ; as أَحْمَرٌ red, أُحْمَرَانٌ; أَصْلَعٌ bald, أُصْلَعَانٌ; أَصْمٌ deaf, أُصْمَانٌ; أَعْوَرٌ blind of one eye, أُعْوَرَانٌ; أَبْيَضٌ white, أُبْيَضَانٌ (for أُبْيَضَانٌ); أَعْمَى blind, أُعْمِيَانٌ.

REM. The forms فُعْلَانٌ and فُعْلَانٌ are, as some of the above examples show, used conjointly or interchangeable, even in cases where we should hardly expect it. For example, instead of أُعْوَرَانٌ, blind of one eye, from أَعْوَرٌ, and أُحْوَرَانٌ, unweaned foals of camels, from أُحْوَرٌ, we find أُعْمِرَانٌ and

REM. a. The above rules regarding the correspondence of certain forms of the pluralis fractus and of the singular, are subject to many exceptions*. The dictionaries also give various forms

* [Many scholars do not admit the forms XXV., XXVIII. and XXIX. as plur. fracta, but call them quasi-plurals (أَسْمَاءُ الْجَمْعِ), making a distinction between them and the real collectives (أَسْمَاءُ الْجَمْعِ), as قَوْمٌ etc., and the generic collectives (أَسْمَاءُ الْجِنْسِ), which form a nomen unitatis, as نَحْلٌ. The forms فَعِلٌ, فَعِيلٌ and فَعَلٌ are which we have not thought it necessary to notice; for instance, A مَفْعَلَةٌ, rarely مَفْعَلَةٌ and مَفْعَلَةٌ (as ضَبُعٌ a hyena, مَضْبَعَةٌ; عَبْدٌ a slave, مَعْبَدَةٌ; وَعِلٌ a mountain-goat, مَوْعِلَةٌ; شَيْخٌ an old man, a chief, a doctor, مَشِيخَةٌ, مَشِيخَةٌ and مَشِيخَةٌ; سَيْفٌ a sword, مَسِيْفَةٌ and مَسِيْفَةٌ), and مَفْعُولَاتٌ, of which the principal examples in use are: أَتَانٌ a she-ass, مَاتُونَاءٌ; بَغْلٌ a mule, مَبْغُولَاءٌ; تَيْسٌ a he-goat, مَتَيْسَاءٌ; عَبْدٌ a slave, مَعْبُودَاءٌ; عَلِجٌ a Christian (or other not Muhammadan) captive or slave, مَعْلُوجَاءٌ; عَيْرٌ a wild ass, مَعْيُورَاءٌ; كَبِيرٌ large, stout, مَكْبُورَاءٌ.

REM. b. Many forms of the pluralis fractus seem to be derived, not from the singular forms in actual use, but from others, which are obsolete or of rare occurrence. E.g. فَاعِلٌ, pl. فَعَلَاءٌ, (as شَاعِرٌ a poet, شُعْرَاءٌ, شُعْرَاءٌ) from an obsolete فَعِيلٌ (شَعِيرٌ); and فَاعِلٌ, pl. فَعَلَى, C (as هَلِكٌ perishing, هَلَكَى), also from an obsolete فَعِيلٌ (هَلِكٌ).

REM. c. From the preceding table it is obvious that one sing. may have several forms of the pluralis fractus; e.g. بَحْرٌ a sea, بَحَارٌ, بَحْرَانٌ, بَحْرَةٌ, بَحْرَةٌ or بَحْرَةٌ, أَبْرٌ, أَبْرٌ, أَبْرٌ; نُوزٌ a bull, أَنْوَارٌ, نُوزَةٌ, نُوزَةٌ or نُوزَةٌ, عَبْدَانٌ, عَبْدٌ, عَبِيدٌ, أَعْبَادٌ, أَعْبَادَةٌ, أَعْبَادٌ, عَبُودٌ, عِبَادٌ, عَبْدٌ; نُوزَةٌ (besides عَبْدٌ, عَبْدَانٌ, عَبِيدٌ, أَعْبَادٌ, أَعْبَادَةٌ, أَعْبَادٌ, عَبُودٌ, see rem. a.); صَحَابَانٌ, صَحَابَةٌ, أَصْحَابٌ, صَحَابٌ, صَحَابٌ; صَاحِبٌ D (besides صَحَابَةٌ, see rem. a.). Or one sing. may have several plurales fracti and a pluralis sanus besides; e.g. شَاهِدٌ one who is present, masculine by form, feminine by signification. The forms XXVI. فُعُولَةٌ and XXVII. فَعَالَةٌ seem to be derived respectively from فُعُولٌ and فَعَالٌ with the termination ة to reinforce the collective meaning (قَاءٌ تَأْكِيْدٌ مَعْنَى الْجَمْعِ).

- A an eye-witness, a witness, شَاهِدُونَ, شَاهِدٌ, شَهَدَ, شَهَدْتُمْ, شَاهِدُونَ, شَاهِدُونَ, شَاهِدُونَ, شَاهِدُونَ. In such cases, if the sing. has several meanings, it often happens that each of them has one or more forms of the pluralis fractus which are peculiar to it, or used in preference to the rest. For example, شَاهِدٌ, in the sense of an evidential example, has شَوَاهِدٌ. The word بَيْتٌ means: (1) a tent or house, (2) a verse of poetry; in the former sense the plur. fract. is بُيُوتٌ or أَبْيَاتٌ, in the latter almost always أَبْيَاتٌ.
- B Again, عَيْنٌ signifies: (1) an eye, (2) a fountain, (3) peculiar nature or essence, (4) a distinguished man; its plur. fract. in the first sense is عَيْونٌ or أَعْيُنٌ, or أَعْيَانٌ; in the second, عَيْونٌ or أَعْيُنٌ; in the third and fourth, أَعْيَانٌ. Or, to take another instance, بَطْنٌ means: (1) the belly, (2) a valley, (3) a tribe, (4) the interior, (5) the inner or wider side of a wing-feather; its plur. fract. in the first sense is بَطُونٌ, أَبْطُنٌ, or أَبْطَانٌ; in the second, أَبْطِنَةٌ, أَبْطُونٌ, or أَبْطَانٌ; in the third, أَبْطُونٌ or أَبْطُنٌ; in the fourth and fifth, أَبْطَانٌ.

XXIII., rem.); أَفَاعِي trial, experience, تَجَارِبٌ; مَخْلَبٌ a claw or talon, مَخَالِبٌ; مَنَزِلَةٌ a halting-place, a station, مَنَازِلٌ; مَحَلَّةٌ a place where one stops or dwells, a quarter of a town, مَحَالٌ; مَعِيْشَةٌ means of subsistence, مَعَايِشٌ; مَعْنَى meaning, مَعَانٍ (for مَعَالِي); مَرْثِيَةٌ B an elegy, مَرَاثٍ (for مَرَاثِي); [مَرَضِعٌ suckling, مَرَاضِعٌ].

REM. a. In the plur. fract. of the form مَفَاعِلٌ from verba mediæ rad. ي, the ي is not converted after the ðlif productionis into hêmza (ð),—as happens, for instance, in form XVII. of the trilaterals (فَعَائِلٌ), or in the nomen agentis (فَاعِلٌ, § 240),—but it remains unchanged; e.g. مَسَاحَةٌ, مَسَاحٌ, an open space for walking (from سَاحَ for سَيَحَ); مَسَاحٌ, whereas مَسَاحٌ is the plural of مَسِيحَةٌ a curt (from مَسَحَ). In the same form from verba mediæ rad. و, the و is usually retained, as مَقْوَسٌ a bowcase, مَقَاوِسٌ; مَفَازَةٌ (from فَاَزَ for فَوَزَ) a desert, مَفَاوِزٌ; مَلَامَةٌ a reproof, مَلَاوِمٌ; مَغَاوِسٌ (from مَغَاوَسَ for مَغَاوَسَ) a place for diving, مَغَاوِصٌ; but in one or two instances into hêmza (ð), e.g. مَصِيْبَةٌ (from صَابَ for صَوَّبَ) a misfortune, مَصَاوِبٌ, and usually مَصَائِبٌ; مَنَارَةٌ D a candlestick, a lighthouse, a minaret, مَنَاوِرٌ, and usually مَنَائِرٌ. The changing of the و into ي is vulgar, as مَنَائِرٌ, مَنَائِرٌ.

REM. b. Adjectives of the form أَفْعَلٌ, especially with the superlative meaning, make, when used as substantives [and, in that case, often taking the form أَفْعَلٌ, as أُجْدَلٌ; see § 309, b, γ], a plur. أَفَاعِلٌ; e.g. أُدْمَرٌ a shackle or fetter,

2. Substantives and adjectives of four or more letters, which have not a litera productionis before the last radical,—especially when they are words of foreign origin,—and a great many relative adjectives, consisting of more than four letters. E.g. مَلَاِكٌ an angel, مَلَاِكَةٌ; صَيْفَلٌ a polisher of swords, صَيْفَلٌ and صَيْفَلَةٌ; تَبَاعَةٌ a king of el-Yemèn, تَبَاعَةٌ; قَمَسٌ a nobleman (comes, κόμης), قَمَاسَةٌ; بَطْرِيْقٌ a patriarch or archbishop (πατριάρχης), بَطْرِيْقٌ and بَطْرِيْقَةٌ; جُورِبٌ a stocking or sock (Pers. جُورِب), جُورِبٌ and جُورِبَةٌ; مَلْحِدٌ a heretic, مَلْحِدَةٌ; قَيْصَرٌ (Καίσαρ) the Byzantine emperor, قَيْصَرٌ and قَيْصَرَةٌ; فِرْعَوْنٌ (Ἰσχυρὸς) فِرْعَوْنٌ and فِرْعَوْنَةٌ; صَيْرَفِيٌّ and صَيْرَفٌ, a money-changer, صَيْرَفِيٌّ and صَيْرَفَةٌ; مَغْرِبِيٌّ a Moor, مَغْرِبِيٌّ and مَغْرِبَةٌ; بَغْدَادِيٌّ a native of Bagdād, بَغْدَادِيٌّ and بَغْدَادَةٌ; مَصَامِدَةٌ a descendant of el-Muhallèb, مَصَامِدَةٌ; مَسْرِيٌّ (Pers. مَسْرُو, Chosroes) the king of

Persia, are formed irregularly أَكَابِرَةٌ, أَكَابِرَةٌ, and كَسَابِرَةٌ; and سَوَاؤٌ or سَوِيٌّ, a like, an equal, has, besides أَسْوَأٌ, the irregular سَوَايَةٌ, سَوَايَةٌ, and سَوَايَةٌ (for سَوَايَةٌ).

REM. a. This form is also found, though rarely, in quadrilaterals which have a litera productionis before the last radical; B as جَبَّارٌ a tyrant, a giant, جَبَّارَةٌ; شَمَّاسٌ a deacon (Syr. شَمَّاس), شَمَّاسَةٌ.

REM. b. In forming the plur. fract. of nouns which contain five or more letters (exclusive of ة and the letters of prolongation), one of the radicals is rejected, generally the last. E.g. عَنْكَبُوتٌ a spider, عَنْكَبٌ; عَنْدَلِيْبٌ a nightingale, عَنْدَلٌ; جَحْمَرِيْشٌ a fat, lazy old woman, جَحْمَرٌ; سَفْرَجَلٌ a quince, سَفْرَجٌ; but فَرَزْدَقٌ a burnt cake, فَرَزْدَقٌ; قَلَنْسُوءَةٌ a sort of cap, قَلَنْسُوءٌ; فَرَاوِيْقٌ (for فَرَاوِيْقِيٌّ), or C بَطْلَانِيَّةٌ Ptolemy, بَطْلَانِيَّةٌ; أَسْطُوَانَةٌ a pillar, أَسْطُوَانٌ; بَطْلَمِيَّوْسٌ بَطْلَمِيَّوْسٌ; دَمَسْتَقٌ a Byzantine governor (domesticus, δομestικός), دَمَاسِقٌ. Here may also be mentioned such plurals as عَبْدُ اللَّهِ from عَبْدُ اللَّهِ 'Abdu 'Uah (compare § 264, rem. b).

REM. c. The forms of the plur. fract. of quadrilaterals and quinquilaterals are also used in forming plurals from other plurals (جَمْعُ الْجَمْعِ the plur. of the plur., or secondary plural). In particular, forms XIII. أَفْعَلٌ and XV. أَفْعَلَةٌ make أَفْعَالٌ, and XIV. D أَفْعَالٌ; more rarely V. فَعَالٌ, فَعَالٌ, and XVIII. and XIX. فَعَالِيْنَ. E.g. XIII. كَلْبٌ a dog, أَكْلَابٌ; نَاقَةٌ a she-camel, أَنْبِيْقٌ; أَنْبِيْقٌ one's people or tribe, أَنْبِيْقٌ; أَيْدِيٌّ a hand, a benefit, أَيْدِيٌّ (for أَيْدِيٌّ); XV. سُوَارٌ a bracelet, أَسْوَرَةٌ; مَكَانٌ a place, أَمَكِنَةٌ.

A REM. We must distinguish from the plurales fracti those nouns which are called أَسْمَاءُ الْجِنْسِ (generic nouns), as نَحْلٌ bees, on which see § 246 and § 292, a. The former may be styled abstract, the latter concrete collectives. A third class of collectives is formed by those nouns, to the meaning of which the idea of collectiveness attaches; as قَوْمٌ, رَفْطٌ, people or tribe, عَسْكَرٌ an army; [إِبِلٌ camels, غَنَمٌ sheep]. These are called أَسْمَاءُ الْجَمْعِ or أَسْمَاءُ الْجِنْسِ (like the plural), and differ from the أَسْمَاءُ الْجِنْسِ in not admitting of the formation of nomina unitatis (§ 246).

B 307. The pluralis sanus and the plurales fracti of the forms XII. فَعْلَةٌ, XIII. أَفْعُلٌ, XIV. أَفْعَالٌ, and XV. أَفْعَلَةٌ, are used only of persons and things which do not exceed ten in number (3 to 10), and are therefore called جُمُوعٌ قَلِيلَةٌ, plurals of paucity, whilst the rest are named جُمُوعٌ كَثِيرَةٌ, plurals of abundance. This observation applies, C of course, only to such nouns as have also other plurals, for if one of the forms alone be used, it is necessarily employed without any limitation as to number.

4. The Declension of Nouns.

I. The Declension of Undefined Nouns.

D 308. (1) Undefined substantives and adjectives are, in the singular number, either triptotes or diptotes. Triptotes are those which have three terminations to indicate the different cases; viz. ا (Nom.), ـ (Gen.), and اُ or ـ (Acc., see § 8, rem. a). Diptotes are those which have only two terminations; viz. ا (Nom.) and ـ (Gen., Acc.)*.—(2) The dual number has only two case-endings, which are

* A noun may be مُعَرَّبٌ, declinable, or مَبْنِيٌّ, indeclinable. A declinable noun may be مُنْصَرَفٌ, declined with t̄enwīn, or غَيْرُ مُنْصَرَفٍ, declined without t̄enwīn. The term مُتَمَكِّنٌ فِي الْأَسْمَاءِ, established in, or possessed of, the nominal character or nature, or simply مُتَمَكِّنٌ, is synonymous with مُعَرَّبٌ, and غَيْرُ مُتَمَكِّنٍ with مَبْنِيٌّ; whilst common to both genders; viz. بَنٍ (Nom.) and بَيْنٍ (Gen., Acc.)*.— A (3) The pluralis sanus has likewise only two case-endings for each مُتَمَكِّنٌ, possessed of (the nominal character) to the fullest extent, is equivalent to مُنْصَرَفٌ, and مُتَمَكِّنٌ غَيْرُ مُنْصَرَفٍ to غَيْرُ مُنْصَرَفٍ.— The vowel u of the nominative is called الرَّفْعُ, the raising (of the voice), and is عَلَمُ الْفَاعِلِيَّةِ, the sign of agency; the vowel i is termed الْخَفْضُ the depression (of the voice), or الْجَرُّ, the being drawn along or attracted B (by a governing word, الْجَارُ), and is عَلَمُ الْإِضَافَةِ, the sign of annexation; the vowel a is designated الْتَّصُّبُ, the uplifting or elevation (of the voice), and is عَلَمُ الْمَفْعُولِيَّةِ, the sign of objectivity.—The t̄enwīn may be (a) التَّنْوِينُ الدَّلَالِيُّ عَلَى الْمَكَانَةِ, the nunation which shows that a noun is fully declinable, also called تَّنْوِينُ التَّمَكِينِ, and found in the singular and the pluralis fractus, as رَجُلٌ, رِجَالٌ; (b) تَّنْوِينُ التَّمَقَابَلَةِ, the nunation of correspondence, found in the plural feminine, as مُسْلِمَاتٌ, because it corresponds to the ن of مُسْلِمِينَ; (c) تَّنْوِينُ التَّتَكْيِيرِ, the C nunation which distinguishes, in the case of an indeclinable noun, between the definite, الْمَعْرُفَةُ, and the indefinite, النُّكْرَةُ, as مَرُوتٌ بِسَيْبُوِيهِ, I passed by Sibawēih and another (man called) Sibawēih; and (d) تَّنْوِينُ الْعَوْضِ, the nunation of compensation. This last may be of three kinds: (a) of compensation for the omission of an entire proposition, as in وَاتَّمَرْتُمْ حِينَئِذٍ تَنْظُرُونَ and ye are then looking on, where حِينَئِذٍ stands for إِذْ بَلَغَتِ الرُّوحَ الْخَلْقُومَ, at the time when the spirit has reached the throat; (β) of compensation for a governed D word, as when the genitive is omitted after كُلٌّ or بَعْضٌ, as كُلٌّ قَائِمٌ for كُلُّهُمْ قَائِمٌ or كُلٌّ إِنْسَانٌ قَائِمٌ; (γ) of compensation for a letter, as in جَوَارِيٌّ plural of جَوَارِيَّةٌ, for جَوَارِيٌّ in the nominative or جَوَارِيٌّ in the genitive.

* The form بَيْنٍ is used dialectically, as in the hemistich عَلَى أَحْوَدَيْنِ اسْتَقَلَّتْ عَشِيَّةٌ, at eve it (a bird) rose on two nimble (wings).

A gender; viz. for the masculine, زَوْنٌ (Nom.) and زَوْنٍ (Gen., Acc.)*; for the feminine, زَوْنَاتٌ (Nom.) and زَوْنَاتٍ (Gen., Acc.).—(4) The plurales fracti are either diptotes or triptotes, exactly like the singular (see § 309, a).—The following is the paradigm of the declension of undefined substantives and adjectives.

	N.	فُقَرَاءُ	...	نَوَائِحُ
	G. Ac.	فُقَرَاءٍ	...	نَوَائِحٍ

REM. a. There are two words in Arabic, in which the final flexional vowel of the singular affects the last vowel of the radical part of the substantive; viz. أَمْرٌ, a man, and ابْنٌ, a son, for أَمْرًا and ابنًا, which are also used (see § 19, d).

Sing. Nom.	أَمْرٌ or أَمْرًا	ابْنٌ
Gen.	أَمْرِي or أَمْرٍ	ابْنِي
Acc.	أَمْرًا or أَمْرِي	ابنًا

[According to En-Nadr ibn Šomèil, as quoted by Zamahšari, Faṣḥ C i. 524, فَمًّا the mouth is also doubly declined, فَمًّا, فَمْرٍ, فَمْرٍ, as هَذَا فَمُّهُ and أَخْرَجَ لِسَانَهُ مِنْ فِيهِ, رَأَيْتُ فَمَّهُ Comp. Lane and Fleischer, Kl. Schr. i. 180. D. G.]

REM. b. For the comparison of the Arabic Declension with that of the other Semitic Languages see Comp. Gr. p. 139 seqq.

309. The following nouns are diptote.

a. Several forms of the pluralis fractus; viz.

(a) Quadrisyllabic plurales fracti, the first and second syllables of which have fetha and the third kësra, that is to say, the forms of nouns which have more than three radical letters); as بَوَاعِلُ (XVI.), فَعَائِلُ (XVII.), فَعَالِلُ etc., and فَعَالِيلُ etc. (I. and II. بَوَاعِلُ causes, عَجَائِبُ wonders, قَنَاطِرُ bridges, سَلَاطِينُ sultans.

(β) Plurales fracti which end in hêmza preceded by êlif mêmüdûda

D

A (أَـ), viz. فَعْلَاءَ (XX.) and أَفْعَلَاءَ (XXI.); as حُكَمَاءَ wise men, أَوْلِيَاءَ friends (compare b, a and c, β).

(γ) Plurales fracti which end in ـِ and ـِي, viz. فَعَالٍ (XXIII.), فَعَالِي (XXII.), and فَعَالِي (XXIV.); as عَذَابٍ virgins, جَرَحِي wounded men, أُسَارِي prisoners, هَدَايَا presents (compare b, β and c, β).

(δ) أُوْلٍ, plur. fract. of أُوْلٍ, and of its fem. أُوْلِي, first; أُخْرٍ, plur. fract. of أُخْرٍ, and of its fem. أُخْرِي, other, another; جَمْعٍ, plur. fract. of جَمْعَاءَ, كَتَعَاءَ, بَصْعَاءَ, بُتَعَاءَ, fem. of أَجْمَعٍ, etc., all together.

[(e) أَشْيَاءَ, the irregular plural of شَيْءٌ; (comp. XIV. 2, rem.)]

b. Various common nouns and adjectives; viz.

(a) Common nouns and adjectives which end in hêmza preceded by êlif mêmduḍa (أَـ); as عَذْرَاءٌ a virgin, بَيْضَاءٌ white (§ 296).

C Compare a, β and c, β.

REM. This rule does not apply to cases in which the hêmza is radical, as قَرَأَ from قَرَأَ (compare § 299, rem. c, and § 301, rem. e).

(β) Common nouns and adjectives ending in êlif maḡṣūra (ـِي); as ذِكْرِي memory, سَكْرِي drunken (§ 295, a). Compare a, γ and c, β.

REM. Excepting those in which the êlif maḡṣūra is radical; as هُدَى guidance (for هُدَى, § 213).

(γ) Adjectives of the form أَفْعَلٍ (§§ 232, 16, and 234—5), of which the fem. is فَعْلِي and فَعْلَاءَ (§§ 295, b, and 296); as أَعْجَبٌ more wonderful; أَحْمَرٌ red.—But adjectives of the form أَفْعَلٍ, f. أَفْعَلَةٌ, are triptote; as أَرْمَلٌ poor, needy, without a wife, f. أَرْمَلَةٌ poor, needy, without a husband, a widow.—Substantives of this form are usually regarded as triptote, e.g. أُجْدَلٌ a hawk, أَخْيَلٌ a green woodpecker, أُرْتَبٌ a hare, أَرْمَلٌ a humming; but the diptote form is admissible in such as were originally adjectives, e.g. أُجْدَلٌ, أَخْيَلٌ.

REM. a. Some good authorities give أَرْمَلٌ as the masculine of أَرْمَلَةٌ, which would be very irregular.

REM. b. Adjectives of the form أَفْعَلٍ, when used as substantives, retain the diptote inflection; e.g. أَدْمَرٌ a fetter (properly blackish, dun), أُسُودٌ a serpent (prop. black), أُبْرُقٌ stony land (prop. mottled), أَبْطَحٌ a wide, gravelly water-course, أَجْرَعٌ a tract of land without herbage.

(δ) Adjectives of the form فَعْلَانٍ, of which the fem. is فَعْلَانِي B (§ 295, a); as سَكْرَانٌ, f. سَكْرِي, drunken.—But those of which the fem. is فَعْلَانَةٌ (§ 295, rem. a) are triptote; as نَدْمَانٌ, f. نَدْمَانَةٌ, a boon companion.—Adjectives of the form فَعْلَانٍ are all triptote, their fem. being formed by adding ـَةٌ (§ 295, rem. a); as عَرَبَانٌ, f. عَرَبَانَةٌ, naked.

REM. a. Adjectives of the form فَعْلَانٌ, f. فَعْلَانَةٌ, are rare. The principal examples in the language are: أَلْيَانٌ having a large fat tail (of a sheep); حَبِلَانٌ angry; دَخْنَانٌ stiflingly hot; سَخْنَانٌ hot; سَيِّفَانٌ tall and slender; ضَحِيَانٌ exposed to the sun, eating in the forenoon (الضُّحَى); صَوْحَانٌ and صَوْحَانٌ dry, withered; عَلَانٌ stupid, ignorant; قَشْوَانٌ thin, slender; مَصَّانٌ sucking (sheep or cows) out of greed, mean, vile; مَوْتَانٌ stupid, stolid; نَدْمَانٌ a boon companion; نَصْرَانٌ Christian. Some of these, however, have also the form فَعْلَانٌ, فَعْلَانٌ, or فَعْلَانٌ; as أَلْيَانٌ and أَلْيَانٌ; سَخْنَانٌ, سَخْنَانٌ, or سَخْنَانٌ; صَوْحَانٌ; قَشْوَانٌ. The word صَوْحَانٌ may perhaps be merely a mistake for صَوْحَانٌ or صَوْحَانٌ.

REM. b. فَلَانٌ so and so, such and such a one, makes irregularly D in the feminine فَلَانَةٌ, [because it takes the place of a proper name (c, ζ)].

(e) The masculine numerals as mere abstract numbers; e.g. سِتَّةٌ أَكْثَرُ مِنْ خَمْسَةٍ بِوَاحِدٍ 8 is the double of 4; سِتَّةٌ أَكْثَرُ مِنْ خَمْسَةٍ بِوَاحِدٍ 6 is more than 5 by one.

(ζ) Distributive numerals of the forms فَعَالٍ and مَفْعَلٍ (§ 333); as ثِنْتَانِ and مِثْنِي, two by two, ثَلَاثٌ and مِثْلُثٌ, three by three.

A (η) The grammatical paradigms formed from the root فعل, when used without the article as a sort of definite proper names. For example: أَفْعَلٌ صِفَةٌ لَا يَنْصَرِفُ (the form) af'al, (used) as an adjective, is declined without tənwin (e.g. أَحْمَرٌ red); أَفْعَلٌ إِذَا كَانَ أَسْمًا نَكْرَةً (the form) af'al, when it is an indefinite noun, is declined with tənwin (e.g. أَتَكَلُّ tremor, أَجْدَلٌ a hawk); وَزْنٌ طَلْحَةٌ وَإِصْبَعٌ فَعْلَةٌ; وَأَفْعَلٌ the measure of Talḥa and 'isba' is fa'la and 'if'al. But if we

B say كُلُّ أَفْعَلٍ يَكُونُ صِفَةً لَا يَنْصَرِفُ, every (word of the form) 'af'al, which is an adjective, is declined without tənwin, we must employ the nunation, because كُلُّ, in the sense of each, every, requires an indefinite word after it in the genitive; and so in other cases.

[(θ) The diminutives of all diptote nouns, as أُسَيْدٌ, with the exception of the softened diminutives (§ 283) and of those that are derived from the distributive numerals of the form فَعَالٌ (§ 333), as أَحْيَيْتُ, أَكْبَيْتُ.]

C c. Many proper names; viz.

(a) Foreign names of men, as إِسْحَاقُ Isaac, إِبْرَاهِيمُ Abraham, دَاوُدُ David, يُوسُفُ Joseph; excepting such as consist of three letters, the second of which has gèzma or is a litera productionis, as لُوطٌ Lot, نُوحٌ Noah.

(β) Proper names which end in ēlif maḥṣūra (compare a, γ and b, β) and ēlif memdūda (compare a, β and b, α), whether Arabic or

D foreign; as يَحْيَى John, عَادِيَا or عَادِيَاءُ 'Ādiyā, زَكَرِيَّا Zachariuh, يَعْلَى Ya'lā, لَيْلَى Lāilā, سُلْمَى Sulmā.

(γ) Proper names in ān, whether Arabic or foreign; as عَطَفَانٌ Ḡaṭafān (a tribe), عُثْمَانُ 'Othmān, حِطَّانٌ Ḥiṭṭān, سُفْيَانُ Sufyān, سُلَيْمَانُ Solomon, عِمْرَانُ 'Imrān ('Amram), [with the exception of those that were originally common nouns of the forms فَعَالٌ and فِعَالٌ, as سِنَانٌ and رِضْوَانٌ.]

(δ) Proper names which resemble in form the verbal forms فَعَّلَ A and فَعِلَ, or any of the persons of the Imperfect; as سَمَرٌ Sammar, شَلْمُرٌ Jerusalem, ضَرْبٌ Dorib, أَحْمَدٌ Aḥmad, يَزِيدٌ Yazīd, يَشْكُرُ Yāškūr, تَدْمُرٌ Tadmur (Palmyra), تَغْلِبٌ Taglib, يُبْنَى Yubnā, تُمَادِيرٌ Tumādir, يُرَامِلٌ Yurāmil.

(ε) Common nouns of the feminine gender, consisting of more than three letters, when used as proper names; e.g. عَقْرَبٌ a scorpion, عَقْرَبٌ 'Akrab (a man's name).

(ζ) Proper names which end in ē, whether masculine or feminine; as مَكَّةٌ Makka, فَاطِمَةٌ Fāṭima (a woman), دُجَّةٌ Doḡa (a woman), طَلْحَةٌ Talḥa, قَتَادَةٌ Qatāda (men). [Fem. proper names in āt keep their tənwin, as أُدْرِعَاتٌ gen. acc. عَرَقَاتٌ gen. acc. عَرَقَاتٍ. Dialectic forms are عَرَقَاتٌ gen. acc. عَرَقَاتٍ and even عَرَقَاتٍ.]

(η) Fem. proper names, which do not end in ē, but are either of foreign origin, or consist of more than three letters, or, though consisting of only three letters, are trisyllabic, owing to their middle radical having a vowel; e.g. مِصْرٌ Egypt, جُورٌ Gūr, صُورٌ Tyre, زَيْنَبٌ Zaynab, سَعَادٌ Su'ād, سَاتَرٌ Satar, سَقَرٌ Hellfire (as the name of a particular part of hell).—But fem. proper names which consist of only three letters, the second of which has gèzma, may be either diptote or triptote (though the former is preferred); as هِنْدٌ or هِنْدٌ Hind, دَعْدٌ or دَعْدٌ Da'd.

(θ) Proper names, which are actually or seemingly derived from common substantives or adjectives; especially masculine names of the form فَعْلٌ (from فَاعِلٌ), as عَمْرٌ 'Omar, زُفَرٌ Zufar, جُشْمٌ Ḡuṣm, زُحَلٌ the planet Saturn, قُشْمٌ the male hyena; and feminine names of the form فَعَالٌ (from فَاعِلَةٌ), as قَطَامٌ Qaṭām, رَقَاشٌ Raqāš, حَدَامٌ Ḥadām, بِرَاحٌ the sun, صَلَاحٌ Ṣalāḥ (a name of Mekka). These latter, however, have

A more usually and correctly the form فَعَالٍ, and are wholly indeclinable; as قَطَامِر, قَفَاشٍ, حَدَامِر, بَرَاخٍ, صَلَاخٍ, ظَفَارٍ Zafār (a city), قَتَامِر the female hyena, حَلَاقٍ death, صَرَامِر war, أَزَامِر a year of famine.

REM. a. Words of the form فَعَالٍ, of which the last letter is r, as جَعَارٍ the female hyena, حَضَارٍ Haḍār (a star in the Centaur), are almost invariably indeclinable, even in the dialect of those Arabs

B who in other cases use the form فَعَالٍ.

REM. b. Besides being used as proper names, the forms فَعُلٌ and فَعَالٍ are often employed as vocatives, in terms of abuse; e.g.

يا فَسَاقٍ O scoundrel! يا فَسَقِي O scold! يا فَحَّابٍ O improbe! يا فَحَّابِي O scold! يا فَحَّابِي O vile! يا فَحَّابِي O scold!

REM. c. In compound proper names of the class called مُرَكَّبٌ (§ 264), the first word is usually not declined at all, and the second follows the diptote declension; nom. حَضْرَمَوْتُ, بَعْلَبَكْ, حَضْرَمَوْتُ, gen. and acc. حَضْرَمَوْتُ, بَعْلَبَكْ, حَضْرَمَوْتُ, رَامْهَرَمَزْ, each word may, however, be declined separately, the second being in the genitive, and the first losing the tênwin because it is defined by the second (see § 313, foll.); nom. حَضْرَمَوْتُ, بَعْلَبَكْ, حَضْرَمَوْتُ, acc. حَضْرَمَوْتُ, etc. The proper name مَعْدِي كَرْبُ admits of three forms, for we may say مَعْدِي كَرْبُ (like حَضْرَمَوْتُ); or مَعْدِي كَرْبٍ, gen. and acc. مَعْدِي كَرْبٍ (like حَضْرَمَوْتُ); or مَعْدِي كَرْبٍ in all three cases (like رَامْهَرَمَزْ).—Proper names of men ending in وَيْهٍ are wholly indeclinable; as بَعْلَبَكْ, بَعْلَبَكِي, بَعْلَبَكِي.

* [The kunya is sometimes considered as a single compound noun.

A letter of the Prophet begins مِنْ مُحَمَّدٍ إِلَى الْمُهَاجِرِ بْنِ أَبِي أُمَيَّةَ (Faḥr i. 5), some Qurʾān readers read in Sūr. cxi., تَبَّتْ يَدَا أَبِي لَهَبٍ, and well known are عَلِيُّ بْنُ أَبِي طَالِبٍ and أَبُو سَفْيَانَ. Compare Belāḍorī 6C, last l. and Baidāwī ii. 421, l. 10. D. G.]

REM. d. Proper names, when used indefinitely [as is always A the case when they are employed in the dual or plural], are naturally declined with tênwin; as رَبُّ إِبْرَاهِيمَ لَقِيْتُهُ many an Abraham have I met; كُلُّ قَوْمٍ مَخْصُوصٌ بِأَدَمٍ وَحَوَّاءَ and each period has its peculiar Adam and Eve; and so رَبُّ عِمْرَانَ وَأَحْمَدٍ. There is, however, a doubt as to the admissibility of the ṣarf in the form أَفْعُلٌ.

REM. e. The أَسْبَابُ الْإِمْتِنَاعِ مِنَ الصَّرْفِ, or reasons why a noun B is debarred from taking the tênwin, are usually reckoned by the grammarians to be nine in number; viz. الْعَلَمِيَّةُ its being a proper name; الْوَصْفِيَّةُ its being an adjective; الْعَجْمَةُ its being a foreign word; الْمُرَكَّبُ الْمَرْجِيُّ its being a compound of the class; الْتَّنَابُ its being necessarily feminine by form or meaning; الْأَلْفُ وَالْأَوَّلُ وَالْأَوَّلَانِ its ending in the termination ـان, which resembles the feminine termination ـان; C كُونُهُ جَمْعًا لَيْسَ عَلَى رِئْتِهِ وَاحِدٌ its being a plural of a form which does not occur in the language as a singular (e.g. مَسَاجِدُ mosques, for there is no singular noun of the form مَفَاعِلٍ or مَفَاعِلِ); مَفَاعِلِ or meaning; الْعَدْلُ عَنْ صِيغَةٍ إِلَى أُخْرَى its being turned from one form into another (as عَمْرٌ, which is مَعْدُولٌ, or transformed, from عَامِرٌ, or قَطَامِرٌ, which is مَعْدُولَةٌ from قَاطِمَةٌ); and الْوَزْنُ its resembling in form a part of the verb. Any two or more of these causes in D combination prevent a noun from being declined with tênwin; e.g. (1) الْعَلَمِيَّةُ + the termination ـان, as عُثْمَانٌ. Hence we say حَسَانٌ Hassān, if we derive this name from the radical حَسَسَ; but if we derive it from حَسَنَ, it is triptote, حَسَانٌ. (2) الْعَلَمِيَّةُ + الْمُرَكَّبُ, as بَعْلَبَكْ. (3) الْعَلَمِيَّةُ + الْتَّنَابُ, viz. (a) الْعَلَمِيَّةُ in form and meaning, as قَاطِمَةٌ; (β) الْتَّنَابُ in meaning but not in form,

- A as رَيْتَب; (γ) نَفْطًا لَا مَعْنَى in form but not in meaning, as طَلْحَةَ (which, though feminine in form, yet is the name of a man).
Except feminine proper names of the form فَعْل, in c, η. (4) الْعَلِيمَةَ + الْعَدْل, as عُمَرُ. (6) الْعَلِيمَةَ + وَزْنَ الْفِعْلِ, as يَزِيدُ. (5) الْعَلِيمَةَ + وَزْنَ الْفِعْلِ, as يَزِيدُ.
Except the case of نُوحٌ and similar names in c, a. (7) الْوَصْفِيَّةَ + الْعَدْل, as أَخْرُ, which is مَعْدُولٌ from جَمْعَاوَاتٌ. (8) الْوَصْفِيَّةَ + وَزْنَ الْفِعْلِ, as بَطْرُسُ Petrus.
B the termination ان in adjectives of the form فَعْلَانٌ, fem. فَعْلَانِي.
(9) الْوَصْفِيَّةَ + وَزْنَ الْفِعْلِ, in adjectives of the form أَفْعَلٌ.

310. Nouns ending in ي or ا, for ي or و (§§ 213 and 245), which follow the first declension, and those in ي and ا, for ي, which follow the second (§ 309, a, γ; b, β; c, β), retain in the oblique cases the termination of the nominative, so that their declension is only virtual (تَقْدِيرِيٌّ), not expressed (لَفْظِيٌّ) or external (ظَاهِرٌ).

- C E.g. عَصَا for عَصَوٌ, عَصَوٌ, and عَصَوًا; رَحَى for رَحِيٌّ, رَحِيٌّ, and رَحِيًّا; بُشْرَى and بُشْرَى for بُشْرَى.

- 311. Nouns ending in ي, for ي or و (§ 167, b, β, and the Paradigms of the Verb, Tab. XVIII.) and ي or ي (see the same Tab. and § 218), have the same termination in the nom. and gen., but in the acc. يَا (according to § 166, a). E.g. غَارِيٌّ for غَارِيٌّ, acc. غَارِيًّا; مُرْمِيٌّ for مُرْمِيٌّ, acc. مُرْمِيًّا; مُعْزِيٌّ for مُعْزِيٌّ, acc. مُعْزِيًّا; تَمْتِيٌّ for تَمْتِيٌّ, acc. تَمْتِيًّا; تَمْتِيٌّ for تَمْتِيٌّ, acc. تَمْتِيًّا; شَجِيٌّ (verbal adj.) for شَجِيٌّ, acc. شَجِيًّا; عَمِيٌّ (verbal adj.) for عَمِيٌّ, acc. عَمِيًّا.

312. All plurals of the second declension, which ought regularly to end in ي, for ي, follow in the nom. the first declension instead of the second, and substitute ي (for ي). They moreover retain, A according to § 311, the same termination in the genit., and consequently follow the first declension in that case too; but in the acc. they remain true to the second declension, and have ي. E.g. جَارِيَّةٌ, plur. nom. and gen. جَوَارِيٍّ, for جَوَارِيٍّ (instead of جَوَارِيٍّ), acc. جَوَارِيٍّ; مَعَانِيٌّ, plur. nom. and gen. مَعَانِيٍّ, for مَعَانِيٍّ (instead of مَعَانِيٍّ), acc. مَعَانِيٍّ; صَحَارَةٌ, plur. nom. and gen. صَحَارٍ, for صَحَارِيٍّ (instead of صَحَارِيٍّ), acc. صَحَارِيٍّ.

II. The Declension of Defined Nouns.

313. Undefined nouns become defined: 1. by prefixing the article ال; 2. (a) by adding a noun in the genitive, or (b) by adding a pronominal suffix.

[REM. Only proper names and words used as proper names are C in themselves definite (§ 309, b, η, vol. ii. § 78); if, therefore, they are not originally appellatives (as الْحَسَنُ properly the beautiful) they never have the article, unless they be used as generic nouns (as in رَبِّ ابْرَاهِيمَ, § 309, c, rem. d), الرَّيْدُ الْأَوَّلُ the first Raid.—A defined noun is called مَعْرِفَةٌ or مَعْرُوفٌ (تَعْرِيفٌ means defining), an undefined noun نَكْرَةٌ or مُنْكَرٌ (تَنْكِيرٌ means leaving undefined).]

314. If an undefined noun be defined by the article, the following D cases arise.

(a) If it belongs to the first declension, it loses the tênwîn.

Nom.	الرَّجُلِ	الْحَسَنِ	الْمَدِينَةِ	الْمُحْصَنَةِ	الرِّجَالِ
	the man.	Él-Hasan.	the city.	the chaste (woman).	the men.
Gen.	الرَّجُلِ	الْحَسَنِ	الْمَدِينَةِ	الْمُحْصَنَةِ	الرِّجَالِ
Acc.	الرَّجُلَ	الْحَسَنَ	الْمَدِينَةَ	الْمُحْصَنَةَ	الرِّجَالَ

REM. The final t of the acc. disappears along with the tênwîn.

A (b) If it belongs to the second declension, it assumes the terminations of the first, and becomes triptote.

Nom.	الْأَسْوَدُ	السُّودَاءُ	الْأَكْبَابُ
	the black (m.).	the black (f.).	the nobles.
Gen.	الْأَسْوَدِ	السُّودَاءِ	الْأَكْبَابِ
Acc.	الْأَسْوَدَ	السُّودَاءَ	الْأَكْبَابَ

(c) If it be a plur. sanus fem., it loses the tènwin.

B	Nom.	الظُّلُمَاتُ	الْمَخْلُوقَاتُ	الْمُؤْمِنَاتُ
		the darknesses.	the creatures.	the believing (women).
	Gen. Acc.	الظُّلُمَاتِ	الْمَخْلُوقَاتِ	الْمُؤْمِنَاتِ

REM. a. The plur. sanus masc. and the dual undergo no change when the article is prefixed; as الضَّارِبُونَ those who beat, الرَّجُلَانِ the two men, gen. acc. الضَّارِبِينَ, الرَّجُلَيْنِ.

REM. b. Nouns ending in - drop the tènwin and resume their

C original ي; as الْتَمِي from مَعَانٍ, الْمَعَانِي from رَأْمٍ الرَّامِي from ي; الْجَوَارِي from جَوَارٍ (see §§ 311, 312).

315. If a noun in the genitive is appended to an undefined noun, the following changes are produced.

(a) The singulars and broken plurals of both declensions are declined in the same way as if they were defined by the article (§ 314).

D	Nom.	كِتَابُ اللَّهِ	أَسْفَلَ الْأَرْضِ	رِجَالُ الْمَدِينَةِ
		the book of God.	the lowest part of the earth.	the men of the city.
	Gen.	كِتَابِ اللَّهِ	أَسْفَلَ الْأَرْضِ	رِجَالِ الْمَدِينَةِ
	Acc.	كِتَابَ اللَّهِ	أَسْفَلَ الْأَرْضِ	رِجَالَ الْمَدِينَةِ
	Nom.	عَجَائِبُ الْمَخْلُوقَاتِ	كُلُّ يَوْمٍ
		the wonders of creation.	every day.
	Gen.	عَجَائِبِ الْمَخْلُوقَاتِ	كُلِّ يَوْمٍ
	Acc.	عَجَائِبَ الْمَخْلُوقَاتِ	كُلَّ يَوْمٍ

REM. a. The words أَبٌ a father, أَخٌ a brother, حَمٌ a father-in-law, and less frequently هَنْ a thing, after rejecting the tènwin, lengthen the preceding vowel.

Nom.	أَبُو	أَخُو	حَمُو	هَنُو	for أَبٌ, etc.
Gen.	أَبِي	أَخِي	حَمِي	هَنِي	for أَبٍ, etc.
Acc.	أَبَا	أَخَا	حَمَا	هَنَا	for أَبٍ, etc.*

The word ذُو, the owner or possessor of a thing, which is always connected with a following substantive in the genitive, has in the gen. ذِي, in the acc. ذَا; whilst فَمٌ, the mouth (Aram. 𐤒𐤍), which is used instead of فُوهُ or فُوَّةُ, makes either:

Nom.	فَمٌ	Gen.	فَمِر	Acc.	فَمَر
or:	فُو		فِي		فَا †

REM. b. Proper names of the first declension lose their tènwin, when followed by the word إِبْنٌ in a genealogical series; as مُحَمَّدُ

* The same is the case in the other Semitic languages; see Comp. Gr. p. 142 seq.—In Arabic the short vowels are used dialectically, as in the verse أَبَاهُ أَتَدَى عَدِي فِي الْكُورِ وَمَنْ يُشَابِهْ أَبَهُ فَمَا ظَلَمَ Adi has imitated his father in generosity, and whoever tries to resemble his father, does not do wrong; where we find بَابِهِ and أَبَهُ for بَابِيهِ and أَبَاهُ. Some of the Arabs employ the forms أَبَا, etc., in all the three cases [أَبَا being, according to some lexicographers a dial. var. of أَبٍ. Comp. vol. ii. § 39, a, rem. a], as in the verse إِنَّ أَبَاهَا وَأَبَا أَبَاهَا قَدْ بَلَغَا فِي الْمَجْدِ غَايَتَاهَا verily their (the family's) father and their father's father have reached in glory their utmost limit; where the first أَبَاهَا is the accus. after إِنَّ, and the second أَبَاهَا the genit., instead of أَبِيهَا, whilst غَايَتَاهَا stands by poetic license (in this case الإشباعُ) for غَايَتَهَا. [The genuineness of this verse is not free from suspicion. Comp. Nöldeke in Zeitschr. D. M. G. xlix. 321.]

† With these latter forms [which are employed only in connexion with a following pronoun or noun in the genitive] compare in Heb. 𐤑, constr. 𐤑, with suffix 𐤑.

- A بْنُ جَعْفَرِ بْنِ خَالِدِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدٍ, Muhammad, the son of Ga'far, the son of Halid, the son of Muhammad. On the elision of the l in ابْنِ, see § 21, b.

REM. c. Instead of بِنْتٌ, a daughter, we may use, when a genitive follows, the form ابْنَةٌ. [The latter was formerly preferred, except at the beginning of a sentence. The form ابنت occurs in the Ḳor'ān (Sūr. lxi. 12) and often in old Mes.]

(b) The dual loses the termination نِ.

- B Nom. لَنَا مَسْجِدَا the two slaves of the sultan came; جَاءَ عَبْدَا السُّلْطَانِ to us belong the two holy temples of God.

Gen. رَوَى عَنْ أَبِي بَكْرٍ ابْنِ طَلْحَةَ وَأَبْنِ قَسْوِمٍ *he learned and transmitted (traditions, poems, etc.) from the two 'Abū Bəkr, (viz. 'Abū Bəkr) 'ibn Ṭalḥa and ('Abū Bəkr) 'ibn Ḳassūm (see § 299, rem. h).*

Acc. رَأَيْتُ جَارِيَتَيْ أَبِي I saw the two female slaves of my father.

- C REM. If an ḥlif conjunction follows the oblique cases of the dual, the final ى takes a kèsra instead of a gèzma; as مَرَرْتُ بِجَارِيَتَيْ الْمَلِكِ I passed by the two female slaves of the king (see §§ 19 and 20, c); الْمَنْسَمَانِ ظَفْرَا حَقِي الْبَعِيرِ the two mansims are the extremities (nails) of the camel's hoofs.

(c) The pluralis sanus loses the termination نِ.

- D Nom. جَاءَ بَنُو الْمَلِكِ the sons of the king came; مُجَرِّدُوا أَسْيَافَهُمْ drawing their swords.

Gen. عِبْرَةٌ لِأُولَى الْأَلْبَابِ an example, or warning, for those who are possessed of intelligence (see § 302, rem. c).

Acc. رَأَيْتُ بَنَى الْمَلِكِ I saw the king's sons; كُنَّا مُوقِدِي النَّارِ we were kindling the fire.

REM. If the plur. ends in وْنَ, acc. يْنَ (for يُونَ), A these terminations become, before a following gen., وَى; and if the genit. begins with an ḥlif conjunct., the final و takes ḍamma, and the final ى kèsra, instead of the gèzma; as مُصْطَفَوُ اللَّهِ, مُصْطَفَى اللَّهِ (§ 20, c).—Regarding the l otiosum which is often, though incorrectly, added to the nominal term. وُ and وَوُ, see § 7, rem. a.

316. If a pronominal suffix is added to an undefined noun, the B following changes take place.

(a) Triptotes and the plur. sanus fem. lose the tènwin, the dual and plur. sanus masc. the terminations نِ and نَ; as كِتَابٌ a book, كِتَابُهُ his book; ظِلْمَاتٌ darkness, ظِلْمَاتُهَا its darkness; كِتَابَانِ two books, كِتَابَاكَ thy two books; بَنُونَ sons, بَنُوكَ thy sons; لِبَائِعِهِ to its purchasers.

(b) Before the pronominal suffix of the 1st p. sing. ى (see C § 185, rem. a, and § 317), the final vowels of the sing., plur. fractus, and plur. sanus fem. are elided; as كِتَابِي my book, from كِتَابٌ; كِلَابِي my dogs, from كِلَابٌ, plur. fract. of كَلْبٌ; تَوَابِعِي my followers, from تَابِعٌ, plur. fract. of تَابِعٌ; جَنَاتِي my gardens, from جَنَاتٌ, plur. sanus of جَنَّةٌ.

(c) If the noun ends in ة, this letter is changed into (or rather, resumes its original form of) ت; as نِعْمَتِي a favour or benefit, نِعْمَةٌ. D

(d) If the noun ends in ḥlif mobile or hèmza, this letter passes before the suffixes into وُ, when it has ḍamma (Nom.), and into وِ, when it has kèsra (Gen.); as نِسَاؤُهُ women, nom. with suffix نِسَاؤُهُ, his women, gen. نِسَائِهِ. But when it has fèṭḥa (Acc.), it remains unchanged, as acc. نِسَاءَهُ.

REM. Of the words mentioned in § 315, rem. a, أَبٌ, أَخٌ and

252 PART SECOND.—Etymology or the Parts of Speech. [§ 317

- A حَر, take the suffixes thus: nom. أَبُوهُ, أَبُوكَ; gen. أَبِيكَ, أَبِيهِ; acc. أَبَاهُ, أَبَاكَ; but أَبِي, أَخِي, حَمِي, in all the three cases.—هَنْ makes هَنَّا or هَنَّاكَ; هَنْكَ or هَنَّاكَ; هَنْكَ or هَنَّاكَ; هَنْكَ or هَنَّاكَ; هَنْكَ or هَنَّاكَ.—فَر has regularly فَرُّكَ or فَرُّكَ; فَرُّكَ or فَرُّكَ; فَرُّكَ or فَرُّكَ; but more usually, nom. فُوكَ, فُوكَ; gen. فِيكَ, فِيهِ; acc. فَاكَ, فَاهُ; and فِي, my mouth, in all the three cases.—أَبُ is not used with suffixes.—On some dialectical varieties of أَبُ see § 315, rem. a, note *.

APPENDIX.

The Pronominal Suffixes, which denote the Genitive.

317. The pronominal suffixes attached to nouns to denote the genitive, are exactly the same as those attached to verbs to denote the accusative (§ 185), with the single exception of the suffix of the 1st p. sing., which is ـِي, and not ـِي.

REM. a. The suffix of the 1st p. sing. ـِي, when attached to a word ending in ḥlif maḥṣūra (ـِي), in the long vowels ـَا, ـُو, or in the diphthongs ـَايَ and ـُو, becomes ـِي, the kèsra of the original form ـِي (see § 185, rem. d) being simply elided. Further, when the word ends in ـِي or ـِي, the final ي unites with the ي of the suffix into ـِي; and when it ends in ـُو or ـُو, the و is changed into ي, and likewise forms ـِي. E.g. هُوَايَ my love, for هُوَايَ, from هُوَايَا my sins, for حَطَايَايَا, plur. fract. of حَطِيَّة; عَلَامَايَ my two slaves, for عَلَامَانِ, from عَلَامَانِ, nom. dual of عَلَامٌ; قَاضِي my judge, for قَاضِي, from قَاضِي (قَاضِي), from مُسْلِمِي my Muslims, for مُسْلِمُوِي or مُسْلِمِي, from مُسْلِمُونَ, plur. sanus of مُسْلِمٌ; عَلَامَايَ my two slaves, for عَلَامِي (عَلَامِي), from عَلَامِي, genit. dual of عَلَامٌ; مُصْطَفِي my elect, for مُصْطَفُوِي or مُصْطَفِي.

(مُصْطَفِي), from مُصْطَفُونَ, plur. sanus of مُصْطَفِي.—A From words like هُوَايَ, the form هُوَايَ, is used dialectically instead of هُوَايَ.—On أَبُ, أَخُ, حَرُ, and فُو, see § 316, rem.—[بُنِي a little son has both بُنِي and بُنِي.]

REM. b. Just as the verbal suffix ـِي is sometimes shortened into ـِي (§ 185, rem. c), so the nominal suffix ـِي occasionally becomes ـِي, particularly when the noun to which it is attached is in the vocative; as يَا قَوْمِ my Lord! or يَا قَوْمِ O my people! [Comp. Vol. ii § 38, a, rem. b.]

REM. c. What has been said in § 185, rem. b, of the change of the ḍamma in هُ, هُمَا, هُنَّ, into kèsra after ـِي or ـِي, applies to the nominal as well as the verbal suffixes. E.g. كِتَابِهِ of his book, جَارِيَّتَيْهِ his two female slaves, قَاتِلِيهِ his murderers, كِتَابَيْهِم ([before waṣl and] in verse كِتَابَيْهِم, [which is the older form] or كِتَابَيْهِم), etc.

[REM. d. If no ambiguity of meaning can arise, the dual before a suffix in the dual is not unfrequently replaced by the singular or the plural, as قُلُوبُهُمَا and قُلُوبُهُمَا the heart of them both.]

B. THE NUMERALS.

1. The Cardinal Numbers.

318. The cardinal numbers from one to ten are:—

	Masc.	Fem.		Masc.	Fem.
1.	أَحَدٌ	إِحْدَى	5.	خَمْسٌ	خَمْسَةٌ
	وَاحِدٌ	وَاحِدَةٌ	6.	سِتٌّ	سِتَّةٌ
2.	إِثْنَانِ	إِثْنَانِ	7.	سَبْعٌ	سَبْعَةٌ
		ثِنْتَانِ	8.	ثَمَانٍ	ثَمَانِيَةٌ
3.	ثَلَاثٌ	ثَلَاثَةٌ	9.	تِسْعٌ	تِسْعَةٌ
4.	أَرْبَعٌ	أَرْبَعَةٌ	10.	عَشْرٌ	عَشْرَةٌ

A REM. a. For ثَلَاثَةٌ, ثَلَاثٌ, we may also write ثَلَاثٌ, ثَلَاثَةٌ, and for ثَمَانِيَةٌ, ثَمَانِيَةٌ (§ 6, rem. a).—ثَمَانِيَةٌ stands, according to the Arab lexicographers, for ثَمَانِيَةٌ (compare § 14, c), and that for ثَمَانِيَةٌ. The correctness of this view is proved [as they say] by the diminutive ثَمَانِيَّةٌ, the fraction ثَمَانِيَّةٌ, a sixth, and the ordinal adj. سَادِسٌ, sixth.

B REM. b. If we compare the above numerals with those of the cognate languages, it is easy to perceive their perfect identity; and, therefore, only one or two forms deserve notice here.—The Assyrian for one in the sing. masc. is istin (עִשְׁתִּין), apparently identical with the Heb. עִשְׁתִּי in עִשְׁתֵּי עָשָׂר; but the fem. is ihit (אֶחָת) = אֶחָת (for אֶחָדָת).—The Aram. הַרְתִּין, f. הַרְתִּין, is a contraction for הַרְתִּין, which may be either the equivalent of the Heb. תְּשִׁים (ת) becoming ת, as in הַרְתִּין, snow, = תְּשִׁין, and ת exchanging with ר, as in הַרְתִּין, to rise, = (רָחַ); or, as others think, derived from the rad. הֲ, as it were the dual of וְתֵר single, sole. The daghesh in the Heb. fem. תְּשִׁים (also pronounced תְּשִׁים) indicates the loss of the n in תְּשִׁין.—The Heb. תְּשִׁין, תְּשִׁין, stand for תְּשִׁין, תְּשִׁין (see rem. a, and compare the Æth. sēdēstū and sēssu, for sēdsū). The Jewish Aram. form תְּשִׁין (תְּשִׁין), is identical with the Arabic; whilst in the Syriac [תְּשִׁין or תְּשִׁין] the original doubling has left its trace in the hard sound of the t (compare תְּשִׁין).

D 319. The cardinal numbers from 3 to 10 take the fem. form, when the objects numbered are of the masc. gender; and conversely, the masc. form, when the objects numbered are fem. E.g. رِجَالٌ عَشْرَةٌ, or رِجَالٌ عَشْرَةٌ, ten men (lit., men, a decade, and a decade of men); or نِسَاءٌ عَشْرٌ, or نِسَاءٌ عَشْرٌ, ten women.

REM. a. The cause of this phenomenon, which also occurs in the other Semitic languages, seems to lie in the effort to give prominence to the independent substantive nature (§ 321) of the cardinal numbers, in virtue of which they differ from the dependent A adjectives, which follow the gender of their substantives.—That ثَلَاثٌ, أَرْبَعَةٌ, etc., are really masc.,—and consequently ثَلَاثَةٌ, أَرْبَعَةٌ, etc., fem.,—is evident from the construction of عَشْرٌ, in the sense of ten days, either as a singular masc. or as a broken plur. (viz. the implied أَيَّامٌ). We may say, for example, either الْعَشْرُ الْأَوَّلُ مِنَ رَمَضَانَ the middle ten days of Ramadān, الْعَشْرُ الْأَخِيرُ مِنْ رَمَضَانَ the last ten days of R., or الْعَشْرُ الْأَوَّلُ وَالْأَوَّلُ, etc. See also § 322, rem. b.

B REM. b. An undefined number from 3 to 10 is expressed by بَضْعٌ ([or بَضْعٌ], literally, a part or portion); as بَضْعٌ رِجَالٍ some men, بَضْعٌ نِسْوَةٍ some women, فِي بَضْعِ سِنِينَ in a few years. The use of بَضْعَةٌ belongs to post-classical times; as بَضْعَةٌ أَشْهُرٍ some months. [Comp. vol. ii. § 99, rem.]

320. The cardinal numbers from 1 to 10 are triptote, with the exception of the duals اِثْنَانٍ, and اِثْنَانٍ or اِثْنَانٍ.—ثَمَانٍ stands for ثَمَانِيٌّ, and has in the genit. ثَمَانِيٌّ, acc. ثَمَانِيًّا (according to § 311).

321. The cardinal numbers from 3 to 10 are always substantives. They either follow the objects numbered, and are put in apposition with them, as رِجَالٌ ثَلَاثَةٌ, of three men (lit., of men, a triad); or they precede them, in which case the numeral governs the other substantive in the genitive of the plural, as ثَلَاثَةٌ رِجَالٍ, three men (lit., a triad of D men), except in the single instance of مِائَةٌ a hundred (see § 325).

REM. a. ثَمَانٍ has, in the construct state, nom. and gen. ثَمَانِيٌّ, acc. ثَمَانِيٌّ (see § 320).

REM. b. If the numerals from 3 to 10 take the article, they of course lose the tēnwīn (§ 314, a).

REM. c. اِثْنَانٍ and اِثْنَانٍ are very rarely construed with the

A genit. sing. of the objects numbered, and then of course drop their final ن (§ 315, b); as ثِنْتَا حَنْظَلٍ two colocynths, instead of الثِنْتَانِ حَنْظَلٍ, or simply حَنْظَلَتَانِ.

REM. d. بِضْعٌ and بِضْعَةٌ always precede the objects numbered, which are in the genitive of the plur. fractus (see § 319, rem. b).

322. The cardinal numbers from 11 to 19 are:—

B	Masc.	Fem.	Masc.	Fem.
11.	عَشْرَ أَحَدٍ	عَشْرَةَ إِحْدَى	عَشْرَ خَمْسَةَ عَشْرَ	عَشْرَةَ خَمْسِ
12.	عَشْرَ اِثْنَا	عَشْرَةَ اِثْنَتَا عَشْرَةَ ثِنْتَا	عَشْرَ سِتَّةَ	عَشْرَةَ سِتِّ
13.	عَشْرَ ثَلَاثَةَ		عَشْرَةَ ثَلَاثَ	عَشْرَ سَبْعَةَ
14.	عَشْرَ أَرْبَعَةَ	عَشْرَةَ أَرْبَعِ	عَشْرَ ثَمَانِيَةَ	عَشْرَةَ ثَمَانِي
			عَشْرَ تِسْعَةَ	عَشْرَةَ تِسْعِ

C REM. a. Instead of عَشْرَةٌ some of the Arabs pronounce عَشْرَة, and the form عَشْرَة is said to occur.—For ثَمَانِي عَشْرَة we also find ثَمَانِي عَشْرَة, [and incorrectly] ثَمَانِ عَشْرَة, and ثَمَانِ عَشْرَة. [In manuscripts we often find ثمان عشرة, which may be either of the two preceding forms, or the vulgar ثمان عشرة.]

REM. b. The cardinal numbers which indicate the units in these compounds, from 3 to 9, vary in gender according to the rule laid down in § 319; but the ten does not follow that rule, for it has

D here the form عَشْرَ with masculine nouns, and عَشْرَةَ with feminine. The same holds with regard to the undefined number, which is in this case masc. بِضْعَ عَشْرَ, fem. بِضْعَ عَشْرَةَ, some, a few (from 11 to 19). The objects numbered are placed after them in the acc. sing.

REM. c. These numerals are usually indeclinable, even when they take the article, with the exception of اِثْنَا عَشْرَ and اِثْنَتَا عَشْرَةَ, which have in the oblique cases اِثْنَتَا عَشْرَ and اِثْنَتَا عَشْرَةَ.

REM. d. The contraction of these compound numerals into one A word began at a very early period, as may be seen from the Aramaic dialects, and the Arab grammarians mention such forms as أَحَدَ عَشْرَ. In modern times they are greatly corrupted, being pronounced, for example, in Algiers, إِحْدَاشِ, إِنْدَاشِ, تِلَاشِ, تِلَاشِ, تِلَاشِ, سَبْعَاشِ, سَبْعَاشِ, سَبْعَاشِ, أَرْبَعَاشِ, أَرْبَعَاشِ.

323. The cardinal numbers from 20 to 90 are:—

B
20.	عِشْرُونَ	ثَمَانُونَ
30.	ثَلَاثُونَ	تِسْعُونَ
40.	أَرْبَعُونَ
50.	خَمْسُونَ
60.	سِتُونَ
70.	سَبْعُونَ

REM. a. كَلْثُونَ and كَلْثُونَ may also be written كَلْثُونَ.

REM. b. The cardinal numbers from 20 to 90 are both masc. and fem., and have, like the ordinary plur. sanus masc., ون in the C nom., and ين in the oblique cases. They are substantives, and take the objects numbered after them in the acc. sing., so that they do not lose the final ن. Sometimes, however, they are construed with the genit. of the possessor, when, of course, the ن disappears, leaving in the nom. و, in the genit. and acc. ي.

REM. c. The Hebrew and Aramaic dialects agree with the Arabic as to the form of the tens; עשרים, etc. But the Assyrian and Æthiopic curiously coincide in employing a form in D ā (for ān); Assyr. isrā, silasā, irbā, hamsā; Æth. 'esrā, salasā, 'arba'ā, hamsā, etc.

324. The numerals which indicate numbers compounded of the units and the tens, are formed by prefixing the unit to the ten, and uniting them by the conjunction و, and; as أَحَدٌ وَعِشْرُونَ one and twenty, twenty-one. Both are declined; as gen. أَحَدٍ وَعِشْرِينَ, acc. أَحَدًا وَعِشْرِينَ.

A REM. The undefined unit is in this case نَيْفٌ (lit., excess, surplus), as وَعِشْرُونَ نَيْفٌ twenty and odd; but بَضْعٌ and بَضْعَةٌ are also used.

325. The numerals from 100 to 900 are:—

100. مِائَةٌ	600. سِتُّ مِائَةٍ
200. مِائَتَانِ	700. سَبْعُ مِائَةٍ
B 300. ثَلَاثُ مِائَةٍ	800. ثَمَانِي مِائَةٍ
400. أَرْبَعُ مِائَةٍ	800. ثَمَانِ مِائَةٍ
500. خَمْسُ مِائَةٍ	900. تِسْعُ مِائَةٍ

REM. a. For مِائَةٌ (Æth. ጠዋላት: me'et, Heb. מאה, Aram. ܡܝܐ, ܡܝܐ, Assyr. mā) we also find مِئَةٌ [and sometimes مِأَةٌ. For مِئَةٌ we find often مِئَةٌ, and more recently مِئَةٌ. The dual مِائَتَانِ is written occasionally مِائَاتَانِ, and hence in poetry مِائَاتَانِ. D. G.] The plur. is مِئُونَ, مِئَاتٌ, or مِأَى; the forms مِئُونٌ, مِئُونٌ (like مِئُونٌ from سَنَةٌ a year), and مِئَى (with the article, المِئَى) are rare. The strange spelling of مِائَةٌ seems to be due merely to a piece of bungling on the part of the oldest writers of the Kor'an. The l was probably meant to indicate the vowel of the second syllable, but was inadvertently placed before, instead of after, the ʿ (ʻ).

D REM. b. The numerals from 3 to 9 are often united with مِائَةٌ into one word, as ثَلَاثِي مِائَةٍ. [In this case we find often in manuscripts ثَمَانِي مِائَةٍ i.e. ثَمَانِي مِائَةٍ, though the correct form is ثَمَانِي مِائَةٍ.] The regular construction ثَمَانِي مِائَةٍ, etc. (see § 321), is very rarely employed [in poetry].

REM. c. مِائَةٌ usually takes the objects numbered after it in the genit. sing.; as ثَلَاثِي مِائَةٍ, مِائَتَا سَنَةٍ, مِائَةُ سَنَةٍ.

326. The numerals from 1000 upwards are:—

1000. أَلْفٌ	100,000. مِائَةُ أَلْفٍ
2000. أَلْفَانِ	200,000. مِائَتَا أَلْفٍ
3000. ثَلَاثَةُ أَلْفٍ	300,000. ثَلَاثِي مِائَةِ أَلْفٍ
4000. أَرْبَعَةُ أَلْفٍ	400,000. أَرْبَعِي مِائَةِ أَلْفٍ
etc.	etc.
11,000. أَحَدُ عَشَرَ أَلْفًا	1,000,000. أَلْفُ أَلْفٍ
12,000. اِثْنَا عَشَرَ أَلْفًا	2,000,000. أَلْفَا أَلْفٍ
13,000. ثَلَاثَةُ عَشَرَ أَلْفًا	3,000,000. ثَلَاثَةُ أَلْفِ أَلْفٍ
etc.	etc.

REM. The plur. of أَلْفٌ (Heb. אלף, Aram. ܐܠܦܐ, ܐܠܦܐ, C but Æth. 'elf, 10,000) is أَلُوفٌ, أَلَوَفٌ, and أَلُوفٌ. It takes the objects numbered after it in the genit. sing., as أَلُوفٌ دِرْهَمٍ, أَلُوفٌ دِرْهَمٍ, ثَلَاثَةُ أَلُوفِ دِرْهَمٍ. [The plural أَلُوفٌ is only used in the combination ثَلَاثَةُ أَلُوفِ, but أَلُوفٌ with all numerals from 3 to 10. In manuscripts it is often written defectively أَلُوفٌ (أَلُوفٌ). The plurals أَلُوفٌ and مِئُونٌ, are only employed of indefinite numbers, thousands, hundreds. D. G.]

327. The numerals which indicate numbers made up of thousands, D hundreds, tens, and units, may be compounded in two ways. Either (a) the thousands are put first, and followed successively by the hundreds, units, and tens, as وَعِشْرُونَ وَأَحَدُ مِائَةٍ وَتِسْعُ مِائَةٍ وَثَلَاثَةُ أَلْفٍ, 3721; or (b) the order is reversed, and becomes units, tens, hundreds, thousands, as أَلُوفٌ وَثَلَاثَةُ أَلْفٍ وَتِسْعِي مِائَةٍ وَثَلَاثَةُ أَلْفٍ.

2. *The Ordinal Numbers.*328. The ordinal adjectives from first to tenth are:—

Masc.	Fem.	Masc.	Fem.
أَوَّلٌ	أَوَّلَى the first.	سَادِسٌ	سَادِسَةٌ sixth.
ثَانٍ	ثَانِيَةٌ second.	سَابِعٌ	سَابِعَةٌ seventh.
ثَالِثٌ	ثَالِثَةٌ third.	ثَامِنٌ	ثَامِنَةٌ eighth.
رَابِعٌ	رَابِعَةٌ fourth.	تَاسِعٌ	تَاسِعَةٌ ninth.
خَامِسٌ	خَامِسَةٌ fifth.	عَاشِرٌ	عَاشِرَةٌ tenth.

B

REM. a. [•]أَوَّلٌ stands for الأَوَّلُ or الأَوَّلَى or الأَوَّلَى or الأَوَّلَى, according to the superlative form أَفْعَلٌ, f. فَعْلَى, from the rad. أول or وائل. Its plurals are: الأَوَّلُونَ, الأَوَّلَاتُ, الأَوَّلِي, and الأَوَّلِي for the maso.; الأَوَّلُ (rarely الأَوَّلَى) for the fem.*

C

* [If [•]أَوَّلٌ is used as a noun, it takes the tènwin, as in the verse of the Nakāid (f. 182 b) quoted by Wright on the margin, نَهْمُ أَوَّلٍ يَعْطُو عَلَى كُلِّ أَوَّلٍ (or ancestor) of everybody else, and another apud Wright, Opusc. 106, l. 7 (where it means ancestor), as also in the phrase مَا تَرَكَ لَهُ أَوَّلًا وَلَا قَدِيمًا he left him neither past (قَدِيمًا) nor present (أَوَّلًا). The fem. plur. occurs in the phrase هُنَّ الأَوَّلَاتُ دُخُولًا وَالْآخِرَاتُ خُرُوجًا they are the first to enter, the last to leave, as plurals of أَوَّلَةٌ and آخِرَةٌ. In later times the fem. أَوَّلَةٌ is very common also as an adjective (comp. Fleischer, Kl. Schr. i. 336 seq.); likewise the adverb أَوَّلًا (as in (أَوَّلًا وَآخِرًا) for the correct أَوَّلٌ formerly. So it is interpreted in the phrase لَقِيتُهُ عَامًا أَوَّلًا I met him in a year before, as some say instead of لَقِيتُهُ عَامًا أَوَّلًا last year (comp. Lane s. v. عام). D. G.]

REM. b. ثَانٍ makes, of course, in the construct state and with the art. ثَانِي, ثَانِي; in the acc. ثَانِيًا, construct state and with the art. ثَانِي, ثَانِي. And so with the rest; ثَالِث, ثَالِث, etc.

REM. c. Instead of سَادِسٌ the forms سَادٍ (acc. سَادِيًا) and سَاتٌ (formed directly from سِتٌّ, سِتَّةٌ) are occasionally used.—ثَالٍ, acc. ثَالِيًا, also occurs for ثَالِث [and خَامٍ for خَامِس].

329. The ordinals from eleventh to nineteenth are:—

B

Masc.	Fem.
عَشْرَى	عَشْرَةٌ eleventh.
ثَانِي عَشْرَى	عَشْرَةٌ ثَانِيَةٌ twelfth.
ثَالِث عَشْرَى	عَشْرَةٌ ثَالِثَةٌ thirteenth.
رَابِع عَشْرَى	عَشْرَةٌ رَابِعَةٌ fourteenth.
etc.	etc.

REM. These numerals are not declined, when they are undefined; and even if defined by the article, they remain unchanged, as الثَالِثَ عَشْرَةَ, الثَالِثَةَ عَشْرَةَ. For الثَانِي عَشْرَى and الثَانِي عَشْرَى we may say عَشْرَى الثَانِي and الثَانِي عَشْرَى. Some, however, admit the inflection of the unit, when defined, as الثَالِثَ عَشْرَةَ, الثَالِثَةَ عَشْرَةَ; in which case عَشْرَى (الثَانِي) is the nom. and genit., عَشْرَى (الثَانِي) the accus.

C

330. The ordinals from twentieth to ninetieth are identical in form with the cardinals; as عَشْرُونَ twentieth, الثَانِي عَشْرُونَ the twentieth. If joined to the ordinals of the units, these latter precede, and the two are united by وَ; as حَادٍ وَعَشْرُونَ one and twentieth, twenty-first (gen. حَادٍ وَعَشْرِينَ, acc. حَادِيًا وَعَشْرِينَ), fem. حَادِيَةٌ وَعَشْرُونَ. If a compound of this sort be defined, both its parts take the article; as

A to Abū Zēid (Nawādir 193) حَمِيْسٌ and لَيْمِيْتُ. D. G.] A half is أَنْصَافٌ, less frequently نِصْفٌ, نَصْفٌ (vulg. نَصٌّ), or نَصِيفٌ, pl. أَنْصَافٌ.—
The fractions above a tenth are expressed by a circumlocution; e.g. ثَلَاثَةُ أَجْزَاءَ مِنْ عِشْرِينَ جُزْأً, three parts out of twenty, $\frac{3}{20}$; [نِصْفٌ نِصْفٌ وَثَلَاثٌ; نِصْفٌ وَسُدْسٌ; نِصْفٌ وَرُبْعٌ; عَشْرُ الْعَشْرِ $\frac{1}{10}$; عَشْرُ الْعَشْرِ $\frac{1}{10}$; etc.*]

B REM. The form فَعْلٌ occurs in the same sense in Assyrian, Heb. and Aram.; e.g. אֶלְמִלְאָה a third, “rubu,” רְבִיעַ a fourth, חֲמִישֵׁהוּ a fifth.

337. The period, at the end of which an event usually recurs, is expressed by a noun of the form فَعْلٌ, in the accus., either with or without the article; as ثَلَاثًا, or اثَلْتُكَ, every third (day, month, year, etc.); رُبْعًا, or اَرْبَعُكَ, every fourth; etc. Synonymous with غِبْتُ is غَبْتُ.

C as حَمَى الْغَيْبِ, or حَمَى اَثَلْتِ, the tertian fever.

C. THE NOMINA DEMONSTRATIVA AND CONJUNCTIVA.

338. We treat of the nomina demonstrativa (including the article), and the nomina conjunctiva (including the nomina interrogativa), in one chapter, because they are both, according to our terminology, pronouns, the former being the demonstrative pronouns, D the latter the relative.

1. The Demonstrative Pronouns and the Article.

339. The demonstrative pronouns, أَسْمَاءُ الْإِشَارَةِ, are either simple or compound.

* [On a similar expression of whole numbers by circumlocution see Goldziher in Zeitschr. D. M. G. xlix. 210 seqq.]

340. The simple demonstrative pronoun is ذَا, this, that.

	Masc.	Fem.
Sing.	ذَا	ذِي (ذِي، ذِهِ، ذِي) ; ذِي (ذِي، ذِي، ذِي، ذِي)
Dual. Nom.	ذَانِ (ذَانِ)	ذَاتِنِ (ذَاتِنِ)
Gen. Acc.	ذَيْنِ (ذَيْنِ)	ذَيْنِ (ذَيْنِ)
Plur. comm. gen.	أُولَئِكَ، أُولَئِكَ، or أُولَئِكَ	أُولَئِكَ، or أُولَئِكَ

This simple form of the demonstrative pronoun is used to indicate a person or thing which is near to the speaker.

REM. a. The u in أُولَئِكَ and أُولَئِكَ is always short, و being merely scriptio plena. In this way أُولَئِكَ can be distinguished in verse from أُولَئِكَ, the fem. of أُولَئِكَ, first, in which the u is long. The و may have been inserted in order the more easily to distinguish أُولَئِكَ and أُولَئِكَ from إِي and إِي.

REM. b. The diminutive of ذَا is ذِيًّا, f. ذِيًّا; du. ذِيَّانِ, f. ذِيَّانِ; pl. ذِيَّانِ، ذِيَّانِ.

REM. c. Closely connected in its origin with ذَا is another monosyllable, viz. ذُو (= Heb. דָּו, Phoen. 𐤃 and 𐤃, this) which is commonly used in the sense of possessor, owner. It is thus declined.

	Masc.	Fem.
Sing. Nom.	ذُو (ذُو)	ذَاتُ (ذَاتُ)
Gen.	ذِي	ذَاتِ
Acc.	ذَا	ذَاتَ
Du. Nom.	ذَوَا	ذَوَاتَا (ذَوَاتَا)
Gen. Acc.	ذَوِي	ذَوَاتِي (ذَوَاتِي)
Plur. Nom.	أُولَئِكَ، أُولَئِكَ، or أُولَئِكَ	أُولَئِكَ، or أُولَئِكَ
Gen. Acc.	أُولَئِكَ، or أُولَئِكَ	أُولَئِكَ، or أُولَئِكَ

A The u in أُولُو and أُولَاتُ is always short, as in أُولَى and أُولَاءَ.—
The form أُولُو is used as a plural of ذُو, when this word forms part of the names or surnames of the kings or princes of el-Yemèn, as ذُو الْكَلَاعِ, ذُو رُعَيْنِ, ذُو نُوَاسِ, ذُو بَزَنَ أُولُو, etc. These are called أُولُو, formed as if from a singular ذَوَى.

[REM. d. كَذَا (sometimes written كَذَى) thus, so and so, so and so much or many, is compounded of كَ as, like and the demonstrative pronoun ذَا. Comp. Vol. ii. § 44, e, rem. d.]

B 341. From the simple demonstrative pronoun are formed compounds :

(a) By adding the pronominal suffix of the second person (كَ, كِ; كُنْ, كُنَّ, كُمُ; كُمَا), either (a) alone, or (β) with the interposition of the demonstrative syllable لِ.

(b) By prefixing the particle هَا.

C 342. The gender and number of the pronominal suffix, appended to the simple demonstrative pronoun, depend upon the sex and number of the persons addressed. In speaking to a single man, ذَاكَ is used; to a single woman, ذَاكِ; to two persons, ذَاكُمَا; to several men, ذَاكُمُ; to several women, ذَاكُنَّ. But the form ذَاكَ may also be—and in fact usually is—employed, whatever be the sex and number of the persons spoken to; and so with the rest. In regard to their signification, these compound forms differ from the simple pronoun in indicating a distant object.

D	Masc.	Fem.
Sing.	ذَاكَ (ذَاكَ *) that .	ذَاكِ (vulg. ذِيكَ).
Du. Nom.	ذَانِكَ	ذَانِكِ.
Gen. Acc.	ذَيْنِكَ	ذَيْنِكِ.
Plur. comm. gen.	أُولَئِكَ or أُولَئِكَ	أُولَئِكَ or أُولَئِكَ

* [Some say that ذَاكَ is a mispronunciation for ذَلِكَ.]

REM. a. The u is short in أُولَئِكَ and أُولَئِكَ, just as in أُولَى, أُولَاءَ, and أُولُو (§ 340, rem. a, c).

REM. b. The diminutive of ذَاكَ is ذِيَّكَ, f. ذِيَّكَ, etc.

343. By inserting the demonstrative syllable لِ before the pronominal suffix, we get a longer form ذَالِكَ or ذِلِكَ (often written ذِلِكَ, § 6, rem. a).

	Masc.	Fem.
Sing.	ذَالِكَ that .	ذَالِكِ (ذَالِكِ).
Du. Nom.	ذَانِكَ	ذَانِكِ.
Gen. Acc.	ذَيْنِكَ	ذَيْنِكِ.
Plur. comm. gen.	أُولَئِكَ or أُولَئِكَ

REM. a. ذَالِكَ is a contraction for ذَالِكَ. In the dual, ذَانِكَ, ذَانِكِ, stand for ذَانِكَ, ذَانِكِ; and ذَيْنِكَ, ذَيْنِكِ, for ذَيْنِكَ, ذَيْنِكِ. The plur. is rare, أُولَئِكَ or أُولَئِكَ (§ 342) being generally used instead. Some authorities regard ذَانِكَ, ذَانِكِ, as the dual of ذَاكَ, the second n being in their opinion merely corroborative.

REM. b. Some grammarians assert that there is a slight difference of meaning between ذَاكَ and ذَالِكَ, the former referring in their opinion to the nearer of two distant objects, the latter to the more remote.

REM. c. The syllable لِ must not be mistaken for the preposition لِ (which, when united with the pronominal suffixes of the second and third persons, becomes لِي), but is to be viewed as a demonstrative syllable, which occurs also in the article and in the relative pronoun. See §§ 345 and 347.

REM. d. The diminutive of ذَالِكَ is ذِيَّكَ, f. ذِيَّكَ. [A com-

A pound of ك and ذَلِكَ (comp. § 340, rem. d) is كذلك so, in like manner.*]

344. The particle هَا (which has the same demonstrative force as the Latin ce in hicc) is called by the Arabs حَرْفُ التَّنْبِيهِ, the particle that excites attention. It is prefixed both to the simple demonstrative هَا, and to the compound ذَلِكَ (but not to هَذَا). Before هَا it is usually written defectively, هَذَا or هَذَا; before ذَلِكَ in full, هَذَاكَ.

B	Masc.	Fem.
Sing.	هَذَا this.	هَذِهِ (هَذِهِ) هِدِي
		(هَذَاتِ، هَاتَا، هَاتِي، هَاتِه)
Du. Nom.	هَذَانِ	هَاتَانِ or هَاتَانِ
Gen. Acc.	هَذَيْنِ	هَاتَيْنِ or هَاتَيْنِ

C Plur. comm. gen. هَؤُلَاءِ or هَؤُولًا، هَؤُولًا or هَؤُولَاءِ.

In like manner, هَذَاكَ or هَذَاكَ, fem. هَاتِيكَ، هَاتَاكَ، etc.

REM. a. هَا is identical with the Aram. ܗܐ, ܗܐ, this, as an interjection, lo! Heb. הָא.

REM. b. In the dual some say هَذَانِ, with double n.—The diminutive of هَذَا is هَذَايَا, f. هَاتِيَا, pl. هَؤُلِيَاءَ; of هَذَاكَ, pl. هَذَايَاكَ، هَذَايَاكَ، pl.

D هَؤُلِيَاءَكَ. [By prefixing هَا to كَذَا is formed هَذَاكَ thus.]

[REM. c. To these demonstratives belong also ذَيْتٌ وَذَيْتٌ and كَيْتٌ وَكَيْتٌ, thus and thus, so and so, such and such things, for which we also find وَذَيْتٌ وَذَيْتٌ, ذَيْتٌ وَكَيْتٌ, (rarely وَذَيْتٌ وَذَيْتٌ, ذَيْتٌ وَكَيْتٌ) and for the former ذَيْتٌ وَذَيْتٌ, ذَيْتٌ وَذَيْتٌ, for the latter كَيْتٌ وَكَيْتٌ. According to some scholars there is originally a slight difference between these expressions, the former relating to what has been said, the latter to what has been done, as هَذَا refers to A quantity (comp. Hariri, Durraṭ, ed. Thorb. p. 99). D. G.]

345. The article ال—called by the Arabs أَدَاءُ التَّعْرِيفِ the instrument of definition, الْأَلِفُ وَاللَّامُ the élif and lām, [or حَرْفٌ] لَاَمُ the lām of definition, or simply اللَّامُ the lām,—is composed of the demonstrative letter ل (see § 343, rem. c, and § 347) and the prosthetic أ, which is prefixed only to lighten the pronunciation B (هِمزة الوصلِ, § 19 a, and rem. f). [It is always written in conjunction with the following word.] Though it has become determinative, it was originally demonstrative, as still appears in such words as الْيَوْمَ to-day, الْآنَ now, etc.

[REM. a. The article, if employed to indicate the genus, i.e. any individual (animate or inanimate) bearing the name, is called أَهْلَكَ النَّاسِ، لَاَمُ الْجَنْسِ، or simply لِتَعْرِيفِ الْجَنْسِ، أَلَّامُ، as الْرَجُلُ، الْدِينَارُ وَالْدِرْهَمُ bring men to perdition, الْفَرْسُ man is better than woman; if indicating a particular individual it is called لِتَعْرِيفِ الْعَبْدِ، or simply الْعَبْدِ.]

REM. b. Some grammarians regard the élif as an integral part of the article, and say that it was originally ال (with أَلِفُ الْقَطْعِ, of the same form as هَلْ، بَلْ)، gradually weakened to ال. But sometimes the Arabs suppress the l, saying for instance نُحْمَرُ for الْأَحْمَرُ (comp. Vol. ii. § 242, footnote).

REM. c. It is sometimes, though very rarely, used as a relative pronoun (= الَّذِي, § 347); as مَنْ لَا يَزَالُ شَاكِرًا عَلَى الْمَعَّةِ he who does not cease to be grateful for what is with him (or for what he has), where الْمَعَّةُ = مَعَهُ؛ الَّذِي مَعَهُ مِنَ الْقَوْمِ الرَّسُولُ اللَّهِ مِنْهُمْ؛ الرَّسُولُ اللَّهِ = الدِّينِ؛ مَا أَنْتَ بِالْحَكِيمِ التَّرَضَى حُكُومَتَهُ؛ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ

A whose sentence is approved, where أَتُرْفَى = اَلَّذِي تُرْفَى. Compare, for example, in German, der = welcher, and our that for who and which.

REM. d. اَلْ is [in all probability (see Comp. Gr. p. 114)] identical with the Hebrew art. אֵל, for אֵלָּ. In South Arabia اَمْرٌ was (and even still is) used for اَلْ, but without assimilation; as لَيْسَ مِنْ اَمِيرٍ اَمْصِيَامُ fasting in journeying is not (an act) of piety; يَرْمِي بِرُمِي وَرَأَى بِاَمْسِهَرٍ وَاَمْسَلِيَةٍ he casts (standing) behind me with arrow and stone; for اَلْبِرِّ, اَلصَّيَامِ, اَلسَّفَرِ, اَلشَّهْرِ, and اَلسَّلِيَةِ.

2. The Conjunctive (Relative) and Interrogative Pronouns.

(a) The Conjunctive Pronouns.

346. The conjunctive pronouns are:—

(1) اَلَّذِي who, which, that; fem. اَلَّتِي.

(2) مَنْ he who, she who, whoever;

مَا that which, whatever.

(3) اَلَّذِي he who, whoever; fem. اَلَّتِي she who, whoever.

(4) اَمَّنْ every one who, whosoever;

اَمَّا everything which, whatsoever.

REM. اَمَّا, اَمَّنْ, اَلَّذِي, اَلَّتِي, and their compounds, اَمَّا, اَمَّنْ, are also interrogatives, which indeed is their original signification (see § 351 and foll.). They ought therefore to be treated of first as interrogatives and then as conjunctives; but it is convenient to reverse this order, so as to connect the relatives with the demonstratives.

347. The conjunctive اَلَّذِي is compounded of the article اَلْ, the demonstrative letter ل (see §§ 343 and 345), and the demonstrative pronoun لَآ, or فُو (§ 340, rem. c). When used substantively, it has the same meaning as مَنْ, مَا, viz. he who, that which, whoever, A whatever; when used adjectively, it signifies who, which, that, and refers necessarily to a definite substantive, with which it agrees in gender, number, and case. It is declined as follows:—

	اَلَّذِي; اَلَّذِي; اَلَّذِي; [اَلَّذِي];	اَلَّتِي; اَلَّتِي; اَلَّتِي; اَلَّتِي;	C

REM. a. اَلَّذِي, اَلَّتِي, and اَلَّذَيْنِ, are written defectively, because of their frequent occurrence, instead of اَلَّذِي, اَلَّتِي, and اَلَّذَيْنِ. The other forms, which are not in such constant use, generally retain the double ل of the article and the demonstrative.—The modern, vulgar form, for all numbers and genders, is اَلَّذِي or اَلَّذِي.

REM. t. The tribe of Hudēil (هُذَيْل), according to the Arab grammarians, used اَلَّذِي in the nom. plur. masc., اَلَّذَيْنِ in the gen. and acc. This اَلَّذِي must, of course, at one time have been universally employed as the nom., اَلَّذَيْنِ being the form which belongs to the oblique cases; but gradually the latter supplanted the

* [According to as-Sabbān, as quoted by Landberg (Nylander's Specimenschrift, p. 30) the relative pronoun is only اَلَّذِي, the article sufficing to distinguish it from the prepos. اِلَى. Comp. § 340, rem. a. D. G.]

A former, just as in modern Arabic the oblique form of the plur. sanus, سِين, has everywhere usurped the place of the direct form سُون. Even the sing. الَّذِي is an oblique form, the nom. of which ought properly to be الَّذُو.—The forms الَّذَاوُونَ, gen. and acc. الَّذَاوِينَ, and الَّذَاوُو are also said to occur.

REM. c. الَّذِي was originally, as its derivation shows, a demonstrative pron., and has its precise Hebrew equivalent in הַזֶּה, fem. הַזֵּה, comm. הַזֵּה (= الَّذِي). See Comp. Gr. p. 117.

B REM. d. From الَّذِي are formed the diminutives الَّذِيَّة, الَّذِيَّة; du. الَّذِيَّانِ, الَّذِيَّانِ; pl. الَّذِيَّاتُ, الَّذِيَّاتُ. The forms الَّذِيَّة, الَّذِيَّانِ are vulgar and incorrect.

C REM. e. Instead of الَّذِي, some of the Arabs, especially the tribe of Tayyî (طَيِّئ), employ ذُو (Heb. זו, Aram. זו, זו, Æth. H: za). It is then either wholly indeclinable, which is more usual; as ذُو عِنْدَهُمْ مَا كَفَانِيَا then enough for me of that which is with them (of their property) is what suffices me, for الَّذِي مِنَّا كَفَانِيَا in rhyme for كَفَانِيَا); لَا تَتَّحِمَنَّ لِلعَظْمِ ذُو أَنَا عَارِقُهُ (كَفَانِيَا in rhyme for كَفَانِيَا); I will set to work in earnest on the bone which I am gnawing (on the satire which I am meditating), for الَّذِي عَارِقُهُ in rhyme for كَفَانِيَا); وَبُئْرِي ذُو حَفَرْتُ وَذُو طَوْبِتُ and my well which I dug and which I lined (or cased), for وَآلِيَّ and وَآلِيَّ]; no! by Him whose residence is in heaven, 'Agāni xi. 25, l. 18. D. 	Masc.	Fem.
Sing. Nom.	ذُو	ذَاتُ
Gen.	ذِي	ذَاتِ (ذَاتِ)
Acc.	ذَا	ذَاتِ (ذَاتِ)

	Masc.	Fem.
Du. Nom.	ذَوَا	ذَوَاتَا
Gen. Acc.	ذَوِي	ذَوَاتِي
Plur. Nom.	ذَوُو	ذَوَاتُ
Gen. Acc.	ذَوِي	ذَوَاتِ (ذَوَاتِ)

B An example of this use is بِالتَّفَضُّلِ ذُو فَضْلِكُمْ أَنَّهُ بِهِ وَالتَّكْرَامَةِ بِهِ ذَاتُ أَكْرَمَتِكُمْ أَنَّهُ بِهَا by the excellence wherewith God hath made you excel, and the honour wherewith God hath honoured you, for أَتَيْتِي and أَتَيْتِي; [a woman in Yemèn said ('Omāra, ed. Kay, p. 147, l. 9, 11) ذُو حَكْمِ الْأَمِيرِ for ذُو بُدٍ مِنْ ذِي حَكْمِ الْأَمِيرِ you cannot but obey the decision of the Prince. D. G.]

C 348. The conjunctive pronouns مَنْ and مَا are indeclinable, and differ from الَّذِي in never being used adjectively, but always substantively, so that they correspond to the Latin is qui, ea quæ, id quod, Gr. ὅστις, ἣτις, ὅ,τι. The former (مَنْ) is used of beings endowed with reason, the latter (مَا) of all other objects. [They are either definite (مَوْصُولٌ) as الَّذِي, or indefinite (مَوْصُوفٌ), مَنْ signifying in the latter case one who, ما something that, and may also have a collective meaning persons who, things that, being nevertheless construed as singulars.]

REM. For the corresponding forms in the other Semitic languages see Comp. Gr. pp. 123—127.

D 349. The conjunctive pronoun أَيُّ, fem. أَيَّة, he who, she who, D whoever, is regularly declined in the sing. according to the triptote declension, but has commonly neither dual nor plural.

REM. The Æth. has the same word, አይ: (ay) who? of what sort? The corresponding Heb. vocable is אֵי, used as an adverb, where? in interrogative phrases אֵי, which appears in Æth. in አይ፣: (aytē) where? አይ፣: (aytē) how? Syr. أَيُّ where? أين who? أَيْنَ how long? etc.

A 350. Of أَيُّ and مَنْ, مَا, are compounded أَيُّمَنْ he who, she who, whoever, أَيُّمَا that which, whatsoever. Only the first part of the compound admits of being declined; gen. أَيُّمَنْ, أَيُّمَا; acc. أَيُّمَنْ, أَيُّمَا.

(b) The Interrogative Pronouns.

351. It has been already stated (§ 346, rem.) that the conjunctive pronouns, with the exception of الَّذِي, are also interrogative, which is indeed their original signification. To them may be added كَمْ [and كَمْ or كَمْ], how much [or many], which are (a) interrogative, (b) according to our ideas, exclamatory, according to the Arab grammarians, enuntiative (لِلْإِخْبَارِ); but never conjunctive.

REM. The interrogative مَا may be* shortened after prepositions into مَ, and is then united in writing both with those prepositions with which such a union is usual, and with those with which it is not, (though, in the latter case, it is better to keep them apart); e.g. عَمَّا, عَمَّا, عَمَّا, عَمَّا (for مَنْ عَمَّا), عَلَّامًا, عَلَّامًا, عَلَّامًا, عَلَّامًا (for مَنْ عَلَّامًا). In such cases, the accent is transferred from مَ to the preceding syllable (as bīma, 'ilā ma, etc.); whence it happens that بِمَ and لِمَ are sometimes shortened in poetry into بِمَ and لِمَ. This is also the origin of كَمْ, for كَمْ or كَمَا (lit., the like of what? the worth of what?), Heb. כִּמָּה, כִּמָּה, כִּמָּה, כִּמָּה, Aram. כִּמָּה, כִּמָּה [see Comp. Gr. p. 125].—In pause these words are written كَمَا, كَمَا, كَمَا, etc. Similarly we find فَمَا for فَمَا what then? and كَمَا that what? for what purpose? as when one

* [Rather, "is usually shortened." Zamahsari, Fāik, ii. 159 calls it "the commoner" form (الْأَشْبَحُ). The grammarians of the school of Baṣra say that it must always be shortened in prose; in poetry the ḥlif may be retained. Comp. Fleischer, Kl. Schr. i. 364. D. G.]

says قَصَدْتُ فُلَانًا I went to (the house of) so and so, to which you A rejoin كَيْمَنَ, and the answer is كَيْمَنَ أَيْمَنَ that I might do him a kindness. [The shortening of مَا takes place also in such sentences as مَجِيءٌ مَجِيءٌ in what manner did you arrive? and مِثْلُ مِثْلٍ what are you like?]

352. The interrogative pronoun مَنْ, who? has the distinctions of gender, number, and case, only when it stands alone; as if one should say Some one is come, or I have seen some one, and another B should ask Who? Whom? In this case its declension is as follows:—

	Masc.	Fem.
Sing. Nom.	مَنْو
Gen.	مَنْي	مَنْه (مَنْت)
Acc.	مَنْا
Du. Nom.	مَنْان	مَنْتان (مَنْتان)
Gen. Acc.	مَنْين	مَنْتين (مَنْتين)
Plur. Nom.	مَنْون
Gen. Acc.	مَنْين	مَنْات

REM. a. Only a poet could venture to say أَتُوا نَارِي فقلتُ they came to my fire, and I said, Who are ye?

REM. b. The interrogative pronoun مَا what? is never declined under any circumstances.

[REM. c. From مَنْ is formed the relative adjective مَنْي, with the article الْمَنْي (comp. Vol. ii. § 170, rem. b). The dual is الْمَنْين, the plural الْمَنْينون.]

353. The interrogative pronoun أَيُّ, fem. أَيَّة, who? is either construed with a following noun in the genitive, or with a suffix, or stands alone. In the first two cases, it loses the tênwīn (§§ 315, a, 316, a, c), and, if followed by a noun, is generally masc. sing.; as

A أَيُّ كِتَابٍ which book (lit. quid libri)? gen. أَيُّ كِتَابٍ, acc. أَيُّ كِتَابٍ; أَيُّ عَيْنٍ which eye or fountain? أَيُّ الْمَرْأَتَيْنِ which of the two women? أَيُّ النِّسَاءِ which of the women? [The feminine form is of rare occurrence, as أَيُّهُ أَكْلَةٌ whatever morsel (El-Mubarrad 86, l. 17) and أَيُّهُ أُنْثَى which female? (Diw. Hudēil, n. 201, vs. 2). D. G.] In the second case, when prefixed to a fem. pronoun, it may be masc. or fem.

B أَيُّهُنَّ or أَيُّهُنَّ which of them? meaning women, the latter being the more common. When standing alone, or used like مَنْ in § 352, it has all the numbers and cases, the pausal forms being:—

Sing. masc., nom. أَيُّ or أَيُّ, gen. أَيُّ or أَيُّ, acc. أَيُّ; fem. أَيُّهُ.

Dual masc., nom. أَيُّهُنَّ, gen. acc. أَيُّهُنَّ; fem., nom. أَيُّهُنَّ, gen. acc. أَيُّهُنَّ.

Plur. masc., nom. أَيُّهُنَّ, gen. acc. أَيُّهُنَّ; fem. أَيُّهُنَّ.

C In أَيُّ and أَيُّ the final vowel is said to be obscurely sounded or slurred (الرَّوْمُ).

REM. a. With the suffixes أَيُّ is sometimes shortened into أَيُّ, as أَيُّهُنَّ for أَيُّهُنَّ, which of the two? and so in [the interrogative أَيُّهُ what? for ما أَيُّ, as أَيُّهُ تَقُولُ what dost thou say? and] the vulgar interrogative أَيُّهُ what? for أَيُّهُ شَيْءٌ.

D REM. b. Instead of أَيُّ with [a following noun in the genitive or] a suffix, the more general and indefinite أَيُّهُ is sometimes used; as أَيُّهُ أَحَبُّ إِلَيْكَ هُوَ أَمْ أَنَا which is dearer to you, he or I? in which example أَيُّهُ stands for أَيُّهُنَّ, which of us?

REM. c. From أَيُّ are formed the relative adjective أَيُّهُ from what place? (see Lane, art. أَيُّ, p. 134 c), and the compound كَأَيُّهُ what place? (also written كَأَيُّهُ or كَأَيُّهُ, كَأَيُّهُ or كَأَيُّهُ) and كَأَيُّهُ (see § 351 and Vol. ii. § 34, e, rem. d).

REM. d. See Comp. Gr. pp. 120—122.

[3. The Indefinite Pronouns.

353*. 1. The interrogative pronouns مَنْ and مَا have passed into indefinites (Comp. Gr. p. 125)*, with the sense of somebody, something, but are never thus employed unless with a qualificative complement (صِفَةٌ), and are therefore called مَوْصُوفَةٌ (§ 348). This complement is very rarely an adjective or participle, but usually a preposition with following genitive, as مَا لِي something which I have, B or an adverb as مَنْ هُنَاكَ somebody here, or a qualificative clause, as مَنْ قَالَ one who says. Comp. Vol. ii. § 172, rem. a.

2. The indefinite pronoun مَا is used to introduce a clause equivalent to the masdar or infinitive, and is in that case called مَا الْمَوْصُوفِيَّةُ (Vol. ii. § 88, § 114, § 127, rem. e); hence its use in conditional clauses as مَا الشَّرْطِيَّةُ (Vol. ii. § 6), or in reference to time as مَا الدَّيْمُومَةُ or مَا الزَّمَانِيَّةُ (Vol. ii. § 7); if added to certain adverbial C nouns, it gives them a conditional and general signification, as the Latin termination cunque, e.g. أَيُّهُ wherever, أَيُّهُ wherever, whenever, أَيُّهُ whatever; if appended to إِنَّ, أَنْ, كَأَنَّ and لَكِنَّ it hinders their regimen and is therefore called مَا الْكَافَّةُ (Vol. ii. § 36, rem. d); with the same effect it is added to لَيْتَ and لَعَلَّ (ibid. rem. f) and to رَبِّ (Vol. ii. § 84, rem. a and b); in apposition to an indefinite noun, it has a vague intensifying force and is called مَا الْإِبْهَامِيَّةُ D (Vol. ii. § 136 a, rem. e); added to the affirmative لَ it serves to strengthen the affirmation مَا مَزِيدَةٌ لِلتَّكْيِيدِ (see an example § 361 near the end, and Vol. ii. § 36, rem. e); it is often inserted after the

* [Prym, Diss. de enuntiationibus relativis Semiticis, p. 100 and Fleischer, Kl. Schr. i. 360 seq., 706 seq. reject this theory, considering the indefinite meaning of مَنْ and مَا as the original, whence the interrogative has been derived.]

A prepositions مِنْ, عَنْ, and بِ without affecting their regimen, and is then called مَا الْمَرْبُودَةُ or مَا الرَّائِدَةُ (Vol. ii. § 70, rem. f). In like manner it is also put after رَبِّ (Vol. ii. § 84, rem. a) and in other cases (Vol. ii. § 90, rem.).]

3. فُلَانٌ, fem. فُلَانَةٌ (§ 309, b, δ, rem. b), as كِنَانَاتٌ عَنْ أَسَامِي الْأَنْبِيَاءِ, stand for names of persons, like ο, η δαινα, so and so, M. or N.;
 B as أَلا قَاتِلَ اللَّهِ الْوَشَاءَ وَقَوْلُهُمْ فُلَانَةٌ ο δαινα του δαινος, فُلَانٌ أَبْنُ فُلَانٍ
 أَضَحَّتْ خِلَّةً لِفُلَانٍ, O may God curse all talebearers and their saying
 "So and so has become a sweetheart of so and so." Syr. صُكَّةٌ, fem.
 هَكَيْبَةٌ, Heb. הַכִּיבִי. In speaking of animals, الْفُلَانُ and الْفُلَانَةُ are employed, as رَكِبْتُ الْفُلَانَ I rode on such and such a one.—هُنَّ a thing, and its fem. هَنَةٌ, are similarly used for substantives of the class C أَنْسَاءَ الْجِنْسِ (§ 191, rem. b, 3, 4).—On the use of these words in the vocative, see the Syntax.

III. THE PARTICLES.

354. There are four sorts of particles (حُرُوفٌ, pl. [أَدَوَاتٌ]); viz., Prepositions, Adverbs, Conjunctions, and Interjections.

A. THE PREPOSITIONS.

355. The prepositions are called by the Arabs حُرُوفُ الْجَمْعِ, the particles of attraction, or الْجَوَارُ (from the sing. الْجَارُ or الْجَارَةُ), the attractives, i.e. the particles which govern the genitive. They are also named حُرُوفُ الْخَفْضِ, the particles of depression, and حُرُوفُ الْإِضَافَةِ, the particles of annexation or connection, because the distinctive vowel of the genitive (i), and consequently the genitive A itself, is called الْخَفْضُ (see § 308, footnote), and because this case has its peculiar place in that connection which many prepositions with their genitives really represent (see § 358). They are divided into separable prepositions, i.e. those which are written as separate words, and inseparable, i.e. those which are always united in writing with the following noun.

356. The inseparable prepositions consist of one consonant with B its vowel. They are:—

(a) بِ in, at, near, by, with, through (Heb. Aram. בּ, Æth. በ: ba). [بِلا, without, is a compound of بِ with the negative لَا. Comp. Vol. ii. § 56, rem. c.]

(b) بِت by, in swearing, as تَالله by God!*

(c) لِ to (sign of the Dative), for, on account of (Heb. Aram. לְ, Æth. ለ: la).

(d) وَ by, in swearing, as وَالله by God! C

REM. a. The damma of the suffixed pronouns of the 3d pers. هُنَّ, هُمْ, هُمَا, is changed after بِ into kësra; as هُنَّ بِه, هُمْ بِهِ. See § 185, rem. b, and § 317, rem. c. The ancient and poetic form هُنَّ changes either both vowels, or the first only; هُنَّ or هُنَّ.

REM. b. The kësra of the prep. لِ passes before the pronominal suffixes into fetha; as لَهُ to him, لَكَ to you, لَنَا to us. Except the suffix of the 1st pers. sing., which absorbs the vowel of the preposition; لِي to me.

* [ت was especially in use at Mekka. It seems to be the remnant of some word, as it is (probably of another) in تَعِين (= لَوْتِ حِين) and تَلَان (= أَلَان). Comp. the abbreviation of اللَّهُ أَيُّمِنَ اللَّهُ, Vol. ii. § 62, rem. b. I take the وَ in وَالله and the وَوُ رَبِّ (Vol. ii. § 235) to be also remnants of words. D. G.]

A REM. c. إِ, as, like (Heb. Aram. אִ), which is commonly reckoned a preposition, is really not so. It is a formally undeveloped noun, which occurs only as the governing word in the genitive connection, but runs in this position through all the relations of case (similitudo, instar).

357. The separable prepositions are of two sorts. Those of the first class, which are all biliteral or triliteral, have different terminations; those of the second class are simply nouns of different forms in the accus. sing., determined by the following genitive, and they consequently end in fetha without tènwin (ـَ).

358. The separable prepositions of the first class are:—

(a) إِلَى to (Heb. אֶל, אֵלָּא).

(b) حَتَّى till, up to, as far as (Heb. עַד, Æth. እስከ): A dialectic variety is عَتَّى.

C (c) عَلَى over, above, upon, against, to, on account of, notwithstanding (Heb. עָלַי, עָלַ, Aram. עָלָ, عَلَا).

(d) عَنْ from, away from, after, for.

(e) فِي in, into, among, about.

(f) لَدَى, or لَدَا, with (penes, apud). Rarer forms are: لَد, لَدُ, لَدَى, لَدَا, لَدَان, لَدَانِ, لَدَانِي, لَدَانِي.

D (g) مَعَ with (Heb. עִמָּ, Syr. ܥܡܘܬܐ); dialectically مَع, which becomes in the waṣl مَع.

(h) مِنْ of, from, on account of (Heb. Aram. מִן, Æth. ከ: 'emna, or ከ: 'em). See § 20, d.

(i) مُنْذُ, or مُذ, from a certain time, since (compounded of مِنْ and ذُو, ex quo; see § 347, rem. e and comp. מִן־זֶה, Ezra v. 12). Rarer forms are: مُنْذُ, مُنْذِي, مُنْذِي, and مُذ. In the waṣl مُنْذُ usually becomes A مُنْذُ (§ 20, d), rarely مُنْذِي or مُنْذِي.

REM. a. إِلَى, عَلَى, and لَدَى, preserve before the suffixes their original pronunciation إِلَى, عَلَى, and لَدَى (compare إِلَيَّ and إِلَيْهِ); as إِلَيْهِ. The damma of the suffixes of the 3d pers. passes after the diphthong into kâra, according to § 185, rem. b, and § 317, rem. c. The suffix of the 1st pers. sing., يَ (orig. يَئِي), combines with إِلَى, عَلَى, and لَدَى into إِلَيَّ, عَلَيَّ, and لَدَيَّ; with فِي B into فِيَّ. See § 317, rem. a.

REM. b. The ن of عَنْ, مِنْ, and لَدَنْ, is doubled in connection with the suffixes of the 1st pers.; عَنِّي, لَدَيَّ, مِنِّي, [etc., etc.]. If عَنْ and مِنْ are prefixed to مَنْ and مَا, the ن is assimilated to the م in pronunciation, and the two are usually written as one word; عَمَّ, مَمَّ, for عَمَّن or عَنْ مَنَّ, etc. (see § 14, b).

REM. c. When followed by the article, the prepositions مِنْ and عَلَى are occasionally abbreviated in poetry, مِنْ being contracted into مِل, and عَلَى into عَل; as مِلْمَالٍ, or مِل مَالٍ, for مِنْ أَمْوَالٍ; عَلْمَاءٍ for عَلَى أَمْوَالٍ. [Comp. p. 24, note.]

359. Examples of prepositions of the second class are: أَمَامَ before (of place); بَيْنَ between, among (بَيْنَ); بَعْدَ after (بَعْدَ), dimin. بَعْدِي; تَحْتِ under, beneath (تَحْتِ), dimin. تَحْتِي; تَجَاهَ or تَجَاهِ; خَلْفَ behind, after; دُونِ below, under, beneath, on this side of, dimin. دُونِي; عِنْدَ (also عِنْدِي, which is the modern and vulgar form, rarely عِنْدِي) with, in possession of (apud, penes, Fr. chez; [عِنْدِي]); عِوَضَ instead of, for; فَوْقَ above, dimin. فَوْقِي; قَبْلَ before (of time, قَبْلًا),

A dimin. قَبِيلٌ; قُدَامٌ before (of place, قُدَامٌ); وَرَاءٌ behind, after, beyond; وَسَطٌ in the middle, among. These are all, as before said, the construct accusatives of nouns; such as بَيْنٌ interval, حَوْلٌ circumference, etc.

B. THE ADVERBS.

360. There are three sorts of adverbs. The first class consists of B particles of various origin, partly inseparable, partly separable; the second class of indeclinable nouns ending in u; the third class of nouns in the accusative.

361. The inseparable adverbial particles are:—

(a) اُ, interrogative, حَرْفُ الْاِسْتِفْهَامِ, the particle of questioning (num? utrum? an? Heb. הַא; [comp. § 21, d]. The form é occurs C dialectically, for example in هَمَا nonne? for أَمَا (see § 362, h), هَذَا الَّذِي, is this he who—? [In alternative questions it is followed by أَوْ or أَمْ.]

[REM. When اُ is followed by another êlif with hêmza, an l is inserted between the two hêmzas, as اَلْاَنَّتْ, also written اَنَّتْ, but some do not do this. If the following êlif is pronounced with kêra, it is converted into y with hêmza, as اَلْاِنَّتْكَ, اَلْاِنَّتْكَ.]

D (b) سَ, prefixed to the Imperfect of the verb to express real futurity, as سَيَكْفِيكَهُمُ اللهُ, God will suffice thee against them. It is an abbreviation of سَوْفَ, in the end (Heb. Aram. הַסּוּף, صَوْفًا, end), [and is called حَرْفُ التَّنْفِيْسِ the particle of amplification].

(c) لَ, affirmative, certainly, surely. This may be (a) لَأَمْ جَوَابٌ, the la that corresponds to, or is the complement of, an oath, as لَأَقْسِرَنَّ اللهُ وَاللهِ لَأَفْعَلَنَّ by God, I will certainly do (it); وَاللهِ لَقَدْ خَرَجَ by God, he has certainly gone out; (β) اللَّامُ الْمُوَطَّئَةُ لِلْقَسْرِ لِلْقَسْرِ A the la that smooths the way for the oath, as the first la in لَأُكْرِمَنَّكَ اللهُ by God, if indeed you show me honour, I will certainly show you honour; (γ) لَأَمْ جَوَابٌ تَوْ وَتَوَلَا the la that corresponds to, or is the complement of lau (if) and lau-la (if not), as تَوَلَا فَضَّلَ اللهُ عَلَيْكُمْ if it had not been for the goodness of God towards you and His mercy, verily ye would have followed Satan; (δ) لَأَمْ الْاِبْتِدَاءِ [التَّأْكِيدِ] (أَتَأْكِيدُ) B the inchoative or inceptive la, prefixed to a noun or a verb in the imperfect, as لَأَنْتُمْ أَشَدُّ رَهْبَةً فِي صُدُورِهِمْ مِنَ اللهِ verily ye are more feared in their breasts than God; إِنَّ رَبَّكَ لَيَحْكُمُ بَيْنَهُمْ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ verily thy Lord will judge between them on the day of the resurrection; (e) اللَّامُ الْفَارِقَةُ [الَّذِي] (أَلَمْ يَفَارِقْ) C the distinguishing la, which is prefixed to the predicate of اِنْ, standing for اِنْ (إِنْ اَلْخَفِيفَةُ مِنَ التَّثْبِيْتِ) اِنْ, [in order to distinguish it from the negative اِنْ], as اِنْ كُلِّ نَفْسٍ لَهَا عَلَيْهَا حَافِظٌ verily over every soul there is a guardian; وَإِنْ كُنَّا عَنْ دِرَاسَتِهِمْ لِعَافِيَيْنَ but verily we were careless of their studies. [Comp. Vol. ii. § 36.]

362. The most common separable adverbial particles are the following.

(a) أَجَلٌ yes, certainly; confirming a previous statement, as مَا قَامَ زَيْدٌ yes, (he has); مَا قَامَ زَيْدٌ Zdid has come to thee; أَجَلٌ yes, (he has); مَا قَامَ زَيْدٌ Zdid did not stand up; أَجَلٌ yes, (he did not); سَوْفَ تَذْهَبُ thou wilt go away; أَجَلٌ yes, (I will). But in reply to an interrogation, it is better to use نَعَمْ.

(b) إِذْ and إِذَا in the sense of lo! see! behold! إِذْ is used after بَيْنَمَا and بَيْنَمَا, while, and is followed by a verb stating a fact, as إِذْ رَأَى عَمْرٌأ while Zdid was standing, behold, he saw 'Amr;

A إِذَا قَبِيْنَا الْعُسْرُ إِذْ دَارَتْ مَآسِرُ for while (there has been) adversity, lo, prosperity has come round. إِذَا, called by the grammarians إِذَا الْمَفْجَأَةِ or إِذَا الْفَجَائِيَّةِ, that is to say 'idā indicating something unexpected, is followed only by a nominal proposition, and refers to the same time as the preceding statement; as خَرَجْتُ فَإِذَا زَيْدٌ بِالْبَابِ I went out, and lo, Zaid was at the door; بَيْنَمَا نَحْنُ بِمَكَانٍ كَذَا إِذَا زَيْدٌ قَدْ طَلَعَ عَلَيْنَا while we were in such and such a place, lo, Zaid came upon us.

(c) إِذَاكَ or إِذَاكَ then.

(d) إِذَا, or إِذَا, well then, in that case, if it be so. See § 367, b.

A rare dialectic form is ذُنْ.

(e) أَلَا nonne? Compounded of أَ (§ 361, a) and لَا not (Heb. הֲלֹא). [It is very often followed by إِنَّ or وَإِنَّ: وَإِنَّ أَلَا now surely.]

C [(f) أَلَا nonne? syn. of هَلَّا.]

(g) أَمْ, interrogative, an? أَمْ أَمْ (Heb. הֲ הֲ), utrum an?

(h) أَمَا nonne? Compounded of أَ and مَا not. Dialectic varieties are أَمْ, عَمَّا, هَمَّا, أَمْ, حَمَّى or حَمَّا or حَمَى. [أَمَا truly, now surely.]

(i) إِمَّا or إِمَّا in that case, then at least.

(k) إِنَّ not, syn. of مَا, frequent in the Kor'an and in old poems.

D In later times it is only used in combination with the negative مَا as a corroborative, إِنَّ مَا not indeed (comp. Vol. ii. § 158 and Fleischer, Kl. Schr. i. 448).]

(l) إِنَّ verily, called the lightened 'in (الْمُخَفَّفَةُ مِنَ التَّقْبِيلَةِ) § 361, c, e), usually without government.]

(m) إِنَّ certainly, surely, truly; literally lo! see! en, ecce (Heb. הִנֵּה, הִנֵּה, Syr. أَبْ). It is joined to the accus. of a following noun or pronominal suffix, but in the 1st pers. sing. إِنِّي is used as well as إِنِّي A (Heb. אֲנִי), [and in the 1st pers. pl. إِنَّا as well as إِنَّا]. The suffix ئِي in this case often represents and anticipates a whole subsequent clause (ضَمِيرُ الْقِصَّةِ [or ضَمِيرُ الشَّأْنِ]) the pronoun of the fact.—إِنَّ introduces the subject, and is frequently followed by لَ with the predicate; as إِنَّ اللَّهَ لَكَبِيرٌ, verily God is great. This the grammarians regard as an inceptive or inchoative la (§ 360, c, d), the example given standing for إِنَّ اللَّهَ كَبِيرٌ, whence it is sometimes called الْأَلَامُ الْمَرْحَلَةُ the la that B is pushed away (from its proper place).—The form هِنَّ is said to occur in the compound لَهِنَّ for لَهُنَّ.

(n) إِنَّمَا, restrictive, only (dumtaxat), [verily]. Compounded of إِنَّ and مَا.

(o) أَتَى whence? [where?] how? [when?] With the signification of whencesoever, wherever, however, whenever it is a conjunction.] C

(p) أَيُّ, explicative, that is, frequently used by commentators.

(q) إِي, yes, yea; always followed by an oath, as إِي وَاللَّهِ yes, by God! This formula is sometimes shortened into إِي, إِي, and إِي. The dialectic variety هِي is said to occur.—From إِي وَاللَّهِ comes the vulgar أَيُّهُ [أَيُّهُ].

(r) إِذَا when? Dialectically also إِذَا. It is a conjunction D when it signifies whenever.]

(s) أَيْنَ where? مِنْ أَيْنَ whence? إِلَى أَيْنَ whither? أَيْنَمَا wherever (Heb. אֵינָא in אֵינָא, אֵינָא, אֵינָא).

(t) بَلْ, nay, nay rather, not so, on the contrary, but (Heb. בְּלָא, בְּלָא, Phœn. בְּלָא). [When it is followed by a single word it is a conjunction.]

(u) بَلَى yes, used in giving an affirmative answer to a negative

A question, or in affirming a negative proposition; as أَلَسْتُ بِرَبِّكُمْ قَالُوا أَلَسْتُ بِرَبِّكُمْ قَالُوا am I not your Lord? They said, Yes, (Thou art); لَمْ يَقُمْ زَيْدٌ لَمْ يَقُمْ زَيْدٌ Zdid did not stand up, بَلَى yes, (he did).

(v) بَيْنَمَا [and بَيْنَمَا] while, whilst (connected with the prep. بَيْنَ between, among).

(w) كُنْ [or كُنْ], in pause ثَمَّة there (Heb. כִּן, כִּן, Syr. كُنْ).

B (x) جَمْرٌ, sometimes جَمْرٌ, yes.

(y) فَقَطٌ only, solely, merely (lit. and enough).

(z) قَدْ, with the Perfect, now, already, really (jam). It expresses that something uncertain has really taken place, that something expected has been realised, that something has happened in agreement with, or in opposition to, certain symptoms or circumstances; as كُنْتُ أَرْجُو مَجِيئَهُ فَقَدْ جَاءَ I was hoping that he would come, and he is

C really come; كَانَ سَالِمًا أَصِحِّحًا فَقَدْ مَاتَ he was hale and well, and now he is dead. It also serves to mark the position of a past act or event as prior to the present time or to another past act or event, and consequently expresses merely our Perf. or Pluperf. With the Imperfect it means sometimes, perhaps, as إِنَّ الْكَذُوبَ قَدْ يَصْدُقُ the (habitual) liar sometimes speaks the truth, in which case it is said to be used لِلتَّقْلِيلِ to express rarity or paucity; [but also frequency, thus according with رَبَّمَا in its two acceptations*].

D (aa) قَطٌّ ever; always with the Perfect or Jussive and a negative, as مَا رَأَيْتَهُ قَطٌّ or لَمْ أَرَهُ قَطٌّ I have never seen him; [or in an interrogative sentence هَلْ رَأَيْتَهُ قَطٌّ did you ever see him?]†. Rarer forms are قَطٌّ, قَطٌّ, قَطٌّ, قَطٌّ and in pause قَطٌّ.

* [In poetry قَدْ أَرَى may be used for قَدْ كُنْتُ أَرَى videbam; see Nöldeke, Deloctus, 32, l. 2; 98, l. 4. R. S.]

† [On the use of قَطٌّ in affirmative sentences, and its vulgar use with the Future, see Fleischer, Kl. Schr. i. 434 seq.]

(cc) كَلَّا not at all, by no means, حَرْفُ الرَّدِّعِ the particle of repelling or averting; as رَبِّي أَهَانَنِي كَلَّا my Lord hath humbled or despised me; by no means.

(dd) لَا, used (α) as negative of the future and indefinite present, and as representative of the other negatives after وَ (and), not; (β) as a prohibitive particle (ne), joined to the Jussive. It thus combines (like the Aram. לֹא, לֹא) the significations of the Heb. לֹא and לֹא. B

(ee) لَكِنَّ, لَكِنَّ, often with وَ prefixed, but, yet. لَكِنَّ is placed only before nouns and pronominal suffixes in the accusative, but in the 1st pers. لَكِنِّي, لَكِنِّي are used as well as لَكِنِّي. [When لَكِنَّ is followed by a single word, it is a conjunction.]

(ff) لَمْ [in poetry also لَمَّا], negative of the Perfect, but always joined to the Jussive in the sense of the perfect, not.

(gg) لَمْ not yet, joined to the Jussive. C

(hh) لَنْ, a contraction for لَا أَنْ (i.e. لَا يَكُونُ أَنْ it will not be that—), not, joined to the Subjunctive.

[(ii) لَوْلَا and لَوْ مَا why not? syn. of أَلَا and هَلَّا (Vol. ii. § 169).]

(kk) مَا, negative of the definite or absolute present and of the perfect, not.

(ll) مَتَى when? Heb. מַתַּי. [It is also used as a conjunction, § 367, q.] D

(mm) نَعَمْ yes (abbreviated for نَعَمَرٌ it is agreeable), affirming any preceding statement or question; as أَقَامَ زَيْدٌ has Zdid stood up? نَعَمْ yes, (he has); لَمْ يَقُمْ he has not stood up, نَعَمْ yes, (he has not). Other forms are نَعَمَرٌ, and more rarely نَعَمَرٌ, and نَعَمَرٌ.

[(nn) هَكَذَا thus (§ 344, rem. b).]

- A (oo) هَلْ, interrogative, num? utrum? The form أَلْ also occurs.
 (pp) هَلَّا (أَلَّا) nonne? Compounded of هَلْ and لَا.
 (qq) هُنَا, demonstrative, here; whence are derived هَاهُنَا or هَهُنَا, هُنَاكَ, and هُنَاكَ (see §§ 342—344).
 (rr) هُنَا (also هِنَا and هُنَا), demonstrative, there (compare Heb. הֵנָּה); whence are derived هَهُنَا, هَاهُنَا or هَهُنَا, هُنَاكَ, and هُنَاكَ.
- B 363. The same substantives of which the accusatives serve as prepositions (§ 359), can in general be used as adverbs, in which case they take the termination u, and are indeclinable. E.g. بَعْدُ [yet, mostly in negative phrases; بَعْدُ, مِنْ بَعْدُ, afterwards; تَحْتُ, مِنْ تَحْتُ, beneath; مِنْ عَلٍ, *above; مِنْ فَوْقُ, above; قَبْلُ, مِنْ قَبْلُ, before; مِنْ حَيْثُ, where, مِنْ حَيْثُ, whence, إِلَى حَيْثُ, whither, مِنْ حَيْثُ, wherever; عَوْضُ (also عَوْضًا and عَوْضٌ) ever, joined to the Imperf. Indic., but always preceded by a negative, as لَا أَفَارِقُكَ عَوْضٌ.
- C I will never leave you; غَيْرُ, in لَا غَيْرُ or لَيْسَ غَيْرُ, nothing else, only this; [فَحَسْبُ enough, only; also فَحَسْبُ].

364. The accusative is the adverbial case κατ' ἐξοχήν in Arabic. A few of the most common examples of it are the following: أَبَدًا, referring to future time, ever, with a negative, never; [أَنفًا just now, a little while ago; لَا أَفْعَلُهُ أَبَتَّةً decidedly, usually with a negative لَا أَفْعَلُهُ أَبَتَّةً I will not do it, decidedly]; جَدًّا very, very much, extremely, placed after an adjective; جَمِيعًا together, of two or more; خَارِجًا outside, without; دَاخِلًا inside, within; [رَوِيْدًا] gently; شِمَالًا to the left, يَمِينًا to the right; كَثِيرًا much, قَلِيلًا little; لَيْلًا by night, نَهَارًا by day;

* [On the various forms of this phrase see ḡn-Nahḡās on 'Imrulkais Mo'all. p. 41. R. S.]

يَوْمًا one day, once; أَلآنَ now, at present; الْيَوْمَ today (Æth. ግ-ም: A yōm), غَدًا tomorrow; مَجَانًا gratis (Aram. ܡܝܢܐ); مَعًا together; etc. To the same class belong the following adverbs:

- [(a) بَعْدُ except, but.]
 (b) حِينَ when (lit., at the time of—).
 (c) زَمَانًا [often, but more usually] sometimes; perhaps; lit., O the quantity of that which— (زَمَانٌ = Heb. זְמַן); [comp. Vol. ii. § 84, rem. c]. B
 (d) زَمَانًا, زَمَانًا, whilst, during.
 (e) سَوْفَ, prefixed to the Imperf. to indicate real futurity (see § 361, b); lit., in the end.
 (f) لَا سِيَّمَا, and, with the omission of the negative, سِيَّمَا, above all, especially, particularly; lit., there is not the equal or like of—. Rarer forms are لَا سِيَّمَا and لَا سِيَّمَا.
 (g) كَيْفَ *how?
- [(h) لَا مَحَالَةَ most certainly; lit., there is no avoiding of it, and therefore also construed with مِنْ like its synonym بَدَّ.]†

(i) وَحْدَهُ, used only in connection with pronominal suffixes, as وَحْدَهُ he alone, وَحْدَهُم they alone. It is etymologically = وَحْدٌ, but in sense = وَحْدٌ in وَحْدًا, وَحْدًا, وَحْدًا.

[Here too may be mentioned the adverbial expressions بَيْتَ بَيْتٍ lit., tent to tent or house to house in هُوَ جَارِي بَيْتَ بَيْتٍ he is my next-door neighbour; سُبُحَاتُ سُبُحَاتٍ every morning and evening;

* [On the derivation of كَيْفَ see a conjecture of Fleischer's, Kl. Schr. i. 381, footnote.]

† (لَا دَا جَرًا and لَا دَا جَرًا) verily, truly, seems to be compounded of لَا nay and the verb جَرَرٌ it is decided (comp. Fleischer, Kl. Schr. i. 449 seq.) D. G.]

A sundry parties. The rule is that when two nouns are made one, they lose their tənwin and become indeclinable, ending in fetha, as خَمْسَةٌ عَشْرٌ. In like manner are to be explained بَيْنَ بَيْنَ between good and bad, حَيْصٌ حَيْصٌ straitness. D. G.]

REM. a. In أَمْسَ, yesterday, Heb. אָמֵס, the kësra is not the mark of the genitive, but merely a light vowel, added to render the pronunciation more easy. We may also say بِأَمْسٍ and الْأَمْسِ.

B Some of the Arabs used مُذَّ أَمْسٍ instead of مُذَّ أَمْسٍ, since yesterday.

REM. b. لَيْتَ, utinam, would that—! and عَلَّ or لَعَلَّ, perhaps, seem to be, not nouns in the accusative, but verbs. They are construed with the accusative, and take pronominal suffixes; as لَيْتَنِي would that I—! (rarely لَيْتَكَ), لَيْتَكَ, etc.; لَعَلَّنِي perhaps I— (rarely لَعَلَّنِي), لَعَلَّنِي, etc.—Dialectically, however, لَعَلَّ governs the genitive. The word has several rarer forms, viz. عَنَّ, عَنَّ, عَنَّ, عَنَّ.

C رَعَنَّ, رَعَنَّ, رَعَنَّ, and رَعَنَّ.

C. THE CONJUNCTIONS.

365. The conjunctions (which the Arab grammarians call, according to their different significations, حُرُوفُ الْعَوَاطِفِ [or الْعَوَاطِفُ] connective particles, or حُرُوفُ الشَّرْطِ conditional particles, etc.) are,

D like the prepositions and adverbs, either separable or inseparable.

366. The inseparable conjunctions are:—

(a) وَ (حَرْفُ عَطْفٍ), which connects words and clauses as a simple co-ordinative, and (Æth. Ⓢ: wa, Heb. Aram. ו, ו).

(b) فَ (حَرْفُ عَطْفٍ, or more exactly حَرْفُ تَرْتِيبٍ, particle of classification or gradation), which sometimes unites single words, indicating that the objects enumerated immediately succeed or are closely behind one another; but more usually connects two clauses, A showing either that the latter is immediately subsequent to the former in time, or that it is connected with it by some internal link, such as that of cause and effect. It may be rendered and so, and thereupon, and consequently, for, although in this last sense فَإِنَّ is more usually employed. In conditional sentences, فَ is used to separate the apodosis from the protasis, like the German so; and it also invariably introduces the apodosis after the disjunctive particle *أَمَّا.

[REM. The conjunctions وَ and فَ may be preceded by the B interrogative particle أُ; thus أَوَلَا means nonne! أَفَلَا nonne igitur!]

(c) لِ. This may be (a) لِأَمْرٍ the li of command, which is usually prefixed to the 3d pers. sing. of the Jussive, to give it an imperative sense, as لِيَطِّبْ قَلْبَكَ let thy heart be at ease. When preceded by وَ or فَ, the kësra is usually dropped, as فَلْيَسْتَجِيبُوا لِي therefore let them hearken unto me, and believe in me. Or it may be (β) اللَّامُ النَّاصِبَةُ the li which governs the verb in the C Subjunctive of the Imperfect, signifying that, so that, in order that, as تُبْ تَبْ يَغْفِرْ لَكَ اللَّهُ repent, that God may forgive thee. This latter لِ is identical with the preposition لِ (§ 356, c), used لِلتَّعْلِيلِ to indicate the purpose for which, or the reason why, a thing is done; and hence the Arab grammarians take it to stand in all cases for the fuller لِأَنَّ or بِأَنَّ.

367. The most common separable conjunctions are:—

(a) إِذْ when, since, of past time, and prefixed either to a nominal or a verbal proposition. [Compound إِذْ مَا whenever.]

* [Sometimes in old poetry, e.g. Hamāsa 74, l. 9, Ṭabari i. 852, l. 10, and very often in later prose, the apodosis is also introduced by فَ after لِإِذَا when. D. G.]

A (b) إِذَا when, usually denoting future time and implying a condition, in which case it is always prefixed to a verbal proposition. Both of these conjunctions, as well as إِذًا (§ 362, d), are connected with the obsolete noun إِذ time, the genitive of which occurs, for example, in حِينَئِذٍ at that time, يَوْمَئِذٍ on that day. Compare Heb. יָדָא and יָדָא, Bibl. Aram. יָדָא, Æth. ደሌደሌ: now, ደሌደሌ: when? [Compound إِذَا whenever.]

B [(c) أَمْ or, as syn. of أَوْ in alternative questions.]

(d) أَمَا, followed by ف, as for, as regards; e.g. أَمَا السَّفِينَةُ فَكَانَتْ لِمَسَاكِينٍ يَعْمَلُونَ فِي الْبَحْرِ as for the ship, it belonged to poor men who worked on the sea. The form أَيْمًا also occurs. Used twice or oftener, it corresponds to the Greek μέν—δέ.

(e) أَنْ that, so that, in order that (ut), that (quod). A dialectic variety is عَنْ. Compounds: كَأَنَّ as it were, as if; لِأَنَّ that, in order that, because; see g. Further: أَلَا that not (ut non, ne, quod non), comp. of أَنْ and لَا (see § 14, b); نَتَلَا in order that not (ideo ne).—Like օ in Heb. and ὅ in Gr., أَنْ also serves to introduce direct quotations (أَنَّ الْمَفْسِرَةَ أَنْ تَلْكَمُوا the explicative 'an), as تَلْكَمُوا أَنْ تَلْكَمُوا and it shall be proclaimed to them, That is Paradise; even an Imperative, as خُذْهَا إِيَّيَّ أَنْ أُشَارَتْ إِلَيَّ she made a sign to me meaning Take her.

(f) إِنْ [and إِمَّا, conditional particle] if, dialectically (حَرْفٌ شَرْطِيٌّ), sometimes written وَإِنْ or وَإَنَّ, to distinguish it from وَإِنْ and if, and hence called إِنْ اِتِّصَالِيَّةٌ; compounded with ل (§ 361, c), إِنْ لَ verily if, if indeed; Aram. ܐܢܢ, ܐܢܢ; Æth. ስማ: 'ema; Heb. ִאִן.—إِلَّا, compounded of إِنْ and لَا, (a) if not, in which case it stands for a whole clause; (β) حَرْفٌ اِسْتِثْنَائِيٌّ (exceptive particle), unless,

*saving, except, but, with a preceding negative, only. Heb. אֲלֵכֶם, A Aram. ܐܢܢ, ܐܢܢ; Æth. ስማ: ('allā) but.—إِمَّا, rarely إِيْمًا [or إِيْمًا], compounded of إِنْ and مَا; وَإِمَّا وَإِمَّا, or أَوْ إِمَّا, either — or —.

(g) أَنَّ that (quod). It is followed by a noun or pronominal suffix in the accus., but in the 1st pers. أَنِّي, أَنَا are used as well as أَنِّي, أَنَا. The suffix ة in this case often represents and anticipates a whole subsequent clause (صَبِرَ الشَّانُ, or صَبِرَ الْقِصَّةِ, the pronoun of the story B or fact). See § 362, m.—Compounds: كَأَنَّ as it were, as if; لِأَنَّ because. See e.

(h) أَوْ or (vel, sive). Heb. ܐܘ, Syr. ܘܐ.

(i) ثُمَّ, ثُمَّ, ثُمَّ, ثُمَّ, then, thereupon, next; a حَرْفٌ حَرْفٌ تَرْتِيبِيٌّ (§ 366, b), connecting words and clauses, but implying succession at an interval. [In genealogical statements ثُمَّ is often used (like the German und zwar) to indicate a transition from the general to the more special, e.g. حُدَيْفَةُ الدُّبْيَانِيِّ ثُمَّ الْفَزَارِيُّ Ḥudayfa of the tribe of Dubyān and of the subdivision Fazāra.] Connected with it is the adverb ثُمَّ (§ 362, w).

(k) حَتَّى till, until, until that, so that; identical with the preposition, § 358, b. [On its sense of even, see Vol. ii. § 52, rem. c.]

(l) إِذَا when (syn. of إِذَا).

(m) كَيْ a particle assigning the motive or reason D in order that, with the Subjunctive.—Compounds: كَيْ in order that, كَيْلَا in order that not.

A REM. c. From وَيْ (to which suffixes may be appended, as وَيْكَ woe to thee!) are formed the interjectional nouns وَيْحٌ and وَيْلٌ, whence we can say, for example, وَيْحٌ لِرَيْدٍ, وَيْحًا لِرَيْدٍ, وَيْحٌ لِرَيْدٍ, etc. The expression وَيْلٌ لِرَيْدٍ or وَيْلٌ لِرَيْدِهِ is contracted into وَيْلَيْهِ, usually written thus in one word.—Rarer interjectional nouns are وَيْبٌ, وَيْسٌ, and وَيْخٌ. A poet allows himself to say لَأَمِ الْأَرْضِ وَيْلٌ (Illumina 107).

B REM. d. [Many interjections have, by origin or use, a certain verbal force and are called therefore أَسْمَاءُ الْأَفْعَالِ, that is, they are either originally Imperatives, as هَاتِ give here (§ 45, rem. d), or equivalent to Imperatives (comp. Vol. ii. § 35, b, & rem. b), and, in some cases, admitting its construction and inflection. Accordingly] some of the Arabs decline هَلُمَّ like an Imperative; e.g. sing. fem. هَلِّمِي, dual هَلِّمَيَا, plur. masc. هَلِّمُوا, fem. هَلِّمْنَ (compare the Gothic hiri, du. hirjata, pl. hirjith).—هَيَّ takes the suffix of the C 2nd pers., هَيْكَ, or هَيْكِ, and is said to form a dual and plur., هَيَّيَا, هَيَّيُوا.—هَيَّا may be joined with the pronominal suffixes of the second person, in which case it is equivalent to the Imperative of أَخَذَ; as هَيَّاكِ take her! Or a hêmza may be substituted for the ك, and the word declined as follows: sing. m. هَاءَ, f. هَاءِ; dual هَاءُومَا, plur. m. هَاءُومَرٌ, f. هَاءُونٌ; as هَاءُومَرٌ أَقْرَبُوا كِتَابِيَهٗ, take, read my book. Other varieties are: هَأَ (like هَبَّ), f. هَأِي, etc.; هَاءَ (like رَامَ), f. هَأِي, etc.; and هَاءَكَ, f. هَاءِكِ, etc.
